STRONG INDORSEMENT OF NEW ARMY PLAN BY TAFT'S WAR SECRETARY

Henry L. Stimson Puts Unqualified Approval on Proposal.

Declares Himself in Favor of Compulsory Military Service.

Believes National Guard Is Primarily a State Institution.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Unqualified indorsement of the administration's continental army plan was given today by Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war in the Taft administration, in an address before the National Security league.

Declaring himself in favor of compulsory universal military service as the true solution of the defense problem, Mr. Stimson said he regarded the program now advanced by Secretary Garrison, as the sound initial step.

"If congress is not ready yet to sanction universal training," he said, "the measures which are enacted should be those which so far as they go, are in accord with this great fundamental duty and which, as the time passes, and experience ripens, will lead most naturally to the establishment of such a system."

"Instead of ourselves performing the most vital duty of citizenship," said Mr. Stimson, "we have been hiring out."

WOULD CONSULT WITH SOLDIERS AT FRONT

French Socialist Believes Parliament Should Be in Closer Touch.

Paris, Jan. 22.—The United Socialist party will petition parliament and the government to authorize a committee of members of the chamber of deputies to visit the front and talk freely with the soldiers as to their relations with the army and parliament. At a meeting of representatives of the party today a resolution was passed authorizing the proposal which will be presented in the chamber. It is suggested that forty-four members of the chamber be selected from the various parties, and that they be authorized to discuss with the soldiers on the fighting line all subjects except military orders or military policy. The resolution says that in this way the men in the trenches will be made to realize that they have the sympathy and support of parliament.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN SHIP LOADED ONLY WITH STEEL

Norwegian Freight Steamer Forced to Put Back to New York.

New York, Jan. 22.—Mystery surrounds a fire which forced the Norwegian freight steamer Sygna to put back to this port today after having sailed yesterday for Archangel with a large cargo consigned to the Russian government. The fire boat William J. Gaynor met the freighter at Quarantine and, after quantities of steam had been turned into the Sygna's fore hold, from which clouds of smoke were pouring when she reached port, it was believed the fire was virtually under control.

INSIDE STORY OF DEMANDS

Reason Why Montenegrins Broke Off Peace Negotiations.

Austria Would Have Made Vassal of the Kingdom.

London, Jan. 22.—The Daily Telegraph's Milan correspondent gives what he says is the inside story of Montenegro's negotiations with Austria regarding the capitulation of Montenegro. "Since the defeat of Serbia," says the correspondent, "the court, fearing a similar fate for Montenegro, had advised King Nicholas to surrender as the only salvation. The king sent for Gen. Martinovich to defend in a bold which they said contained only structural steel and railway material. When asked if there was evidence indicating the fire had been of incendiary origin, the officers said that it was too soon to make an investigation" and declined to comment upon the usual features of the blaze. Members of the Sygna's crew, who covered the hatch of the fore hold yesterday, said there was no indication of fire when the freighter sailed and that it was early yesterday evening

AMERICAN RANCHER IS WANTONLY KILLED BY MEXICANS NEAR JUAREZ

Texas Man Crosses Border in Search of Stolen Stock.

Accompanied By Mexican Deputy, Visits Corral of Rustlers.

Mexicans Climb to Roof and Begin Firing at Party.

Yaleta, Tex., Jan. 22.—The story of the killing of Bert Akers, a young Texas rancher, who crossed the border into Mexico yesterday in search of stolen cattle, was related here today by his companion, Douglas Downs, who survived a hail of bullets as both fled on one horse. Five Mexican cattle rustlers, including the two Duran brothers, are accused of the killing, and two of them have been taken by Mexican soldiers.

The cattle they were hunting for had been stolen from a small ranch three miles north of this place, owned by Mrs. J. D. Murphy.

Downs' story of the shooting contradicts the story of the captured Duran brothers, told to Gen. Gavira, commandant at Juarez, that the Americans and the Mexican secret service officers fired at them.

CROWD IN THEATER UNAWARE OF FIRE

Blaze Does $7,000 Damage to Majestic Building in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Fire last night and early today did $7,000 damage to offices on the fourteenth floor of the Majestic theater building here. Two thousand men, women and children sat in the theater, which occupies most of the first four floors of the building, for more than two hours in ignorance of the fire above them.

Teresa Krall, a scrub woman, discovered the fire and carried firemen up and down in an elevator during the period when the fire was at its height.

COLD WAVE HALTS FLOOD

Expected to Effectually Check Rising Waters in Central States.

Property Loss Will Reach Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—A cold wave, said by the weather bureau to be sweeping eastward from the Rocky mountain region today, was held out as bringing hope for relief from flood conditions which prevailed in Illinois and neighboring states yesterday, as the result of torrential rain, following a rapid rise in temperature.

With thousands of persons temporarily made homeless, property loss running into hundreds of thousands of dollars, railroad traffic interrupted, and several cities facing a possibility of epidemic as the result of pollution of drinking water by the flood, the receding waters were watched with considerable anxiety.

Hundreds of Farms Inundated. Belated reports reaching Chicago early today, told of extensive havoc wrought in city and country alike within a radius of fifty miles from Chicago. Hundreds of farms in the Fox, Des Plaines, Rock and other river valleys are inundated.

BIG SLIDE DESCENDS ON TRAIN NEAR THE SUMMIT OF CASCADES

Limited Standing Still, Awaiting Removal of Snow From Small Slide Ahead of It.

Believed All Persons in Wrecked Coaches Are Either Dead or Badly Injured.

FOURTEEN DEAD

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 22.—Fourteen dead in the Great Northern wreck at Corea was the report received at 12:45 p. m., at the offices of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad. Mr. Hill said that reports on the wreck received at his office up to this time were belated.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 22.—Great Northern Train No. 25, the Cascade limited from Spokane, was struck by a snowslide near Corea station, on the west slope of the Cascades, near the summit this morning. The train was standing still when hit. The dining car and the day coach received the full force of the avalanche and were carried down an embankment 300 feet.

All the persons in the two cars must have been killed or injured. Physicians have been sent from Everett.

STOPPED BY SMALL SLIDES. The train had been stopped by a small slide, which had covered the track. Workmen had just completed removing the snow and debris from the rails and the train was about to proceed when an avalanche thundered down from the mountain side above the tracks. The dining car and day coach were struck squarely on the side and carried away like chips. The other cars and the engines were left on the track.

Corea is about 120 miles east of Seattle and is at the loop of a big switch-back. It is the second station down the west slope from the Cascade tunnel, and Great Northern officials said is almost the exact spot where a train was swept from the tracks Feb. 28, 1910, with a great loss of life.

Two negro porters and a trainman are known to be dead. The dining car is reported burning. The cars in the gulch are not covered by snow as in the 1910 disaster. At that time many of the dead were suffocated.

Cries for help from the cars in the gulch can be heard on the track above. The first passenger reached in the day coach, a small boy, was severely injured. The next two passengers were dead.

Five employees in the dining car are believed to be dead. It is impossible to say how many passengers were in the day coach.

LITTLE ICE-COATED FISHING BOAT BREAKS HER WAY INTO THE DULUTH HARBOR

THE FASHION WITH LOAD OF FISH AND ICE.

The Duluth public missed the annual sight this year of steamers coming into the harbor before the interlake season closes with more tons of ice on their decks than tons of cargo in their hold, so they have to be content with a minor craft furnishing ice pictures on their runs down from the north shore.

The accompanying picture is of the little fishing craft, Fashion, Capt. Albert Borossa, master, which arrived a few days ago from a trip up the north shore. Her hold was crammed full of fish and her decks were completely hidden from view by the ice that had formed from the waves and spray she had encountered on her trip. Fortunately the weather was not bad, or enough ice might have formed to sink the little boat, which is only 64 feet long with a beam of 11 feet, and has a registered tonnage of 48.

SPOONER IS GIVEN PARDON

After serving seven months at the state reformatory for assaulting Peppermint James Woods of this city, Earl S. Spooner, 25, West Duluth, has received a pardon at the hands of the state board of pardons in session this week at St. Paul.

Spooner was sentenced to a term of not more than five years in the St. Cloud institution by Judge Dancer in the district court last June. The young man pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting Woods, who had been struck by Spooner while the latter was attempting to arrest him.

On May 22 last, Spooner hit the officer on the jaw with his fist, and on the next day he was arrested. Spooner was held in jail for 108 applications for pardons, the board granted but two. Spooner received one of them.

NUMBER KILLED IS NOT YET KNOWN
Great Northern Issues Statement on Wreck in the Cascades.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following statement was issued from the Great Northern today concerning the wrecking of their train by a snowslide.

The snowslide struck the train, throwing a sleeping car on its side and carrying the diner and chair car over the bank.

The number killed and injured is not definitely known, but it is reported that the chair car contained eight or ten people and the sleeping car six people—most of them probably same passengers in the diner.

The accident occurred about 7 a. m. The train was traveling at a high rate of speed and was standing in not very high at this point.

The last previous accident in this section occurred Feb. 28, 1910. At that time two Great Northern passenger trains, which had been detained two weeks by snow slides in front and rear, were struck by an avalanche at night and carried several hundred feet into a gulch. Nearly all the persons on the train perished. The bodies were not all recovered for several weeks. After this accident the railroad began construction of concrete snowsheds at a cost of millions of dollars. The railroad engineers believed they had protected all the most dangerous places. The snowfall during the present winter has been very heavy and the Great Northern has experienced great trouble.

WILL ADMIT LARCENY.
Louis James Eckart, 18, held by the authorities on a charge of having stolen $140 from the St. James orphanage, has signified his desire to plead guilty, and the county attorney's office has arranged to have him in court this afternoon, where Judge Foster will receive his plea. He is held on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

ORBERAMMERGAUER PEASANTS PLAYERS AT THE ORPHEUM THEATRE ON THURSDAY, FEB. 3.

One week from Thursday the Orpheum stage will be occupied by a unique theatrical troupe, the Orberammergaue Peasants Players. They will produce a humorous play, "Mr. Jackson in the Alps," written in a quaint mixture of English and their own mountain dialect.

The well-known dialect "Schuhplattler" dance as well as jolly songs and Highland songs, either in chorus, male quartet, duo, solo, and the sweet sounding tune of the zither follow each other in unending variety. In all, it is said to be a refreshing entertainment with the natural atmosphere of these mountain folk.

HAD HOMEMADE STILL IN THE "JUNGLE" OTTO READS NEW RECIPE AND IS JUGGED

"Way back last June, when you might sleep if the bed covers were thin enough and the windows were open far enough, Police Sergeant 'Jack' Engert found a 'still' in the jungles on the water front. Three jungle 'experts,' who had just finished a term in 'str' for vagrancy, had devised a way of making a masterpiece. The drink was up and about at you, the sergeant said.

Otto Sandelin, 42, was the first man to introduce it locally. He planted three kettles in the sand and boiled early, prunes and potatoes. Then he combined the juices. Since then Otto has had recourse to this recipe whenever he has lacked the 16 cents necessary for 'squirrel' whisky. That is, he has until yesterday—

Grandmother Says: Horchard or thoroughbred tea for the fever—goose oil and turpentine rub on for colds and soreness of lungs or throat were the remedies used fifty years ago. Now newer remedies have taken the place of the old—a tablet of aspirin or a capsule of quinine for the fever without the old bitter tea—and Goosolene to rub on the chest or throat, instead of the old goose oil and turpentine, gives quick relief for the congestion, soreness or pain. For the little ones Baby Goosolene is the best to use when they have a chest cold—just rub on Baby Goosolene, cover with a soft warm cloth and see how quickly they get relief. PIG IN PARLOR IN REAL LIFE

Humane Agent Finds Demonstration of Jingle.

The old jingle about keeping "the pig in the parlor" was recalled yesterday when Humane Agent J. G. Ross visited a home at 823 Grand avenue and found at least 200 pounds of pig in the center of the front parlor. It was the home of Mrs. Mollie Dahl, 47, who sustained a fractured leg yesterday noon when a freight car struck her while she was gathering coal in the Omaha yards near her home. She crawled under a car and the train started up, dragging her several feet before she was rescued by members of the watching crew.

Humane Agent Ross was called to the place when it was reported that Mrs. Dahl's three children were in need. He found a cow, a calf, three pigs, ten cords of wood, about 100 chickens and a well-filled pantry.

Neighbors said Mrs. Dahl was in the habit of replenishing her supply of coal, wood and grain from the railroad yards. Her injuries were not serious, aside from the broken limb.

Pure, Rich Blood Prevents Disease. Red blood—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale—is responsible for more ailments than any other factor in the body.

It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, listless feelings and general debility. It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of all ailments.

Aged Missionary Moves Big Laymen's Audience to Tears.

Great Enthusiasm Marks Close of Convention in Duluth. The immense audience at the First M. E. church was moved to tears last night as Dr. S. Hall Young, the missionary of the gold fields, related his experiences in Alaska as a pioneer missionary at the closing session of the Laymen's Missionary convention.

"Alaska Days With John Muir" was the topic of his discourse, and as the aged man with snow white hair and beard spoke of the past, he appeared to be on the brink of a new world and saying farewell to all his earthly activities.

Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, former pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church here, spoke on "Critical Moments in the Missionary Situation," and he scored the Christian who gives but nickels and dimes for the missionary cause.

"America must take the lead in missionary work," said Dr. Patton. "Europe is unable to help at the conclusion of this great struggle. While we are revelling in selfishness today, Europe is likewise suffering, but in self-sacrifice. She will come out of the war purged, beautifully purged. Don't stand back and look on, but help."

"Experiences in Turkey." "The subject of the discourse of Dr. James J. McNaughton. He went into details of the horrible cruelty of the Turks toward the Armenians. That there was a concerted movement on foot among the Armenians to exterminate the Armenians as a race, was the burden of his speech.

"When our ancestors were traveling along the banks of the Thames river, the blood of their enemies, the victims of the sword, the victims of the victim's skull, the Armenians had reached an advanced state of culture," he said.

"The women in the auditorium were to leave right now. I would not contaminate your minds with what I have said in reference to the horrors of the Turks," said Dr. McNaughton.

"The ordinary church of say 600 members puts all the work on the shoulders of the pastor and 40 or 50 members, including the deacons and prominent officers. The remaining 550 are not engaged in any direct work for the church in the community. If the colored of a great European war should go on to the battle field with a few captains, sergeants and fifty soldiers, they would be the 900 play dominos and sleep in the rear, while the rest of the representation of the conditions existing in the average church."

"The Men at the Front." "I give this address in order that the men at the front, the pastor and pillars of the church, may be led to feel it is their business to lead other men to battle, and not to do all the fighting themselves."

"The average church does business on the same basis as many farmers in the West, where I lived for many years. They raise and harvest a few bushels of potatoes and struggle along on them, while but a few feet below the surface is untold wealth in silver, gold and other mineral treasure. There is money enough in the Christian churches to enable us to realize easily the fulfillment of the greatest plans for the redemption of the world."

"In the United States the number of persons doing personal evangelism is limited to the tens of thousands. Wherever man does practical, personal evangelism, results are astounding. I personally know of one traveling salesman who has led more than 1,000 souls to Christ. He has been over the country. I know of one child of 12 who was baptized but a few months ago. Since that time she has led ten persons, mostly adults, into the Christian faith."

"Most Christian men and women profess faith in immortality of the soul and their life and don't by their failure to do personal evangelism among their friends. Upon most Christians the seeds rest the seed of soul."

The signers to the petition turned over to Foreman Wessenberg are: J. L. Goetz, Mary A. Gallagher, E. H. Olson, Victoria Goetz, C. J. Foucault, J. B. Polier and Mrs. J. Morin. This number of signers is required by the society to call a special meeting.

The disagreement between the members and the district manager is the result of an alleged attempt on the part of the latter to dictate to the members, they assert. Members of the society say there is no internal strife outside of this one disagreement with a small clique said to be made up principally of the district manager and deputies.

TO PROTECT CITY'S RIGHTS Voss Fears State Will Grant Special Privileges to Terminal Road.

Can the city be thoroughly safeguarded by an ordinance granting the Western Terminal Railroad company a franchise to build a belt line in Duluth?

This question is raised by Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, who fears the state legislature will grant a franchise and put all regulation under the supervision of the state railroad and warehouse commission. Such an action would be in the case of the Zenith Telephone company, which is now operating under a franchise granted by the warehouse commission under the provisions of a law passed last January, which makes its local franchise worthless.

What's the use of passing an ordinance, if it is not to be enforced? The state legislature can come along and eliminate it altogether," asks the finance head.

In order to avoid such a situation at any time after the franchise is granted, Commissioner Voss would have the city build the track from south First avenue east to Garfield avenue and lease it to the terminal company. In this way, the city would be protected at all times, he said, as any violation would mean the closing up of the city's water track. The terminal company would build the road on its own property from Garfield avenue around the loop to Lakeside.

Commissioner Voss suggests further that the city should have been paid $100,000 to pay for the track, the interest to come from the revenues obtained in leasing it to the roads. In this way, he said, it will never be an expense to the city.

WILL GIVE JOB TO D. H. CLOUGH West First Street Will Be Paved With Creosote Blocks.

At the council meeting Monday afternoon, Commissioner Farrell, works head, will introduce a resolution awarding D. H. Mr. Clough's bid of $2,344.45 having been the lowest submitted two weeks ago. This money will be selected by the West First property owners at a meeting last Thursday.

A resolution abolishing the sanitary inspectors in the collection of garbage and placing the work under the supervision of the police and street commissioner also will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell. A total of $5,000 in salaries will be saved yearly, according to the works head.

J. E. Schlemmer will be awarded the contract to construct an iron stairway in the contagious hospital on his bid of $1,225.

The ordinance appropriating $1,000 for pig load will come up for passage at the meeting Monday.

CITY-COUNTY SETTLEMENT

Members of the city council and the county commission will hold their second conference Monday afternoon on the proposed purchase of the city hall site on Courthouse square.

Mayor Prince said this morning that nothing definite has been outlined, but that an informal discussion will be held on the various matters before both bodies, including the proposed first payment for the site by the city and the transfer of the city's share in the work farm partnership, which was dissolved on Jan. 1.

Supt. Ward of the work farm, Mayor Prince said, is preparing a report on the ownership of the property, so that a decision can be made very soon. No action will be taken until this report is finished, he said.

County Commissioners O'Neill, Kauppi and Little will represent the county in the conference, while the entire city council will be present.

TIME FOR PEACE HAS NOT ARRIVED

So Reports One of Returning Members of Ford Party.

New York, Jan. 22.—The American steamship New York arrived from Liverpool and reported having experienced one of the hardest passages in her history.

Andrew J. Belcher, lieutenant governor of South Carolina, who accompanied Henry Ford on his peace mission, one of the passengers, said that from his observations in countries of both belligerents, the time for neutral negotiations to move for peace had not yet arrived.

"Germany the cry for conservation of resources," he said. "They say they have sufficient men and means for military requirements. In England the cry is for men and proper equipment."

There are times when everyone realizes that they are at a disadvantage. The Americans vary according to the individual case but whether it be a case of exhaustion, in England there is a way of sounding a warning which is not to be mistaken.

It is a dangerous thing to display for one's benefit in this fashion there is one course of action to be taken. It is to be a well-ventilated room, a day in bed in a well-ventilated room, a day in bed in a well-ventilated room, a day in bed in a well-ventilated room.

Rest is frequently sufficient to save one from a severe illness. Nature's simplest and most effective aids to healing and if taken in time may be warranted for the most part. In England the cry is for men and proper equipment."

Ever since Mayor Prince requested local contractors to submit samples for the Carnegie library in the northern part of the state. A day or so in bed adhering to the usual routine of life to the relief of the mind and body. At times they may be successful avoiding the penalty but usually they are not. Better a short, voluntary rest now and then than one enforced by a profound disturbance of health as the result of disregarding Nature's warning.

PNEUMONIA DEATH RATE EXCEEDS TUBERCULOSIS

Recent Statistics Show It One of Civilized Man's Greatest Enemies.

By Alice Hamilton, M. D.
(Exclusive service the Survey Press Bureau.)

OR years word has gone out concerning the ravages of tuberculosis until now more intelligent person knows how important is this disease, not only humanly but economically.

Of late years the public has been aroused to see the increasing incidence of tuberculosis. Societies for the prevention of tuberculosis are found everywhere and sanatoria for the treatment of the tuberculous. Laboratories for research into the cause of the disease are being founded each year, and hospitals for cancer patients increased.

Now third great and increasingly strong enemy of civilized man is being heard of—pneumonia. And though there is no doubt that the rate of patients with pneumonia, very little is known about the prevention of the disease.

More Fatal Than Before. For many years there has been an increase in the death rate from pneumonia. In 1913, for example, there were 100,000 deaths from pneumonia in the United States, compared with 132,400 deaths in 1917.

Dr. C. G. Crump of Minneapolis, Minn., writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, says that the statistics of pneumonia in this country are actually more often fatal than formerly.

Analyzing 269 cases in that city, Dr. Crump found that the mortality rate was 20 per cent for those under five years; then it drops between five and ten years, to rise after that steadily till it reaches 50 per cent for the age group between 40 and 50 years, and 70 per cent for that between 60 and 70 years. Certainly far greater strides have been made in the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis than of pneumonia.

The causation of pneumonia epidemics and of their increase in recent years will have to be studied much more closely before this situation can be controlled.

In the African Mince. In this connection reference may be made to the work of Dr. Gorgas in controlling pneumonia in the South African mines of the Rand. Dr. Gorgas was appealed to by the mine owners to come to Africa and find out the reason for the appalling mortality from pneumonia among the native miners. He found that the cause in the housing conditions. Natives from the interior, accustomed to living in separate houses with their families and to work in the open air had been brought to the mines and housed in barracks, with double-decker beds placed as close together as possible.

Their rest was in these over-crowded lodgings. He advised scattering them over the country-side in small, individual huts, and said that this had been tried on the Panama canal with entire success.

It may be that the increasing pneumonia death rate may prove to be one of the many results of present methods of housing, especially in large cities.

Construction by fire. The central part of the city has already been destroyed and the flames are being fanned by a high gale. The town is famous for its trade in tar, timber and fish.

Knapp, former president of the St. Louis Republic and at the time of his death treasurer of the New York Times, showed personal property to the value of $80,500 of which $57,600 is in stocks. The entire estate was willed to the widow.

Russians Occupy Sultanabad. Teheran, Persia, Jan. 22 via London. Russian columns operating in Persia have pushed to and occupied the town of Sultanabad, 150 miles south of Teheran, and about an equal distance northwest of Isfahan. The garrison and the German consul have fled to Bouroudjir, fifty miles west of Sultanabad.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: An English town council, after a protracted sitting, was desirous of adjourning for lunch.

The proposition was opposed by the mayor, who thought that if his fellow officers felt that stimulus of hunger the dispatch of business would be much facilitated. At last a rather illiterate member got up and exclaimed: "I am amazed, I am surprised, I am amazed, Mr. Mayor, that you will not let us go to lunch."

"And I am surprised," replied the mayor, "that a man who has got so much 'ham' in his mouth should want any lunch at all."

GASOLINE IS STILL SOARING

Price in Duluth Double What It Was Year Ago.

Gasoline continues to rise in price. Local automobile garages are selling gasoline for 21 cents a gallon, an advance of 1 cent over last month, and double the price of a year ago.

Country-wide advances of from 3 to 12 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline have put the average price well above 20 cents a gallon in the big consuming districts. Indications point to still higher prices, and it is believed that in the New York district, at least, 25 or 30 cents gasoline is not far away.

The advance is due to two causes, primarily, decreasing oil supplies and an unusually large increase in the demand for gasoline. For the time being demand appears to be far in excess of refinery capacity of the country; and that notwithstanding a big improvement in the methods of extracting gasoline.

Oil men estimate that each car consumes about 500 gallons of gasoline a year on an average. At that rate automobiles in use at present are consuming gasoline to the extent of 1,375,000,000 gallons yearly.

But that is only a part of the story. Export demand has placed a heavy burden on American refineries. Shipments to foreign countries are running at the rate of about 250,000,000 gallons a year.

Then there is the demand for gasoline for farm tractors and motorboats, both important and growing items. While nothing better than a guess can be made on it, consumption of gasoline is rapidly approaching the 2,000,000,000-gallon mark.

The accompanying table sets forth the current price of gasoline, in cents per gallon, on a tank wagon or garage, in the largest cities of the United States. This is compared with the price on March 31, and the advance in cents per gallon. This price, of course, is several cents below what the consumer has to pay for his gas, that depending on the quality of the gasoline, etc.

Driver, 82 Years Old, Likes Trails Over the Mountains.

John Killefer of Los Angeles, aged 82, is one of the oldest motorists in the United States.

This motor enthusiast is the marvel of all his acquaintances. So far as possible he shuns the highways and picks out the mountain trails usually tackled only by the young and hardy, and his greatest delight is to seek out a by-way which has not been traveled by automobiles in months.

"I like to get away from the noise," said the dean of pleasure drivers. "About the only place in Southern California where you will not see a string of autos is on some out-of-the-way road in the mountains. So I seek those places and thoroughly enjoy myself in the deep solitudes."

"Sometimes I frighten my passengers by getting on a narrow trail, but I don't mind that. My eyesight is as good as a young man's, and I have as steady a nerve as when I was a young man of fifty."

"I have a lot of faith in my Ford. It has never failed me, which is probably well for me, considering that I have been in some pretty tight places with it."

"The funny part of it all is that I came out here from Bloomington, Mich. In 1905 I bought a Ford, and it better every day, I consider automobiles as a wonderful recreation any one may have."

WOULD DIVIDE MINNESOTA INTO TWO STATES--DULUTH CAPITAL

Cheap Lots for Laboring-men and More Industries Suggested in Contest--City Hospital, Club House for Girls, Aid for Unemployed, and Better Traffic Rules are Urged.

Many Duluthians have searched long and diligently for ways and means of making the Zenith City the leading one of the state, and today a Crosby, Minn., correspondent, in competing for the What-Would-You-Do-for-Duluth prizes offered by The Herald, has solved the problem.

This is the way he would do it: "Pass a law in the United States house of representatives dividing the state of Minnesota into two states, a new state out of the Northern half, with its capital located at Duluth."

"This would be a real blessing to the whole northern part of the state," the letter continues, "and would make Duluth a real center socially as well as commercially. Call the state 'Iron-range' and induce all the people to live in Duluth."

Two other suggestions the Crosby man makes for the betterment of Duluth. Here they are: "Make the price of residence lots so reasonable that laboring men could afford to own their homes, thereby making them patriotic and public spirited and the best class of people to occupy any city."

"Next, try to induce all kinds of manufacturing concerns to locate in the city limits, by means of free sites, free side tracks and subsidies of other kinds that the city commission might think advisable."

"If I had money in great big piles, I'd do three things for Duluth: First, I'd print big white tiles, 'Safety First,' on every corner."

"Second, I'd see that Duluthians' animals are taken better care of. For some are treated just like cannibals. And others are always homeless."

"Then third and last and best of all, I'd have the people clean their walks. So passing people would not fall when going to their destined place."

"Now, these three verses I have written. May sound as though they were frost-bitten. But if I had lots and lots of money, I'd fulfill my former thoughts."

"TOWARD KING, '1222 Jefferson street.' A solution of traffic problems would do a great deal to help Duluth's growth, this contributor believes."

"First--I would make three streets from Eighth avenue westward, all the way to the city limits, where all the different grades. This would solve the traffic problem at the Point of Rocks, widen out the city a little and give employment to many idle men."

"Second--I would rid the city of saloons, and with the saloons many other evils things would be done away with. Also, I would make the city any longer than it is, but concentrate the building in the heart of the town."

"Third--I would build a maternity hospital for all classes of people--rich, middle-class and the poor; supply a good staff of doctors and trained nurses. This would relieve many a poor mother, and save many a child from the hands of the 'angel of death.'"

"Fourth--I would turn my attention to the unemployed men who at certain times of the year are looked upon as a nuisance and possible danger. I would not discourage those attracted this way by the city, but would put on a bold front and make believe they were really welcome. For this class I would provide a plain, practical establishment, with a shower, a bath, a clean bed to sleep in. After offering such hospitality I would give each recipient a chance to pay the city back by doing a few hours' work on the city streets. Under the proper system a crew of unemployed at some times of the year could do much work for the city, but it would be a waste of money to let them loaf about."

fers with any problems of labor, for the public works division is traditionally hard up after a long, dusty autumn, at time when our streets are most dangerous to life and limb, and most unsightly. It would be no great hardship on the merchants to pay as an assessment the actual cost of such work. I, and we might assimilate some good citizens in the lot, the others could be easily disposed of. After all, if we are to think 'nationally,' as George Harvey would have us do, what does it matter if we do entertain a few hundred idle men each year, when all cities are striving for population and are graded accordingly."

"A SOCIAL WORKER."

Municipal Flower. A Sandstone resident who formerly lived in Duluth, would give the city a municipal flower. He writes: "Establish a system where any unemployed would be given work, at any time during the year, on city improvements. The wage might be low, but every man would be given the chance to make the honest living."

"Establish a fully equipped, up-to-date hospital, where at a trifling cost to the city, many who are sick, whose capital in life is not even good health."

"Every spring set out in window boxes and porch boxes red geraniums; every summer set out in window boxes and porch boxes red geraniums. Decorate the city with the sturdy, cheery flower, to bring pleasure to its friends and a bright welcome to the stranger."

States Ideas in Verse. A 13-year-old Duluth boy turns poet in order to tell The Herald what he would do to better the city and make it richer. "If I had money in great big piles, I'd do three things for Duluth: First, I'd print big white tiles, 'Safety First,' on every corner."

After offering such hospitality I would give each recipient a chance to pay the city back by doing a few hours' work on the city streets. Under the proper system a crew of unemployed at some times of the year could do much work for the city, but it would be a waste of money to let them loaf about."

"ALFRED RODEN, '232 Meade avenue.' 20 DEGS. BELOW WITH HEAVY GALE

Temperature Is Dropping Rapidly--Sunday Will Be Calm But Cold.

Twenty deg. below zero is the weather mark set for tonight and Mr. Richardson, weather forecaster, further announces that Sunday will be generally fair but extremely cold.

At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature had dropped to 10 deg. above zero and at 10 o'clock had slipped further down the tube to 1 deg. above.

At the latter hour a gale of fifty mile an hour was blowing and this, says Mr. Richardson, will continue all day and tonight, beginning dimly during the night some time.

Tomorrow the wind will have died out, but the severe cold will continue. The prediction is that all of today the mercury will be hovering gradually until 20 deg. or more below zero will be reached. Otherwise the weather will be fair.

STRONG INDORSEMENT OF NEW ARMY PLAN

er men to do it for us. Other demagogues have been heard saying that intelligent and today they are reap the advantage of their action not only in their national security, but in the stability of character which their training has given to the individual.

"One of the propositions which is being seriously urged before congress is that we should pay our conscripts from the national treasury and should attempt to develop them into our federal citizen army while they still retain their legal character as a state force. Four years ago, when we were clear that no other force of Federal reserves could be obtained from congress, I reluctantly gave my approval to a bill in order to obtain the advantages of training and discipline which the measure provided. Further study of the subject and of the situation evoked by the bill, however, has led me to believe that such legislation would be a mistake."

"Under the Federal constitution, the National Guard or organized militia is primarily a state force instead of a national reserve, and I do not believe that any effective national citizen army can be created out of the militia as it is now constituted. The militia, as organized by forty-eight separate sovereign states, for nearly fifteen years, has been a failure. It has been maintained by the Federal government, as well as by the state authorities to increase the number of the guard, yet it has remained nearly stationary. The ratio of its enlistment to the population is so far below that in other English speaking countries, as to make it clear that some fundamental defect is at work."

For Police Duty. "It seems to me that the defects can be traced directly to the fact that the National Guard is not a military force, which is also required to do duty for the national government. So long as the city is a militia, we must rely on them for police duty."

"What is even worse, there has gradually grown into the militia a class of men, the feeling that the only soldiers with whom they are practically acquainted, are the city police. This class of the community, and are maintained for the purpose of being against them. Instead of regarding the militia as a citizen training school, they regard it as a police force."

To Go "The Length of the Pool" Is Fond Ambition of Many Duluth Women

THE Y. W. C. A. POOL.

"Getting in the swim" has been one of the most popular pastimes at the Y. W. C. A. this winter and most every afternoon finds many amateurs struggling valiantly to go the "length of the tank, just once," while their more proficient sisters are doing dives and strokes which would make Annette Kellerman green with envy. By the time summer arrives there should be a large number of new Australian crawlers trying their prowess on the many lakes around Duluth, and those who doubt the progress being made among these lines need only go down to the Y. W. C. A. tank and see—that it can be done.

When the accompanying picture was taken the swimmers scrambled for shelter and only five brave souls dared remain in focus. Even they refused to approach close to the camera.

Even 7-year-old children belong to the swimming classes. There have been as many as forty persons in the tank at once.

No fetching bathing suits of startling color combinations brighten the walk that extends along two sides of the tank, for the regulation suits of blue denim are "neat but not gaudy."

The suits are the property of the Y. W. C. A. and are sterilized after each wearing. Everyone is required to take a shower before entering the pool.

Half an hour is the maximum length of time for remaining in the water which is kept at 75 or 76 deg. The water is changed twice a week and the pool is scrubbed with a cleansing powder. On days when the water is not changed it is disinfected.

All lessons are private and the lesson period is separate from the swimming time.

The swimming is under the direction of Miss Bertha Parmelee, a graduate of the New Haven School of Gymnastics, who is also instructor in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium classes.

Miss Parmelee is planning a swimming exhibition that will be given when the Y. W. C. A. holds an open house early in February, in connection with the golden jubilee celebration of the association.

Matinee Musicale Will Give All-American Program Tuesday

MRS. F. W. SPICER.

It will feature the songs that were given at the biennial in Los Angeles last summer and also the Cadman sonata in A, opus 58, which was given by the composer at that time. Donna Ribette will present the songs and Miss Faith Helen Rogers the sonata. Miss Carlotta Simonds, who is the recording secretary of the federation, will address the club on "The Federation and Its Work."

The Cadman sonata is in the general nature of a rhapsody on the grand theme of "The West," with the verses of Joaquin Miller to further define the setting. Mr. Cadman makes a point of the fact that there are no negro or

Twilight Concert Season to Open at New Armory Sunday

MRS. ARABEL MERRIFIELD. Soloist at First Orchestra Concert.

Final arrangements are now complete for the opening of the twilight concert season by the Duluth orchestra at the new armory tomorrow afternoon. Plans have been under way by the orchestral association for many weeks and few there are who realize the great amount of work that is required in fostering an effort of this nature and the many little incidental details that the casual observer would never think could be a part of the general scheme.

This being the first event of the kind to be held in the new armory, necessitating it to be thoroughly equipped, added in a great measure to the work of preparing for the concert as a seating arrangement had to be worked out, combining sections, rows and seat numbers in such a way that it could be entirely removed or re-assembled as occasion requires; a portable stage constructed, this having been built in sections of different elevations; acoustical defects rectified which has been accomplished in the arrangement of a painted canvas shell around and over the top of the stage for the purpose of concentrating the sound and throwing it directly into the auditorium; the arrangement of boxes in the balcony; decorating the auditorium and devising for leading a large crowd without undue delay when entering the building.

The various seat locations have been designated by large letters hung directly over each section and huge placards will be placed at the entrances directing reserved seat holders to enter from the side, while holders of general admission tickets are to enter from the front or avenue end of the building. Four entrances will be provided and with a corps of thirty ushers, no trouble is anticipated in handling the largest crowds. The floor arrangements are in charge of Whitney Wall, Jr., who will have general supervision of the ushers.

Extra Car Service. The orchestral association has arranged with Manager Warren of the Street Railway company for extra car service after the concert, in fact every detail that could be thought of that would add to the comfort and convenience of the concert patrons has not been overlooked, as it has been the intention from the start to carry out their plans in a thoroughly metropolitan manner.

Director Fred G. Bradbury and the members of the orchestra have been hard at work in daily rehearsals for the last week and all are enthusiastic over the results attained.

Following is the complete program for the first concert:

Hungarian march from "Damnation of Faust"..... Berlioz

Symphony No. 2, B minor (unfinished)..... Schubert

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

"TWIN BEDS" AGAIN AT LYCEUM THEATER

Comedy Play Will Be Offered Two Days Next Week.

"Twin Beds," which was written by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, and which has scored a tremendous success everywhere it has been seen, will be presented at the Lyceum theater, Jan. 28 and 29, Friday and Saturday nights with a matinee Saturday. The play has enjoyed a great success in New York city and had an uninterrupted run there for fifty weeks before Broadway audiences. The company to be seen here revived it at the beginning of the present season in New York, playing the neighborhood theaters and adding six weeks longer to its New York career.

The story concerns the misadventures of a trio of young married couples living in a three-story apartment house. Mr. Hawkins believes in a quiet fire-side and Mrs. Hawkins insists on extending hospitality to all her neighbors, more especially to Sig. Monte, an Italian opera singer, who dearly loves a little outside philandering although he is really devoted to his strenuously domestic wife. Mrs. Monte and Mrs. Hawkins are jealous of their husbands, and without consulting one another, move to new apartments. Mrs. Monte, however, that all move to the same apartment house and then the fun becomes fiercer and fiercer.

Mrs. Hawkins has persuaded her husband, much against his will, to provide twin beds for their new home. The tenor and his wife also have twin beds. The apartments are decorated exactly alike, and one night while Mr. Hawkins is out at the club, the tenor, returning home in a helpless state of intoxication, mistakes a mistake, gets into the Hawkins bed, dons Harry's blue pajamas, and goes to sleep with unbridled snoring and hat on his head.

Mrs. Hawkins is horrified to find him there in the early morning and frantically tries to send him away, but his clothes have disappeared through the agency of a housemaid who follows orders too exactly, and complications arise upon complications, not to be happily straightened out until just before the final curtain falls.

Salisbury and Mayo have provided an excellent cast for the production of "Twin Beds" in the list of names being: Lola Bolton, John Welch, Clara Weldon, Auguste Armand, Eugene Morgan, Helen Gaby and Fred Ozab.

This is the same company that has played New York, Brooklyn, Baltimore, Washington, St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

ROOSTER ACT HEADS GRAND BILL

Other Classy Features Are Offered; Great Santell Next Week.

In offering Torcat and D'Aliza, the French artists, with their troupe of trained roosters, the New Grand has one of the unique novelties in vaudeville, the act being different from any in this country. The possibilities of the poultry run are tested in a manner not heretofore attempted on the stage. Mr. Torcat is ably assisted by Miss Flor D'Aliza in this act. Roosters of every sort and size are perched around the stage and wait their turn, solemnly taking up their various duties on the revolving stage, climbing ladders and walking the walking globe.

Comedy singing, talking and dancing are all combined in a most enjoyable routine by Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves. Each one of these boys is a comedian of more than ordinary ability. Some excellent harmony singing adds much to the offerings.

The Lampsins offer a novelty in magic and comedy. Throughout the routine of mystifying stunts the tricks are explained as they proceed, which adds a high kind of comedy to the offering. Benny and Fields fill in twenty minutes with eccentric dancing and singing that is pleasing and enjoyable entertainment.

Jack Mulhall and Vera Sisson head the cast in "The Avenging Shot," a remarkable two-reel drama toppling the mystery part of the program. "Mile-a-Minute Monty," a dandy cartoon comedy, "Crossed Clews," one of the vaudeville stories, and the Hearst-Sig News portraying events of international import make up the remainder of the bill.

On Monday the new bill promises that, a popular Broadway entertainer, Wednesday and Thursday, Edna Mayo, one of the most charming and talented of the Essanay stars, will be featured in "Despair." Other stars in the cast are Bryant Washburn, Anna May Walcott and William V. Barna. "The Lesser Evil," a Biograph photoplay, will be seen on the same program.

SHORT TALKS WITH SCREEN-STRUCK GIRLS

By Beatrice Michelena.

(Copyrighted, January, 1916, by Beatrice Michelena.) Please do not think me the impersonation of pessimism if I take occasion in this "talk" to enlarge somewhat upon the difficulties that I last week told you would surround an endeavor to enter the motion picture profession. As a matter of fact I believe that there is no one who has a more abundant or a longer abiding faith in the efficacy of ambition and determined work.

If you are going to try to get into pictures, there is only one safe and sensible way for you to start about it—and that is with an expectation that you are to experience a real struggle and will have reason to call upon every ounce of courage and patience you possess.

Therefore, I'm going to warn you against two enemies to your success. One is the irresponsible stories you have read about this or that actress who has fallen immediately into stardom and a big salary with no effort or fight for what she got; the other is your well-meaning but deluded friends who tell you that you are beautiful and talented as any one appearing on the screen, and should consequently demand as much recognition and salary, and demand it with no delay.

I can tell you honestly that there is no one who has achieved anything in the motion picture profession who has not worked hard for her success. The struggles with some have been more obvious than with others, but whether it has been seen or not, the struggle has been there in every case and the success has been the reward of art and fight.

When your friends tell you how easily you will succeed in pictures, thank them as politely as you can, but do not take their words too much to heart. Our director tells me that the girls who apply to him for a "trial" because their friends are sure of their immediate success are each day numerous enough to furnish every production company in the United States with a leading woman. A very few of these many applicants will some day be sure enough, leading women, but they are the ones who will the most successfully disregard what their friends have said and consequently be the more ready to start out with a determination to work and wait until success is theirs.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

EVERY FOOT OF SPACE FOR DULUTH AUTO SHOW TAKEN

Every space for the second annual automobile show at the new armory during the week of Feb. 7 has been reserved.

There will be ninety-one automobiles, sixteen trucks and three electric cars on display, in addition to fifteen accessory exhibits in the basement, according to an announcement made yesterday by Joseph T. Arrangements for the show were completed yesterday by the executive committee of the dealers' association. The building will open at 7 o'clock Monday evening, Feb. 7, with a concert by the Third Regiment band, and an address by Mayor Prince. Musical programs by the band and singers from local hotels will feature the program every evening during the week, from 8 until 10:30 o'clock. The auto races will be staged on the bay Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 9.

It was announced at the meeting that ten of the local dealers will exhibit illuminated stripped chassis, which will be run by electricity throughout show week.

Hugh Macdonald, it was also announced, will exhibit two Duluth manufactured trucks, which are being finished at his factory. The trucks will be given a name during show week and they are the first ever manufactured in this city.

Chicago Show Opens.
Chicago, Jan. 22.—The annual Chicago automobile show held by the combined American motor car manufacturers opened here today in the Coliseum.

In size, exhibits and attendance the 1916 show bids fair to far outstrip all others. On every hand only the most prosperous of "prosperity" stories are heard among the factory officials in this, the youngest of the world's greatest industries. In addition to the mammoth Coliseum, the annex and First Regiment armory are required to hold the display. All decorations and signs are uniform. More than 200 car and accessory manufacturers are represented.

That automobile manufacturers are warranted in putting forth the effort and expense necessary to exhibit their cars at the Chicago show is evidenced by the fact that they endeavor to make their exhibit better each year.

CLIMBING THE HILL.
Out at Oden, Utah, there is a hill called "Dodge Brothers Hill" and it got its name because it was climbed by a Dodge Brothers car with nine people aboard. The total weight of the load was 1,718 pounds and the grade on the portion of the hill covered varied from 20 to 45 per cent.

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

Robert A. Douglas, Ironwood, Mich., writes to The Herald Good Roads department:

"Your always interesting automobile section of last Saturday contained an inquiry from Frank Pollock, Carson Lake, Minn., as to the best automobile route from Duluth to the Michigan Copper country, thence to Marquette, Green Bay and Minneapolis. The Herald last fall printed 'logs' of the two routes between Duluth and Ashland; one by the way of Iron River, the other through Neganagan and Drummond. Mr. Pollock, like many others in Northern Minnesota, is not aware of the magnificent trunk line that was opened up in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan during the past year. The western terminus of this great highway is at Ironwood, the eastern terminus at Menominee. The distance between these two cities is about 225 miles, and the writer ventures the assertion that nowhere in the Northwest can there be found a continuous stretch of trunk line road of equal length that compares favorably with the route from Ironwood to Sault Ste. Marie."

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Road travel on the Atlantic coast highway, which is the recently adopted name for the Quebec-Miami route, increased so rapidly in the late fall and early winter that the touring information board of the American Automobile association, to satisfy the multiplying demands for the latest information about the main artery between the North and the South, sent two of its touring experts from New York city to Florida in a trip which proved exceedingly illuminating.

E. L. Ferguson of the Washington headquarters, and J. A. Hemstreet of the New York bureau, who have been over the route several times, found that a wonderful development had taken place during the past year.

By careful selection of routing from point to point, in some places making slight detours to incorporate completed highways rather than take a more direct line over short cuts of unimproved roads, the itinerary of 1,000 miles from New York city to Jacksonville was laid out in which less than 150 miles of uncompleted highway is included. This 150 miles is made up of stretches varying from one mile to twenty-seven miles in length, all of which is graded and some of which is being surfaced with wearing materials.

In the entire route from the Hudson to the St. Johns there is only about twenty-five miles unprovided for as to completion of surfacing, the grading having been done and fully one-half of the mileage is at least fair. There are only two very short places which would be bad in continuous wet weather. The result of the surveying trip will be put into detailed form to be issued as a special route book connecting the North and the South.

It is planned by the Texas delegation in congress to make a united and strong effort to obtain aid from the Federal government for the construction of the proposed military highway that is to follow the course of the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville. Need of such a road for the use of army motor trucks and the movement of troops was demonstrated during the recent troubles along the border. The old military highway that extended up the Rio Grande from Brownsville to Laredo, a distance of about 275 miles, is in a bad state of repair, but it can be made serviceable at comparatively small cost, it is claimed.

The Dixie Highway association has received a number of the new markers which will keep motorists on the right trail. The markers are metal signs, 14x10 inches, and are conspicuous in red, white and blue. The cotton bale, the symbol of the road, is in the center. The field of the sign is red, with the words "Dixie highway" in blue.

The Southern convict and his adaptability for road work forms an interesting chapter in the thesis prepared by James Wilcox, under the joint direction of the highway department of Columbia university and the national committee on prisons and penitentiaries. Mr. Wilcox has had personal experience with convict road

Ironwood; Ironwood, through the Gogebic range to Watersmeet; Watersmeet to Iron River and Crystal Falls; Crystal Falls to Iron Mountain, two routes, both good; Iron Mountain to Powers, branching there to either Menominee or Escanaba. There is a fair road from Watersmeet north through Ontonagon county to Houghton, and a better one from Crystal Falls north through Marquette and Baraga counties to the Copper country, permitting stop overs at Ishpeming and Marquette. From Menominee south to Green Bay the main highway is much traveled, and there are several good routes between Green Bay, Wausau, Medford, Eau Claire, Hudson and Minneapolis. The primary purpose of this letter was to let Mr. Pollock know, as well as others who may be interested, that there is now an excellent highway through the Upper Peninsula of Michigan from Ironwood as far east as Gladstone, and that by the fall of 1916 it will be possible to travel on good roads all the way from Ironwood to Sault Ste. Marie.

10,000 CITIZENS BUILD 150 MILES OF ROAD IN DAY.

A record in roadmaking not unlike the old-fashioned barn and church-raising speed contests has been achieved in the South, where 10,000 citizens turned out and in a single day constructed a highway 150 miles long, from Memphis, Tenn., to Paducah, Ky. The work was, of course, very rough, the statistics showing that each man must have made eighty feet of road during the hours of work.

HONOR KISSEL FOR INVENTIVE GENIUS

Makes All Manufacturers "Put Lid" on Touring Car.

At the annual banquet of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce held in New York during the recent show, five members were selected for special honors. They were: John N. Willys, the Dodge brothers, H. W. Ford and George Kissel.

Of these five manufacturers, the first four were complimented for achievements in promotion and finance, and Mr. Kissel alone for inventive genius. It is here a comprehensive listing of this generous recognition from fellow manufacturers, is the "all-year car. At the banquet of the occasion put it, Kissel made every other manufacturer put a lid on his touring car."

AVERAGE PRICE LOWER.

The average price of the 1916 car is $1,600 as compared with $1,800 for the 1915 car. At $2,000, and the average price of the 1915 car at $2,635. In two years the average price has been cut more than $1,000.

TO REWARD OWNER OF OLDEST HAYNES

New "Twin Six" Will Be Given By Company.

A new Haynes "twin six" awaits the owner of the oldest Haynes automobile in America.

The Haynes Automobile company, the builders of the first automobile to be built in this country, want to find their oldest car now in service. They are going to give away one of their newest models, a 12-cylinder car, for the Haynes automobile of the earliest type which can be found, according to M. W. Turner, local distributor for the Haynes "twin six."

Owners of the old Haynes cars are

work in the South and his suggestions as to methods of handling the Southern convict are exceedingly valuable.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The official red, white and blue enameled signs, marking the route of the Lincoln highway in the city, have been placed by the Automobile Club of Philadelphia. A sign at Broad and Walnut streets, marking the westerly route of the road, is shown in the accompanying illustration. In placing the signs, the local club is following the lead of other automobile clubs throughout the country in co-operating with the Lincoln Highway association.

Road building at night is the innovation ordered by State Highway Commissioner. Burdon of Missouri. Orders have been issued to two road building outfits in Osage county to work in two shifts, one day and one night. Headlights will be placed on the tractors to facilitate the work. The order was given that the most might be made of the splendid weather and unusually good conditions for grading.

There are now 42,528 miles of official roads in the United States, of Washington, enough to afford fourteen distinct routes from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. There are in addition 9,561 miles of graded and drained earth roads, and 6,046 miles of surfaced roads.

The construction of a connecting link in a proposed highway to run between Seattle Falls and Fort Worth, Tex., a distance of about 100 miles, soon will be started.

Who has a photograph of the first automobile in Duluth? The Herald would like to publish this photograph in its second annual automobile number on Feb. 5 and receipt of the picture would be greatly appreciated by the Duluth Automobile Club. If you know who has a picture, notify the automobile editor as early as possible.

CHECK AUTO RACING ON COUNTRY ROADS

Engineer Cooley Urges Legislation By State of Minnesota.

Legislation may be asked by the state highway commission to discourage or forbid auto racing on the country roads of Minnesota, which has been fostered in the past by motor manufacturers. A similar law has been asked by the Iowa highway commission, which reported to Governor Clarke that 80 per cent of the road accidents in that state are caused by races or speeders.

"Though we have no statistics on road accidents in Minnesota, I believe the Iowa figures are not far wrong," said George W. Cooley, secretary of the Minnesota commission. "Not only do speeders cause the majority of accidents, but they are responsible for much more of the wear and tear on roads than is ordinary traffic. They should be legislated against."

requested to send in their names to the factory at Kokomo, Ind., together with complete descriptions of the cars, so that the oldest car may be found as quickly as possible.

The chances are the offer will uncover types of Haynes cars that were popular in the early days. The automobiles built in the late 80's and the first years of the following decade had 2-cylinder motors, machines with large bore cylinders and short piston stroke. In 1906 the builders of "America's first car" put a 4-cylinder motor car on the market, which was followed by the first of the 6-cylinder type seven years later.

It is possible that one of the oldest cars of the 1-cylinder type may arise phoenix-like from the ashes and scrap heaps of the motor car industry and lay claim to the Haynes "light twelve."

The Haynes company built cars of this model, prototypes of "America's first car," during the first four years of its existence, and the homecoming of one of these automobile pioneers would be an occasion for festivity.

WILLYS GIVEN HIGH TRIBUTE

Probably the most notable tribute the banking industry has ever paid an automobile manufacturer was accorded recently to John North Willys of Toledo, when he was guest of honor at a dinner given by Elsie Walker, of William Salomon & Co., New York.

The dinner given in his honor was attended by many of the most prominent bankers in the United States. Mr. Walker, the host, made an informal speech in which he explained that the sole purpose of the dinner was to give the bankers present a chance to meet one of the real giants in the automobile industry.

Mr. Willys is the head of the big Willys-Overland company of Toledo, and with one exception is the largest builder of motor cars in the world. Among the prominent men who attended the dinner were: Frank A. Vanderlip, president, National City bank; J. S. Alexander, president, Bank of Commerce; E. G. Merrill, president, Union Trust company; Thomas Cochran, Jr., president, Liberty National bank; Alvin P. Kreh, president, Equitable Trust company; William V. King, president, Columbia Trust company; Le Roy W. Baldwin, president, Empire Trust company; A. E. Sullivan, president, Chas. Exchange National bank; J. W. Platten, president, United States Mortgage & Trust company; Lewis L. Clarke, president, American Exchange National bank; J. B. Martin, president, Chemical National bank.

What it costs to run a machine is something of interest to all who buy automobiles, as well as to those who are considering their purchase.

An Albany man, who has one of the cheap makes of automobiles, kept a record last year, with the following result: Gasoline, $34.35, using 250 gallons; Cylinder oil, 15 gallons, $8.04; tires, inner tubes and patches, $8.25; batteries, $6.45; garage repairs, $18.17; painting car, $16; depreciation, figured at 10 per cent, which is pretty low; Total, $133.55. Cost per mile, 17 cents. Average monthly expense, $15.29. Number of miles traveled, 8,290.

"WOMEN AND CHILDREN FIRST."

When a vessel is in deadly peril on the sea, the inevitable cry which shows man's nature at its noblest is "Women and children first!" And the world always thrills when it hears that splendid cry of manhood at its highest.

Why can't manhood be as noble when war impends?

One pretty sure way to gain hatred of war if you haven't it is to divest it of all its larger significances, of all its heroisms and manly sacrifices, even of all its tragedies of the battlefield so far as they are directly concerned, and to think of what war means to women and children.

Though the women and children do not make war nor wage it, they suffer and sacrifice. They suffer and sacrifice terribly.

Think of the women and children of stricken Belgium and devastated Poland—the women and children whose pitiful cry of need is now being laid before the generous hearts of rich America.

Think of the women and children of Germany, of France, of England, of Scotland and Ireland and Wales, of Austria, of Serbia, of Italy.

Think of the mothers whose sons have died or come home crippled for life. Think of the wives whose husbands have laid down their lives on the battlefield or have been sent home disabled, to eke out a miserable existence on a scanty pension. Think of the children whose fathers will never return. Think of the girls whose sweet hearts have marched gallantly away, never to come again. Think of the women and children of the war-stricken lands who are afflicted by poverty and the high cost of food. Think of the women all over Europe who are forced to do man's heavy labors.

Think of the hard living for generations to come that the women and children of Europe must suffer because of the appalling burdens laid upon the nations of Europe by the cost of war.

Why can't the men who make war, men who cheerfully stand aside and say "Women and children first!" in a high moment of peril at sea—why can't they think of "Women and children first?" when they consider making a war?

"If I had been president," said Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island in speaking of the trouble on the Mexican border, "twenty-four hours would not have elapsed before the army was in pursuit of those murderers, and I would not have ceased until American rancheros were as safe in Mexico as in the streets of Washington."

It is noticeable—and noteworthy—that the senator did not say "before I was PERSON-ALLY heading an invading force."

DOGS AND BABIES.

Two observing young society men made a bet the other day at Palm Beach, according to a dispatch from there to the New York Times.

Palm Beach is a fashionable resort, and these young men are young men of fashion.
Russell G. Colt, so goes the story, offered to bet Herman Oelrichs that there are more dogs in Palm Beach than babies. That isn't so strange. The queer thing about it is that Oelrichs took the bet.

At last accounts their census wasn't complete, but there wasn't the slightest particle of doubt about who was going to win the bet.

When the story was wired, they had found eight babies and twenty-nine dogs.
The dogs were aristocrats, and included those of the English bulldog, pomeranian, spitz, police dog, water spaniel, Russian Wolfhound, Pekinese, pointer, setter and Boston Bull breeds. One childless woman showed up with one police dog, two water spaniels, one Pekinese, one Russian wolf hound and eight other dogs, mostly pointers and setters.

Now there is something very fine about the relationship between human beings and dogs. A dog is a loyal friend that sticks through thick and thin. No matter how cruelly you use him, no matter how poverty and misfortune may afflict you, he loves you still. He loves you as ardently in rags as he would in purple and fine linen. And when, his short life ended, he dies and leaves you, it wrenches your heartstrings. It is a fine affection, that between the dog and his master.

But honestly, now, isn't there something to be said, too, in favor of the relation between a mother and her child? Isn't there something fine in that, something that even "society" can understand and appreciate?
Is a dog, for all his loyalty and royal en-eage and costly price, a good substitute for a baby?

It isn't alone "society" as represented at Palm Beach that makes this trade. How many babies per family are there in the flat and apartment buildings inhabited by "middle class" married couples whose incomes run from a couple of thousand to five or ten thousand a year? Not so much as a very respectable fraction of a baby per family, they say.

It is pleasant, maybe, to know how well those Palm Beach dogs are treated—how they have fine kennels, the best of food and care and all that. But it isn't so pleasant when you think of what financial facilities these doting dog-owners have for rearing babies—if it wasn't so great an annoyance to bear them and have them about.

Of course there are some "society" babies, or there would be nobody to inherit the money and no talk of heavy inheritance taxes to restore most of the swollen fortunes to society, which created them. And that's not the society with the large "S," either. But dogs are less trouble, and doubtless that's why Russell Colt wins his bet from Herman Oelrichs.

Everybody to his taste. The rich choose dogs, the poor choose babies. That's fine for the dogs, but it doesn't seem, somehow, like exactly a square deal for the babies.

Imitation is the sincerest flattery.

THE TWILIGHT CONCERTS.

Sunday evening the Duluth orchestra will give in the new armory the first of a series of ten popular concerts.

These concerts deserve support and patronage on all counts.

They deserve it because a splendid orchestra has been organized, because good soloists will be provided, and because good music—music that will give pleasure to every taste—is being selected to make up the programs.

They deserve support and patronage, secondly, because this is not an enterprise to make profits for anybody, but to encourage musical appreciation in Duluth and to supply the needs of those who love music.

Success for the concert series this year doesn't mean money in anybody's pocket, but a fund to assure a still better orchestra next year. If success continues, as it should continue with musical appreciation growing as it certainly will if it is given the food of good music to grow upon, the time will come when Duluth will be able to support a symphony orchestra that will not only provide good music for Duluth, but will carry abroad Duluth's fame as a musical center.

The concert is at five o'clock—a convenient hour. The prices are moderate—made so in order to put this good music within the reach of all. If the new armory is packed tomorrow afternoon it will be highly encouraging to those who have a belief in a great future for music in Duluth.

THE OTHER FELLOW'S VIEWPOINT.

"There, but for the grace of God, goes Samuel Johnson," said the wise old lexi-cographer as he saw a human wreck go by.
Take care lest such sights make you say, with the Pharisee: "God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are."

For there is a very great difference between these two quotations—in the spirit that actuated them.

When you see a tottering human wreck go by, and are thankful that you are not like that, do not, like the Pharisee, count it as evidence that you are a superior being.
It should make you humble, not proud.

What if you had had that man's birth, his heredity, his environment, his temptations, his tragedies? If you had, are you sure you would have done better than he?

It is good, once in awhile, to put yourself in the other fellow's place—to see things from his viewpoint. It is broadening, it is educating, it makes for charity.

To do it is a rule close to that noblest rule of all—"Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

If that aged pickle-eater was a relative of his, the world will at last understand why Peter Piper had to pick all those pickled peppers.

ECONOMIC PRESSURE AGAINST WAR.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, its members convinced both as business men and as human beings that war is an undesirable thing that it is worth while trying to get rid of, has gone on record in favor of having the United States take the lead in organizing a league of nations against war.

The plan is to have a court of arbitration for arbitrable differences, and a court of conciliation for cases not arbitrable. The weapon proposed is the use of economic pressure by all neutral nations against any nation that resorts to war without first referring its grievances to the proper court.

In any event, when the war is over some sort of organization will be attempted. If the world's will is strong enough, that organization can be made permanent and effective. The plan outlined above—it is substantially the plan adopted by the League to Enforce Peace—is by all odds the most practical yet proposed, and the one most likely to make the peace organization effective and lasting.

In his book, "The World Highway," Norman Angell has luminously outlined a tentative working out of this plan.

Briefly, the nations having banded together for the preservation of peace, they would throw against the nation that fights without resorting to arbitration or conciliation the full economic force of all the world as well as the military forces of its enemies.

When there are adequate tribunals for the adjudication of international differences, as there can be and must be, it is a fair presumption that a nation that refuses to lay its case before these tribunals is in the wrong.

As the nation that disturbs the peace menaces and injures the whole world, let the world formally declare that nation an outlaw. Here is how the economic pressure plan would work out, as described by Mr.

Angell: "From the moment of the offending nation's defiance of the international agreement to which it had been a party, its ships could enter no civilized port outside its own, nor leave them. Payment of debts to it would be withheld. The commercial paper of its citizens would not be discounted. Its citizens could not travel in any civilized country in the world, their passports being no longer recognized.

"Thus, the outlaw nation could neither receive from nor send to the outside world material or communication of any kind—neither food nor raw material of manufacture, nor letters, nor cables. Money due it throughout the world would be sequestered for disposal finally as the international court's judgment should direct; and that rule would apply to royalties on patents and publications and would, of course, involve precautionary seizure or sequestration of all property—ships, goods, bank balances, business—held by that nation's citizens abroad."

In a word, the plan involves absolute outlawry—and very proper, too—as the world's just judgment and sentence upon any nation that breaks the peace without submitting its cause to arbitration.

What nation, if such an international agreement were made, would dare to break it and invite this penalty?

Then there is the suspicion that the only difference the horse-meat order made in New York's diet was in the label.

THE PERIODICALS.

A New York publisher declares that the magazines are ruining the book trade, and deplores it as a real national injury.

While his viewpoint is not wholly unbiased, there is too much in what he says.
Whether good or ill results when magazines take the place of books depends, of course, upon the magazines. A quick survey of the magazines that lead in popularity will surely incline almost anybody to an agreement with the New York publisher.

America has some splendid magazines, and some of its best have comfortably large circulations. But some of its poorest have circulations vastly larger.

Crowley's Magazine, a periodical for magazine dealers, gives some interesting statistics about the fifty American magazines that have more than a hundred thousand circulation. Incidentally, it is worth noting that some of the very best magazines in this country are not in this class. The Atlantic Monthly, for instance, which for half a century has maintained the highest standard of literary excellence, has lately announced with pride that its circulation now exceeds fifty thousand. The Nation has less than twenty thousand buyers. The New Republic has about the same circulation.

The two publications of largest circulation are women's magazines sold at twenty and thirty-five cents a year. The third is the Saturday Evening Post, with a sale of 1,950,000 copies weekly; one case where, on the whole, merit and circulation measurably accord. There are five other publications with circulations of more than a million copies. One children's publication, the Youth's companion, sells nearly half a million copies. The Christian Herald, a religious publication, has a circulation of more than 280,000. The only high-priced and strictly high-class magazine with more than a hundred thousand circulation is Scribner's, with 150,000. Harper's, the Century, the North American Review, the Yale Review, the Outlook and the other first-rank magazines all fall below the hundred-thousand mark—and some of them well below it.

The total circulation of the fifty publications treated in this statement is more than thirty millions, and the total subscription receipts exceed thirty million dollars.

And the movies take in six or seven times that much!

Undoubtedly the relatively high prices of the higher class magazines have much to do with their smaller circulation. Perhaps it would be a hazardous experiment, but it would be interesting to see what would happen if the Century, for instance, were put on sale at fifteen cents a copy. It might only result in losing the Century its present patronage; it might, on the other hand, disclose the fact that popular tastes are much better than they are ordinarily given credit for, and that financial considerations, rather than bad taste, is responsible for the small circulations of the better magazines.

It would be interesting, though, to see one of the good magazines in a really equal competition with, to mention an extreme case of the opposite kind of magazine, the Cosmopolitan.

Who knows but the difficulty the Republicans are having in getting a presidential candidate may be raising great hopes in the breasts of the suffragettes?

THE "DEMOCRACY" OF CONSCRIPTION.

Col. Roosevelt and others who refuse to be content with any scale of "preparedness" short of putting the whole nation in arms through compulsory universal military service—that is to say, conscription in time of peace—argue that this is the only fair, equal and democratic system.

Conscription in time of peace "democratic"? Save the mark! Their plan means militarism pure and simple, and militarism and democracy are oil and water—or, rather, fire and tow.

It is worth while to analyze this "democratic" conscription that compulsory universal service is democracy.

Suppose it to have been adopted and put in practice. In one community two men are called to the colors to do their allotted period of service. Both are young men.

Both are single. Both are to do the same service for the same length of time.
Looks equal and democratic and all that, doesn't it?

But one of these young men has inherited wealth and an ample income. He has nothing in particular to do, and the call to military service is rather an adventure—a welcome variation of the monotony of life without striving.

But the other young man has no inherited income, no leisure, no need to kill time. He has been learning a trade or profession, and is getting along so well that he is looking forward to marriage and a home—has the girl all picked out, in fact.
The call to military service means that he must drop his trade, for the time being;
that he must lose precious months out of his life when he is making splendid use of his time. Military service to this young man is a sacrifice; to the other it is no sacrifice at all. Is there any "democracy" about that?

Conscription in war time is no more democratic; though in that case it is a condition and not a theory that confronts a threatened nation, and all considerations may have to stand aside before the national peril.

Conscription in time of peace is another.
The Herald is unalterably opposed to conscription in time of peace. If the country were engaged in war it might advocate conscription in the beginning rather than conscription when it was perhaps too late.

Lord Derby, sponsor for the recruiting plan that preceded the move for conscription in England, made an earnest argument against conscription when he offered his plan. What he says about conscription in war time applies with equal force to conscription in time of peace. In substance it is as follows:

"Army service does not mean an equal service for all. For the participant it is a gallant adventure, for the worker who has none dependent on him it is a temporary change to an extra-hazardous occupation, with low pay, but a pension. For the man who is the support of dependents, or the man whose affairs cannot be dropped without disaster, the personal service in war is complicated by intricate social and business ties. Of two men of like income and position, one may lose little by volunteering if he comes back unscathed, while the other's income may stop and his career be broken. It cannot be said that the burden of conscription is democratic till it is made to bear evenly, and the more democratic a country is the less can this be managed.

Conscription may or may not be necessary, but nothing is gained by denying that it is a hateful necessity."

It is a hateful necessity, and should only be resorted to when it is plainly a necessity. To resort to it in time of peace, when it means dragging away from their vital personal affairs young men to whom the loss of time and the interruption of their career may be ruin, is monstrous; and those who advocate it, however well meaning some of them are, simply prove their complete unfitness to discuss such matters safely.

Science will always wonder how long that 102-year-old pickle-eater who died the other day would have lived if she hadn't eaten so many pickles.

An Impudent American.

Stuyvesant Fish in the New York Evening Journal: "I am very glad to read a speech made in the house of representatives by Isaac R. Sherwood, a Democratic member from Ohio, and a veteran of the Civil war. The speech was a masterpiece of military preparation to my thinking bosh. We have less need of it today than ever, and never had any."

Barring accidents, the war in Europe will be decided out to a finish, through the absolute exhaustion of one party or the other, and when peace comes it will for many years take all the financial resources of the civilized world to set the business of Europe a-going once more commercially. I don't want to be pessimistic, but an old adage comes to my mind:

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall,
All the king's horses and all the king's men
Can't put Humpty Dumpty together again.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Looking Ahead.

In future years we will not boast, as we are boasting now, that we have forebears in the host upon the Mayflower's prow. Nor will we boast of Norman blood, or how our sires shed gore, when they crossed o'er the raging flood, with Bill the Conqueror. We'll say, when gathered round the board, "By Woden and by Thor! Our fathers sailed with Henry Ford, and put an end to war!
They cranked their ship with fiery zeal, and sailed for Peace's sake, with Henry at the steering wheel, his foot upon the brake. Across the briny deep they slid, and twanged their peaceful lyres, and when the ship began to skid, they calmly changed the tires. The monarchs in their anger roared, above the marital din, 'What have we done that Henry Ford should come to rub it in?'
The soldiers, with their crimsoned hands, remarked, 'By Mother Goose, the stuff's all off when Henry lands, and turns his white dove loose!' The weary armies loosed their grip, the battleships sailed home, when Henry tooled his good tin ship across the leagues of foam. And o'er the world the White Dove soared, the Dove men panted for; our fathers sailed with Henry Ford, and put the lid on war."

What of the Paramount?

By Savoyard.

Washington, Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald).—This position the Hon. Penrose has taken on the matter of prosperity is not involving all mankind in more or less degree, it created a bad industrial situation in our country. Every man in business "covered his shorts," and nobody was "plunging." To avoid a most disastrous financial panic, the stock exchange was closed and the speculative market no longer existed.
All of us agree, including the Hon. Penrose, himself, that if we had not provided the present banking law everybody in debt would have gone to pot.

That there was stress in business no one doubts. The Democrats laid it on the war.
The Republicans laid it on the tariff, and but for that cry, Penrose would have been beaten in Pennsylvania, Cummins in Iowa, Gallinger in New Hampshire, Harding in Ohio, Sherman in Illinois, and the rest of them.

Notwithstanding that, and all that, the Democrats secured a working majority in the house of representatives and greatly increased their majority in the senate.

But now in 1916 prosperity sweeps the country. Fortune has come with both hands full. There is no denying that. Every industrial walk, farm and shop and mine and counting house and all the others never had such a wave of prosperity as now. The railroads cannot do the business offered them, and the country is full of men and women of 200,000 employees 10 per cent. Nobody able to work and willing to work is out of employment.

And what does the Hon. Penrose say about that? He cannot deny it; he admits it.
His response is that it is all due to the war ever yonder.

There is a set of folks you can't argue with. William Alden Smith is one of 'em.
He is thoroughly persuaded and he argues that the sun would hide his head from a country that did not provide a protective tariff against the paupers of other countries. And he is liable to cuss Fate about it if we have another good crop in this country under the Underwood tariff.

Lord Sheffield of England was a statesman built on the lines of our dear, delicious, lovable, voiceful, vociferous William Alden. He wrote a pamphlet on wool when England was too foolish to be for protection. It was a tremendous document and widely circulated. It fell into the hands of George Canning, the great statesman of his epoch, and this occurred:

"One wet Sunday in a country house Canning got hold of Sheffield's pamphlet on wool and was discovered using a penknife picking out the w's and inserting with pencil f's in their stead, with this result:

"We have no doubt that, with due protection, the production of free wool may be rendered sufficient for our national wants so as to render the importation of foreign wools wholly unnecessary."

The sequel of free wool in England is known to all men of any capacity to look at things. Free wool, so far from destroying that industry, has promoted it in that country just as it is helping it in this country.

The Democratic leaders are perfectly willing to have the tariff for paramount this year. There is but one way to accomplish that—for the Republicans to name a standpatter to head their ticket; but notice is served on them that no standpatter can be elected, for the Bull Moose will not stand for it; and the Bull Moose showed what he will do in 1912 when around Cummings and Borah are too progressive to be stand-patters, and too reactionary to be Bull Moses. They please nobody but themselves, and they are the only ones who are not hopeless for the campaign fairly opened.

What is to be done? There is but one thing to do—nominate Teddy and make preparation the paramount, claiming all the patriotism, all the wisdom, and all the virtue that the Yell Americanism and have the eagle scream its gizzard out as it puts one wing on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific and rises and soars and soars till it is reaching a defiance that will threaten blindness to the glorious orb of day.

That is the scheme, and the Hon. William J. Bryan is doing his utmost to make it triumphant, just as he saved the McKinley administration when he got heavy objections from the army and came to Washington and jammed the treaty of peace with Spain through the United States senate.

Bryan gave us the peace treaty any day, and he is a war that will cost us treasure; for we would not surrender them under compulsion; and if Roosevelt presides shall come and we become a military people like the Prussians, it will be due to the opposition of Bryan the Tenacious. His admirers say Bryan does not lack for brains; some wise men believe that he does lack for wisdom, and some of us are inclined to think that he has more than his fair share of envy.

The Cowardly Submarine

Springfield Republican: Nothing shows more strikingly the unfitness of the submarine for war upon commerce than the fact that a premium is put upon dastardly methods. If a commander observes that a ship may be sunk, he may as well sink it, and what seemed his prey may turn out to be a hostile naval vessel ready to strike back with deadly effect. Again, if complicated maneuvers after he has acted with due formality, showing his colors, firing a blank shot, etc., the evidence against him is clear and full.
It is quite otherwise with a submarine which strikes without warning, perhaps without even appearing at the surface. The more deceitful the deed, the harder it is to trace the offender. If the ship should sink with all hands there would be no witnesses. If some survive they can only say that no warning was given; they cannot give the nationality of the submarine, perhaps cannot even prove that the explosion was not caused by a mine. The fact that in the nature of the case good conduct is penalized will compel an earnest reconsideration of submarine warfare when international law again gets its head above water.

A Sad Story With a Happy Ending.

Rebecca West in the Atlantic: You who think that women ought to be soiled in safety cannot think of a happy ending to the tale of a widow who lost her only son in the wars. You see how she would sit alone in a house that has grown horrible because the pictures on the walls are not of a live boy but of a dead man; how, every day, the little morning breeze of housewifery would spring up and die down into evening afternoon, and how her life would turn into a nightmare of grief and longing. Yet we know now that such a tale can end in brightness. A widow who was nursing in Serbia heard that her son had died at Ypres a week and a day after the armistice. She was told the language of enticement fell upon her and she died. Instead of slowly withering in stale air she ran swiftly at the elbow of her son to the gate of their purpose. She would have no pain for him or for herself, for, having taken part in the ritual of honorable death, she would comprehend that she was no longer a widow. We rejoice that in a time like this we are allowed such mitigations.

The Firm of "Thinker and Tinker"

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

There are feet enough in the world to keep any shoemaker sticking to his last. He can always find a good market for a good boot.

Concentrate on your specialty—it's as big as you are. But no task counts for more than the man behind it.

Millions have been made out of pin-heads, but never with them. What you do is secondary to how you do it.

Fortunes have been extracted from and turned into junk-piles—a waster's refuse heap is a chemist's gold mine.

The Chinese first thought of gun-powder and next of fire-crackers. They hit the idea and missed the application. They discovered the force with which to conquer the universe, and are today vassals to a toy nation, that discovered itself in the utilization of that force.

Enterprise fattens on the leavings of fools.

A Boer farmer fought privation on the site of the Kimberley diggings, while his babies amused themselves with diamond pebbles. No circumstance can profit an ignoramus.

Luck is like a lightning rod—it can't hold what it catches.

Franklin didn't find electricity by accident, but by a key. His idea was in the clouds, and worthless till he sent up and brought it down to earth.

Everybody knew that flying was feasible. Proof existed as long as man, but the knowledge didn't help until we helped ourselves. It was all plane sailing after we went about it in the Wright way.

When man grows sufficiently thoughtful, he grows wings. Intelligence is the jack-of-all-tools.

When brains and fingers connect—so does everything else.

The old reliable firm of "Thinker and Tinker" prompted and promoted every original enterprise on earth.

They were court contractors for Hia and Chow—constructed the Great Wall of China, built Nimrod's Palace, engineered the Pyramids, stuck the Colossus across the Harbour of Rhodes, reared and decorated the Temples of the Acropolis, set up the Columns at Karnak, turned Niagara into a biscuit bakery, smelted rainbows and roses out of coal tar, invented tomato cans, false teeth, ear-muffs, locomotives, microscopes, felt hats, submarines and butter churns.

They'll take orders for anything, from an operation in laparotomy, to a hedge of Woolworth buildings.

They'll deliver a dreadnought to destroy New York, and a gun to sink the dreadnought.

The secret of their success is co-operation—Tinker needs Thinker—Thinker needs Tinker. The firm fails when the partners separate.

"The Low Brow on Olympus"

THE HALF BALD LADY

(Note: The Greeks pictured opportunity as a goddess with all her hair on her forehead, so that he who would seize opportunity must stand ahead—there was nothing to clutch from behind.)

IN the days before Greece was a spot on the map, When gods, nymphs and dryads were always on tap, The affable chap in the smoker might be Apollo or Jupiter out on a spree. And any fine lad might butt into a skirt From Olympus, who'd dropped into town for a flirt.

Now there lived in those times by the River Meander A ne'er-do-well shepherd, young Nisus Leander. He was always complaining and wondering why Opportunity never tossed him the glad eye. "If she once comes my way, I'll be there, bo, to greet her. I know how to handle that dame when I meet her."

One morning expounding his wonderful scheme, So busy was he on his favorite theme, That he wasn't aware of a goddess who passed And gave him the office point-blank, while he gassed. She stood on the corner awhile, and then quit. "What's your hurry?" he cried. "I'll be there, wait a bit."

He tried to detain her. (Don't think that I'm rude— But the lady was rather—the word is so crude. At least you will gather that seeking to clutch A fold of her toga—he mainly missed much.) He reached for her tresses—then stood there appalled To discover—well, nothing—the lady was bald.

Moral:

The moral we gain from this story is plain: Pursuit of a past opportunity's vain. Womanlike, you can bet, if she leaves you behind, It's because she has some other fellow in mind. It's a sheer waste of time to chase after her, brother. Wipe the old slate, forget it, and look up another.

Our Enemies Are in the Field

WHILE we are debating means and meanness of National Preparedness, we may as well get our hand in and start earning the cost of needed fortifications, fleets and armies, by driving out the enemy already in our midst—the price raisers and crop killers, whose depredations frown more heavily on prosperity than the economic menace of any foreign hostile.

Fiscally, there are worse pests than "militarism." We can easily afford to support Mars in the style and luxury to which he has grown accustomed, if we meanwhile economize on our pet folly—the bug's bill-of-fare. His appetite is an intolerable burden. Worms, scales, beetles, weevils and rodents annually gnaw a billion-dollar hole in the world's purse. They are the silent partners of agriculture and manage to get more than an even break.

Some day governments will appreciate the necessity of 45-centimeter ideas in pest fighting. We haven't yet learned properly to fear things that we don't properly see. If army worms were occasionally the size of boa-constrictors—if house flies could for a few hours be as big as elephants and fruit scales suddenly swell to the dimensions of whales—we would see them in their true proportions.

But because they are individually so insignificant, we don't consider their numbers and acquaint ourselves with the appalling fact, that every man in America pays as much to board the caterpillars and vermin as he expends for his own table.

You see, it isn't the farmer's private problem at all. He suffers directly, but ultimately he passes the buck to the cities. The mechanic, the clerk, the merchant, finally assume his losses.

Produce prices are regulated by yield. The more food we can grow to an acre, without adding to operating expense, the cheaper food grows. We could pay for half a dozen European wars every generation with the revenues we now squander on the support of the little brothers of destruction.

Congressional legislation is needed before we can competently organize for their extermination, and your voice will hasten that legislation.

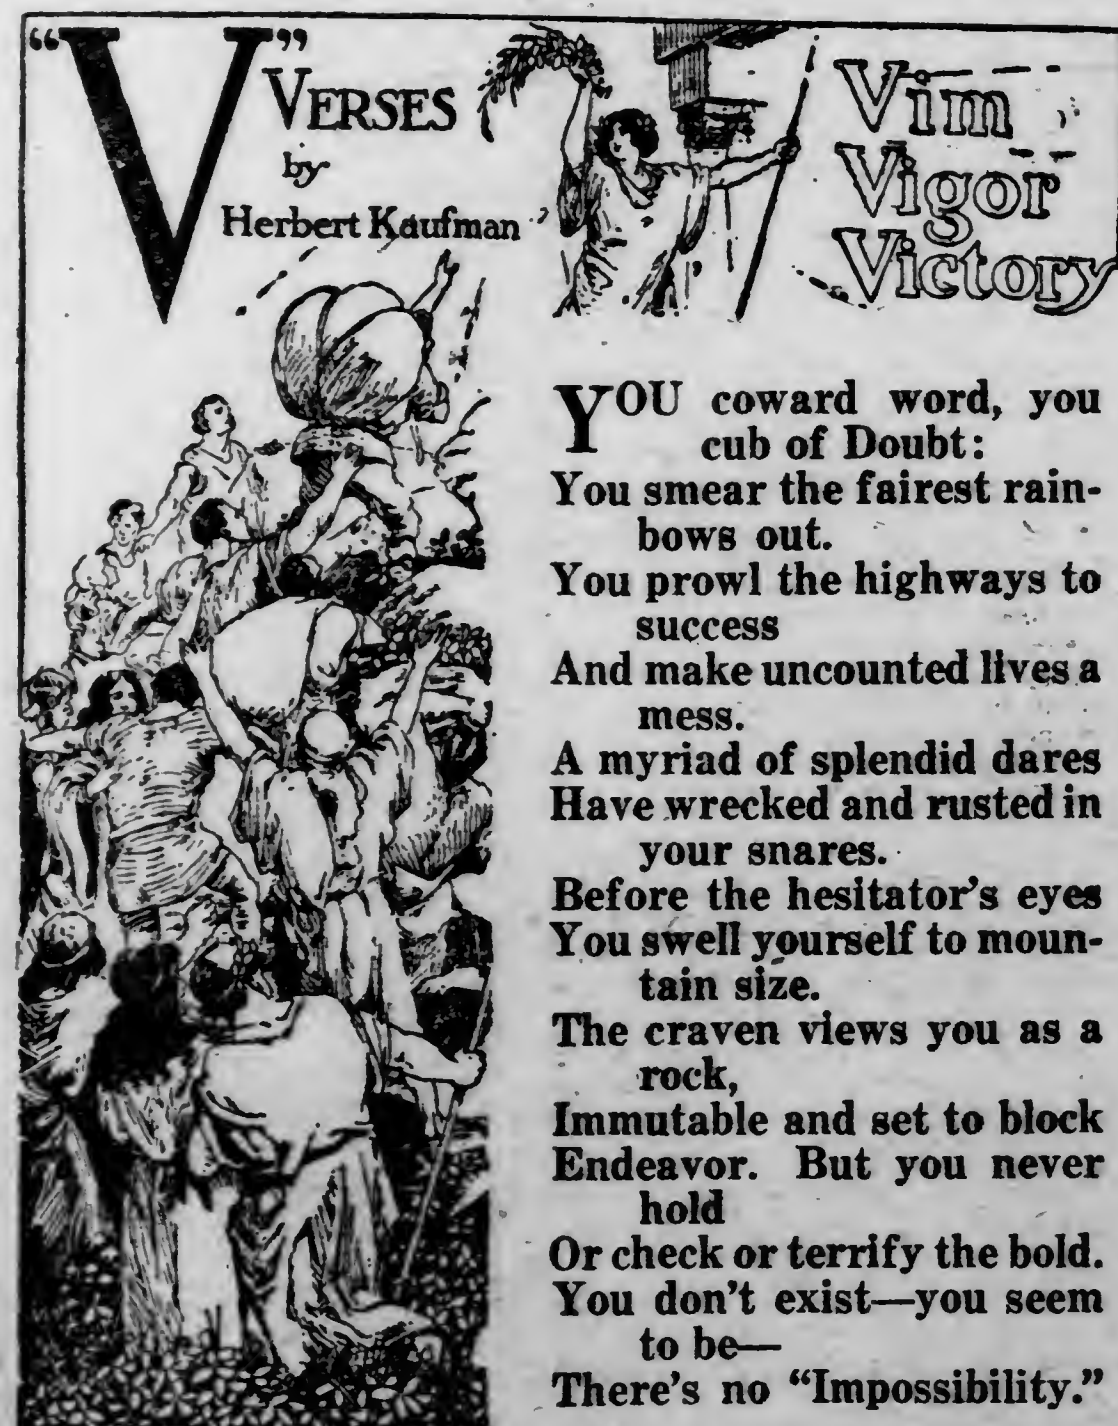

The Hired Men of Washington are sent there to vote your desires into action.

Get out of the habit of thinking that the farmer's troubles aren't everybody's.

Every time you help him, you help yourself. The consumer always pays. Down with the bugs and the high cost of living!

The Winning Breed

AMBITION is a wedge—it elects a purpose and then selects a purchase. Will and doggedness widen the breach wherever opportunity offers an opening. Nothing can long oppose the man whose motto is: "If it can be—I can do."

YOU coward word, you cub of Doubt: You smear the fairest rainbows out. You prowl the highways to success And make uncounted lives a mess. A myriad of splendid dares Have wrecked and rusted in your snares. Before the hesitator's eyes You swell yourself to mountain size. The craven views you as a rock, Immutably and set to block Endeavor. But you never hold Or check or terrify the bold. You don't exist—you seem to be— There's no "Impossibility."

The Gloved Thumb

WE don't believe in advertising," says the "conservative" store. "We don't handle advertised goods—we still follow the good old-fashioned methods." The "good old-fashioned methods"—any price they could get and any goods that would get the price!

Every store that doesn't advertise isn't tricky, but a merchant is less likely to protect his good name when he hasn't invested a fortune in promoting it.

You can believe in the character of any establishment that regularly spends money to create confidence.

Advertising doesn't pay if it isn't honest, and it's cheaper to be honest than to pay for unprofitable advertising.

Advertising is protection, identification, warranty of quality and of value. No merchant calls attention to himself if he isn't prepared to profit by examination of his wares and his ways.

"Conservatism" in this day of modern methods is frequently a cloak for cupidity—a protecting glove against thumb-prints. Reliability is eager to show its hand.

Colleges Can't Teach It All

EDUCATION isn't the completion of a man's schooling, but the equipment with which to promote it. Rules are, at their best, but mental levers, wrenches and handles. Schools and colleges are merely storage stations where recorded ideas of the universe have been assembled and organized for the student, so that he may learn the thoughts of and experiences of all the generations and compare them with his own.

The two main purposes of education are to enable us to grasp truths more readily and to learn how to learn from others. No man can graduate from life!

"Where Are the Roses of Yesterday?"

A YEAR ago, the young cuirassier was the strong man of Bergerac. Now he fumbled along on his new leg, nodding response to the commiserating salutes of the passers-by. As he reached Paillard's, an American woman emerged from the restaurant and impulsively touched his folded sleeve, then noting the ribbon of the Legion she said, "How splendid to be a hero of France!"

"Thank you, madam," accepting with a queer twisted smile a rose from her corsage. "You are very good—they are all very kind," he paused, "now."

"Today I have my hour. I am, as madam has so generously said, 'a hero of France.' But tomorrow and through all the years I shall be," he pointed his stump at the emergency peg with which the Republic equips her mangled sons, "simply one of Europe's million crippled men. Madam, I wonder how many passing ladies will then pause to pin flowers on my coat!"

Six-Club Northern League Circuit Would Not Please the Fans to the Same Extent as an Eight-Club Stand—Ketonen and Carr—Mike Gibbons as a Fighter—Words of Caution to Jane Grey.

BY BRUCE.

WHILE we are loath to drench the whole smear with the cold water of comment, still there exists in our mind a large doubt as to the success of a six club circuit under the squadron colors of the Northern league. Harry Blume is the gent who is opposing the admission of the Copper country rowers. Maybe Herr Blume is correct in his premises, but there are others who believe that a six club circuit will not bring in the dear old kate to the same degree as an eight team affair.

Minor leagues are hedged along the fence top of doubt. Last year the wrecked financial conditions that attended baseball in the sticks and thick brush country were airily explained away by the Federal league alibi. This year the third league is out of the way and it will remain an interesting matter to behold how well the minors draw.

The Northern league suffered in company with other small baseball leagues of the country. Its deficit deluged by its vastness, speaking now in comparative terms. Other leagues failed to do even as well as John Burmeister's circuit, some of them failing to last through the season. Last year's experience has caused a stop, look and listen tendency to inspect some of the magnates. Herr Blume is one of these so infected.

Mr. Blume declared that he was in favor of not having league baseball until the close of the war. His arguments along this line were overruled. Now the Duluth magnate sees slim financial doings in the yellow metal invasion. Maybe he's right. But what is the Northern going to do?

Which One Is "Yellow?"
ALREADY there comes welling up from Minneapolis the cry that Joe Carr is going to show the "yellow stripe" in the system of Waino Ketonen, the holder of the world's mid-weight wrestling championship. Carr declares that he made Ketonen quit cold and this, too, despite the statement of Dr. J. A. McCuen that the little Finn could have possibly wrestled.

Last winter Ketonen, stung by these and many similar statements, refused to wrestle Carr at 158 pounds, right-side and wager $250 on the side. Did Carr wish to get on some easy dough? He did not. Carr quibbled about weight and then dodged the match.

Now Carr has finally agreed to make 158 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. We doubt if Carr will consent to crawl into the same ring with Ketonen. The Minneapolis Pole puller realizes that he is going to pay for some of the slurs he has cast on Ketonen, one of the finest and cleanest wrestlers in the game.

If the pair ever meet, watch closely and observe which is the yellow baby, Carr or little Waino.
We admit to a great athletic admiration for Ketonen as a wrestler. In all his long career in Europe and the United States, Waino had one bad match. That contest was with Joe Carr. If Carr dares come into a second match, then it will be specifically discovered whether Ketonen has a saffron stripe.

Ketonen is taking Chicago by storm. The little Finn has already wrestled two matches in the exclusive Illinois Athletic club and is going to wrestle a third there in February, something no other mid-weight has ever been asked to do. Martin Delaney, the famous instructor of the club, has taken a great liking to the little Finn, and has declared that Waino is one of the greatest athletes he ever laid his eyes upon.

The Status of Gibbons.
Mike Gibbons will go down in history linked as a middleweight with Ryan, Fitzsimmons and Ketchel only after he has disposed of Lester Darcy.

The antipodean is ranked as a bear at; the very best they have produced in years out in the big nowhere of the Never Never land. Beating him would fix firmly in a new white niche the final pugilistic place of Gibbons. Ryan and Fitz and Ketchel knocked a lot of tough ones dead. There never existed any doubt in the world of the fighting ability of Fitzsimmons and Ketchel; as for Ryan, some close students of ring affairs would go as far as to say that they would bet on him against Fitzsimmons at the mid-weight poundage.

Be that as it may, the fact that Ryan was a great fighter, one of our best, is scarcely disputed.
There is no doubt of the boxing ability of Gibbons. In the art of boxing alone he is about the only one of the present bunch of ringmen who remotely resembles the great old boys of the past.

Mike can feint with dazzling speed and tie a man into knots. He can slip blows by the breadth of a hair and possesses a wonderful pair of feet.

How can he fight? Reference: Sweeney.
Mike Gibbons, we think, is one of the greatest, but we don't know. Point out one grueling fight in his career. Point to one battle where the qualities of gameness, grit, endurance and ability to take punishment have been called into play. You can't.

It would be great to have Mike and Darcy matched up over the twenty-round route. There are legends of ring fans pop-eyed eager to find out what Michael can do over the derby route.

Maybe Mike himself doesn't know. He has plenty of money now, wonder why he doesn't find out.

SENIORS TAKE FINAL SWIM

Capture Central High School Title By Score of 44 to 24.

"Howie" Parsons Scores 22 Points for Junior Team.

In the final meet of the Central high school swimming tournament, held yesterday afternoon in the pool of the Y. M. C. A., the seniors were returned the champions of the school after an exciting meet with the juniors, the total scores being 44 to 24. The fourth year men defeated the sophomores in the Monday meet and the juniors took the measure of the freshmen on Wednesday. By reason of their victory yesterday afternoon the 1916 ducks are the school champs.

The meet yesterday was the closest and most exciting of the series, the time in the several events being much better and the general form displayed by the participants showing a big improvement. The fourth year men were never in any great danger of losing the meet, but the juniors pushed them hard in every event.

"Howie" Parsons, the junior star, was the individual point winner of the meet, scoring 22 of his team's total of 44 points. He finished first in the mile race, in the four cross dives and won the largest number of total points in the three diving events. He finished second in the 40 and 100-yard dashes and was third in the 20-yard dash. Maggard, the senior star, came a close second with 18 points.

The summary of the events and the winners is given below:
20-yard dash—Maggard, first; Burns, second; Parsons, third. Time, 10 2/5 seconds.
40-yard dash—Maggard, first; Parsons, second; Burns, third. Time, 26 seconds.
100-yard dash—Maggard, first; Parsons, second; Burns, third. Time, 1 minute, 26 seconds.

Platform, front and back diving events—Parsons, first, 25 points; Steuward, second, 24 points; Burns, third, 22 points.
Relay race—Won by the seniors, Maggard, Auser and Burns.

FULTON MAY HAVE CHANCE AT JESS

If Moran Haggles on Signing, Minnesota Heavyweight Will Do.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 22.—With the intention of concluding arrangements for a championship battle in April and perhaps another fight later, Jess Willard, holder of the world's heavyweight pugilistic title, and Tom Jones, his manager, left here last night for Chicago, where they will meet Jack Curley.

"I'm ready to meet anybody they bring on," Willard declared. "I want at least the fight before summer and maybe another one if the dates are satisfactory."
It was intimated that should the signature of Frank Moran not be forthcoming to the proposed contract for a bout in New York, that Fred Fulton of Minnesota might be substituted.

New York, Jan. 22.—James Johnston, manager of Madison Square Garden and announced last night an offer of $50,000 to Jess Willard and $20,000 to Frank Moran for a ten-round boxing match here the latter part of March.

Another week of bowling in the major league finds the Oak Halls leading the procession with a three-game lead over the Elcoras, who went into second place by winning three straight games. The Big Duluths and Sharkcrafts are tied for third place.

Whitney of the Big Duluths hung up the high three-game total of the week, his score reaching the high mark of 627. This is the second occasion of 627. This is the second occasion of 627. This is the second occasion of 627.

The Big Duluths got the high single game score of 1,024 and also the high three-game score of 2,883. The Elcoras held their pin average, and lead the league with a mark of 930 for forty-two games rolled.

This tops the mark of the Park Hotel team for the same number of games rolled last year, the hostelry five having a mark of 905.

Berini leads the individual bowlers with a mark of 195. Stiegler dropped a point but tenaciously clings to second place with a mark of 193. During the week there were twenty-one games rolled over the 200 mark.

GRAND AGGREGATE GOES TO THE BREWER-WHYTES

Duluth Rink Has Cinched Right to Highest Honors of the Spiel—Reedal, Grace and LaBatt May Be Tied for Second Place—LaBatt Beaten in Duluth Event By Brewer—McNabb to the Fore.

In the 6 o'clock draw of yesterday, the Brewer-Whites defeated LaBatt's rink 14 to 10, thus winning the Duluth Curling club event and also clinching their hold on the grand aggregate prize.

Walter Hall of Duluth threatened to continue as the sensation of the spiel all of yesterday when his rink defeated the Brewer-Whites in the noon draw of the Western Curling club event. Hall won also in the 3 o'clock draw, all this winning leading up to a gay and gaudy anti-climax that was set for the game with McNabb.

LaBatt, Grace and Reedall may be tied for second place in the grand aggregate competition. McNabb to the Fore.

After proving somewhat of a disappointment during the early part of the week, the McNabb rink came through yesterday and furnished the feature of the day's play by the winning of three games, Hall and Reedall being among the victims of the Allician Scot.

McNabb is in the finals of the Minneapolis event and in the semi-finals of the St. Paul Jobbers' event, as well as being in the Patrick-Duluth event. Yesterday was distinctly a bad one for the Reedall rink. Starting with the early morning draw West of Duluth put the Phillips rink out of the Minneapolis event. Reedall won from Zauft in the St. Paul event in the noon play, but was beaten by McNabb in the 3 o'clock play in the St. Paul Jobbers' event. The slump of Reedall and his men was another of the many upsets that have made the present spiel one of continual surprises.

The Brewer-Whites have already won the Duluth event and stand an excellent chance of winning the Minneapolis Curling club event. McNabb may win three events and LaBatt has a chance to cop in two events.

Big House Record.
In the McNabb-Hall contest of last evening there were sixteen rocks in the house when the final stone was thrown in the ninth head. Old curers declare that this stands as a record and is a circumstance which they have never heard of before.

Johnny Oldham of Valparaiso, Ind., was put out of the spiel in the late draw last night by West of Hibbing. The Hoosier by adoption has been the life of the spiel and there were many of the followers of the game who hoped that John would come through with his improvised rink and take the consolation.

Today, the windup of the spiel, should furnish some great games. The finals in the St. Paul Jobbers' Minneapolis and Western events will be served for late in the day. The early draw calls for games in the Consolidation, International and Patrick-Duluth. Ralph Bradley's rink, one of the hopes of the Duluth Curling club, put out of the spiel in the late draw last night by young Dick Wade.

You Won't Rim-Cut This Tire!

GOOD YEAR

Here's a tire that motorists do not rim-cut. That's because with this tire your rim flanges are turned outward so the tire rests against a smooth, round, sharp surface. Nothing sharp to cut. Other tires, the clincher type, are ready to fly out of the rim, because the sharp rim edge cuts into the tire. Statistics show that 3.5 per cent of all clincher tires are ruined by rim-cutting alone. That's almost one in three. You can save that loss by using Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires. These tires will free you from tube-punching too. For the 105 flat-braded piano wires in the bead hold the tire tight against the rim. Tube can't slip between rim and tire and thus be pinched.

Yet we sell Goodyear tires, with all their advantages, at regular tire prices—no extra charge.

And we keep them in stock. You don't have to wait for a rim-cut tire. Ten minutes after you've driven up in front you can be speeding along with a new Goodyear tire in place of that old, worn-out fellow.

We carry both "All-Weather" and smooth tread Goodyears. Come and see them before you buy lesser tires.

The star of the trio is Nick Cullip, formerly the leading pitcher of the Kansas City club, who ranked fourth in the Federal league twirling averages at the end of the 1915 season. The other two players are Joe Gedeon, who signed with the Newark club, and the big league veteran, Herman (Gummy) Schaefer.

Gedeon, a hard-hitting second baseman, played with Salt Lake city last summer, having a batting average of .371. The club also released three players, Fitchers Brown and Riffe, going to the Louisville club and Outfielder Daly to the Vernon club of the Coast league.

JOHN HAS CHANGED,

IN NORTHERN

Copper Country Clubs Will Not Be Given Franchises.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 22.—Northern league managers have drawn the line on loading up the teams of the league with players from higher class organizations. At the annual meeting of the managers at the Dyckman yesterday afternoon it was ruled that not more than four players who had at any previous time played more than thirty days with any league of Class A or higher rating should be carried on any team. This was done, President Burnside says, to make the clubowners develop young players and to prevent any clubowner from loading up and making a baroque out of the league race.

The Northern will go through as a six-club league next season. The investigation of the Calumet-Houghton prospects did not satisfy the managers so it was decided to stay out of the Copper Country this year, although arrangements will be made to play some Sunday games in those towns.

The Superior situation was not settled. Charles Moll was delegated to go to Superior today and look over the situation and report back to the directors. Moll will probably be installed as manager of the team.

The matter of the selection of an official ball was left to the league in and in the meantime to open up the playing season the first week in May and play 129 games.

According to present plans, will be Duluth, Fargo, Virginia, Superior, Winipeg and Fort William. The schedule committee appointed consists of Charles Moll, Dr. D. M. Mitchell and Ed Finch.

The managers in attendance at the meeting were: J. P. Hardy of Fargo, H. A. Blume of Duluth, A. B. Coates of Virginia, D. M. Mitchell of Fort William, President John Burnside of Minneapolis and Dr. Moll.

Central High Team Loses to Virginia By Score of 41 to 15.

Local Boys Are Too Light and Inexperienced for Opponents.

Displaying perfect team work, sensational accuracy in casing their shots and a brilliant all round form, the husky Virginia high school basketball quint last evening took the measure of the local Central high athletes by the score of 41 to 15. The odds of weight and experience so greatly favored the visitors that the wonderful showing put up by the light local five was taken as a great boost.

Proving the start was seen that in disposing of their light and inexperienced opponents, although they were forced to fight for every point they made. Duluth started the affair with a burst of speed and had a lead of some 10 points before the visitors a slight score. The rangers soon found themselves checked, however, and the game concluded they were on the long end of a 22 to 10 score.

Duluth was unable to fathom the team work of the visitors in the final half. The Central high team called their lead at all. The six-footers from the range had it all their own way, and light and inexperienced local boys being unable to check their rushes. In the final period the visitors added 18 points to their total while they held Duluth Central to 5. This made the final count 41 to 15.

The rangers presented the same aggressive stamp which they showed in their first game and almost won the state championship. They are in a clear line this season for the state title and undoubtedly are one of the very best high school machines in the Northwest.

In the first hockey game of last night's amateur league double bill the Universals defeated the Bagleys team by the score of 6 to 2. Jimmy Owens scored three points for the winners, with Anderson, Brown and Bartlett scoring the remaining points. Stavrum scored the two points for the jewelry aggregation.

The Bagleys were fighting all the way. During the last half the jewelry boys carried the game into the Universal territory and made a real game of it. Poor goal tending by Spindling helped to swell the final score.

Anderson started for the Bagleys team by the close score of 2 to 2. Borgeson scored two of the Northern's goals, the other one falling to the lot of Stahl.

The second game of the evening was easily the best of the season. Whirlwind end-to-end rushes featured from the first to closing bell. It was regular big league hockey and was comparatively free from tripping and cross checking. So close was the game that it went into ten minutes overtime.

Stahl made the winning score by a sensational rush up the ice and a pretty shot. The goal tending on both sides was sensational at times. The game was a small crowd out.

EIGHTEEN PER CENT

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 22.—The necessity for greater caution in navigation of vessels was emphasized in the annual report of the Advisory committee by Chairman J. S. Ashley of Cleveland to the Great Lakes Protective association. The association's annual report in 1915 was 420 against 414 in 1914. The number of collisions was 19, a partial loss last year, the report said, occurred in October and November. Only two total losses occurred in 1915, these being the steamers Concord and Onoko. The accident on the Concord was 30 stranding, 28 groundings, 26 collisions and 26 vessel damage. The Onoko was struck by a channel bank and structural works.

The profit for last season's business of the association, according to the report was 18 per cent.

MARKET IS AGAIN FIRM

Wheat Steady With Good Export Inquiry at the Seaboard.

Crushers Pick Up Flaxseed on Break—It Closes Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 22.—After moving a range of 1c, wheat prices closed fractionally higher today.

News of the day was conflicting. Good demand for wheat was reported at Liverpool, due to tight stocks in dealers' hands, and the working of some export trade was reported at the seaboard. On the other side of the account, however, predictions that improvement in weather would result in a larger crop of wheat in the United States were also reported. The movement from Argentina is also expected to broaden out as a result of more vessel tonnage at the seaboard, and at the same time, a lowering in freight rates.

Cash wheat found ready sale on the Duluth market at the May price for No. 1 northern. Cash durum also sold on the May basis. Receipts of wheat were limited, amounting to just 63 cars.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.32, eased off 1c, and closed firm at $1.31 1/2. In the day at $1.32 1/2 bid, July closed 1/2c up at $1.30 1/2. Durum showed a slightly better tendency, but price changes in it were also only fractional. May durum opened unchanged at $1.26, eased off 1c, and closed 1/2c up at $1.25 1/2.

Flaxseed was comparatively strong, after yesterday's severe break. May flax opened 1/2c up at $2.38, and then eased up on a bid at $2.37 1/2. It closed 1/2c up at $2.37 1/2.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1/2c off at $2.30. Cables were lower. Buenos Aires closed 1/2c off at $1.41 1/2. London 1 1/2c off at $1.18 1/2.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.27 1/2. At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.27 1/2. At Minneapolis, May wheat closed at $1.32 1/2.

At Minneapolis the cash market was firm No. 1 northern blue stem sold 2 1/2 @ 5c over May and velvet chaff 1 1/2 @ 2c over May.

Good flour sales, including some exports to United Kingdom were reported there. Weather is fine and movement liberal with quality excellent. CHICAGO MARKET.

Buying of Wheat Runs Prices to New Record for 1915 Crops.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Wheat today ran up to new high record prices for the 1915 crop. The buying which caused the upturn was based on an expectation that the maximum of the advance had not yet been reached.

At first, however, the market here was of a wavering sort, as a result of a report that vessel rates from Argentina had been lowered and that enlarged shipments were expected from Argentina and Australia. After opening at $1.31 1/2, it fell to $1.31 and then rose to $1.32 1/2 and closed at $1.32 1/2.

Liberal export business and a good deal of talk of possible damage from the cold wave put bears at a disadvantage. Nevertheless the July option was comparatively weak. Quotations closed unsettled, varying from 1/2c off to 1/2c up with May at $1.32 1/2 and July at $1.25 1/2.

Colder clear weather suitable for shipping eased the corn market. Industries were about the only buyers. Opening prices, which showed 1/2c to 3/4c decline, were followed by a slight rally.

Slowness of Eastern inquiry tended to keep the market depressed. The close was weak at 1/2c to 3/4c net.

Oats held relatively firm. Trade, though, was well divided. Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions. Offerings were scarce.

[illegible]

It is currently reported that insiders who were conversant with one condition of the proposed plan, had been selling their stock at prices ranging from 31 to 40 cents a share.

Either way, the move through a large no-assessment it seems is the only solution to the problem.

A new electric hoist, capable of handling a large output of ore to be shipped to the mill, has been ordered and is slated at the Davis-Daily mine immediately if the recommendation of Secretary of the Board of Directors is approved by the board of directors on the 15th inst.

It is also reported that the company has just completed an inspection of the properties here and is highly pleased with the results. The company is now on the shoulder between the 1,700 and 1,900 levels of the mine, where only one more level is to be completed. The work has been taken out and by Feb. 1 this work will be completed, making it a 2,500-foot level.

Davis-Daily Prospering.

This change, together with the connection with the 1,700-foot level of the mine, and the completion of the shaft with the Moonlight mine of the Anaconda, will enable the Davis-Daily to greatly increase the output.

At the time of his inspection of the properties, said:

"Conditions are very promising at the Davis-Daily mine. I am very confident of the future of the Davis-Daily. The changes to increase the output of the mine will be made, and as soon as we find that the Colorado mine will have a splendid prospect, we will start it."

The Hibernal mine, in the Western Butte district, is the largest of the district, and to believe we have a profitable property. I am in hopes that the Hibernal will be found to be the unwavering of the Nettle which adjoins the Hibernal, that we will be able to follow the vein down to the latter through the Nettle workings."

Schlerer was particularly impressed with the possibilities of the Davis-Daly property. He expressed his opinion by the ground adjoining the original of the Anaconda where one of the veins has been made on the 2,200-foot level. The vein is a continuation of the 2,200-foot level of the Stewart and there is a strong probability that the vein of the Davis-Daly district and will be found when the lower levels are opened up.

It is a well known fact that the company that had a strong bearing on the recommendation of the Anaconda was the one that would handle ore from a depth of 400 feet.

In spite of the fact that by far the largest number of men ever at work in the Butte district is now at work, the number of men employed in the district is as large as ever. During the last week the Anaconda company had 1,000 men at work, and the other eight mines, which when running full force will add 700 men to the force of the Anaconda, will employ a total of 1,700 men.

The number of men applying for the positions was estimated at about 17,000 men. It is estimated that about 17,000 men were at work in the district of Butte. It is estimated that the number of men in the district will increase to 18,000 with the addition of the 700 men.

With the new mines that are to be put into operation within the next few months, the company prevails that fully 20,000 men will be at work in the mines, and the work will continue as at present.

At the Washoe smelter more than 5,000 men are employed. At the mill an accident to the machinery of the big electrical hoist of the north shaft, which is necessary to draw the ore close down the mine last Saturday night, has caused a serious loss of time. "Trouble," declared a foreman, "would be necessary to send to the factory of the company to get the machinery to replace certain parts. This meant a delay of at least two or three days." The management of the company has decided to start up the old Washoe smelter at once, and this was put into shape, so that the night shift of the mill could be kept at work for two-day shut down.

The company will operate the Specie mine, which is connected with nearly all levels with the Grantville Mountain, and the Washoe, and the mine made at the Granite Mountain.

CUMMINS' NAME NOT ON PRIMARY BALLOT

Miss N. D. Jan. 22.—R. A. Nestos, retiring manager of the Cummins presidential campaign in North Dakota, in a formal statement explaining his withdrawal, says he accepted the post with the understanding that Senator R. M. La Follette would ask for the North Dakota delegation. Developments of the last few days show that it was quite plain La Follette would be a candidate, hence Nestos withdrew. Cummins' name will not go on the North Dakota presidential ballot.

Nastos will likely become a candidate for the United States senatorship in opposition to Senator P. J. McCumber and Governor L. B. Hanna. His decision will depend very largely upon the attitude of August Johnson of McLean county, who is being urged by the State Progress party to become a candidate for the senatorship.

Devils Lake Fair. Devils Lake, N. D., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake Region mid-winter fair to be held here next month bids fair to be a tremendous success. The speaker will be the Rev. E. J. Peterson, pastor of the Lutheran church at Devils Lake.

Frank L. McVey, president of the University of North Dakota, will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Great Northern agricultural work, and H. L. Smith of St. Paul.

INCREASE IN POPULATION

Growth in Five Years Expected to Surpass Last Quarter Century.

More Than 800 Houses Built in 1915—Few Vacancies Now.

That Duluth's population will show a greater rate of increase during the next five years than has been recorded in the last quarter of a century, is the consensus of opinion among members of the local real estate exchange and business men in close touch with development projects now in process of hatching out.

Indisputable evidence that the roll of residents who have come in recently is a long one, is considered to be afforded in the fact that even though more than 800 houses were built within the corporation limits during the last year, the number of vacancies is remarkably small. Offices specializing in rentals aver that they have been experiencing no difficulty in finding tenants for modern houses during the last few months, and that the demand for rental property is such as to inspire confidence on the part of real estate investors. Properties that are said to be mainly of the old type that have been allowed to run down on the other hand owners who have modernized their houses are not experiencing any trouble in keeping them.

While it is early to make forecasts at present, it is believed that the movements of tenants from one house to another on May 1 will be comparatively small. During the past two years tenants have shown an increasing disposition to leave their homes and move to the city, and it is thought that on account of the improved business conditions in the city the better employment being afforded in the various commercial and industrial lines, the desire of occupants to remain where they are will become more marked.

One of the really men regarding the outlook are generally cheerful. "We have only a few vacancies in our rental property and as far as we can judge everything is going to be filled up before the spring," says one of the men.

Thomas W. Holstead of the Hoopes-Kohagen company today. "With the extra employment that will be afforded through the Minnesota Steel company's plant getting into operation, the whole city is going to benefit immeasurably. Those who are in business here know how to appreciate the benefits of a boom."

An official of the F. I. Salter company, who has been handling for some time a smaller than a year ago. Fresh applications are being received in connection with a number of additional projects for which the company has appointed agents a few months ago. They also promise to be up and after the season opens.

More interest is being shown in an investment way that I have seen in years during the winter season," said the official. "The building of the Duluth Realty company. We built several houses in the vicinity of the Boulevard, and the past year and in every case they were either rented or sold before completion. Even this winter we are arranging to build five houses for recent lot buyers."

It is expected that the plans for the Y. M. C. A. building to be erected at Lake avenue and Second street will be ready to go out for figures in two weeks from the office of G. G. German, architect.

EXPECT BOOM IN BUILDING

Outlook in West End and West Duluth Especially Good. Structures to Cost $200,000 Planned; New Offer for Investors.

An especially good realty and building movement is predicted in the West end and West Duluth during the coming spring and summer months.

As has been noted a boom in the erection of business blocks has already developed in the West end. The erection of structures valued at more than $200,000 has either been arranged for, or is under way within a radius of four blocks in the vicinity of Twenty-first avenue west. It is to be also noted that houses are under construction in almost every block in that vicinity in an area covering more than half a mile. It is predicted that West Duluth will make equally as good a showing in house construction this year. The reason for the activity in the western sections of the city is ascribed to the large number of men being employed on the railroads and in the various industries located in them.

It is in connection that is announced by the Richardson, Day & Cheadle company that it has arranged to offer for investment within the city limits Norton's Fairmount Park division. This property is regarded as being admirably located for steel plant employees who may desire to live a little away from the business center, and it will be within easy access of it. The division will have a frontage of three blocks of a mile on Grand avenue upon which the street railway tracks are being laid for the line being extended out to the steel plant. The lots will be sold on easy terms of payment, and it is believed that they will offer an opportunity for profitable investment.

It is pointed out that when Norton's Steel Plant division was placed on the market a few years ago, lots to the value of $20,000 were sold in one day, and it is believed that every buyer made a profit on his investment.

WITH THE BUYERS AND SELLERS OF DULUTH REALTY

Duluth real estate operators are counting upon the best showing in transactions since the boom times prior to 1913, being made during the coming spring and summer months. Good sold inquiry is reported as the present and considerable business is said to be pending. Building lots and house properties promise to feature extensively, but it is also regarded as assured that transactions in business and industrial sites will bulk up to a gratifying aggregate.

The N. J. Upham company sold two lots in Pinehurst, leaving only two of the original thirty-eight lots in the plan now unsold. It is expected that a number of houses will be built there during the spring months, and that a substantial colony will be established in the addition next summer.

Earnest money on sales of two houses in the East end and one in the West end were also received by the N. J. Upham company.

The Gary Land company reported the sale of eight lots in the Gary Center division to outside investors. Inquiries are being received by the company from points in Southern California, Iowa, Indiana, and Illinois, and from the outlook a large number of lots will be sold for building purposes during the next three months.

The A. A. Fidler company sold for J. C. McQuade to Charles Gustafson a house and lot on Tenth street between Fifth and Sixth avenues east. Earnest money was besides taken on the sale of a house and lot on Eighteenth avenue east between First and Second streets.

PLAN MANY BUILDINGS

Six Structures Begun in West End and Others Planned.

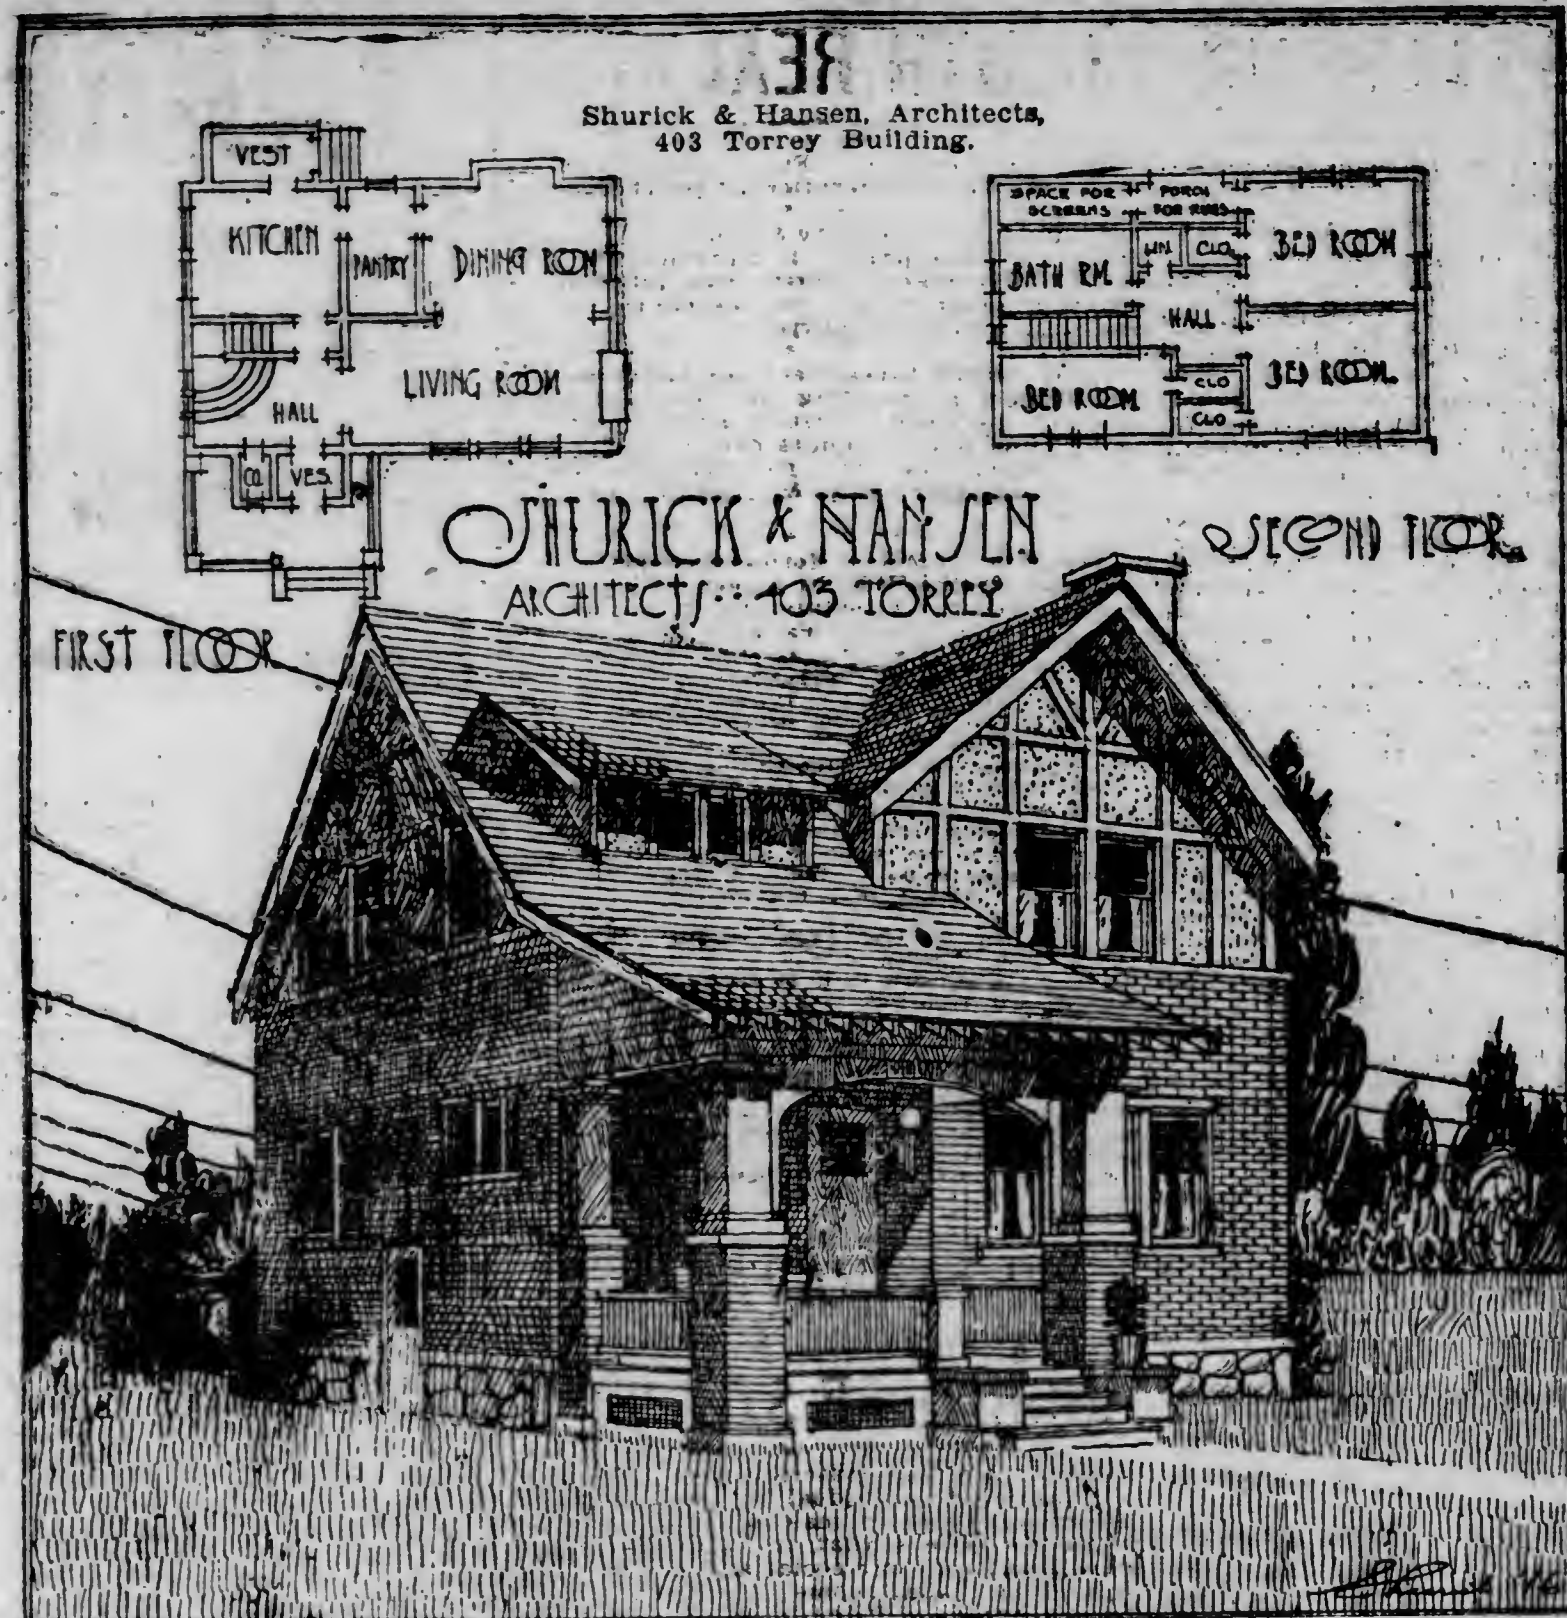

Operations Being Pushed; Excavation Work in Progress.

With six large buildings now begun and nearly twice as many more being planned for early spring, the West end will be the scene of great building activity this year. Rumors are current that the owners of the property on the southwest corner of Superior street and Twentieth avenue will build, and that another building will be erected at 1915-15 West Superior street.

While nothing definite is yet given out concerning the erection of a building on the Twentieth avenue corner, it is said that plans are being made for such a structure. An old frame building now occupies this site.

Plans are being drawn for the construction of a two-story business block at 1915-15 West Superior street. The western lot of this property is now occupied by a frame building occupied by Johnson-Peterson hardware store. The proposed building will occupy the entire fifty feet and extend from Superior street to Michigan street.

The six buildings now begun are being rapidly pushed. The construction of the store and flat building for about Polinsky on Twentieth avenue will be completed within six weeks. The foundations for the two buildings being constructed on Twentieth avenue and Superior street, formerly occupied by the West end public market, is nearly in, and the foundation for the

The above design was completed a little over a year ago at 512 Woodland avenue. The architects believe it to be one of the best designs erected by them during the last three years. The outside is just a little different than houses of the brick and stucco type. The building is well grouped and fits in with the site in an admirable manner. The circle staircase on the first floor as you enter is one of the prominent interior features of this home. The living room has a full height fireplace capped with stone trimmings and adds a great deal of grace to this room. The large openings through the first floor almost into the large room and makes it ideal for entertaining. The second floor has two very valuable features. The little porch enclosed under the roof for the shaking of bed clothes and rugs. Off from this is a little storage room for screens and storm sash, as the roof at this point is too low for any other purpose. The building could be erected for $5,000 complete, including plumbing and heating.

GUILTY UNDER HICKEN CODE

Restaurant Manager First Convicted Under Procuring and Soliciting Law.

Camacker's Attorney Will Appeal—Two Girls Held for Vagrancy.

Louis J. Camacker, alias Campbell, manager of the Palace restaurant at 513 West Superior street, was convicted under the "procuring and soliciting" provision of the Hicken code in police court yesterday afternoon. It was the first time since the enactment of the Hicken code that police have preferred a charge of that kind, according to City Prosecutor Walter Conkka, who conducted the case for the city. Judge Smallwood fined Camacker $100 and costs and granted a ninety-day stay, during which an appeal will be taken. Camacker's attorney announced.

Camacker's arrest followed a raid on the Hall hotel, 515 West Superior street, on Jan. 12, when two negroes and two white girls were taken into custody. The negroes since have been released, as the city was unable to prove disorderly conduct charges, but the girls are held for vagrancy.

Two charges were preferred against Campbell or Camacker, who arranged the meeting between the two couples, and who is alleged to have furnished them with beer and a lunch in the hotel room. A charge of selling liquor illegally was dropped several days ago.

Camacker "Dropped" "Fixing." Lillian Smith, one of the two girls, testified that Camacker did the "fixing" for her and her companion, and that they met the two negroes in a booth in the rear part of Camacker's restaurant. That night, she said, two rooms were obtained for them in the hotel.

"We took off our coats and hats in our own room," she explained, "and then Camacker told us to go into the 'negro' room."

She said they were afraid at first, because she thought somebody might come in and find them.

"Nothing will hurt you in there," Camacker is alleged to have said then. On the witness stand Camacker denied "fixing" anything for the girls, and refused to admit the truth of much of the testimony given by Patrolman Bill Le Beau and the two girls. He admitted that he had conducted a restaurant at 233 St. Croix avenue during the era of the old red light district, but that he closed his place when the district was closed; that he later operated a restaurant at Third street and Cummings avenue, Superior, one block from the "district" of that city; and that he came to Duluth when the Superior district was closed.

SUGGESTS PREPAREDNESS DAY TO FINANCE DEFENSE

Contributions of "Jitney" Would Make an Immense Fund, Says Senator Nord.

Direct Support of People Would Also Create Patriotic Wave.

To obtain the funds for national preparedness from the people direct and at the same time create a wave of patriotism such as would perhaps, establish a new high tide mark, is the idea of State Senator L. H. Nord of International Falls. He has just broached it to some influential Duluthians with the hope that such a plan may be launched and become great enough to reach the ears of President Wilson and his cabinet and be received by them with favor.

Senator Nord's plan includes the issuing of a proclamation by the president, setting apart some special day, on which the people of the nation would be asked to donate their pennies, dimes and dollars to a national preparedness fund, the donations to be made at some public place, such, for instance, as the postoffice.

There are various phases of the matter, which the senator and those to whom he has talked about it, believe to be valuable. That of patriotism is by no means the least important.

Concrete Arguments. "There is too much difference of opinion in congress over preparedness," said Senator Nord. "Men say that the people want this, that and the other, and that is a matter of fact, they are simply presuming. If the appeal is made to the people direct, it will show in concrete way what the people want and how much they want preparedness if it happens to be the thing they favor. You can't contravert arguments in such a way."

"Another phase that I believe would be most important is the patriotism it would arouse. Sometimes we forget, in the rush of business, that we have a country and that it may need protection. The nation and its property is here and we take things for granted. There should be a day set aside for such a collection to be made. It would set people to thinking. By setting it far enough ahead by presidential proclamation, backed up by proclamation of the governors of the several states, and given due prominence by the newspapers, the movement would reach fever heat long before the day set for the contribution."

Contrast Pennies to Millions. "Children, with their pennies, could be organized, people of means, means or less, with just loose change, and others with their dollars, and the rich men with their large offerings. By the time the contribution day rolled around, I believe, there would be a great deal of patriotism and enthusiasm worked up."

Senator Nord is opposed to giving the proposed movement the appearance of a move toward militarism, and to the governors of the several states, and to place the country in a position where she would be comparatively safe from attack.

Big Sum Possible. "Did you think to think what a contribution 'would' mean?" asked the senator. "There are, approximately 100,000,000 people in this country. Thousands of them, of course, would give only pennies, thousands more, perhaps 10 cents to 25 cents each, others would give a dollar or more, and there are millions who would give enormous sums. Should the contribution average 50 cents each for the population, $50,000,000 would be contributed in spot cash and without the bickering and quarreling, the insincerity and party-overriding attitude of some of our legislators."

"Congress would be impressed with the desire of the nation as it could be in no other way. The election of men would not be interfering with the expression of the people on this one great subject, for the appeal would be direct upon that subject alone."

"Should the response be as liberal as I believe it would be, congress would hardly dare to refuse to carry on the program of preparedness in the future, and there would not be the difficulties to surmount in getting the necessary appropriations in the future that appear to be in the way of getting the initial one now asked."

"No matter which way the appeal was received, it would be something definite upon which to base an estimate of what the people want and believe in."

TRAIN BLOWN UP; OVER SCORE KILLED

Mine Owner Brings News of Another Outrage in Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 22.—Twenty-three persons were killed and many more injured when a passenger train was blown up, supposedly by Zapata adherents, according to A. J. Trumbo, city attorney here, who arrived here yesterday.

Only one passenger survived, it was reported. The train which was blown up, Mr. Trumbo said, was immediately ahead of one on which he was traveling from Mexico City.

"Several volleys were fired into our train," added Mr. Trumbo, who, with his wife, left for Los Angeles, when they were on the train. He said, "The party had only dry tortillas to eat during the journey and at every stop officers demanded money. One of the officers took Mr. Trumbo's coat."

Mr. Trumbo's story of the blowing up of a passenger train near Puebla with casualties, is the first intimation of such a tragedy to reach the border.

The Laymen's Missionary convention, which closed last night, was one of the most successful laymen's gatherings ever held in the United States, according to E. D. Hunk, local head of the movement. There were 1,000 paid registrations and a total of 1,024 registrations. Laymen from all over the Northwest attended.

The Sunday program will occur tomorrow when L. P. Bower, Milwaukee, vice president of the Laymen's convention, will speak at the First M. E. church on "Men and Business," and L. P. Bower, of New York, will speak on "The Kind That Counts."

Special meetings will be held in the West end and West Duluth and laymen speakers will appear at these meetings. These services are announced elsewhere in The Herald.

SOCIALISTS BACKING IT

Duluth Socialists have voted to back the armory referendum petition now being circulated by Postmaster McEwen and State Senator Richard Jones.

This information was given out yesterday by Senator Jones and W. E. Brown, secretary of the Duluth county Socialist committee, who said that the local organization has entered the controversy and will conduct a campaign against the proposed sale of the armory to the Shriners on their offer of $50,000.

The St. Louis county committee of the Socialist party met Wednesday evening, it was announced yesterday, and the members unanimously agreed to back the referendum petition now in circulation. The leaders of the Socialist party claim that the principal reason for their organization is municipal ownership and that, as a result, they will back the petition for the retention of the armory building.

At a meeting of the federated trades assembly last week Postmaster McEwen and State Senator Jones presented the referendum petition to the assembly and the speakers opposed to the sale of the armory. According to Mr. McEwen, there are already 100 signatures to the petition.

His fondness for Duluth proved the answer for a visit yesterday after three months' absence. Lieut. Gustav Lahti, with Detectives Hoberg and Barber, arrested him at 264 South First avenue east.

Lauren, police say, is a member of a smuggling gang and has been arrested two or three times, and which has robbed department stores of a large amount of merchandise.

On Oct. 28, with a woman, Lauren arrested the North Shore at 29 West Superior street. He snatched up a silk dress which caught the eye of a policeman, and taking it under his coat, started to walk out.

Lytle checked the record of the store, inquired, and Lauren struck him, escaping in the confusion. The woman was caught.

Today Judge H. W. Lammers held Lauren in $500 bail for a hearing on Jan. 25.

GALE CAUSES DELAY FOR STREET CARS

The heavy gale blowing from the west caused some inconvenience in street cars in the city during the forenoon. The cars have been operated on most of the line since an occasional line being kept by a few moments late. Supt. H. H. Brown said he did not expect much trouble from this source and that the company had the large snow plows out running care of the districts where the travel is not so heavy as downtown.

FARMERS OF MIDDLE WEST BEING TOLD OF MINNESOTA'S ADVANTAGES

Two Speakers, Motion Pictures and Exhibit Spread News of Opportunities in Agriculture in Bread and Butter State.

Minnesota's advantages as a place of residence, her great undeveloped agricultural resources and her varied opportunities for wealth and prosperity—this is the message which the state immigration board is dispatching to the young men of rural Illinois, Indiana and Ohio by two prominent Minnesotans, both gifted speakers and both primed with information on rural Minnesota. The missionaries are Frank M. Eddy, Sauk Center, former congressman, and John D. Deets, Mankato, former secretary of the state immigration board.

Lindbergh Presents Bill for Control of Mississippi Reservoirs.

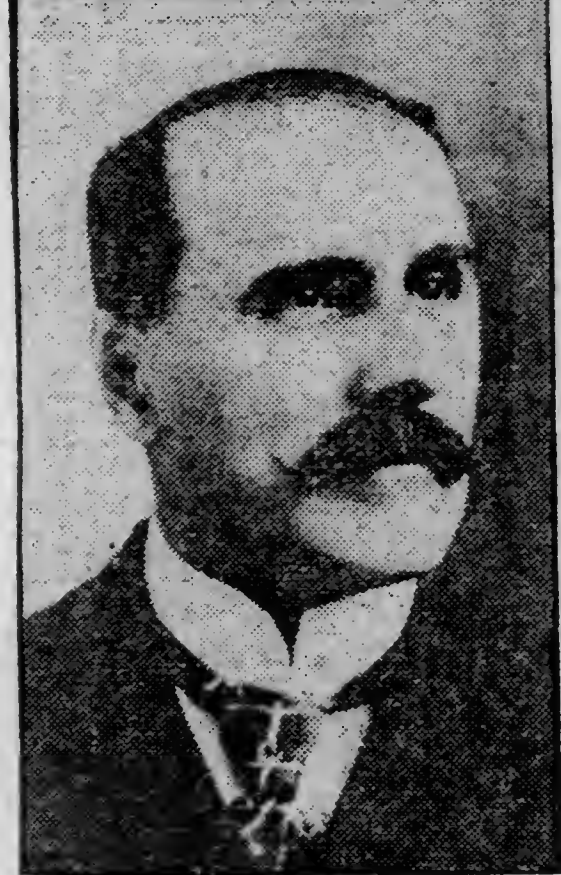

Would Have War Department Change Its Present Policy.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The secretary of war is advised and instructed to reduce the level of waters in the reservoirs at the head waters of the Mississippi in winter and to maintain a higher level in spring and summer in a resolution introduced by Representative Lindbergh today.

This change of policy is proposed by Mr. Lindbergh to protect both navigation and farming interests from alleged injury caused by the present management of the reservoirs.

"Originally constructed to serve navigation interests," said Mr. Lindbergh, "these reservoirs have raised the level of the waters so that they not only overflow valuable farming lands, but they also interfere with power dams along the streams. If the war department would change its present policy and lower the level of the water in winter and fill them in the spring from melting snows and spring rains, both public and private interests would be better served."

PRESIDENT OF UNION PACIFIC HAS CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH

A. L. MOHLER.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 24.—The condition of A. L. Mohler, president of the Union Pacific Railway company, who was injured by falling backward, striking on his head, while skating yesterday, was reported as satisfactory early today.

Physicians said that aside from the shock and a slight concussion of the brain, he had suffered no ill effects from his fall. He has recovered consciousness and his pulse and respiration are normal and is expected to be out in two or three days.

THIRD WEEK IN MOHR CASE

Presentation of Evidence By the State Is Nearly Completed.

Witness for Prosecution Closely Cross-Examined By the Defense.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 24.—The state's case was drawing to a close when the start was made today on third week of the trial of Mrs. Elizabeth P. Mohr and two negroes, Cecil Brown and Henry Spelman, charged with the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr.

The lawyers for the defense have not yet indicated how many witnesses they will call.

Attorney William H. Lewis of the defense began his cross-examination of Miss Gertrude Stevenson, a writer on a Boston newspaper, today, regarding her testimony as to a conversation with Brown.

Miss Stevenson said she did not know until last Friday that she was to be called as a witness.

"Didn't you tell a young lady at a birthday party in Boston on Oct. 30 that you were going down to Providence, to testify against those negroes?"

"I never said such a thing," she answered.

The witness admitted she was at the party and talked about the case with Miss Salita Solano, a newspaper writer.

Miss Stevenson denied she discussed any "personal charms" to get the confidence of the negroes, but admitted she thought it was "necessary to deceive them" to get their story. She denied she went to the jail "to get a story that would connect Mrs. Mohr with the murder."

At a hospital physicians declared that her skull was fractured and she stood averted probable fatal internal injuries.

The police said they believed that the young woman jumped and did not fall from the ledge. Her employers said that they know of no reason why she should seek to end her life.

Burlington to Enlarge Shops. Burlington, Iowa, Jan. 24.—Announcement was made here today that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad will enlarge its shops at West Burlington to twice their present size at a cost of $1,000,000. About 60 more employees will be given employment in the enlarged shops.

ST. LOUIS IS INCLUDED

President Will Make Address in the Missouri Metropolis.

Will Make Eight Formal Speeches During First Trip.

Washington, Jan. 24.—President Wilson decided today to include St. Louis in the itinerary of the Middle Western trip he will begin Friday night. He will visit St. Louis on the morning of Feb. 3 on the way back to Washington from Topeka. The addition of St. Louis means that he will make eight formal addresses during the trip.

More invitations to speak in the Middle West and on later trips were received at the White House today, and the president replied to all saying he wanted to visit as many cities as possible, but was uncertain about his exact plans.

Additional cities to which the president has been invited are: Philadelphia, Savannah, Wheeling, Pueblo, Colo., Boston and Baltimore.

Senator Tillman and members of the South Carolina congressional delegation invited the president to speak before the South Carolina legislature. Representative Gallivan asked him to visit Boston.

Open to Public. The president's meetings at which he will speak to be open to the general public as far as possible. The committees in charge have been notified that the president does not desire entertainment of a political character.

Most of the meetings will be arranged by chambers of commerce or boards of trade. The object of the president in making the trip, White House officials said, is to speak to the average citizen in the Middle West.

At St. Louis, the president will speak at a breakfast given in his honor by the business men's association.

FOUR DEAD AND FOUR MISSING IN G. N. WRECK

Woman and Daughter From Lyons, Wash., Added to the List.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—Persistent reports that Mrs. Fern Wallace and baby of Lyons, Wash., were among the missing in the wreck of the Great Northern Cascade limited train in the Cascade mountains Saturday, were confirmed by survivors. This brought the number of missing to four and four known dead.

Mrs. Wallace was reported thrown with her baby through a window of the chair car when it rolled down the mountain.

Despite Great Northern officials' efforts to open the line Thursday, reports last night indicated that it would be a week, possibly two weeks before traffic could be resumed.

A big slide near Leavenworth, on the east slope of the mountain, blocked the tracks and tore out the transmission lines carrying power for the electrical operation of the Cascade tunnel. Other slides disrupted tracks.

Fifty Thousand Troops in Constantinople to Quell Plots.

London, Jan. 24.—Fifty thousand German troops have arrived at Constantinople, according to Saloniki dispatches. British correspondents express the view that the object of this army is not an expedition against Egypt, but to support the authority of Turkish war minister, Enver Pasha.

Greek reports say that the Turks recently have been active under the rule of Enver Pasha and serious plots against him have been discovered; these being suppressed ruthlessly.

"On a single night recently," says one correspondent, "twenty-one Turkish officers suspected of disaffection were dropped into the Bosphorus with stones around their necks."

German Official. Berlin, Jan. 24, Wireless to Sayville.—The following official statement on the war operations was issued today by German army headquarters:

Western front: There have been lively artillery and aeroplane actions. An enemy squadron bombarded Metz, four bombs falling on the bishop's dwelling and on a house in the hospital court. Two civilians were killed and eight wounded. One aeroplane was shot down, and its inmates made prisoners.

German aviators have bombarded railroad stations and military establishments behind the enemy's front. In the air engagements, the Germans had the upper hand.

Eastern front: The British account gave the casualties in this air raid as one killed and six wounded. London later reported a second attack in the same locality by two seaplanes. No mention of this is made in today's announcement from Berlin.

Military operations in the Balkans at present are mainly confined to Albania. Austria occupation of Montenegro having virtually been completed with the taking of the Adriatic coast towns of Antivari and Dublino, reported yesterday.

Berlin, Jan. 24, Wireless to Sayville.—The German admiralty issued the following today:

"A German naval aeroplane during the night of Jan. 22-23 dropped bombs on the station, barracks and docks of Dover."

The official British account of the German aeroplane attack as given yesterday said that the east coast of Kent was visited early Sunday morning by a hostile aeroplane which dropped nine bombs, killing one person and injuring six. The announcement did not reveal the fact, now made public by the German admiralty, that the attack was made on the city of Dover.

The German report does not mention the second raid, said by the British war office to have been made on the east coast of Kent by two seaplanes shortly after noon yesterday.

Dover, which is opposite the French coast, is the objective of the German attack.

Fight Has Been Somewhere in Courts for Nearly Fifty Years.

Chief Justice White Announces Decision in Brushader Case.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the income tax law.

Chief Justice White gave the court's decision, sweeping aside all the many objections to its constitutionality in whole or in part.

Chief Justice White announced the decision in the case of Frank R. Brushader, stockholder of the Union Pacific railroad, who sought to enjoin the company from paying the tax on the ground that it was unconstitutional.

Most of Justice White's opinion was directed toward overruling the contention that the income tax amendments provided a hitherto unknown power of taxation. Going far into the history of income tax legislation, the chief justice concluded the argument was without merit.

Other Points. Advancing to other points, the chief justice held that the tax was not unconstitutional.

FRENCH NEWSPAPER PRAISES PRESIDENT

The Temps Says Wilson Has High Conception of Responsibilities.

Paris, Jan. 24.—The Temps lengthily discusses the visit of Col. E. M. House, President Wilson's personal representative, to Paris, and says he will be able to compare the present state of mind of the belligerents to what it was during his previous visit last year.

"Col. House will find in London, as well as in Paris," says the Temps, "the same resolution as on his recent trip to fight without lassitude or weakness until the final victory. He will note with as much more impartiality, our determination that this war shall have its conclusion in a stable peace, based on right and liberty, and no thought of mediation will guide his investigations."

"He will observe a feeling of sympathy and recognition which has grown and become solid as America gives most touching proofs of its friendship and more impartiality, our determination that this war shall have its conclusion in a stable peace, based on right and liberty, and no thought of mediation will guide his investigations."

"The Temps pays tribute to the Americans who have given the French in the French trenches and concludes by saying:

"President Wilson is exercising his power with a high conception of his responsibilities. The mission he has confided to Col. House shows a sincere desire to be exactly and directly informed. We congratulate him on this inquiry, the results of which for us cannot be disadvantageous."

NEED THE MONEY TO COLLECT INFORMATION

Washington, Jan. 24.—Paymaster General McGowan of the navy told the house naval committee today about the purpose of a $30,000 appropriation the navy wants for "collection of information at home and abroad."

The sum included the expenses of naval attaches at London, Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Petrograd, Paris, Buenos Aires, Tokyo and Peking. The information sought, "at home," he said, was "as to available ships, sources of supply, resources of various kinds," information, he said, of great military value.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Dover, the great English channel port through which the main line of communication between England and France runs, was raided by a German naval aeroplane Saturday night, the German admiralty announced today.

The raid is the one announced from London yesterday as having been made on the "east coast" of Kent. The German statement reports that bombs were dropped on the station, barracks and docks of Dover. The British account gave the casualties in this air raid as one killed and six wounded. London later reported a second attack in the same locality by two seaplanes. No mention of this is made in today's announcement from Berlin.

Military operations in the Balkans at present are mainly confined to Albania. Austria occupation of Montenegro having virtually been completed with the taking of the Adriatic coast towns of Antivari and Dublino, reported yesterday.

What the policy of the Entente powers may be toward attempting the reorganization of Montenegro affairs, has not yet been made clear. King Nicholas has reached Rome on his way to Lyons, France, where the Montenegrin government has its present headquarters and where plans for the future seem likely to be developed.

In Albania, according to a Saloniki correspondent, there is taking place a renewal of the Austro-Bulgarian offensive which is declared to be menacing the Italian expeditionary force. Bulgarians and the Austrians are said to have occupied Berat, an important town in the interior northeast of Avlona, which is held by the Italians, is indicated as imminent.

On the Greek border, the only offensive operation recently reported is a raid by a squadron of forty-five French aeroplanes on Monastir, southwestern Serbia, where notable military damage is said to have been inflicted in quarters of the Teutonic allies.

Such differences of a serious nature as may have arisen between Greece and the Entente powers, would seem to have been smoothed over, assuming the correctness of a news agency dispatch from Athens, which states that negotiations for a loan by the Entente powers to Greece are nearing a favorable conclusion.

LADYSMITH RAID.

Liquor Seized and Inmates of Questionable House Arrested.

Ladysmith, Wis., Jan. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Acting on evidence furnished by two Minneapolis detectives, who have been working here looking for violations of the lid regulations, the city being dry, the local police Saturday night raided a place where a lot of liquor was seized and arrested some inmates of a questionable house. The detectives arrived about ten days ago, one posing as Jack Dillon, the famous light heavyweight champion, and the other his trainer. They engaged training quarters and held exhibition matches, got the confidence of prominent business men as well as the "insiders."

As a result, a carefully laid raid was arranged for and carried out Saturday night in two of the former saloons so much whisky was found and confiscated that it could not all be dragged to the city hall. In addition, a house of questionable characters was also raided and whisky also found and all the inmates arrested. It is the plan of the authorities to prosecute every one guilty.

FINDS MANY FLAWS IN THE TERMINAL FRANCHISE

City Attorney Advises Council Not to Pass It in Present Form.

Conflicts With Charter and Would Not Hold in Courts.

In an opinion handed down this noon, City Attorney Samuelson urges the city council not to pass the terminal franchise ordinance in its present form.

The measure not only violates the charter in several instances, states the attorney in his opinion, but would grant the Western Terminal Railway company special privileges and powers that would eventually destroy all of the city's authority in connection with its future enforcement. The opinion, copies of which were given to the clerk and each of the commissioners, will be read at the council meeting this afternoon. A resolution requesting the city attorney for an opinion was adopted by the council a week ago.

In closing, City Attorney Samuelson says: "I do believe, however, that a franchise for a terminal company could be drafted in such a way as to include most of the provisions of the city charter, and, at the same time, carry into successful operation a railroad which will serve the actual needs of the city in that respect. I would, therefore, most respectfully suggest that the ordinance should not be passed in its present form."

No Time Limit.
The fact that the franchise places no time limit on its operation makes the measure illegal, as the charter prohibits special grants for periods longer than twenty-five years, states the attorney in his opinion, which follows:

"This ordinance, by its title, purports to grant to the Western Terminal Railway company, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege, authority to construct, maintain and operate one or more railway tracks in, over and along certain streets, avenues and alleys, in the city of Duluth."

"Section 9 of the charter provides: 'The subject of every ordinance shall be set out clearly in the title thereof.' The title of this ordinance is insufficient; it fails to sufficiently cover the subject matter of the ordinance (1) in failing to specify the purpose for which said tracks are to be used; (2) the motive power to be employed (the granting clause) gives to the corporation, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege and authority to construct, maintain and operate by steam, and with engines and cars, one or more railway tracks, in, over and along certain streets, avenues and alleys, in the city of Duluth."

"This is not covered by the title. I have not had access to the articles of incorporation of the grantor, and therefore unable to state the purpose of its incorporation."

"Section 2 of the ordinance states that it is organized for the purpose of maintaining and operating a terminal and transfer railway connecting different parts of the city of Duluth, and for the purpose of furnishing terminal and transfer facilities to railways entering or passing through said city."

"This purpose is in no way expressed in the title of the ordinance. It is a part of it, and every ordinance is limited by its title. Accordingly this ordinance should be construed as merely authorizing the construction, maintenance and operation of one or more railway tracks, in, over and along certain streets, avenues and alleys for any purpose it might see fit to operate them."

Granting Clause Indefinite.
"Section 1 of the ordinance (the granting clause) is indefinite and uncertain. Authority is granted to construct, lay down, maintain and operate by steam, and with engines and cars, one or more railway tracks, in, over and along certain streets, avenues and alleys, in the city of Duluth."

"It is probably intended that engines and cars are to be operated upon the tracks, but the grant does not so state. Again:

"Section 7 of the ordinance states that the company is organized for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating a terminal and transfer railway connecting different parts of the city of Duluth, and for the purpose of furnishing terminal and transfer facilities to railways entering or passing through said city."

"This clause could probably not be enforced by the city authorities. It is also provided in said section 7 that any such railway company, and without necessarily interfering with the full use and enjoyment of said tracks, the company may use its own motive power, but not for switching operations."

City Could Be Jeopardized.
"As connecting railroad companies could use their own motive power upon and over these tracks, both inter and intrastate shipments could be routed and billed directly over these tracks to their places of destination. If, then, the city should attempt to regulate either the charge for service or the traffic upon these tracks, it might and undoubtedly would be met with the contention that it had no such right."

board of education agreed to postpone action on the premiums for the next five-year period until the rate question was settled.

Commissioner Works, in checking over the insurance rates applicable in various parts of Minnesota, found that Northern Minnesota property owners were paying a higher rate than those in other sections because of the danger from forest fires.

He ruled that the forest fire menace no longer was of enough importance to warrant a higher rate in the northern counties of the state, and ordered that the rates be reduced to $1.45 per hundred.

Insurance companies, acting through the state service bureau, refused to comply with the order until they had taken an appeal to the courts, and the decision handed down by the courts last week fixes the rate, as far as Duluth school property is concerned, at $1.45.

This price was in the nature of a compromise, and was suggested by the service bureau after the appeal had been taken.

"Duluth schools are insured for an aggregate amounting over $1,500,000," said Mr. Colman today, "and this reduction will make a material saving in premiums."

Warm the house and make a home!

The uppermost thought of all mothers is to have a home that is cleanly, amply warmed, to cheer and comfort husband and little folks; also to make the home a cozy, genial center for the gatherings of good friends. All mothers now-a-days deserve to be freed forever from the back-breaking drudgery of "tending stoves," that heat only "in spots," and spout ash-dust and coal-gases. The only sure way to warm a house and make it a home is with an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

They pay for themselves in savings.

They increase the value of your property to more than their cost. They are noiseless, absolutely safe (a child can run them), and can at any time be put in new or old houses with ease without disturbing anything or tearing out walls or partitions. They protect against fire risk and run independently of the water works supply, as same water is used over and over again for years.

The IDEAL Boiler may be put in cellar or side room and will burn any local fuel—wood, oil, gas, lignite, hard or soft coal, (even cheap grades of pea coal, slack, run of mine, screenings, etc.) Bankers and real estate men will back our statement that it is a paying and permanent investment and not an expense—these outfits are the greatest improvement you can make in a building, for their fuel and other savings repay their original cost many fold during the lifetime of the building.

Let us tell you all about it and give you special information so you can judge for yourself. Write today—now—for free booklet "Ideal Heating." You will not be asked to promise or obligate yourself in any way, but send for it at once.

An unfailing, stationary Vacuum Cleaner—in sizes now at $150 up!

STEEL PLANTS REFUSE ORDERS

Nearly All Loaded to Capacity for Long Time Ahead.

Demand Without Parallel—Fancy Prices Offered for Early Delivery.

The demand for iron and steel products is without a parallel in this country, authorities in the trade declare. Consumers are clamoring for material and appear to be willing to pay fancy prices for delivery within a reasonable period. Foreign consumers are reported to be bidding $10 and $15 a ton above current quotations. Prices continue to advance impressively, and in so far as dealers can see, there are no indications yet that apex will be reached in the near future. Manufacturers of bar iron in the Pittsburgh district have advanced quotations $2 a ton and the market is quotable at a spread of from $2.10 to $2.15 per 100 pounds for future delivery. The United States Steel corporation has raised the price of blue annealed sheets $6 a ton and its figures in bars, shapes and plates have been raised $2 a ton for third quarter delivery.

THE FARM WIFE'S BLESSING

A Good Cough Syrup Made of Mentho-Laxene.

Made at home easily by any woman or child. Simply take a pint of granulated sugar, pour over it a half pint of boiling water; stir and cool. Then obtain at drug store 2½ ounces of Essence Mentho-Laxene, a concentrated, laxative, curative fluid, and empty it into a pint bottle. Then fill up the bottle with syrup, shake well and take a teaspoonful every hour or two. This immediately checks a cough or cold and soon cures it. Even mental healers have to admit the great value of this simple remedy for everyday home use of children and adults. Pure and free from opiates.—Advertisement.

reached in the near future. Manufacturers of bar iron in the Pittsburgh district have advanced quotations $2 a ton and the market is quotable at a spread of from $2.10 to $2.15 per 100 pounds for future delivery. The United States Steel corporation has raised the price of blue annealed sheets $6 a ton and its figures in bars, shapes and plates have been raised $2 a ton for third quarter delivery.

Eastern Plant—It is reported that large orders for the reason that the capacities of their plants have been contracted for to the limit. The United States Steel corporation is said to have turned down orders for hundreds of thousands of tons of steel within the last three weeks. It is said to be filled up for the first half of this year and the capacity available for the last half is very small. The taken in trade circles to mean earnings and production. Prices of steel today are estimated to average up nearly 100 per cent higher than a year ago. For example, plates, bars and shapes, which sold as low as $20 a ton before the current movement began, are $18 to $20 a ton higher. In some cases, in fact, consumers are paying premiums of $10 or more a ton.

Railroads Buying Cars.—Buying of rails and equipment by the railroads is becoming a feature. Considerable business is coming out and more is pending. The Pennsylvania road has just placed orders for 5,000 freight cars. The Illinois Central has bought 1,300 gondolas and stock cars and is expected to place orders for a number of box cars. The Union Pacific is negotiating for 3,600 freight cars. Commenting upon current conditions in the industry the Iron Trade Review says:

Foreign buyers of munitions are offering to pay very high prices, but are having difficulty in getting mills to take on the business. Railroad congestion in the East is seriously interfering with export movement and the outlook is that the congestion will continue for many months. The Pennsylvania Steel company, with 600,000 tons of ore in Cuba, has decided to build two bulk ore freighters to transport its Cuban ore to the United States. In machinery lines, the market is more active than for the first week or two of the new year. Both foreign and domestic demand show improvement.

GRATITUDE COMES FROM TRENCHES

Duluthians Thanked for Gifts Sent Early Last Fall.

Two privates in the British army, who were recipients of the parcels sent by local women early last fall, are the address says, "somewhere in Belgium," and have been here for nearly six months. The parcels were distributed among us at Christmas time, that were sent by so many kind friends. I got your parcel and note, the name of Mrs. Cole, North street, Fort William, was in it, stating she had packed that particular lot. I thank her most heartily for the kindness and the thought that one is not forgotten, even by people one has never met, gives great encouragement. We have had a awful lot of rain and the country is swamped in mud. You cannot imagine what it is like, how deep—the trenches, well, the less said the better. If you want to let me know if you get this letter O. K., I dress me 38, 17½. Priv. J. K. Crossling, Eighth battalion, First Canadian contingent, Nineteenth Winnipeg Rifles, B. E. F., France. I have to write the address that way, as it is ordered by military authorities. Things have been pretty quiet around this locality lately. Spring will probably see a big bust-up. Hoping to hear from you if you get this, and again thanking you for your kindness, and that this finds you well. I am at present. Sincerely yours, J. K. Crossling.

FORTY MEN TO RAISE FUNDS

Twenty Teams Will Canvass Duluth for Jewish Relief Thursday.

Local Association Will Call Mass Meeting in Near Future.

Twenty-two men teams, consisting of the most prominent Jews of Duluth, will make a city-wide campaign for subscriptions all day next Thursday, which has been designated as Jewish War Relief day in a proclamation issued by President Wilson two weeks ago.

Final plans for the work were formulated at a meeting of the Jewish Central War Relief association of Duluth held at Temple Emanuel vestry rooms yesterday afternoon. Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, chairman, presided at the meeting.

Central headquarters will be established in the Spaulding hotel lobby on Jewish Relief day, was announced at the meeting while the members of the campaign teams will wear special badges designating them as official representatives of the association.

Plan Mass Meeting.—Immediately after Jewish Relief day, the members of the association, which has been made a permanent one, will begin arrangements for holding a mass meeting sometime in February. Dr. Lefkowitz is negotiating for a prominent speaker in New York, and as soon as a definite answer is received the meeting date will be selected. In addition, prominent Gentiles of Duluth will be invited to address the gathering.

Bishop Greer's Plan.—At the mass meeting in New York three weeks ago, when $1,000,000 was raised in one evening, one of the principal addresses was delivered by Bishop David H. Greer, president of Princeton university. It follows in part: "I am here tonight to voice by my presence and also by a spoken word, my sympathy, and to persuade others toward that sympathy for the suffering, starving Jewish people; men, women and children on the other side of the seas. I am moved to do this, not merely by sentimental considerations, though such considerations are always legitimate, but as an act of justice. It is a debt, a debt in the first place which the Christian church owes the Jewish people; it is a reparation debt for its persecutions of them, and for the cruelties and the crimes it has inflicted upon them. It is a catalogue of crimes, and as a Christian man, with shame for the Christian church, I confess and admit that the church whose professed faith is charity and love for all, for the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God, and withstanding that faith has inflicted such cruelty and injury upon the Jew, not because he was a sinner above all other sinners, but because he was a Jew. And for this reason they made an outcast of him, unsheltered by the Christian state, unsheltered by the Christian church and victimized by both."

Appeal at Church Meeting Results in Contributions of $200.

The sum of $200 was raised in a few minutes yesterday afternoon at a meeting of Polish citizens of Duluth held at the St. Jean Baptiste French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Bishop James McGolrick gave an interesting address, in which he spoke of the suffering of the Polish people and appealed to the audience for funds for their relief.

The audience condemned the war, which they termed the wanton slaughter of their countrymen. Rev. Frank T. Schultz, pastor of the St. Peter and Paul church, gave an interesting talk, following which a program of music was given by children of the parish.

THIS GENERATION IS PLEASURE MAD

Rev. Swaney Nelson Deplores Tendency to Neglect Soul.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, last night scored the young people of the present generation as being pleasure mad. The pastor touched upon the message brought to the city by the delegates to the Laymen's Missionary meeting at Lansing, Mich., who have stirred the hearts of the citizens.

The pastor said that the average "globe trotter" on pleasure bent brought back only a "skimmed milk" report of conditions abroad, but with the returned missionary it was different. These bring reports of conditions as they are. They have seen, have gone to the people and worked among them. Mr. Nelson said that the indifference of the average man concerning his own soul's saving is appalling. The rising generation has gone pleasure mad and through the motion picture shows and places providing nerve straining excitement, instead of going to church, he declared.

FACING TRIAL FOR THIRD TIME

When noon adjournment was taken today in District Judge Foster's court, seven of the twelve jurors who will try George K. Robertson, Northern Pacific switchman, on a charge of perjury, had been impaneled.

Robertson is facing his third trial for his alleged connection with the theft of $3,000 worth of copper from a box car in the local railroad yards during the month of November, 1915. He has two more indictments pending against him.

The November, 1915, grand jury indicted Robertson on two counts for perjury and also found a true bill against him, charging burglary, the crime of breaking into a box car with the intent to commit a theft.

The perjury charge against him alleges that he testified falsely on his first trial for grand larceny. On this trial the jury disagreed. Robertson has pleaded not guilty to the perjury charge, and his attorney, John H. Nor-on him to disclaim alleged statements made at a church meeting here that Mr. Wilson knew of the plot to murder Francisco L. Madero, John Lind, former personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, sent to Mr. Wilson the following letter made public by Charles E. Ellicott, Mr. Wilson's local attorney:

"Hon. Henry Lane Wilson, Indianapolis, Ind.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter. In the course of the address to which you refer, I commented on the events which led up to and culminated in the death of President Madero. What I said was stated in good faith in the course of that discussion and in the full belief of the accuracy of my information. The press reports of my utterances detached from the other language and susceptible of misinterpretation, I was not responsible for their publication, assume no such responsibility, and disavow them. Very respectfully yours, 'JOHN LIND'."

visiting a female employee of the hotel. He was held to the grand jury and later released.

Saturday night a hurry-up call from the St. Regis apartments, Second avenue east and Second street, informed police that some one was climbing the fire escape.

Capt. A. G. Pickett, Detective J. L. Bradley and Patrolman Westerlund answered the call. The captain walked up the stairs, the detective climbed the fire escape, and the patrolman waited for developments.

They grappled with the captain at the top of the first flight of steps, but submitted to arrest after a short struggle. Detective Bradley traced a trail of footprints across the roof and down through a trap door.

"SAFE KEEPING" STORY DOUBTED

When police arraigned Mike Smith, 35, in court today for a preliminary hearing on a charge of stealing $205 from Mike Sorich Jan. 21, he was highly indignant.

"I took it for safe keeping," he explained. "I never stole a cent in my life."

Smith and Sorich slept together in a rooming house at 1021 West Michigan street on the night of Jan. 21, and when Sorich's alarm clock failed to ring at the appointed time, he overheard Smith's conversation.

Finally he was awakened, and found that his room had disappeared. He took a rooming house, and when Sorich's alarm clock failed to ring at the appointed time, he overheard Smith's conversation.

Smith's idea of "safe keeping" does not agree with that of Duluth police. Two hours later Smith was arrested in Superior. Officers found $235.50 in his pockets.

SUES FOR BOARD OF WIFE'S CHILDREN

The battle of the Emmetts, which was waged in district court last August, when Mrs. Emma Emmett sued for a divorce from Ole Emmett, is not yet over.

Emmett, against whom the divorce contest was decided, has another score to settle with his former wife—that of recovering for the board of his children.

When the Emmetts were married on Jan. 19, 1906, Mrs. Emmett was a widow and the mother of two children, Jennie Thorsen, 10, and Harold Thorsen, 8, by a former marriage.

Now that the divorce case is lost, Emmett is seeking to recover $248 for boarding the two children during the nine years of their married life.

Mrs. Emmett contends that her children were admitted into the family as children of Emmett, and were always considered as such, and that Emmett cannot recover for the board and lodging.

Saturday afternoon the district court ordered Emmett to pay up four months' back alimony at the rate of $5 a month. Emmett sought to have the court modify the divorce decree so as to relieve him from paying alimony pending the trial of the suits to recover for the board and lodging of his former wife's children.

PAVING JOB IS HELD UP

Farrell Waps School Board to Sign West First Street Petition.

No further action will be taken on the proposed West First street pavement until the school board signs the improvement petition.

This announcement was made today by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, who said that the signatures of school board representatives must be secured before construction work will be permitted.

The pavement will not be laid this year. The school district owns the Monroe school at Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street, covering practically an entire block facing the proposed pavement.

"The district court has ruled that the school board does not have to pay for street improvements," said Commissioner Farrell this morning, "and as a result, I want the signatures on the original petition before going ahead with the work."

Members of the school board have agreed to pay for all improvements, which they petitioned last week the first street property owners selected creosote blocks for the pavement.

Two blocks of the school district have been prepared by the work, but will not be introduced at the council meeting this afternoon, as he announced last week.

"BORDER BULL" NAME OF BATTALION

Maj. G. A. Stethen of the One Hundred and Forty-first Overseas battalion, who was in Duluth yesterday as the guest of David Quail, British vice consul at Duluth, said before leaving last evening for Fort Frances, where he is quartered, that the Overseas battalion has been dubbed the "Border Bull" in honor of Col. Roosevelt, and that the name was given it only after the written consent of T. R. had been obtained. The man in whose honor the regiment was named, expressed himself as delighted.

DEFICIENTS SHOULD QUIT SCHOOL SAYS YOUNG

LABOR THEIR PROPER OCCUPATION

Leonard Young, principal of Central high school, would have pupils who study would bring them nowhere in fact they reached their mental high school, retire and go to work. The children are suited only for manual occupations, and would be hard to teach them mechanical skills. They could not be taught mechanical or architectural drawing or any subject requiring planning power and imagination.

Indifference, lack of application and lack of initiative and effort are the five principal causes of the children's failure. This was shown after conferences with parents of children who have not fared well in school.

PARAGRAPHIC COMMENT OF THE SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

SINCE assuming the presidency of the Boston baseball club, Percy Haughton has discarded his wrist watch. For several years past Percy has attended punctiliously to the business of beating Yale while flirting with the wrist watch habit, but now that he has come to the task of defeating baseball teams of tried and seasoned timber, the watch must go its way. Or perhaps it was that even the baseball players of a Boston team will not stand for a wrist watch. Or maybe it comes out that beating Yale was mere child's play alongside of the anticipated task of beating the other seven teams of the National league. But, more serious still, outside of the fact that Fred Palmer declares English fighting men wear wrist watches, the dainty boys addicted to this habit have been deprived of a real hero, a clan leader and an idol, in the desertion of Percy.

Doc Cook declares he will convince the public he really discovered the north pole.

DATE SET FOR CARR MATCH

Minneapolis Boy to Wrestle Ketonen Here Friday, Feb. 11.

Waino Ketonen, world's middleweight champion, and Joe Carr of Minneapolis, title contender, will meet in the Duluth Auditorium on the night of Friday, Feb. 11, in a finish wrestling contest, best two out of three falls, on a winner-take-all basis.

Ketonen wired Promoter Cub La Joy early today that he would like to have the match contested on a winner-take-all basis. La Joy immediately got in touch with Carr and his manager. Over the long distance telephone the husky Minneapolis Pole stated that the winner-take-all arrangement of the purse would suit him absolutely.

The little Finn has been preparing himself in Chicago for a number of hard contests and writes that he is in great shape. Carr starts working today in Cook's gymnasium for what is expected to prove the hardest match battle in the strenuous career of the Mill City star.

Henry Ordean, Tommy Russell, Carl Albright, Big John Gordon and others will assist in the preparation of Carr. Ketonen, working in Chicago, will have the Chicago Hebrew Athletic club star, Charles Cutler, Ernest Kartie and others to work with. Waino will remain in Chicago until several days previous to the match, when he will come here and put the finishing touches on his training.

Eager to Beat Carr.
The little Finn declares he will leave no stone unturned to get in the best condition of his career. Ketonen is the strongest of all the middleweights.

As Ketonen is by far the most scientific middleweight in the world, by far the most crafty, it is expected that the match will develop into a hard fought and exciting contest.

In his training for the Carr contest, Ketonen will have the advice of expert trainers and handlers and should step on the mat in the very pink of superb condition.

HEDGES WOULD LIKE TO OWN KAWS; MAY BUY

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 24.—Robert L. Hedges, former owner of the St. Louis Americans, would like to re-enter baseball as owner of the Kansas City franchise in the American association, he said here last night. The franchise is for sale, according to recent statements by George Tebeau, the owner.

"I've been thinking the matter over, but I've made no proposition as yet," said the former league magnate, "I'd like to own the Kansas City team. That's as far as it has come."

Mr. Hedges was here en route from his home in St. Louis to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a vacation.

Sign for Bowling Congress.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Seven-teen teams signed up at a meeting of bowlers here yesterday to compete in the American Bowling congress at Toledo in March, and it was announced that Secretary A. In addition to sending its crew to the intercollegiate regatta, Stanford is planning to enter a track and field team in the intercollegiate championships to be held in all probability at Berkeley on May 26-27. It is proposed to send the California college cinder stars east a week or ten days in advance of the regatta.

Just a few years ago athletics in the big colleges in the West were just starting. The colleges were comparatively new, and up to that time so much attention had to be paid to providing the proper courses of book learning that athletic activities were neglected.

NEW YORK SPORTS LETTER

Dates Set for Big Eastern College Rowing Races—Leland Stanford Plans Ambitious Invasion of the East.

New York, Jan. 24.—With the selection of a date for the intercollegiate regatta to be made at the meeting of the board of stewards the principal college rowing races of the coming season will have been formally scheduled. Three dates have been tentatively named for the Poughkeepsie regatta and it is thought that the stewards will definitely decide upon either June 17, 24 or July 1 at the coming conference.

Tidal conditions and college examination dates conflict badly this year and it has proved a hard proposition to date to fix upon a day which is convenient and satisfactory to all the colleges which annually compete in the regatta. Especial care is required in the case of the Pacific coast college crews will be invited to race on the Hudson against Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania. Leland Stanford university which sent such a remarkable eight to Poughkeepsie last season where it finished second to Cornell, has already been formally invited to return for the 1916 regatta.

If Stanford should be defeated in the three-mile race at Oakland, Cal., April 8, by either Washington or California it would be necessary to extend the invitation to the winning crew as well as Stanford. The latter eight, which is almost intact, made a great hit at Poughkeepsie last June and the regatta authorities are desirous that the "brawny oarsmen from Palo Alto" return to the Hudson again this year. If the eight was defeated in a close race in the Pacific coast contest it is quite likely that there would be two far western eights instead of one on the Hudson, especially a favorite dual is selected for the regatta.

Aside from the uncertainty of the date for this event the schedule for the leading dual, triangular and so-called championship regatta follows: April 8, Saturday, Pacific Coast intercollegiate regatta, Oakland, Cal.

April 20, Thursday, Princeton vs. Harvard, Princeton, N. J.

April 27, Thursday, Pennsylvania vs. Yale, Philadelphia.

May 6, Saturday, Pennsylvania vs. Navy, Annapolis, Md.

May 13, Saturday, American Henley, Philadelphia, Pa.

May 20, Saturday, Harvard vs. Cornell, Boston, Mass.

May 20, Saturday, Navy vs. Syracuse, Annapolis, Md.

May 27, Saturday, Yale, Princeton and Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y.

June 23, Friday, Yale vs. Harvard, New London, Conn.

In addition to sending its crew to the intercollegiate regatta, Stanford is planning to enter a track and field team in the intercollegiate championships to be held in all probability at Berkeley on May 26-27. It is proposed to send the California college cinder stars east a week or ten days in advance of the regatta.

M'NABB SHOWS FORM IN FINAL DAY OF BONSPIEL

Grand Rapids Scot Walks Away With Three First Prizes—LaBatt Wins the International and Clarence Grace Wins First in Minneapolis Event From C. D. Brewer.

BONSPIEL WINNERS.

Patrick-Daluth—W. J. McNabb.

Grand Rapids—K. Dunlop, St. Paul.

Western Curling club—W. J. McNabb, Grand Rapids.

Duluth Curling club—Charles Brewer, Duluth.

St. Paul Jobbers' event—W. J. McNabb, Grand Rapids.

Consolation—John McLeod, Minneapolis.

Minneapolis Curling club—Clarence Grace, Superior.

International—George K. LaBatt, Minneapolis.

The twenty-third annual bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association came to an end Saturday evening.

The final games of the bonspiel brought Clarence Grace and C. D. Brewer, together in the finals of the Minneapolis event, and George LaBatt of Minneapolis and Walter Hall of Duluth, together in the International. Grace defeated Brewer, 9 to 5, and LaBatt took the measure of Hall, 15 to 6.

But one Canadian rink entered for play in the International, the Hudson rink of Kenora shouldering all the burden of retaining possession of the Louis W. Hill trophy. The Ontario crowd were put out of the running early in the play, and the trophy returns to the American side of the line.

Hall's Good Showing.

Hall's rink played a whale of a game after the opening day of the bonspiel right down to the closing day, when he fell down, McNabb and LaBatt each taking a game from the local boys. LaBatt got away to a flying start in the game against Hall and was never headed.

While Brewer's rink was the favorite in the finals of the Minneapolis event, Grace came through and won seven of the eleven heads and displayed superiority throughout the game.

John McLeod met Heimbach in the finals of the Consolation event and won 12 to 8, plugging up in the first six heads, that the Superior skip never reached, through Heimbach laid two for three heads and gave the Minneapolis skip a stiff score.

McNabb Shows Strong.

After getting away to a bad start early last Monday and showing some indifferent curling during portions of the bonspiel, the genial Sandy McNabb and his cohorts took to life Saturday and showed some of the very best curling of the week.

Hall of Duluth opposed Sandy in the finals of the St. Paul Jobbers' event and the Grand Rapids Scot came into the last head 2 down. Hall missed two shots and allowed the Michigander to count three for the house.

From the playing standpoint the bonspiel was one of the most successful held in years. There were numerous upsets of the dope and no single rink made a run away contest of it. No rink seemed safe, "weak" rinks defeating supposedly strong ones in a manner that gave interest and caused speculation to mount high. The dopsters were figuring all during the week, and this served to maintain interest at a high point.

Spies Is Success.

While not as many rinks were in the bonspiel just closed as some of the largest bonspiels of the past have brought here, nevertheless the bonspiel was successful.

St. Paul fell down lamentably in the matter of sending rinks to Duluth, just as the Saintly city fell down in sending rinks to Winnipeg. Minneapolis made a strong showing, while Sandy McNabb has securely placed the name of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the curling hall of fame.

The final games of the Ordway event, which is for rinks outside the Twin Cities and Duluth, will be played in Hibbing and lies between the Rooney, Kierman and Flanagan rinks.

Following are the final games played Saturday:

CANDIDACIES OF ROOSEVELT AND HUGHES DISCUSSED BY HILLES, REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE HEAD

COLONEL NOT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

Refuses to Allow Name on Primary Ballot in Three States.

Present Attitude of Justice Hughes of Supreme Court Not Known.

Believes Number of Able Men in Party for the Position.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, before leaving for New York today after attending the session of the sub-committee on arrangements for the party national convention in June, discussed the possible candidacies of Col. Roosevelt and Justice Hughes for the Republican nomination for president, and urged the necessity for the adoption of the uniform primary election laws by all the states.

In speaking of Col. Roosevelt, Hilles said:

Not Republican Candidate.

"All the information I have on the subject is to the effect that Col. Roosevelt is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. He has declined to permit his name to go on the primary ballot in the only three states where it has been suggested, Minnesota, Nebraska and Michigan."

COMMISSION FOR TARIFF

President Favors Creation of New Body to Handle Question.

Plan Said to Be for Non-Partisan Board to Collect Facts.

Washington, Jan. 25.—President Wilson told Chairman Kitchin of the ways and means committee today that he favors creation of a tariff commission and will attempt to put a bill for one through during the present session of congress. The president is expected to discuss the question in a special message to congress in the near future.

Representative Kitchin favors putting the powers of a tariff commission in the Federal trade commission instead of creating a new body, but the president believes a separate commission should be established.

Majority in Favor.

Mr. Kitchin said after his conference with the president today that he did not know whether he would oppose the plan. He added he thought a majority of the ways and means committee were in favor of it.

The president's plan is said to be for a non-partisan commission for the purpose of collecting facts for congress. While officials would not say today that his decision to support a tariff commission bill meant he thought there should be changes in some of the tariff schedules, it was indicated he believed some such changes might be necessary after the war.

Some time ago the president was said to feel the powers of a tariff commission already existed in the trade commission, but he has now changed that view.

Arrival of Another Italian Ship With Guns Brings Issue.

Austria to Call on United States to Define Position.

Action on Guiseppe Verdi Not Satisfactory to Vienna.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Arrival of the Italian steamship Vernio in New York yesterday, with two guns mounted at her stern, probably will result in the Austro-Hungarian government taking up diplomatically with the United States all the broad questions involved in the arming of merchant ships for defensive purposes.

It was indicated last night that Baron Erich Zwiernick, charge of the Austro-Hungarian embassy here, would inform his government promptly of the arrival of the Vernio, if he had not already done so, and that he would call upon Secretary Lansing in the near future to determine the position of the United States in regard to permitting the liner to sail with the guns mounted.

GERMAN PROPOSALS ARE KEPT SECRET

Latest Communication on Lusitania Case Guarded From Public.

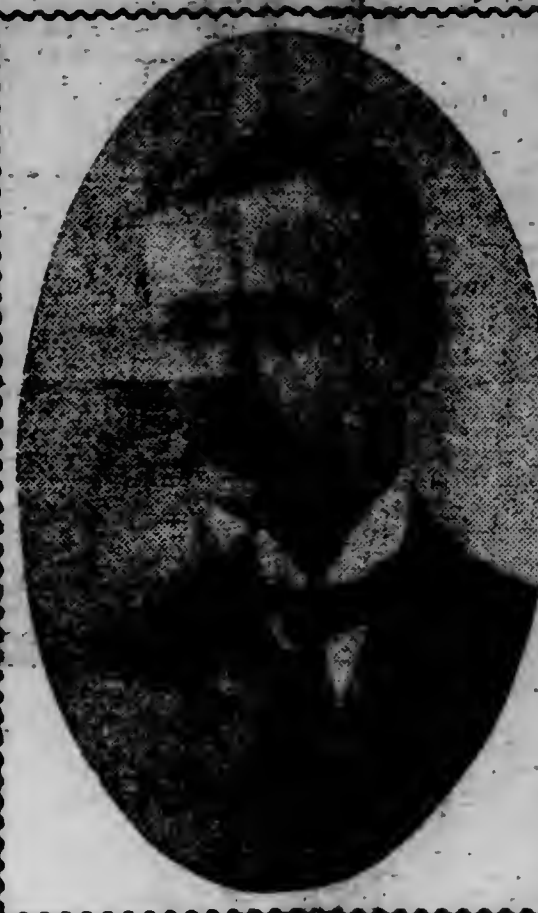

Washington, Jan. 25.—Secretary Lansing had before him today another written proposal from Germany designed to bring about a settlement of the controversy over the sinking of the Lusitania. It was submitted through Ambassador von Bernstorff.

Although strict secrecy surrounds the negotiations it was indicated today that the proposal might result in a satisfactory ending to the long-standing negotiations on the subject.

Secretary Lansing's only comment today on the published description of Germany's latest proposal was that it was "speculation not justified by the facts."

Mr. Lansing went early to the cabinet meeting and it was said he would have a separate conference with President Wilson on the latest turn in the negotiations.

GEORGE VON L. MEYER.

Meyer, former secretary of the navy, and Truxton Beale, former United States minister to Persia, had a fist encounter in front of the fashionable Metropolitan club here yesterday. Before members of the club could intervene the men had exchanged several blows, although it is said neither was seriously hurt.

A long standing disagreement between Mr. Meyer and Mr. Beale came to a climax when they met in the club. Witnesses say that an argument started as they approached the doors and soon their words became heated. When they reached the sidewalk they came to blows.

Mr. Meyer was attended by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, naval aide and physician to President Wilson. One of the former secretary's eyes were slightly bruised. But there was no disfigurement. Mr. Beale was bruised but not seriously.

The Loveliest Curly Hair—So Easy to Have!

Why make your hair dry, brittle and dead looking with the heated waving tongs, when the simple siltmerine method will produce a curliness far more natural in appearance, and at the same time preserve the lustre and beauty of your tresses? Liquid siltmerine is so agreeable to use, being neither sticky nor greasy, and the over-night treatment is so pleasing, that the first trial will make it your firm friend.

The approved way to apply it is to pour a little into a saucer at bedtime, dip a clean tooth brush into this and draw the brush through the hair from crown to tip, one strand at a time. A few ounces of this harmless liquid from your drugist will last a long time. You will like it not only because the curly hair may effect will be charming, but because you will also find it an excellent dressing for the hair.

HITS GUEST WITH BOTTLE

Frightened when his mother screamed for help, Keith Halbein, 18, seriously injured Carl Grandell, 23,
a guest at the Halbein home last night.
The boy came into the room and saw his mother, who was screaming and standing in one corner of the room.
Nearby was Grandell, who was drinking. Grandell, evidently thinking that Grandell meant to harm them, as he had been drinking.

When his mother called out, the boy snatched up a bottle and hurled it at Grandell, cutting a severe gash in his forehead and knocking him down.
A minute later Grandell, who was Commons and Sorenson appeared on the scene, they took Grandell to headquarters, where he was booked for drunk-ness. Police-Surgeon Kleip sewed up his head and said the injuries were not serious, unless it developed that the skull had been fractured slightly.

Today in police court, Grandell was unable to talk because of his injury, he claimed, and communicated with his mother by writing on a piece of paper.
He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to pay a fine of $7 or serve three days in the work farm.

The Halbein boy was brought into court later in the evening by Detective
John Robert, and admitted assaulting Grandell. He told Judge W. H. Smallwood his story, and the court after fining him $7 and costs, referred the case to Probation Officer Frank Hicks.

MORE DRILL FOR POLICE

Police patrolmen are not military enough, Chief R. D. McKercher has decided, and a bulletin was posted this afternoon announcing that weekly drills would be the order from now on until summer.

"I have been planning on starting drill work for some time," said Capt.
A. G. Fiskett, who is the "disciplinarian" of the force. "Other work has interfered until now, and beginning next Thursday the men will be required to report for 'polishing up' work."

All patrolmen on the two night shifts will be drilled at least once a week, the chief and captain have decided. Practically all of the time will be spent on foot work and facing or dress formations.

Detective E. H. Barber, formerly lieutenant in charge of the third or night watch, probably will be detailed to take charge of the drill squad, the captain said.

Detective Barber is a member of the Minnesota National Guard and has had considerable experience in work of this kind.

As soon as warm weather begins, the drill will be supplemented by the usual weekly target practice.

CHINESE NEW YEAR WILL BE OBSERVED

dishes and brewing national drinks.
Cheu Ong is expected to set forth one of the most elaborate Chinese banquets ever served in Duluth.

SITE IS NOT TRANSFERABLE

Some of Property Wanted for City Hall Was Condemned.

County Must Get Deeds or Secure Some Curative Legislation.

Special curative legislation by the state legislature may be necessary to remove the latest obstacle to the sale of the proposed city hall site on Courthouse square to the city.

Discovery has just been made of the fact that the county condemned several of the lots when the property was purchased about ten years ago for the purpose of constructing a courthouse. Property condemned must be used for the purpose designated in condemnation proceedings, or title will revert to the original owners, unless warranty deeds are obtained. It has just been learned that five of the lots were never deeded over to the county and that, as a result, the original owners might establish claim to them, if the county attempted to transfer them.

Since the property is to be used for a city hall, still a public purpose, city and county officials plan to have curative act passed by the next legislature remedying the situation, unless warranty deeds can be secured from the owners.

The lots, in the condemnation proceedings were as follows:
Lot 65, West First street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Lillian J. Winston, one-fourth; William O. Winton,
three-fourths, $23,650.
Lot 67, West First street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Lillian J. Winston, one-fourth; William O. Winton,
three-fourths, $23,650.
Lot 69, West First street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Arthur H. Fleming, one-fourth; trustees for Kato Powder, one-half, trustees for Margaret Fleming, one-fourth.
Lot 66, West Second street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Esther T. Wad-
hams, $2,700. No deed.
Lot 68, West Second street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Esther T. Wad-
hams, $5,500. No deed.
Lot 70, West Second street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Edwin S. Coe,
$7,500. No deed.
Lot 72, West Second street, Duluth
Proper, first division, Ellen M. Round,
$3,850. No deed.

The property proposed to be transferred to the city also includes the easterly twenty feet of lot 65, West
First street, Duluth Proper, first division; and the easterly twenty feet of lot 67, West First street, Duluth Proper, first division.

HOW KILLED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Hindoo Secret Banished It So It Never Returned After Electricity and Many Depilatories Had Failed

LET ME HELP YOU ABSOLUTELY FREE

Until nearly middle age I was sorely troubled by ridiculous Superfluous Hairs. My face was a sight, with a heavy mass of hair on my chin and a long beard on my cheeks. My arms were also heavily covered. I tried one thing after another without success. The electric needle only made the growth worse. Finally, my husband, an officer in the British Army, secured from a Native Hindoo soldier (whose life he saved)
the closely-guarded secret of the Hindoo Religion, which forbids Hindoo women to have upon the skin any trace of hair on any part of their body except that on their heads. I used it and in a few days my face grew smooth and entirely disengaged. Under its aid I can be found. I will send free and without obligation to any one, full information and complete instructions so that you can follow my example and completely destroy your hair without having to resort to the dangerous electric needle. So, stop wasting your money on needless depilatory preparations and write me today, girling your name and address, stating whether Mrs. or Miss, and I will send you a 2c stamp for return postage.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Mrs. S. J. Hudson, a widow, high in English Society, who is connected with leading officials there and is the widow of a prominent officer in the British Army, so you can write her with entire confidence. She has opened an office in America for the benefit of sufferers from Superfluous Hair. Her full address is Mrs. Frederica Hudson, 281 E. No. 8 North Main Street,

MUCH INTEREST IN LARSON WARLOGUE

The warlogue which will be given tomorrow evening at the new armory, Thirteenth avenue east and Jefferson street, by E. J. D. Larson, who has just returned from Europe, where he was war correspondent for a Minneapolis paper, promises to be greeted by a big crowd. Mr. Larson, who was at the front most of three months, will illustrate his talk with 200 scenes from the fields of action. He keeps his address clear of prejudice, and it has been remarked where he has appeared that he is successful in preserving a strict neutrality in his discussion of the war.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is, by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also comes out of the ear caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CAR SHORTAGE OF RAILWAYS SERIOUS

Congestion at Eastern Terminals Is the Cause.

E. B. Ober, general freight agent of the Omaha, who is here today on business, speaking for his road, declared that there was a real shortage of cars.

"We have found it extremely difficult to get cars back from the Eastern lines," said Mr. Ober. "The delay in unloading at Eastern terminals accounts for this delay. An increase of business during the last three weeks and the cold weather have added their share to the difficulties of the railroad in its efforts to supply cars."

Shippers at the present moment are asking for cars that we cannot furnish. The classes in the congestion at Eastern terminal points would bring a speedy solution of the car shortage problem. Business is somewhat ahead of the volume transacted at this period last year, and we have hopes that it will show an increase. With the embargo on grain and other commodities, many grain shippers are holding off."

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition in Winter

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the winter term. These things which clog the pores, tend to aid wind and weather in roughening and coarsening the skin. Ordinary mercurized wax will do more for the complexion, and without encouraging the skin to chafe, crack or become harsh and leathery. It is the ideal application for the winter season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of dirt which have been spattered by winds or temperature. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white and soft, it does more toward perpetuating youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will completely remove the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. To keep the skin from wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce of powdered saffron in 2 quarts of water.

LOSSES ARE DECREASED

Park Point Traction Company Is Almost "Breaking Even."

Business for Coming Year May Show Small Profit.

Although the Park Point Traction company lost $923.34 in operating its street car line last year, it did the biggest business in the last five years, according to the annual report filed this morning with City Auditor Campbell. The charter provides that all franchise holding companies must file their annual reports with the city auditor each year.

Practically every year since the line was first placed in operation, the traction company has shown a loss, but last year this amount was greatly reduced and officers of the corporation are now of the belief that this year's business will place the road on a profitable basis. In 1914 the loss was $2,349.75, while last year this amount was brought down to $923.34.

The report filed by Field M. Fuller, general manager of the road, is signed by Oscar Mitchell, vice president of the company. It states that the entire road and plant cost $1,302,19 up to a year ago and that during 1915 a total of $1,572.01 was spent on the road and plant work. The debts include $20,000 in first mortgage bonds and $100,000 in income bonds.

During 1915 the gross earnings totaled $25,201.14, while the expenses were $26,124.48. There are 300 shares of stock, principally held by R. R. Dunn, president of the company, T. J. Lake, a partner in the Minneapolis Land company, according to the report.

The financial statement for 1915, as included in the report, follows:

"FREAKS" AT CHICKEN SHOW

Three-Legged Hen and Turkey Weighing Fifty Pounds Entered.

Biggest and Best Exhibition in Association's History Opens.

If the men behind the Duluth Poultry association's show were not earnest individuals, with their minds bent on the progress, enlightenment and uplift of the chicken race, they might have conceived the idea of installing a side show at the exhibition that opened today in the old armory. There is material in copious plenty for such an appendage to the first-class chicken show.

First of all, enumerating the feathered freaks in turn, is a three-legged hen from West Duluth. This hen is a regular hen outside of the fact that she possesses three legs. The third leg is somewhat short, to be sure, but it is functional, nevertheless, and puts the humble hen in the freak class. She is one of the features of the show. It is not believed that she raises three-legged chickens as a rule in West Duluth. This hen just happened to develop a third leg, and it is a freak inasmuch that she weighs well over fifty pounds and looks like a young woman in a corset and high heels. Two men transferred the big bird from a wagon to a cage in the show hall, and the big bird, the turkey, has been dubbed Jess. Ward in honor of and in due respect to its prowess.

Chinese geese and gentlemen; step right this way. These geese are white with long necks and foolish expressions, but that is not the reason they are called Chinese. They are of genuine Chinese extraction, really, and there is a screech owl huddled in among the freaks. The poor little owl looks all shriveled up. He or she isn't as big as a minute and never says a word. Maybe he makes the night's vocal, but during the day period of the show he proved no right to the name of screech.

Two fur-bearing chickens add to and embellish the freak side of the exhibition. These chickens are white with black faces and instead of feathers have fur. If you don't believe this statement the kind-faced man hovering around the cage will permit you to stroke the fur. "A wonderful, isn't it?"

Then there are the "Fur Around Ankles." In the matter of quality the present exhibition is about the best in the history of the Duluth Poultry association. There are about 800 birds entered and they represent the very finest of the breed. Every breed and variety of chicken is on exhibition.

Judging in the American classes began late yesterday. George W. Hadden, a chicken fancier of international renown, is judging the birds. Mr. Hadden is classed as one of the best qualified judges in the country. The show will be open this evening.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC STILL GROWING

Health Director Issues Another Warning to the Public.

The measles epidemic is growing and another warning to the public was given out this morning by Health Director Fahy.

"Parents should be more careful in watching their children," said Dr. Fahy. "In addition, local physicians have also been somewhat lax in reporting cases and in warning parents to keep those afflicted at home."

There are about sixty-five cases of measles in Duluth, according to reports in the health office.

ADMITTS FIRING BARN; SAYS HE WAS PAID

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 25.—Fire Marshal Runge, 25, caused the arrest of Edward Guyard, a halfbreed, charged with setting fire to the Olga Cavalier hotel. Guyard confessed being paid $5 by James Tweagan, owner of the barn, for setting fire to the structure being insured. Tweagan has not been arrested.

Hotel Manager Resigns.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Good Advice For Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs, who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-cakes, physical culture stunts and run-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequalled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strengthening, fat-producing assimilative elements, combined in this preparation, which is indorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting causes of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is shorted to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the body is made to use it as fuel. Sargol is sold by all druggists. Bore Drug Store and other leading druggists.

While this new preparation has from reports given a splendid result as a nerve-tonic and vitality, its use is not recommended to nervous people who wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

LEAP YEAR NO JOKE FOR SCOTCH BACHELOR HAD TO ACCEPT PROPOSAL OR PAY FINE

For a' that, leap year is no joke. Back in the year 1228 it was mighty "serious" proposition for the Scottish bachelors, who had succeeded in dodging the shafts of Cupid and who turned pale when Hymen appeared on the scene. A. G. McKnight, Duluth attorney, says so. Mr. McKnight ought to know, for he is royal counselor of all Scottish clans in the United States, as well as a prominent member of Clan Stewart. The same Scottish forebears who gave us porridge, chapped knees and bagpipes are responsible for the custom, says Counselor McKnight. "It is statut and ordnait that during the rein of her majest bleisit Megrete, for ilk years known as lepe years, ilk maiden layde of bothe hiegh and lowe estat shall hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit he refuses to talk hir to his lawful wyfe, he shall be muled in ye sum ane pundis or less, as his estat may be; except and awle gif he can make it appere that he is bethrothit ane ither woumit; then he shall be free." "Later the French passed a similar law," Mr. McKnight added, "and in the fifteenth century Genoa and Florence became the legalized scene of the custom. "There was only one way of avoiding attack. It was to become engaged or married at once—and most permanently. There were no divorces, either. "Eleven Deaths From Measles. Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 25.—One thousand cases of measles with eleven deaths resulting from them were reported yesterday. Further spread of the epidemic is feared and drastic precautions have been taken by the health department.

BUSINESS TO "BOIL OVER"

Bankers and Experts in All Lines Are Optimistic.

Bankers and experts in all parts of the country are being quoted to the effect that business was never better or on a more satisfactory basis than at present. Sales of wholesale houses and manufacturing establishments are setting new high records for January. It is predicted that business in all lines will literally "boil over" after the real spring movement begins.

"General business continues fairly active and satisfactory," says Henry Clews & Co., New York bankers. "The revival which began in October and November still continues. It is stimulated by the extraordinary activity in the steel industry, which seems unchecked by the prolonged rise in prices.

The railroad situation is steadily improving in various respects, and the freight embargo is in a fair way of being broken. Forty-six roads reported earnings of $34,000,000 in December, an increase of $20,000,000 over last year.

It cannot be too often borne in mind that our present prosperity is vastly more due to a rich harvest and good prices than to war orders.

Referring to the new construction and improvements phase of the railroad situation, Knauth-Nachter & Kuhne, New York brokers, say in their January letter on investment conditions: "A good deal of additional railroad mileage probably will be planned as the new construction work undertaken last year was in the smallest volume reported for half a century. There is every indication, however, that the roads will enjoy unusual prosperity this year. Thirteen railroad presidents have already gone on record as predicting that both gross and net earnings would touch new high levels in 1916."

INDEPENDENCE FOR THE PHILIPPINES

Amendment to Pending Bill May Be Approved By Administration.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Granting of independence to the Philippine islands in not less than two years and not more than four years may be favored by the Wilson administration, according to a statement made yesterday by Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate Philippine committee, discussed with President Wilson late yesterday a provision to that effect, which Senator Clark of Arkansas introduced as an amendment to the pending Philippine bill.

After conferring with the president, Senator Hitchcock, while he would not say what the president had told him, indicated it was probable the amendment would be accepted. The president previously opposed another amendment proposed by Senator Clark proposing independence for the Philippines within two years.

WILL TAKE OVER ROAD

Canadian Government May Soon Operate Transcontinental Line.

Will Assume Liabilities of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Canada is soon likely to operate a state-owned transcontinental railroad. It will extend from Moncton, N. B., to Prince Rupert, B. C., and with branch lines will afford a mileage of more than 3,500 miles.

At present the government road extends from the Far East to Winnipeg, where it forms a connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific running to the Pacific coast. Negotiations for taking over the Grand Trunk Pacific by the Canadian government have been in progress for some time and they are expected to reach a definite conclusion within the next few weeks.

The impression is growing in Ottawa that the negotiations will result in the assuming by the government of the liabilities of the company, and the taking over for government operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific line, thus creating a government-owned and operated system from coast to coast in conjunction with the National Transcontinental.

The impression is growing in Ottawa that the negotiations will result in the assuming by the government of the liabilities of the company, and the taking over for government operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific line, thus creating a government-owned and operated system from coast to coast in conjunction with the National Transcontinental.

While the Grand Trunk railway has a considerable amount of money in the treasury, it is not thought likely that the government will enter into any agreement which involves the handing over to it of the Grand Trunk of its whole present equity in the system. "It is believed that the government will assume the liabilities of the company and face probable temporary deficits in the interest on the bonded indebtedness for a few years. It is estimated that the government will take over the Grand Trunk Pacific to the extent of about $125,000,000.

The total mileage of the G. T. P. system is approximately 1,800 miles, and the cost of the system is said to total nearly $200,000,000.

WEST END MAY STAGE CONTEST AMONG SKATERS

Garfield Avenue Improvement Club Proud of Its Rink.

The Garfield Avenue Improvement club will hold a business meeting Thursday evening at Madison school.

Thursday evening at Madison school. The club will discuss the proposal to hold competitive skating contests for prizes at the free skating rink, recently opened on Garfield avenue.

Through activities of the club members Garfield avenue residents have one of the finest skating rinks in the city. While the sheet of ice is not large, it is big enough for 200 young people. Crowds have been enjoying the sport there every afternoon and evening of the last week.

Although the weather is so warm, the water is so cold, the rink is so good, the club is so proud of it, that it is not likely to be closed for some time.

"We waited until the temperature was just right and then sprinkled the sand. The result was that we got a well-frozen bottom. Now we have a skating rink in the city and the children are taking good pride in it to keep it clear of snow."

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the digestive process, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and bowels are too torpid to carry it off.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood purifier, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly on the blood, purifying it, and through the blood on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates to do their duty. It is the only blood purifier that does not harm the system.

The musical part of the program is being arranged under the direction of Mrs. Ewald W. Lund. BOARD WILL NOT BLOCK PAVING

Willing to Do Its Share of Improvement, Say Two Members.

That the school board will not block the paving of West First street is the opinion of Dr. L. Q. Greeley and W. B. Getchell, members of the board from the western end of the city. A delegation of property owners interested in having the paving laid on schedule time this year is planning on attending the regular meeting of the school board on Feb. 1 for the purpose of requesting the board to give its official sanction to the improvement.

"The school board has in the past shown that it is willing to assume its share of improvement work and will undoubtedly favor this improvement," said Dr. Greeley this morning. "The school board on several occasions in the past has joined with the citizens in petitioning for improvements. It is unquestionably doing the same in this instance."

Mr. Getchell, who is one of the boosters of better civic improvements in the western end of the city, also gave it as his opinion that there would be no opposition of the board members in favoring the improvement. Mr. Getchell said that a wrong impression had got out regarding the attitude of the board on such matters because of the recent suit started by the board. The board he said was not attempting to evade just payments but just wished to establish its position regarding the payments of certain back assessments.

A series of revival meetings to be held nightly for two weeks at Ebenezer Norwegian Lutheran church, Third street, will begin this evening. Among the speakers will be Rev. M. A. Norum, Minneapolis, Rev. H. P. Hageblad, John Hoel and Conrad Swenson. The meetings will be conducted in both the Swedish and Norwegian languages. Invitations are extended to all Scandinavians to attend.

Mrs. Emmett Porter and Mrs. David Adams are in charge of the program. There will be an organ recital by Prof. A. F. Lundholm.

WAR-STRICKEN JEWS DEPLORABLE PLIGHT

Twenty reasons why next Thursday has been proclaimed by President Wilson as national day of prayer for the Jewish people of Russia, Galicia, Austria and Palestine.

The Jewish Central War Relief association of Duluth, this organization will have charge of the subscription campaign here all day Thursday, when twenty women teams will canvass the city.

These reasons are vouched for by the Jewish Colonization association of Petrograd, the Hilfswerk der Deutschen Juden of Berlin, the Israelische Allianz zu Wien of Vienna and the American Jewish Relief committee of Palestine.

They recite that in Russia 750,000 Jewish men, women and children are homeless and more than 2,000,000 are destitute. In Vienna alone 300,000 Galician Jews are refugees with the authorities and philanthropic societies unable to properly take care of them; Hungarian Jews are in a deplorable condition; and those in Palestine, with their European markets, on which they wholly depend, cut off, are in a sorry plight. The reasons given by Dr. Lefkowitz show in detail how far and how deep the complete destitution in the various districts, the numerous deaths from starvation among the Jewish people and the persecution to which they are subjected.

ceremony be held on Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Ada Garland as installing officer, which was believed would be a signal for the worthy battle, no trouble ensued.

The place for holding the installation occupied far more time. An invitation extended by the Non-Excellence homestead was discussed at the joint affair being advocated by District Manager Harouff, Fred P. Gilbert, auditor of the society, and J. C. Wessenberg, the foreman. This invitation was turned down, because members insisted on dancing following the ceremony, which could not be done at West Duluth.

Mrs. Garland will install for both homesteads, according to information given the members last night. She will have charge of the ceremony uptown at 8 o'clock and West Duluth at 9:30 o'clock. The Duluth homestead is also making resolutions requesting that Supreme Auditor Gilbert install, providing Mrs. Garland should be unable to have charge.

WANTS TO KNOW LAST FILING DAY

An opinion from the attorney general's office is being sought by County Auditor Halden on the question of whether May 25 or 30 is the last day for filing for nomination in the June primary elections, which the voters will hold on Monday, June 19.

The primary law stipulates that all for county or legislative offices shall be made twenty days before the primaries. The primary law was changed at the last session of the legislature at the request of the traveling salesmen who urged that the day for primary election be a Monday so that they might vote after being at home with their families Sunday, and before they were called out on the road.

St. Louis county will vote on candidates for the following nominations: United States senator, congressman, governor, lieutenant governor, railroad and warehouse commissioner, supreme court justice, district judge to succeed Judge Martin Hughes of Hibbing, probate judge to succeed Judge S. Gilpin of this city, representatives in legislature, and county commissioners in the Third, Fifth and Seventh districts.

MANY CITIES ARE AFTER BIG PLANT

Valley City, N. D., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald).—Tempting offers are being made to the American Society of Equity for the location of the proposed packing plant by several North Dakota cities.

The latest offer is submitted by Minot, which proposes to dispose of half of the stock of the proposed $500,000 corporation to be organized for the county of the plant.

Fargo offers a $50,000 cash bonus for the plant, and the business men of Wahpeton are considering what steps they should take to get the plant. Grand Forks, it is understood, also has made an offer, the nature of which has not been made public.

Says Woman's Beauty Depends Upon Health

Health and Vigor Necessitate Regulation of Organs of Elimination

Skin foods and face creams and powders cannot make a woman beautiful, because beauty lies deeper than that—it depends on health. In most cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headache, the lassitude, the sallow skin, and the listless eyes are usually caused by constipation. An ideal remedy for women, and one that is especially suited to their delicate organisms, is found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild laxative compound, pleasant to the taste and free from opiates and narcotic drugs of every description. Mrs. Gertrude Jordan, 522 North Liberty street, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "It is simply a fact; I have never been able to find anything to compare with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I started using it for the baby and now it is my family standby in all cases where a laxative is needed."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle; a trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Orrine Destroys Liquor Craving

We would not under any circumstances endorse a remedy for the liquor habit, until we had absolutely satisfied ourselves that it did all claimed for it. ORRINE is the only treatment for the liquor habit that has sufficient merit to be sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if the desired results are not obtained. It has stood the test of years and we know of many whom it has cured of the drink habit.

You have nothing to risk and everything to gain in giving Orrine a trial, because the guarantee in each box thoroughly protects you in two forms: No. 1 for secret use and No. 2 for those who wish to take it voluntarily. Costs $1.00 a box. Ask us for free booklet.

WONDERFUL REMEDY IN TIME TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Williams Gets on Way to Health After First Dose of Treatment.

Mrs. Peter Williams of 2749 Eighth St., S. Minneapolis, was desperately ill with stomach trouble. She faced the probability of an operation. After taking May's Wonderful Remedy, discovered for her by a kind friend, she found herself on the way back to health. Mrs. Williams wrote: "I have taken May's Wonderful Remedy for the fourth time and I am feeling like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. I had been in for eighteen months and four of our best doctors could do nothing for me. They all agreed that an operation was the only thing. One day a man told my husband of your remedy and that night he brought it home to me. May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. ring, because contractors were behind on their work. The contract called for completion by Feb. 1, and the building is practically ready now, Supt. Denfeld said.

"There is a possibility that we will be delayed a day or two," he said, "on account of the equipment, but the building is ready. Desks and similar fixtures were not shipped as soon as they were expected, and it may be that they will not be all installed by Monday."

"If not, we will wait until a week from Monday before moving the students."

There are sixteen rooms in this school, which will accommodate about 600 pupils. It will be larger than any other junior high in the city. Seventy grade students from the Adams, Bryant, Madison, Ensign and Lincoln districts will be transferred to the new section.

The gymnasium will not be completed in time for the school opening, mainly because of the delay in receiving equipment according to school engineers, but this will not interfere with the opening of the rest of the building.

Three Caught in Raids.

Three women were caught in the police dragnet during a clean-up of alleged disorderly rooming houses on lower First avenue east yesterday afternoon.

Detectives John Roberg and E. H. Barber visited four rooming houses and at three places made arrests. Viola Holmes, 23, was taken from 258 South First avenue east; Effie Myers, 25, was arrested at 272 South First avenue east, and a woman giving her name as Lulah Garner, 29, was taken at 243 St. Croix avenue.

All three pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct late yesterday afternoon and were sentenced to pay fines of $30, or serve thirty days in the county jail.

The Holmes woman was held until this morning, but the other two paid their fines last night. All three are colored.

FIREMAN HAS DISAPPEARED

Walks Out of Station Without Any Explanation of Departure.

Household Goods and Half Month's Pay Are Left Behind.

Police and firemen today are searching for W. A. Logan, fireman at Fire Station No. 3, who disappeared last night with his wife and 15-year-old daughter, leaving household goods, personal belongings, trunks and half a month's pay.

Chief of Police R. D. McKercher and Humane Agent John G. Ross, both of whom have been working on the case, refused to offer any comment which might help clear up the mystery surrounding the family's disappearance. Relatives of Mr. Logan, who live in the city, also refuse to make any comment.

The first intimation authorities had of the affair was at five minutes of 10 o'clock last night when Capt. Kenneth McDonald of the No. 3 station walked into his office.

"You're shy a man, captain," said the acting captain. "Who's gone?"

"Logan," came the reply. "He went out the back door a few minutes ago without saying a word, except to a couple of fellows who were sitting on the bench outside. He didn't say anything about going, but just got up and walked out."

Capt. McDonald reported that Logan was missing to Chief Joseph Handen, once and the chief marked him "off duty," which is the equivalent of a discharge in the fire department unless a man is "off duty" because of injuries or sickness.

"I went up to Logan's locker," said Capt. McDonald, "and his key was in the door. His badge and buttons were on the table." At the Logan home, 224 West Third street, Chief McKercher was unable to gather any more information, it was intimated.

Mr. Logan came home early in the evening and then left with his wife and daughter. They did not return. The trunks were packed for a sudden departure when the chief reached the home.

"Logan's record in the department has been a good one," Capt. McDonald said, "and I am at a loss to account for his actions. He never has been reported for inattention or negligence and always has been a good worker."

Logan was a pipeman and joined the department a little more than a year ago. The wife is Mrs. Logan's daughter by a former husband.

COMMISSION DENIES FIXING TELEPHONE RATE

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Through W. Hovatt, who is in charge of the telephone department of the state railway and warehouse commission, E. E. Elmquist of the commission, denied any connection with a circular recently sent out by telephone companies declaring that the commission had fixed upon $1 per month as the minimum telephone service. The denial was made at the meeting of the Minnesota Independent Telephone association in session at Minneapolis.

According to the circular issued, the state railroad and warehouse commission was credited with saying that any company which failed to make a telephone connection would be declared insolvent and its right to do business in the state taken away from it. The circular further stated that the commission had fixed upon $1 as the minimum telephone charge, and that the company because of this fact was compelled to increase its rate.

Guild of St. James Members Plan Membership Campaign

MRS. C. B. NUNAN,
President of Guild.

Plans for a membership campaign have been practically completed by the Guild of St. James and will be announced within a few days. The campaign will be carried on by the members of the guild as it is the policy of the society not to pay commission, in order that all the money raised may be applied directly to the outstanding bills of the orphanage. The debt on the building has been paid, but food, clothing and fuel must still be provided for the children and the sisters who care for them.

Rev. James McGillick hopes to see at least one member of every Catholic family in Duluth represented in the year book and hopes further that all men and women, irrespective of religious affiliation, whose charity includes the love of little children, will join the guild. From time to time old members of the guild have dropped out and the campaign workers will try to re-convert their interest.

An associate membership implies no further obligation than the payment of $1 a year. There are various kinds of memberships from which to choose if one wishes to contribute more either of time or money; active $1 a year; sustaining, $5 a year, and life, $25 as the minimum.

The orphanage is a practical and deserving charity for not only are the children fed, sheltered and clothed, but the boys are taught the rudiments of carpentry and farming and the girls learn cooking, sewing and the first principles of housekeeping.

The officers of the guild are: President, Mrs. C. B. Nunan; first vice president, Mrs. A. S. Jackson; second vice president, Mrs. V. D. Vincent; recording secretary, Mrs. Vincent Rhineberger; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. J. Donahue.

Social Activities of "Y"

Extension Department

Through the extension department of the Y. M. C. A. a unique social and musical program was conducted at the work farm. The boys' orchestra of the Bryant school, composed of seventeen boys, conducted by Miss Katherine King, principal, was the leading feature. R. Batcher, playground director, also assisted and helped to make the evening an enjoyable one for the unfortunate men of that institution.

This evening the second social for all those connected with the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, including wives and families of all the men, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. On account of the classes crowding the gym each evening, the guests will be entertained in the lobby and in the boys' club-rooms until 9:30. After 9:30 the gym will be vacated. The program will be more formal, including several readings, music, both vocal and instrumental, and some selections on the accordion by J. A. Centeno. Miss Nora Osterman, who is employed by the hardware company, will give two vocal solos. Miss Irene Long will read a play in one act will be staged by the young women. After the gym is vacated the guests will engage in various contests, including relays, tug-of-war, and other games. Young men are planning also to put on a swimming contest. Refreshments will be served. Later in February a social will be conducted for the postoffice force and the street railway employees. These socials and programs are a feature of the extension work of the association.

CLEVER FILM AT GRAND.

"Thirteenth Girl" Shows Life in New York Fashion Shop.

While the whole program of the new show at the Grand theater is good, a Vitaphone feature picture entitled, "The Thirteenth Girl," is probably the best thing on the bill. It treats in a realistic way the problem of the poor, yet attractive, girl, who must earn her living in the large city. While there is nothing particularly new in the plot, the details of the picture are well worked out and the production is on a high scale.

There are thirteen beautiful models in the cast and the setting is in a New York fashion shop. The gowns are furnished by the J. M. Gladding store and show the latest fashions in evening wearables for women. How the "thirteenth" girl becomes a victim of the fascinating life of the city and its tragic effects are shown in a clever manner.

The Great Santelli, who juggles with huge iron balls and weights, is the vaudeville headliner. He is a most entertaining entertainer than the average "strong man." He has a quintet of men "from the audience" working with him and a lot of good comedy is pulled. Drew Apple, headliner, is a most entertaining singer who is the best of their kind seen at the Grand in many a week. All of them have good voices, and the repertoire includes many of the latest popular songs. Lowell and Esther Drew appear in a clever skit, the scene of which is laid in a drug store. There is a most brilliant chatter throughout, including Pritzkow and Bianchini do a song and dance act in an acceptable manner. There are two good film comedies on the bill in addition to "The Thirteenth Girl." Today and tomorrow there will

TOO MUCH TRUANCY IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

Truancy has been quite prevalent in some of the country school districts

during the last few weeks, according to reports which have reached the county attorney's office, and he has, in compliance with the law, sent out several letters to parents whose children have not been attending school regularly. The names of the parents and children are furnished by the school authorities in the various districts where the truancy is believed to exist.

Chapter 356 of the Laws of Minnesota, 1911, provides that a person who shall refuse or fail to keep in the child, or children of whom he has legal charge or control, who is required by law to attend school, when notified to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed $50, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS JEWISH RELIEF DAY

Calls Upon Duluthians to Aid Cause of War Sufferers.

Mayor Prince this morning issued a proclamation calling the attention of the people of Duluth to the action taken by President Wilson two weeks ago in setting aside next Thursday as national Jewish relief day.

In his proclamation, the mayor urges the people of the city to contribute as they feel disposed for the aid of the 9,000,000 stricken Jews in war-torn Europe.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "Whereas, the president of the United States has proclaimed Thursday, Jan. 27, as a day for the collection of funds for the relief of the 9,000,000 destitute Jews in the war-stricken countries of Europe, and

"Whereas, this day is being generally proclaimed as Jewish relief day throughout the country, and

"Whereas, I feel confident that the people of the city of Duluth will aid in this worthy cause;

"Now, therefore, W. I. Prince, mayor of the city of Duluth, do hereby proclaim Jan. 27, 1916, as a day upon which the people of this city should make such contribution as they feel disposed for the aid of the stricken Jewish people."

"W. I. PRINCE, Mayor."

CLOQUET PASTORS TO ADDRESS WOODSMEN

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—In response to requests received from lumberjacks Rev. W. E. Williams of the Presbyterian church and Rev. T. E. Roun of the Norwegian Lutheran church will act as "sky pilots" during the remainder of the winter season.

There has been no religious work carried on in the woods since "Sky Pilot" Peterson, who handled the work last winter, resigned, and the ministers will look after the spiritual welfare of the woodsmen from now on.

Rev. W. E. Williams will conduct English services and Rev. Roun will hold Norwegian services, making alternate weekly trips to the camps.

PAIN AND ITS RELIEF

By DR. E. L. ABOGADO

Pain is not a nation of Stoics. We are not indifferent to pain. We abhor it. Be it ever so slight, we fume and fret until we get rid of it, because it annoys us—it interferes with our work and pleasure.

And if pain is severe—the pain of rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, gout or some acute nerve derangement, we are apt to regard it as sufficient excuse for a hurried call at the doctor's office.

In the aggregate, the American people probably suffer more annoying, useless pain than any other people on the face of the earth. Therefore, they have their use in any disease where pain or fever exists, either together or separately.

It is gratifying to note that prominent practitioners everywhere have prescribed anti-kamnia tablets with most satisfactory results in the treatment of all kinds of headache, migraine, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism and gout.

You know full well when you are in pain or when you feel feverish and it doesn't require a physician's advice to tell you so—nor is a prescription needed to take anti-kamnia tablets. They can be obtained in any quantity desired.

You'll find it no longer necessary to take your every ache and pain to a doctor, when you have once learned of the quick relief afforded by anti-kamnia tablets, the pain specialists at the corner drug store.

DOCTOR SAYS PARTNER'S ACTS CAUSED TROUBLE

To the Editor of The Herald:
A few days ago you published a report in your columns that has caused no considerable embarrassment, viz., that a Miss Villa has obtained a verdict of $2,000 against me for malpractice. Now the facts are that when this Miss Villa was brought to the hospital I was in partnership with a Dr. Dalton, who died in December, 1914. The suit was brought before he died. Judge Dunne eliminated him entirely and so the whole fell on me. As it happened he took care of this girl personally, I having nothing to do with it, only the partnership. If you think I have a sick coming let me know in your columns. Very truly,
JAMES FLEMING.

THINKS INJURY WAS DONE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I noticed in the issue of The Herald on the 21st, in the open court proceedings column, that Mrs. Carris Williams stated in court that she was a member of the Salvation Army, and would like to say through your valuable paper that this person is not a member of the Salvation Army, let alone a worker, and I think this statement made by her should have been investigated before publication, as the Army has an officer here who is in a position to know the truth regarding its members. And it is for the benefit of the public that I am making this statement. I think this ought to be corrected, as such falsehoods do not help the organization, but waste a tendency to hurt the same. Thanking you for this space, I am,
J. H. EX-Captain.

BLUE SKY LAW NEEDED FOR REAL ESTATE AGENTS

To the Editor of The Herald:
I will appreciate it if you will allow me to express my opinion in the Open Court of your paper regarding some property around Duluth, which was sold in our vicinity. I am a member of your city advised the public that "now is the time to buy real estate in Duluth," that the present real estate exchange is composed of leading real estate men in Duluth and their statements must be correct—but for the benefit of your real estate exchange and your city I am compelled to state that during the last six years a great many of my countrymen (South Slavs) have been deceived by unscrupulous agents misrepresenting the value and location of different properties around Duluth.

First came some agents from a land company representing to foreigners mostly that their lots are the closest to the new steel plant, which is being built near Duluth. All of them did an excellent business all over Illinois and they collected thousands of dollars from their victims. I am a member of your city advised the public that "now is the time to buy real estate in Duluth," that the present real estate exchange is composed of leading real estate men in Duluth and their statements must be correct—but for the benefit of your real estate exchange and your city I am compelled to state that during the last six years a great many of my countrymen (South Slavs) have been deceived by unscrupulous agents misrepresenting the value and location of different properties around Duluth.

Keeping the Patient Comfortable

A nurse's chief duty is to keep the patient comfortable. This requires attention to many little details which are overlooked too often in the sickroom.

Night lights are usually shaded from the patient's eyes, but it is a frequent experience to find the patient's bed so placed that the light from the window, or from the bedside lamp, is directly upon the patient's face.

Equal parts of lemon juice and glycerin may be used for cleaning up a mouth which is sore from the use of antiseptic solution.

Figures or distinct designs should be avoided in the paper of the bedroom.

THE HAROLD TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, MD.

Keeping the Patient Comfortable

A nurse's chief duty is to keep the patient comfortable. This requires attention to many little details which are overlooked too often in the sickroom.

Night lights are usually shaded from the patient's eyes, but it is a frequent experience to find the patient's bed so placed that the light from the window, or from the bedside lamp, is directly upon the patient's face.

Equal parts of lemon juice and glycerin may be used for cleaning up a mouth which is sore from the use of antiseptic solution.

Figures or distinct designs should be avoided in the paper of the bedroom.

ELECTION IN LIMELIGHT

Results of Decision in Small-wood-Windom Case Discussed.

Will Duluth Elect Three or Five Commissioners in 1917?

What hearing, if any, recent decisions of the state supreme court in the municipal judgeship cases will have in determining whether Duluth voters will cast their ballots for three or five commissioners at the next municipal election in 1917, is beginning to become a subject for speculation, not only among attorneys who are interested in the legal phases that are presented, but also among city officials and prospective office seekers.

Three Offices to Fill.
Under ordinary conditions there is no dispute that at the next general election three city commissioners are to be elected to succeed Mayor W. I. Prince and Commissioners Fred J. Voss and Leonidas Merritt. The only question raised is whether or not the offices now held by Commissioners Bernard Silberstein and James A. Farrell will also be vacant.

The supreme court held the preferential system of balloting, under which city commissioners as well as municipal judges were elected, invalid and unconstitutional, and expressly held that Duluth has, all the time since its charter went into effect, been living its municipal existence under a de facto mayor and, for part of the time, at least, under de facto councilmen.

The court further held that Duluth's municipal government was not overthrown, upset, or destroyed by its decision in the judgeship case. The de facto government was held to be valid and in allaying all fears as to future developments of municipal affairs, the court said:

"The government of the city is not gone. It is still with it. No calamity has befallen the city. The commissioners holding office under the 1913 election are just as truly commissioners as if they had been elected under another system of voting. There is no reason for confusion. There may be litigation, for anyone may commence a lawsuit. But all these grounds suggested in support of the petition for a rehearing are without merit and tend only to suggest a fanciful basis for fruitless litigation."

It is now held that the next municipal election for the offices now held by Commissioners Silberstein and Farrell, who were elected under the preferential system, which has been held by the court to be invalid and unconstitutional. It is also held that an attempt will be made to require city officials to submit a ballot to the people for the election of five commissioners instead of three.

Are De Facto Officers.
The only claim in support of such a position is that Commissioners Silberstein and Farrell are now exercising the duties as de facto officers, and there by sufficiency until a successor is elected. In the latest of the decisions in the municipal judgeship cases, the court expressly held that, in view of the fact that the 1915 election was invalid, then an election as to municipal judges would have to be held in 1917, although the charter provided for a four-year term. There are some who claim that the same rule should apply to the office of city commissioners who were elected under the same system of balloting.

The right to attack the claims of either Commissioner Silberstein or Commissioner Farrell to the office as de facto city councilmen lies only with the attorney general, who might if he saw fit institute quo warranto proceedings against them to require them to show by what warrant or authority they asserted their claims to the office. A private citizen or taxpayer in Duluth has no right under the law to maintain such an action, and the time for defeated candidates to contest the elections has also long since passed.

No Forced Election Expected.
City officials are inclined to put little stock in any attempt to force a vote for five commissioners instead of three. The city charter provides that elections shall be held every two years, and that the terms of officers shall be for four years. If the full commission was elected in 1917, the object of the charter would fail, the intention of its framers being to provide a system whereby three commissioners or a mayor and two commissioners would be elected for four years at one general election, and that two commissioners would be chosen for like terms at the next succeeding general election.

Force Long Term.
Crookston, Minn., Jan. 25.—Judge William W. W. will sentence John Holter, found guilty by a Polk county jury late last night after a trial of knowledge of a young girl under 18 years of age. The sentence, according to law, is not more than seven years.

DON'T COAST ACROSS A STREET CAR LINE

REMEMBER THAT A STREET CAR CAN'T DODGE

Winter brings coasting weather with its pleasures and its dangers. We want to impress upon the children of Duluth, and upon their mothers and fathers as well, the dangers of coasting. Every year brings its toll of accidents, and sometimes fatalities, due to coasting. We want to eliminate that list if it can be done, and that is possible if parents and children will give us their co-operation.

Coasting across street car tracks is inviting a fatal accident. A street car CAN'T DODGE, and when a loaded bob sled comes skimming down an avenue, a motorman has little or no warning, no matter how careful he may be. The sled is under the fender almost before he can think what to do. Often the rails are slippery with frost, or snow, or sleet, adding to the difficulties of the motorman and making it impossible to stop the car within several times its own length.

THINK "SAFETY FIRST"

There is only one rule to follow: "Don't coast across a car line."

There are many hills in Duluth suitable for coasting, where the street cars do not run and where the sport may be enjoyed in safety. We ask the parents of Duluth to see that their children use these hills and only these. It may save you the horror of having a mangled little body brought home to you some afternoon or evening. It may save your child from being a helpless cripple all of his life. You owe it to your child to protect him from this danger. We owe it to the people of Duluth to issue this reminder and to instruct our motormen to use every possible precaution. We have tried to do our part, but there is only one way to prevent coasting accidents and that is to observe this rule, which is also a police regulation:

COLD WAVE HAS ARRIVED

Mercury Drops Rapidly and Due to Go Down More.

Weather Forecaster Richardson is making good on his threat to give Duluth another cold wave. It began coming in during the early hours of the morning, and the temperature dropped 21 deg. between 7 o'clock last night and 10 o'clock this morning.

At 7 last night the mercury was 31 deg. above zero, at 7 o'clock this morning it was 4 deg. above, and at 10 o'clock this morning it was just zero. Mr. Richardson looks for the drop to reach 10 to 20 deg. below zero by tonight, with the wind from the north west, fresh but not up to the extent of a gale. He also looks for considerable snow to fall today and tomorrow, but not to the extent of a snow storm.

"It appears now," said Mr. Richardson this morning, "that the cold will persist tomorrow, although I don't want it to."

This morning the temperatures west and northwest of here are low. In Saskatchewan, reports show them to be 30 deg. below zero, and in Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota they are down to 10 and 20 deg. below.

ling, German forces attacked the French lines over a distance of 1,600 yards. The preparatory work consisted in the explosion of a number of mines followed by a very violent bombardment.

The Germans were driven back to their lines by the French fire, according to the official statement they were successful in occupying some critical positions, however, but from these they were later expelled.

Austrians Occupy Scutari.
Berlin, Jan. 25, wireless to Sayre.—Scutari in Northern Albania has been occupied by Austro-Hungarian troops, according to an announcement by the Austro-Hungarian headquarters. Several thousand Serbians, who formed the karissin, retired toward the south without offering any resistance.

Scutari was occupied by Montenegrin troops in June, 1915, it being explained in an official note issued by the Montenegrin government that strategic and political reasons impelled the Montenegrin descent on Albania. An official reason given was that other powers already had occupied portions of that country.

The powers previously had decided to include Scutari in the kingdom of Albania and King Nicholas had been offered, consequently, the territory on condition that he give up the city. The king, however, declined the offer, and he announced he would hold Scutari against the powers. As a result of his action, the international naval blockade of the Montenegrin coast was extended.

When the Serbian army retreated before their country, the city was occupied by Teutonic forces, some of the Serbian soldiers on crossing the Albanian frontier proceeded to Scutari, where they joined the Montenegrins.

ARMED STEAMERS MAY BE SUNK BY AUSTRIA

It was announced from New York with guns that a communication to follow the arrival of an Austrian ship similarly armed.

Regarded As Warship.
The Austro-Hungarian government probably would inform the United States that any armed submarine vessel by an Austrian submarine would be regarded as a warship, and that, under warning, regardless of who might happen to be aboard, the Giuseppe Verdi was also to be taken as an Italian government had given assurances that the guns would not be used for the purpose of defense.

Baron Zveidnek directed attention to the guns as the Verdi arrived at the port, informing Secretary Lansing that it was presumed the United States would take possession of it. It has been indicated since that the action taken was unsatisfactory from the viewpoint of Austria-Hungary, and that it now is considered there is justification for protesting against clearance of arms from ships from neutral American waters.

The Vienna government is represented as taking the point that guns mounted on merchant ships, cannot, under the present conditions, be properly authorized for defense purposes.

The better here prevails in certain official circles that a communication from the Austro-Hungarian government would result in the United States determining upon definite rules which would be applicable to the changed conditions on the seas, or would result in the keeping of American citizens off ships that are armed.

In regard to Justice Hughes, no one knew what was his attitude toward the presidency. think the candidate will be born in the convention.

Will Cause Confusion.
Chairman Hill called attention to the conflicting provisions of the direct presidential primary laws adopted by the different states and expressed the opinion that it would result in much uncertainty and confusion. There will be 834 delegates in the next Republican national convention and of this number 603 or about 61 per cent will be chosen by direct primary. In 1912 about 25 per cent of the delegates were elected by direct primary.

"There is an urgent need for uniform presidential primaries in all the states in my opinion," said Chairman Hill. "I think a model should be prepared embodying the best features of the various state laws and that the primary should be held in every state on the same date. I think some action on the subject will be taken by the next national convention."

"But there is little or nothing that has been done now to save the confusion that is certain to result. The primary laws must be discussed and those of Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin required to make a first and second choice for president before they are elected, in Illinois and Wisconsin, where there is dissatisfaction over the method of election, California where all the delegates are elected at large while the Republican party of the unit since 1880 and in Texas where our party rule fixes the number of delegates at twenty-four this year, and the state law provides for the election of forty delegates. These are a few of the problems which will be presented to the convention as a result of conflicting primary election laws."

WOULD DIVIDE JURISDICTION

Washington, Jan. 25.—Division of jurisdiction over leasing water power sites in the United States between the Federal government and the states is proposed by the senate public lands committee in a substitute for the Ferris bill recently passed by the house.

The bill directly recognizes the ownership of the land and the right of control in the states of the use of the waters of the flowing streams of the state, reads the committee's report.

The bill provides that 50 per cent of all revenues received from leases shall be paid to the states in which the lands may be located, and that the remaining 50 per cent must be used by the Federal government for reclamation projects in arid states.

British to Investigate.
London, Jan. 25.—The British government has received information from the Austro-Hungarian government that any armed submarine vessel by an Austrian submarine would be regarded as a warship, and that, under warning, regardless of who might happen to be aboard, the Giuseppe Verdi was also to be taken as an Italian government had given assurances that the guns would not be used for the purpose of defense.

In regard to Justice Hughes, no one knew what was his attitude toward the presidency. In discussing the subject with a friend in 1912, Justice Hughes said when he went on the United States supreme court bench he took the veil and renounced the world. He has since changed his mind, but he has not yet decided whether he will or not. There is no man big enough to refuse the presidency, in my opinion. If he were nominated, he would be a great asset to the party. I have no idea what he would do. I believe we have a number of able men in our party for candidates, and I

WOULD COMPEL R. R. TO OPERATE LINE

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Jan. 25.—The case of Robert Abeles, owner of the Atlantic Southern railroad, extending from Atlantic, Iowa, to York, Iowa, a distance of forty-seven miles, against the Iowa state railroad commissioners, to prevent the enforcement of an order to operate the road, is to be heard in the Federal district court here today.

Last September the Iowa railroad commissioners ordered the road to resume train service on the southern portion of the road, where it had been suspended for some time.

Abeles appealed to the Federal court for an order restraining the commissioners from enforcing its order on the ground that there was not business enough to justify operating the road. Besides the line employed an expert, who, after investigation, reported that Abeles' contention was not well founded.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER IS RISING RAPIDLY
Davenport, Iowa, Jan. 25.—The ice in the Mississippi river here started to move last night and the stage was nearly two feet higher there at 7 o'clock last night. It had reached 14.1 at 7 o'clock this morning and was still rising. The approaches to the Milwaukee and Burlington railroad bridges were piled high with ice and several buildings on the levee were damaged. A wagon bridge over the Wapsie river above Princeton was washed out.

WOOD IS INDICTED FOR SEEKING BRIBE
New York, Jan. 25.—An indictment charging solicitation of a bribe was returned by the grand jury today against Robert Colgate Wood, former public service commissioner, who resigned recently after testimony in reference to the alleged bribe had been adduced during the investigation into the public service commission by the Thompson legislative committee.

Mr. Wood is accused of having asked a bribe of $5,000 from the Union Switch and Signal company for his vote as a member of the public service commission approving a contract with that company in connection with subway construction.

NOORDAM CALLS AT ST. JOHNS FOR COAL
St. Johns, N.J., Jan. 25.—The steamship Noordam of the Holland-America line, with its fuel supply exhausted because of delays during stormy weather, arrived here today to replenish her bunkers. A large number of the Ford peace delegates are on board.

The Noordam encountered bad weather off the coast of England shortly after leaving Rotterdam for New York.

Ends Life Before Trial.
St. Louis, Jan. 25.—Edward L. Mackay, who was to have gone to trial yesterday for killing his wife, committed suicide in the city jail yesterday.

Woman of 83 Dies.
Crookston, Minn., Jan. 25.—J. J. Ide arrived this morning with the remains of his mother, Mrs. D. C. Jorgenson, who died at Harris, Minn., Saturday. The deceased was 82 years of age and was grandmother of Mrs. J. R. Walters, and great grandmother of Mrs. W. A. Lyons, both of this city. Mrs. Jorgenson outlived two of her three children, Mrs. Fred Davis dying in Washington, and Mrs. T. B. McMahon passing away at Stephen a year ago. J. J. Ide, the only child living, is 72 years of age.

Christianity Not Failure.
Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 25.—The present war in Europe is no demonstration that Christianity is a failure, because, as a matter of fact nations of the world have been worshipping false gods and have not yet given Christianity a trial, according to Rev. H. H. Burleson, editorial secretary of the Episcopal board of missions, who spoke Monday at the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement here.

Enough of the powdered talc and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delicate in an original package. Advertisement.

ARE YOU TRYING TO TURN OUT A BETTER PRODUCT AT A LOWER PRICE?

Do you realize the fact that 35% to 50% of your power is often wasted in turning useless line shafting. This is money wasted and increased cost of production. Electric motors do away with all this counter shafting. They only consume power while they are running—you get what you pay for.

Let us make an estimate.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Railroads in this state continue the fight against the law taxing leased sites, recently upheld by the state supreme court, and if their application for rehearing is denied, the former decision, an appeal will be made to the United States supreme court.

The railroads are making a special fight against the contention of the state railroad commission that the state has the right to attempt the collection of taxes for the six-year period during which escaped taxes may be collected. The railroads contend that hereafter the leased sites have been taxed as a portion of the right-of-way of the railroad, and that the attempt to now separate the leased sites and go back six years in the collection of taxes constitutes double taxation.

That is the plea on which the railroads will make to the United States supreme court.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR TRYING HARD TO SETTLE THE LUSITANIA MATTER

Again in Consultation With Secretary of State Lansing.

Result of Negotiations Not Divulged By Either Party.

Last Proposal From Germany Not Entirely Satisfactory.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had another conference today with Secretary Lansing over the Lusitania negotiations, the result of which was not divulged.

The ambassador before leaving the state department spent some time in dictating to a stenographer a document which he took with him to the German embassy.

It was made known in official quarters before the conference that the last German proposals were unsatisfactory and that the United States was pressing for a full disavowal of the sinking of the liner with the loss of 116 American lives.

Secretary Lansing with the approval of President Wilson is said to have so informed Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, during a conference late yesterday at the state department.

In many particulars the suggested form of agreement, designed to conclude the controversy which was submitted through the ambassador is acceptable. It was stated by excellent authority, however, that the United States insists upon holding the German government to a "strict accountability" for the loss of more than 100 American lives and desires that the Berlin government admit, in effect, that it is liable, according to law, for the lives of the neutrals lost in the commission of an act against a vessel of the enemy.

Both Secretary Lansing and Count von Bernstorff have agreed that the subject of their conversation should be held confidential. It was explained that these negotiations, necessarily of an informal character, were not in the least binding.

It was indicated that while Teutonic diplomats were disappearing pointed at the refusal of the United States to accept the proposal, a feeling of optimism regarding the outcome still prevailed.

Germany from the beginning of its submarine operations in the North sea, has refused to accede to the American viewpoint that new measures are liable for the lives of neutrals lost, as were those aboard the Lusitania.

OUTLINES OF SHIPPING BILL

Made Public at White House in Conference With Party Leaders.

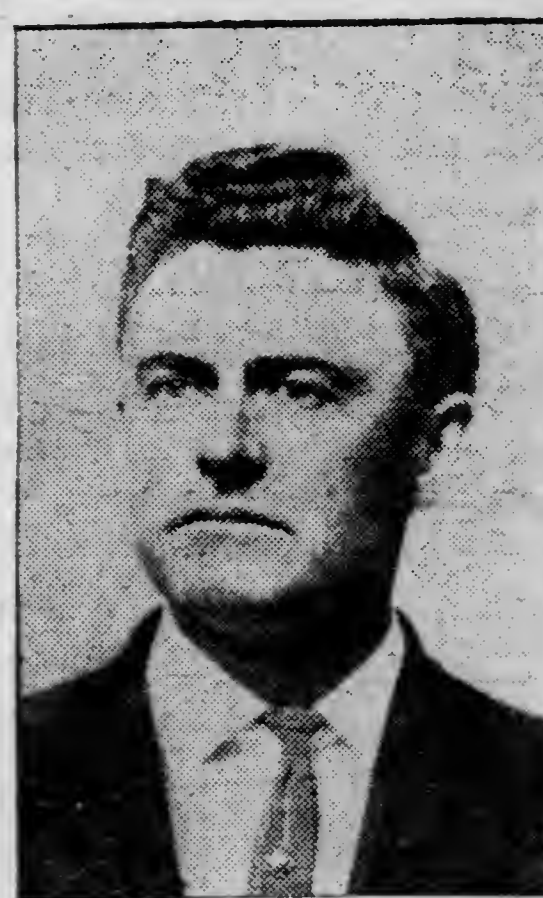

President Confers With Them Regarding Administration's Measures.

Washington, Jan. 26.—President Wilson summoned to the White House today the leaders of the senate and house to learn their attitude toward the shipping bill, a tariff commission, and the Philippine bill. He indicated to them that, in addition to the preparedness program and revenue bills, these three measures would be the principal ones backed by the administration.

As a result of conferences today, details of the shipping bill which will be introduced by the administration, became known for the first time. It does not include the feature of the old bill providing for continued operation of ships by the government. Instead it provides that the government shall purchase or build ships, and then lease them to corporations or private individuals. Only in case no one offers to lease or buy the ships does the bill allow the government to operate them.

The government could buy back the ships at a reasonable price for naval auxiliaries in time of war. The bill is one of $30,000,000 for the purchase or construction of ships would be provided by the bill, which also includes a shipping board to control shipping rates.

London, Jan. 26.—A Lloyd report says that the steamship Norsman, which was reported yesterday to have been sunk, has been beached, and that no lives were lost.

The Norsman, of 10,750 tons, is owned by the Dominion company and, according to the agents of the International Mercantile Marine company, has been under charter to the British admiralty since Dec. 6 last.

COMMONS TO DECIDE QUESTION OF BLOCKADE OF GERMAN SUPPLIES

Experts on Law of Maritime War Gather to Be Heard.

Demand General for Greater Stringency on Contraband Goods.

Sir Edward Grey Expected to Define Policy of Government.

London, Jan. 26.—Experts and self-styled experts on the economics of war, and the law of maritime war on commerce mobilized in the house of commons this afternoon for the eagerly awaited debate on the measures to be taken for a blockade against Germany.

Critics of the government's policy and the defenders thereof were equally insistent on the necessity of enforcing "a blockade as effective as possible," but they joined issue on the best method of enforcing this, a keen desire being shown in some quarters to make the interference with neutral commerce as light as possible.

The demand was general, however, for a greater stringency in the prevention of foodstuffs and other contraband goods from passing by neutral countries into Germany.

Want Full Particulars. The debate hinged on a motion introduced with the object of obtaining from the government a full statement of the facts and giving an opportunity to deal with most of the aspects of the recent complaints against the foreign office. The motion follows: "That this house, having noted the volume of imports from neutral countries bordering on enemy territory of goods essential to the enemy for the prosecution of the war, urges the government to take steps to prevent such imports."

HOUSE OF BELGIAN MINISTER SEARCHED

Germans Looking for Documents of an International Character.

Paris, Jan. 26.—Emile Vandervelde, a member of the Belgian government, received news today that his house at Ixelles, one of the suburbs of Brussels, has been searched by the German military authorities, says a dispatch from Havre to the Petit Journal.

It is supposed, the dispatch says, that the Germans were looking for documents of an international character, but they found nothing.

Emile Vandervelde, who is a minister without portfolio in the Belgian cabinet, is president of the international socialist bureau.

Socialist Secretary Arrested. Havre, Jan. 26.—The Belgian newspaper Metropole, announces that Camille Humsman, secretary of the international socialist bureau, was arrested at the frontier on the way back from Brussels. It adds that the search of Mr. Vandervelde's house at Ixelles is supposed to have been in connection with the arrest.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 26.—The state rested today in the trial of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, and two negroes, Cecil Brown and Henry Spellman, charged with the murder of the woman's husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, on Aug. 31 last. By the testimony of more than fifty witnesses, including George W. Healis, Dr. Mohr's chauffeur, who turned state's evidence, the prosecution had attempted to prove that the negroes shot the physician at the instigation of Mrs. Mohr.

Capt. George H. Monahan of the Providence police, testified today that he arrested Brown and that Chief O'Neal told the prisoners he did not have to talk. Brown told the chief, (Continued on page 3, fourth column.)

AUSTRIA ASKS UNITED STATES ITS INTENTION

Wants to Know What It Is Going to Do About Guns on Ships.

Baron Zwiedinek Presents Matter of Verona to State Department.

May Declare Vessel Sailing With Arms Will Be Declared Hostile.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Baron Erich Zwiedinek, charge of the Austro-Hungarian embassy, today asked the state department what the United States intended to do in the case of the Italian steamship Verona, which arrived in New York several days ago with two guns mounted in her stern.

The inquiry was the same as that made by Baron Zwiedinek in the case of the Italian steamer Giuseppe Verdi, which reached New York with two guns mounted aft. The Verdi was allowed to sail on her return trip. Indications are that the Austrian government may enter a protest and notify the American government that any merchant vessels permitted to sail with guns aboard, even if intended for defense only, will be considered hostile craft, subject to being sunk without warning.

PRESIDENT TO MAKE PLATFORM SPEECHES

Washington, Jan. 26.—President Wilson decided today to make brief platform speeches at Waukegan, Ill.; Keokuk, Iowa; Des Moines, Iowa; Lawrence, Kas.; Racine, Wis.; and East St. Louis during his Middle Western trip. He has been invited to speak at many other towns along his route, but acceptance depends upon train schedules. The president worked for a short time today on the addresses he will deliver. He made a note embodying seven demands which were included in the Japanese program of last spring. The Manchester Guardian learns from Far Eastern sources.

TO DEFEND ITS ACTION

Great Britain Sends U. S. Ad-Interim Note on Mail Seizures.

Formal Reply Later to Justify Its Detention of Post.

London, Jan. 26.—The foreign office handed to the American embassy today an ad-interim reply to the American protest against detention of mails. The note states that a formal answer to the representations of the United States will be made as soon as the French government has signified its approval of the attitude of Great Britain.

It is understood the formal reply will defend the action of the British authorities by citing evidence that Germans have been abusing the privileges of first class mails. The British government will rely upon postal conventions adopted at The Hague for justification of its measures.

The United States protested to Great Britain last month against interference with mails between this country and Sweden. Large quantities of mail matter, particularly parcels, have been (Continued on page 3, fourth column.)

REGULAR TICKET WINS IN LOUISIANA

Straight Party Nominees in State-Wide Primary Are Successful.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 26.—Incomplete returns early today indicated that the entire regular Democratic ticket had been successful at yesterday's state-wide Democratic primary election. Ruffin G. Pleasant of Shreveport, present attorney general, heading the regular ticket for the gubernatorial nomination, is estimated to be leading Thomas C. Barrett, also of Shreveport, present lieutenant governor, by between 25,000 and 40,000 votes.

The prohibition question was one of the leading issues in the campaign for governor. Pleasant advocating retention of the present local option law, and Barrett favoring a constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The position of the British government on two matters of prime importance in the conduct of the war is to be determined as a result of proceedings under way today in London, toward compulsory military service will be decided at a great conference meeting today in Bristol. The debate on the question of a blockade of Germany is before the house of commons.

The British conference is the most important of this kind ever held in England, representing more than 2,000,000 men and women. The compulsory military service bill having passed the house of commons and encountered little opposition in the house of lords, the outcome of the long campaign on this issue will depend largely on the attitude of organized labor.

Although great opposition to compulsory military service has been expressed at the London labor conference, it is believed this feeling has died down to a considerable extent since that time.

ATTEMPTING TO BREAK THE FRENCH LINES

Activity of German Forces Expected to Reach Climax on Thursday.

Counter-Attacks By French East of Neuville Repulsed.

Serious Hand-to-Hand Fighting Occurs in the Trenches.

London, Jan. 26.—The morning papers emphasize the renewal of heavy fighting on the western front. They believe that there was a serious German attempt to break through the French lines close to the Flanders coast on Monday and predict that German activity in the west will probably reach its height on Thursday, when the German emperor celebrates his 57th birthday.

German Statement. Berlin, Jan. 26, via London, 3:15 p. m.—A great number of counter-attacks were made by the French yesterday to recapture the trenches taken by the Germans east of Neuville, but they were repulsed each time after hand-to-hand fighting, says the statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff.

The text of the statement follows: Western theater: "The French attempted in a great number of counter-attacks to recapture the trenches we took east of Neuville. They were repulsed on each occasion after hand-to-hand fighting. "French mine operations in the Argonne destroyed our trenches over a short distance near Hill 285, northeast of La Chalade. We occupied the crater they made after having frustrated the attack of the enemy.

"Naval aeroplanes attacked the military establishments of the enemy near La Panne. Our army aeroplanes attacked the railway establishments of the enemy, southwest of Dixmude and of Bethune.

"Regarding the other theaters of war, there is nothing to report."

FOUGHT BRAVELY TO SAVE SCUTARI

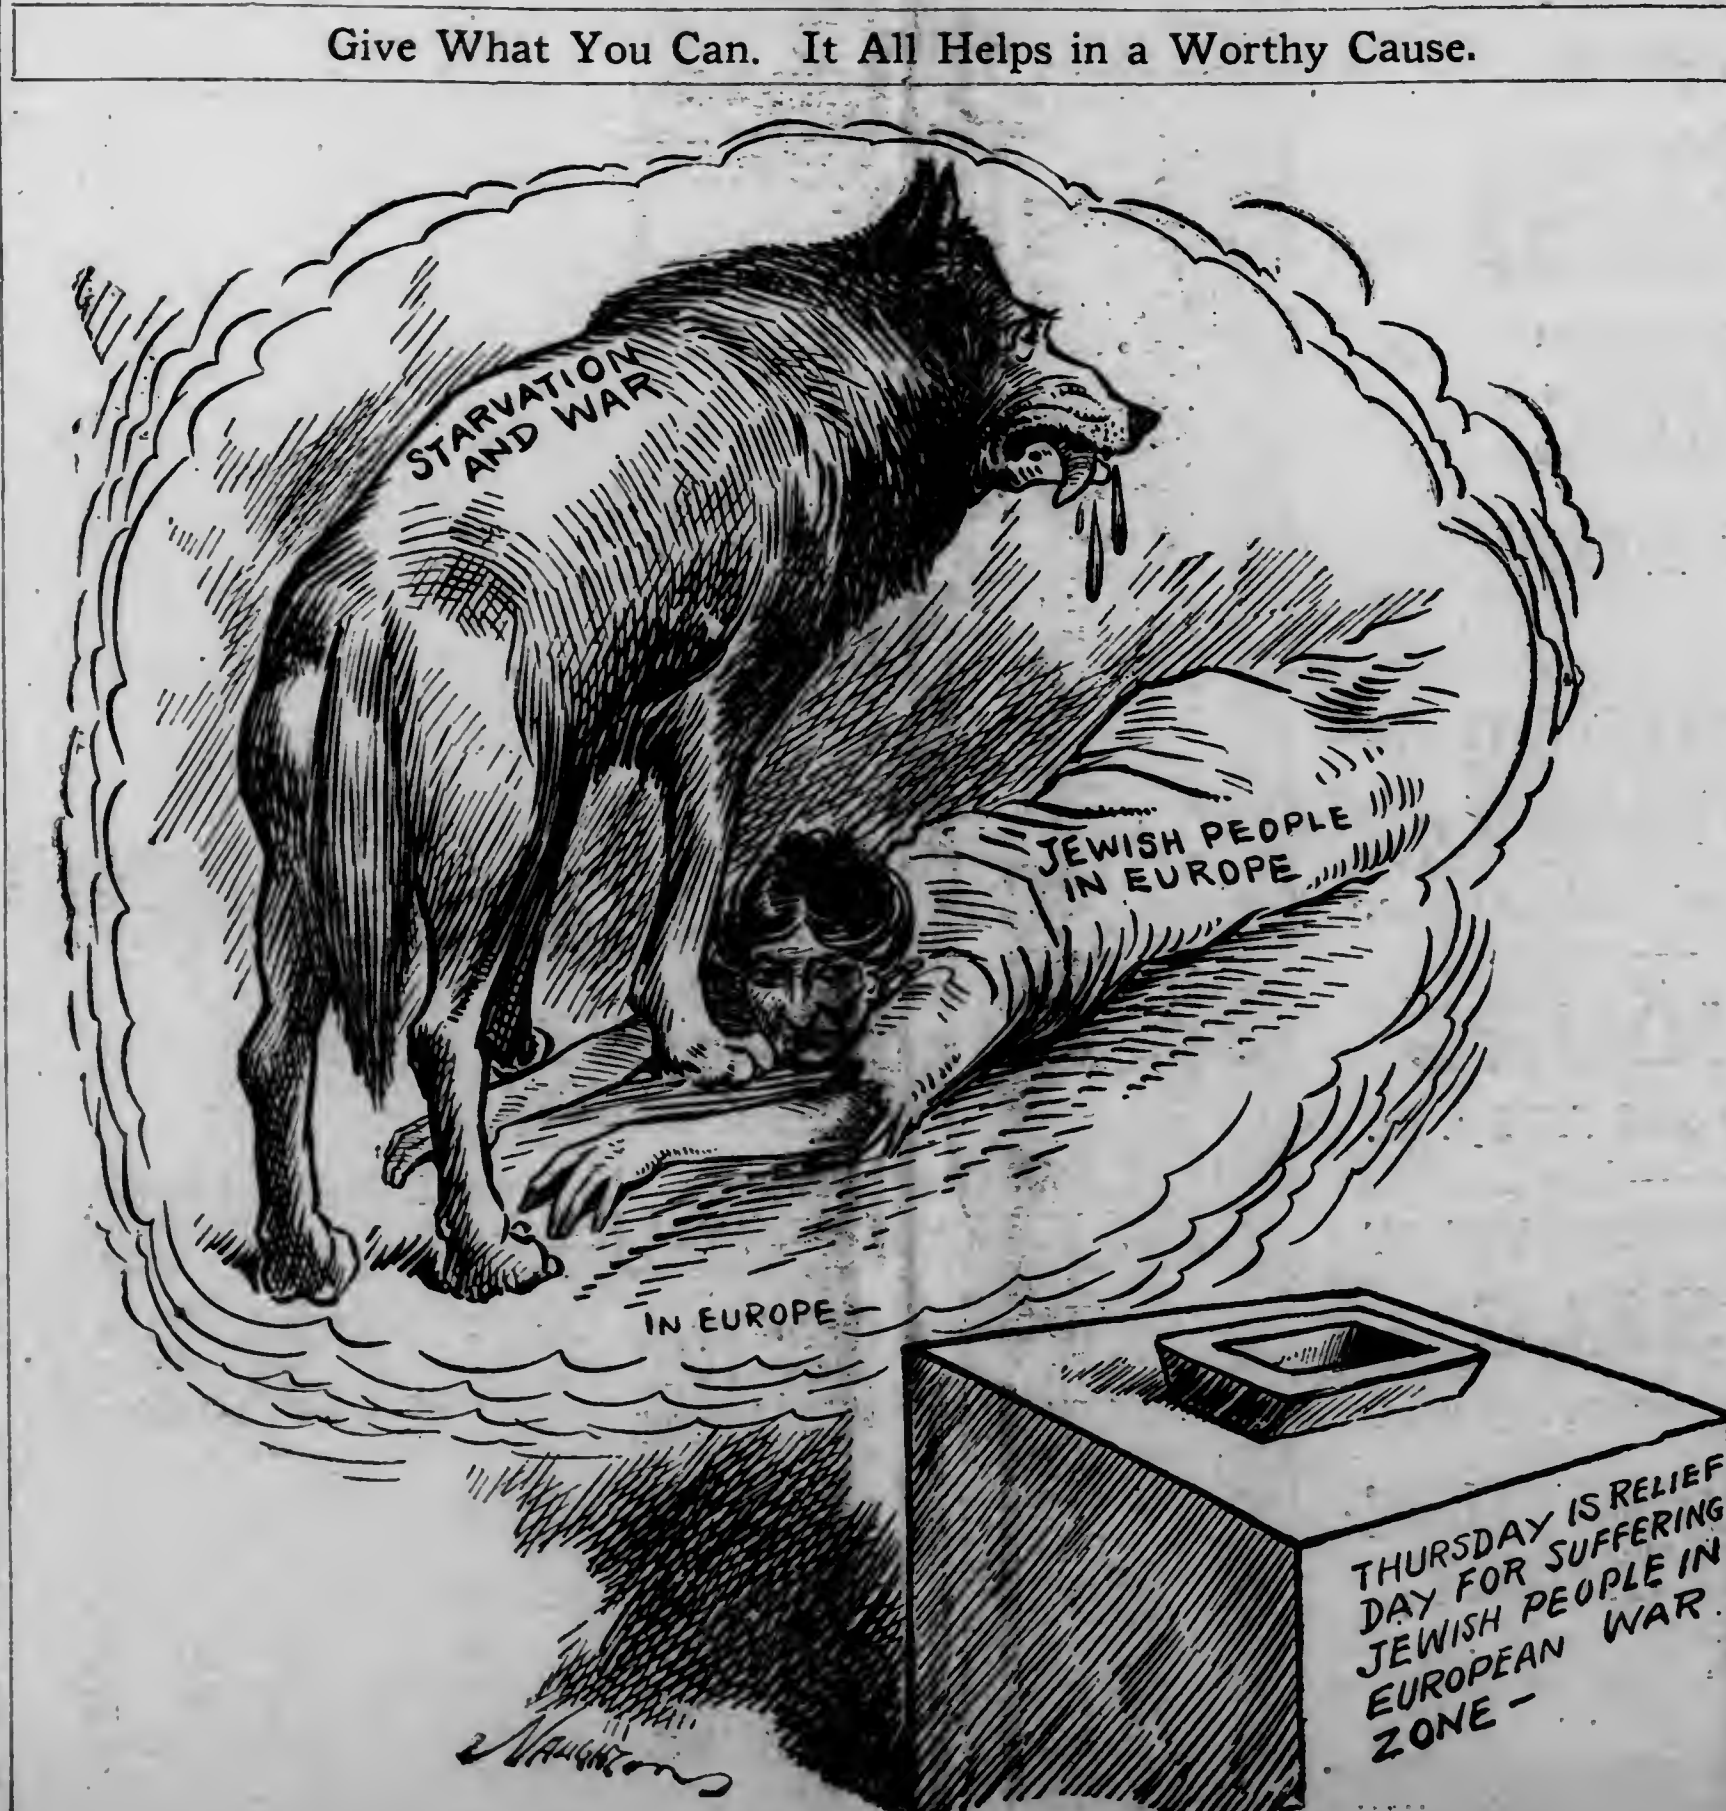

Strong Austrian Forces Forced Montenegrins to Finally Retreat.

Rome, Jan. 26, via Paris.—A dispatch from San Giovanni di Medua to the idea Nazionale says that the Montenegrins made a determined stand on Mount Tarabosh in an effort to save the city of Scutari, but that the approach of a strong Austrian column forced the garrison to evacuate the place and the detachment on the mountain to retreat. The women, it is stated, conducted themselves as heroically as the men, carrying their babies during the retreat everything that was necessary to continue the struggle.

Although the fall of Scutari was discounted by the Italian public, the audience with which it was brought about has caused much surprise. Keen interest is manifested in political circles regarding the entire Albanian question. Baron Sonnino, Italian foreign minister, had a long audience this morning with the king, and it is understood at the meeting of the Italian cabinet, certain features of the Albanian question will be discussed, although it is not expected that definite decisions of importance will be arrived at, as the question is an international one, and must be settled by agreement of the allies.

Military experts affirm that no immediate anxiety is felt for Durazzo, which was understood to be satisfactorily defended by Essad Pasha, nor for Avlona, which is believed to be safe from a sudden blow.

The Austrian drive down the eastern coast of the Adriatic, having passed beyond the Montenegrin border, is now said to have resulted in the occupation of an Albanian seaport, San Giovanni di Medua. Rome advises indicate that the Italian government is concerned at the extension of Austrian influence southward along the Adriatic, but there are no indications that further measures to oppose the Teutonic forces are under way. It is said no alarm is felt in Rome for Avlona, which has been occupied by Italian troops, or for Durazzo, in the hands of Essad Pasha, provisional president of Albania, who has sent his lot with the Entente allies.

WAGES BACK TO OLD LEVEL

Loggers Unable to Secure Workers at $35 a Month and Up.

Fine Weather and Activity of Sawmills Are the Causes.

Wages for common labor in the pineries have now reached the high water mark of three and four years ago. Logging companies are now paying $35 a month and more for men who will work a month, and $25 is the lowest being paid. Men are hard to get at top wages, and all logging companies are said to be short of men and in the market for more.

This statement was made by Manager Burke of the Minnesota State Free Employment bureau. According to Mr. Burke, conditions for laboring men are now the best in two years. "I hired a number of men yesterday for the woods," he said today, "but when the time came for them to take the train today, only half of them appeared. There is such a keen demand for men that laborers will not take anything except the highest wages, and other employers are apt to get men away unless they are cinched."

According to Mr. Burke the weather has been ideal for loggers and the sawmills are busy, making a brisk demand for logs. This winter promises to be the best in several years for both the logging companies and the woodmen. Snow came early this winter and snowfalls have come at short intervals ever since. The roads in the woods have been excellent, and the cold weather has kept the timber in good condition for cutting. Work at the camps is being rushed and there are fully twice as many camps in the woods now as there were a year ago.

NEW AGREEMENT SENT TO BERLIN

Washington, Jan. 26.—The Lusitania agreement was redrafted today by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Secretary Lansing, to represent the views of the United States, and was forwarded to Berlin. Word of whether the German government will accept it in its present tentative form is expected in about a week. If, as is intimated today, the new draft is fully acceptable to the United States, there is reason for believing it will be acceptable to Germany, because Count von Bernstorff is known to be acting under wide latitude conferred by his government for the negotiations.

FINDS BODY OF HIS WIFE

Mrs. John McGrath Dies as the Result of a Fall.

When John McGrath, 819 East Second street, started downstairs to fix the furnace this morning, he found the body of his wife at the foot of the short flight of steps.

She had stumbled and fallen during the course of her early morning work about the house, and was unconscious. Physicians who were called were unable to restore Mrs. McGrath to consciousness and she died less than two hours later. Concession of the brain, with skull fracture, was given as the cause of death.

"We are all completely mystified as to the way in which the accident could have happened," Mr. McGrath said today. "Mrs. McGrath was well and could not have been taken ill suddenly. We don't know whether she fell backwards, or merely stumbled forward and was unable to retain her balance."

Mrs. McGrath was 27 years old. In addition to her husband, there is an infant son, aged 19 months. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

SIX LIVES LOST IN SEATTLE FIRE

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 26.—Six persons lost their lives here today in a fire which destroyed the interior of the five-story Talbot-Walker building at Jackson street and First avenue south.

A large quantity of hemp salvaged from an incendiary fire last fall on a steamship pier, stacked with war munitions, was being dried in the building. Officials said there was no trace of incendiarianism, and that the building was considered a heavy risk because of the hemp drying.

Three of the six dead lost their lives leaping from fourth story windows. Three others were killed when they were men, several others who jumped from windows were caught in blankets.

LAGRIFFE, COUGHS, BRONCHITIS.

Dr. John M. Mayhew describes influenza or La Grippe as a contagious disease. The symptoms of which are some times so obscure that a "multitude of sins" are hid under the diagnosis. It often comes on with a marked chill, or possibly by several hours of chilly sensations accompanied by a distressing cough and sweating, with pains in all parts of the body. Unless checked the disease develops into pneumonia. First of all the bowels must be kept open. The patient should be put to bed or compelled to take absolute rest in an easy chair, the diet should be light, but should consist of nourishing food and one anti-kamnia tablet should be taken every two or three hours. This treatment will usually break up the disease in a remarkably short time. In bronchitis, coughs, coryza and all grippal conditions, anti-kamnia tablets will always be found of great service. Anti-kamnia tablets may be obtained at all druggists in any quantity. Ask for Kamnia Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pain.

COMMONS TO DECIDE QUESTION OF BLOCKADE

ment to enforce as effective a blockade as possible, without interfering with the normal requirements of these neutral countries for internal consumption.

The debate in the house of commons is attracting widespread attention, being expected to bring to culmination the bitter controversy which has been going on in the press relative to the strengthening of the measures taken to restrict Germany's foreign trade.

Grey to Make Statement.
Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, is expected to submit a statement, but thus far it has not been indicated whether the government purposes to continue to act under the present order in council or to substitute an effective blockade.

Some indication of the government's probable attitude, however, is given by the official figures issued last night to the press, which show that the number of ships in the British fleet is reaching a record.

E. B. Lewis, recent arrival, is victim of Apoplexy.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. B. Lewis, a leather trader, was found dead in the lavatory of a local hotel, where it is believed he went at a late hour in the night, and, after locking the door, was stricken with apoplexy. Indications are that death was almost instantaneous.

Lewis was about 50 years of age and

CONTRIBUTE TO AID WAR SUFFERERS

All Nationalities Are Asked to Help Stricken Poles.

Six dollars more was received by The Herald today for the relief of Polish war sufferers. This makes a total of $377.

While the sufferings of Poland are said to be greater than those of any other nation, the number of Poles in America is declared small compared to the numbers of some other races. For that reason the Poles in America are facing a difficult problem in attempting to meet the demands of their stricken countrymen across the water.

The race is without a government of its own and must depend upon the individual efforts of Poles in America to make the appeal. The Polish colony in Duluth is small, and so the appeal is made to all nationalities to give aid.

The fund now stands as follows:

COLD WAVE TO FOLLOW SNOW

Heavy Fall May Cause Train Delays—Gale Is Local.

Extreme Cold to Westward Awaiting Shift of Wind.

The northeast gale which brought the prevailing snow storm may have been a blessing in disguise; that is a matter of preference. If the northeast had not set in, a cold wave—predicted yesterday—would have come in from the west and the temperature would have dropped into the deep trenches of the sub-zero territory. But the northeaster brought temperate weather—comparatively speaking—and snow.

Duluth is not free from the probability of the cold wave yet. Weather Forecaster Richardson said this morning that there is every appearance that the cold wave being merely deferred and that tonight or early tomorrow morning it will make its entrance to the Head of the Lakes. This morning the temperatures west of here are 20 to 30 deg. below zero, and it is being held off from this region only by the easterly wind.

The snow storm is widespread over the Central Northern states, but the gale is confined to this district. The snow will continue today, tonight and tomorrow, and a heavy fall is expected. Mr. Richardson said that he expects it to be heavy enough so that, combined with the wind conditions, it will delay trains and even may block traffic.

The wind is expected to shift from northeast to northwest tonight, and in that case the cold that is waiting in the west will make its big leap and land on Duluth with ghastly glee, the temperature taking a pronounced tumble. The lowest temperature recorded in the last 24 hours was 4 deg. below zero last night. This morning it was 10 deg. above.

SHERIFF'S SLAYER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Feeling Is Running High in Barron County Over Assassination.

Barron, Wis., Jan. 25.—Sheriff Matt Olson, alleged slayer of Matt Olson and who barricaded himself and family in his home declaring that he would kill anyone attempting to arrest him, late Tuesday surrendered when apprised over a telephone that to offer resistance to an armed posse would probably result in the killing of himself and wife.

Baranek today admitted the shooting, but claimed that he did not intend to kill the officer.

Talk of mob violence, which was threatened against Baranek, subsided today.

Baranek was accused of the theft of a Colt. Sheriff Olson with Deputy Steve Hulbert attempted to enter Baranek's home to search for the Colt. Baranek opened fire with a rifle from his house and Olson fell with a bullet through his heart. Hulbert escaped.

DISCIPLINE IN THE FORCE

Military Drill Not Only Requirement of Police Officers.

Erect Carriage and Carefully Pressed Uniforms Will Be Required.

Discipline on the police force is not going to end with the military drill which patrolmen will receive from now on.

After a bulletin had been posted yesterday in which policemen on all but the day watches were ordered to report at headquarters for military drill once a week, Chief R. D. McKercher decided to carry it one step farther.

"Men have not been observing the standing rule about wearing complete uniforms while on duty, and while going to and from work," said Capt. A. G. Frasset.

In the future there may be demerits for men who wear part of their uniform and fill out with civilian dress," the captain said. "Not long ago the chief issued a bulletin reminding men of the requirements, but some of them are careless in their observance of the rule."

A disciplinarian who had a diploma from Kaiser Wilhelm or Lord Kitchener would be welcome at headquarters, police officers said today.

Detective E. H. Barber, a member of the Minnesota National Guard in private life, has been nominated for the position of drillmaster, but Capt. Frasset is looking further, he says, for a man who has had a great deal of military experience, and who would be able to make the "bookies" toe the mark.

Further bulletins, emphasizing the need of carefully pressed uniforms, erect carriage and stately stride, will be issued from time to time, the captain says.

We ought to make a rule that every patrolman should visit a tailor once a week, and stand in a barrel, if necessary, while his trousers were being pressed," he added.

Goods in Mail Bags.
London, Jan. 25.—The British foreign office today published a list of goods in postal mail bags of the Central powers taken from the Dutch steamships Frisia, Ljuban, and Ljuban, in the north bound, and the Ryndam.

The mail bags taken from the Frisia contained gold chains, gold earrings, bracelets, rings and brooches and drugs, dials, ointments and medicine.

The Ljuban's mail bags are said to have contained a lot of rubber in packets marked "samples," without value, of a total weight of 73½ pounds. The mail bags from the Ryndam contained a total weight of 11½ pounds of wool from Uruguay to Berlin of same value.

Examination of the Ryndam's mail bags has not yet been completed, but the mails are alleged to have contained 60 per cent newspapers, 10 per cent propaganda and 10 per cent goods, "all of enemy origin," and addressed in most cases to the United States.

"The above particulars," it was said in a note to Hamburg from Berlin, "to which the postal mails are being used by the enemy as a means of evasion of restriction of trade taken by Great Britain."

ANN WALSH'S CLAIM FIRST OF ITS KIND

Deported Woman Now Declares She Was Born in United States.

The case of Ann Walsh, alias Anna Vaughan, Verin Dale is the first person deported from Duluth who has set up claims to American citizenship after having been sent across the water according to Brown McDonald, local immigration officer.

Officer McDonald, having been jailed in Liverpool, and not liking the work and food at the prison, has sued upon this scheme as the best to get her passage back to America.

The woman was arrested several times and fined in Superior, and admitted being at two houses of prostitution in that city. She was also arrested in Duluth and in New York. When taken last summer, she said she was born in England, and never even hinted here that she was an American subject.

Officer McDonald believes that she has secured the birth and baptismal certificate of another person, who really was Ann Walsh.

Officer McDonald was informed of her claims to citizenship yesterday when the clerk of the district court and the clerk of the municipal court received letters from Governor Burnquist, together with copies of a letter from Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador at Washington, and the birth certificate of Ann Walsh.

The government requested an investigation of the conditions surrounding the case.

Officer McDonald forwarded a letter to the clerk of the municipal court today, in which he gave a detailed account of the case, with permission to forward the letter to the governor of Minnesota.

COPPER AT ACUTE STAGE

Current Year Production Will Soon Be Half Sold Up.

Market Firm and Increased Dividends Are Fore-shadowed.

Acute stringency is reported in the copper market situation. The market is firm on a basis of 24½¢ to 25¢ a pound. It is estimated that within a few weeks copper producers will have sold one-half of their entire 1916 output, a situation without precedent. Domestic buyers of copper metal are reported to be in the market in force. Practically every delivery is acceptable, and quotations are being accepted without demur.

France is buying copper heavily in this country, and it is said that American producers are getting 25¢ a pound, New York, on the business, even for forward deliveries. Manufacturers in this country are thought to have by no means covered their copper requirements, and concerns that have been late in contracting are now on the anxious seat.

New Sales Record.
Sales of metal during the last thirty days are reported to have been the largest in the history of the trade, and with an enormous production virtually assured for some time ahead, unexampled prosperity is predicted for the copper producing districts during the whole of the present year at least.

Increased dividend payments by several of the companies are foreshadowed with the prospect of a rise in that list is included Anaconda, North Butte, Shattuck, Copper Range and Granby Mining companies. The strength of the mining stock markets is thus accounted for.

LABOR ATTITUDE TOWARD THE WAR

Representatives of British Trades Unions Meet to Discuss Matter.

Bristol, England, Jan. 25.—The representatives of more than 2,000,000 members of trades unions met here today to decide the attitude of organized labor toward the war and in particular, compulsory military service.

Early in the proceedings, an attack on the compulsory service bill now before the house of lords, was made by the president of the conference, William Anderson, member of parliament for the Attercliffe division of Sheffield.

Mr. Anderson, who has opposed the bill in parliament, declared that it did not redeem the pledge of Premier Asquith regarding conscription.

The first resolution was moved by James Sexton on behalf of the National Union of Dock Workers. The resolution expressed the "horror of the conference at the atrocities committed by Germany and her allies," and pledges the conference to assist the government as far as possible to prosecute the war successfully.

Mr. Sexton's motion was adopted by a card vote of 1,602,000 against 602,000.

London, Jan. 25.—An agreement in principle is said to have been reached between Great Britain and Greece in regard to the supply of coal for Greek industrial needs.

Reuter's Athens correspondent says the British government has agreed to authorize exportation of coal for the use of railway and other companies in Greece, in accordance with their needs, and also to meet the requirements of the Greek navy.

Great Britain also agrees to place no difficulties in the way of exportation of coal from America to Greece.

In the Woman's Home Companion Secretary of Labor Wilson tells how the new Federal employment bureau is helping Germans:

"Eleven hundred and seventy-four Germans applied to the New York distribution branch for agricultural work, of whom 630 were directed to definite employment on farms. These workers are distributed to twenty-three different states at an average monthly wage of $22.23, in addition to board and lodging. In other words, through this single avenue of publicity and for but one nationality, 630 persons, men and women, were placed to work for which they receive, in the aggregate, a monthly compensation of $14,634.90, to say nothing of food and quarters."

TOOTHLESS ANGORA CAT ROUTS BULL DOGS RARE FELINES ENTERED FOR DULUTH SHOW

SAYS MRS. ATWOOD

Cats have just as interesting histories as lots of prize fighters and baseball players, according to Mrs. Atwood, manager of the Cat Fanciers' show, which will be held at the old armory Friday and Saturday of this week in conjunction with the Duluth poultry show.

As an example, Mrs. Atwood cites the case of Old Bouser, a toothless veteran, 12 years old, who has "cleaned up" every bulldog on Fourth street, and is still in trim to "make for fly" whenever a dog can muster up courage enough to engage in battle. Only recently Bouser took up his abode at the Abbott drug store, First avenue north and Fourth street. Up to that time Bouser resided in the country, living in a rabbit hole. His owner, Mrs. Atwood, being pure white with short hair and blue eyes. Blue eyes and short hair are very rare in cats because of this combination he has been entered at the cat show as a rare specimen.

A Cat Athlete.
Another cat with an interesting biography is "Connie Mack," well known for his athletic qualities. Mack is a beautiful orange Angora cat, who will be shown by Mrs. F. T. Wahlsten.

Prince Rupert and Lady are two other Angoras that will be shown by Mrs. M. H. Briggs of Proctor. They are unusual types of short hairs and blue eyes. The immediate family of these two cats were brought from British Columbia many years ago.

Buddy is a clever cat belonging to the Shogren family and will be on display at the show.

Pazuka is a beautiful orange cat belonging to Mrs. C. A. McFadden. The name is Indian and according to Indian interpretation implies that the bearer moves in a sly manner.

Will will be shown by Lella M. Budd. Will will be a black short-hair to be shown by Miss Mabel Wing. Kim is a remarkably intelligent "talking" cat with musical tendencies. When his mistress says "give us a little music, Kim," the cat jumps up on the piano, runs over the keys and waits for applause.

Mrs. Atwood is receiving many telephone calls every day regarding entries, and it is believed that the number of cats at the show will exceed all expectations.

Snow Ball, one of the prettiest white kittens in Duluth, will be given away to the show to anybody who will make him a good home. Snow Ball wants to be adopted. Until recently he was a stray in Duluth, but now he has been placed in the hands of a good home. The baby's mother no longer has time to keep the kitten's coat snowy white and so she has decided to give it away. The kitten will be on exhibition at the show with a huge bow of ribbon around his neck.

KANSAN BIDS FOR GLORYWould Be Progressive Candidate for President; Asks Minnesota Support.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. E. Funk of Meade, Kan., who styles himself "President of the most advanced type," would appreciate it if followers of the faith in Kansas would circulate the necessary petition and secure him a place on the ballot for president.

Mr. Funk today wrote Secretary of State Schmahel regarding his desire, and placed his case in the hands of the Kansas state-wide primary law, and that he was a colonel in Coxey's army.

THREE FEET OF SNOW IN NORTH COUNTRY

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three feet of snow covers the entire north country, according to Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, who returned today from Elly, where he went to investigate game conditions.

Two game wardens who made a 100-mile snowshoe trip through the country, he says, informed him that the covering of white was general.

Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr. Avery says that few deer are being killed by wolves. This is because the snow is soft and the wolves cannot pursue the deer. Mr. Avery found a general demand in the north woods for an increase in the state bounty on timber wolves. The opinion was that the bounty should be $25 per scalp. The timber wolves slaughter the deer by the hundred and give the farmers much trouble in the loss of young stock and poultry.

BLISTER RUST SAID TO BE WORKING WEST

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Forester Cox is interested in a report from the East that a disease known as blister rust has attacked the white pine forests, and is doing much damage. What he regards as of more importance is the further news that it is working its way west.

According to Mr. Cox, the pest is a fungus growth which attaches itself to the tender branches of the tree. In nearly every instance the attack is fatal to the tree. He says that the attention of congress has been called to the pest, and measures will be taken at once to prevent its spread.

Plant No. 7 of the Universal Portland Cement company will be making cement in Duluth in the spring. Next Friday evening, Ray S. Huey, the superintendent of the new plant, will tell the Men's club of the Unitarian church how cement is made. His lecture will be illustrated by pictures on the screen.

Robert S. Drummond will sing and Mrs. Wayne E. Richardson will be the accompanist.

DULUTH TEACHERS WILL GET RAISES OF FROM $25 TO $100Schedule of Salary Advances Being Drafted By Committee.

Teachers in Duluth schools will be given salary increases of from $25 to $100 next year.

A sweeping schedule of salary advances is being drafted by the board of education committee on schools and practically every teacher in the service, excepting those whose salaries have reached the prescribed maximum, will be affected.

For several hours today members of the school committee of the board, headed by Mrs. T. J. Davis, checked over lists of teachers' names and recommendations before the February board meeting.

"From present indications," Mrs. Davis said, "there will be a general salary advance. Just now, however, the committee cannot estimate until our recommendations have been decided upon more nearly.

Under the system now in use, the principal of each school building makes a written report to the board of education, telling of the work done by each teacher in the building, and making an unofficial recommendation as to suggestion to be observed in deciding the salary question.

Supt. Denfeld also makes a general report, with numerous recommendations to the board. Members of the school committee receive these reports, check them over and then decide upon the wage scale which finally is presented to the general board for approval.

Much interest centers in the action which the directors will take on the salary proposition this spring, as teachers have started a campaign to change the present system. They claim, it is said, that Supt. Denfeld is not in a position to make recommendations covering so many instructors, and that an automatic wage increase should be adopted.

In petitions to the board, which have been tabled, the teachers' association has asked for an annual automatic advance of $50, until a maximum is reached. They also asked that maximum and minimum for the grades, the junior high schools and the high school be fixed.

In reply to the petition, board members and Supt. Denfeld said that more than $400,000 was being paid out annually for teachers' and janitors' salaries, and the general board would not take on such a matter now.

The legislature provides that an eight-month general fund, from which salaries are paid, be adopted.

In spite of this, it might be precipitated at the February or March board meetings. The case is now before the board to vote on the automatic wage increase. Some of them are believed to favor taking the matter out of Supt. Denfeld's hands to some extent.

PERJURY CASE PRESENTEDState Completes Its Evidence in Trial of George Robertson.*Switchman and Metal Yard Foreman Tell Story of Theft.

Shortly before noon today, the state rested its case in the prosecution of George K. Robertson, Northern Pacific switchman, charged with having committed perjury on his former plea for complicity in the theft of $3,000 worth of copper from a box car in the local railroad yards in November of 1913. The defense will present its case this afternoon.

Robertson's testimony on his former trial that he knew nothing of the alleged theft, and that the story of the alleged accomplice, Zigmund Zalk, was untrue was branded as false by Zalk who took the stand yesterday afternoon.

The story of the transaction as related by Zalk and Regalia coincided in all essentials and was briefly as follows:

Sometime during the fall of 1913, Robertson came to Regalia, who was then in charge of a night crew of copper for a "little Christmas money." Copper was being shipped regularly at the time from the Butte and Anaconda smelters to the eastern refineries and most of the cars were routed through Duluth.

About the same time, Robertson went to talk with an offer to sell the copper delivered at the yards of the Duluth Iron & Metal company, where he was employed as a foreman. Zalk said that he turned down the proposition twice and that he did not finally accept until the morning of Nov. 10, when copper was switched to the metal company's yard.

Robertson said that at that time was working as foreman on a day switching crew. Regalia had been a helper, but was then in charge of a night crew. On Nov. 4, 1913, it was arranged between the two men that Zalk would use a car of copper, then located on what was known as the "four track" in the Grassy Point yards and pull it out where Robertson might switch it to the yards of the metal company on the following shift.

Robertson got $200, which he paid Robertson on the day that the car was switched to the metal company's dock. That evening Zalk and two helpers, under his employ, unloaded thirty-two tons of copper anodes each weighing 500 pounds, and hid them under the dock. Robertson was not present when the car was taken away and told him, Zalk claimed, that he might as well take enough to make another trip, by which Zalk figured that he had enough so he paid the car back to the yard for $100 and still show a profit. At least, no more copper was taken from the following shift.

Regalia testified that Zalk handed him $100 a few days later as his part in the booty and that shortly after Christmas he went to Zalk and got the other $50 he had coming on a fifty-fifty basis.

Robertson said it is understood, will take the stand and deny the entire transaction. He asserts that he knew nothing of the theft and had no part in it. When he was tried for the larceny the first time, the jury disagreed.

On the second trial, Zalk appeared against him at both trials, but Regalia was silent. He never made any admissions to the authorities until after Robertson had been acquitted.

Zalk has pleaded guilty to the indictment against him charging grand larceny and is now awaiting sentence.

STORM GROWS MORE SEVEREWeather Bureau Warns Eastern and Northern Minnesota Especially.*Trains Not Delayed But Trouble Expected; Lake Is Raging.

SPECIAL FORECAST.
Chicago, Jan. 26.—Heavy snow this afternoon and probably tonight for most of Eastern and Northern Minnesota. Severe weather indicated, with cold wave, for Eastern Minnesota by or during Thursday.

Since the storm set in last night, developing into a real storm in the early hours of this morning, it has steadily grown worse, and at the time of going to press, a gale of forty miles an hour, the wind laden with snow, which whipped faces and blinded eyes, was blowing. Talking was rendered extremely difficult and hazardous to some extent for the reason that many of the sidewalks, following the thaw of Monday and yesterday, had frozen into stretches of ice, and these were covered by the covering of intense snow. Falls were frequent, but up to this time, no injuries have been reported.

A rumor, circulated this morning, that schools would be dismissed at noon in anticipation of a repetition of the blizzard of two weeks ago, was denied at the school district offices. The temperature has not reached a low point where extreme cold adds to the distress of the wind and flying snow, and it was not considered necessary to let the pupils go home before the regular hour.

Lake Is Raging.
On the lake, which is, as yet, free from ice, the scene is a reminder of the day of the famous Marafa wreck in 1905, for the waves are rolling in in a more menacing way than usual. The United States engineers' office reports waves dashing up on the Park Point beach 18 to 20 feet high from hollow to crest, and, in many instances, fully 300 feet long.

Fishing craft are still operating along the north shore, but it is declared by fish companies here that there is no danger of disaster among them. The Goldfish and the Fashion were much inquired about today, but their owners declare that in case of a storm coming up they always scurry for shelter and no apprehension is felt as to their position. The Fashion reported in at Grand Marais, and it is believed that the Goldfish put into shelter near Two Harbors. Several other craft are out on their runs also, and are believed to have gone into shelter.

Up to this afternoon, only ordinary delays to trains had been experienced. It is expected that later in the day and perhaps tomorrow, if the storm keeps on increasing as it has been the past few hours, there will be delays and, maybe, blockades. Railroads report that all lines are open, and that the storm is increasing, and they are looking for trouble to occur.

Some of the ranges is so bad that a storm of more than usual proportions is raging there and that traffic is becoming almost impossible.

The special weather forecast, received this afternoon by weathering and R. R. Davidson, indicates that more severe conditions for the next twenty-four hours and probably beginning earlier.

WILL "DROP FRILLS" IN NAMING SCHOOL

"What shall we name the Morgan Park school?" That is a question that has been bothering directors of the board of education for some time.

Members of the board's committee on schools took the bill by the horns today during their regular meeting. Mrs. T. J. Davis, chairman of the committee, suggested that all "frills be dropped" and that the school be named after the Morgan school.

This school will be built on a site in the city which the Minnesota Steel company has given to the board of education. Kelly & Williams, architects, have been working over time on plans, in order that the contract for the building be let at the February meeting of the board.

Some of the directors suggested calling the school "The Morgan school," "The Model City school," some "The Steel Plant school," some "The Spirit Lake school."

There were many other suggestions, but Mrs. Davis won out.

SUPERIOR STORM CAUSING MUCH DAMAGE

The storm has caused considerable damage to property and much inconvenience in Superior today. Several plate glass windows on Tower avenue were broken, and the wind did much damage to the stock & cow store. The breaking of the windows caused damage to white goods that were on display in the windows.

Street car service is about normal in the city, but passenger train service is being delayed. The Great Northern and Soo railroads are practically sending all freight handling on account of the severity of the storm.

Several funerals that were scheduled for this afternoon have been postponed on account of the weather, according to information given out by the undertakers in charge.

Women Hereabouts Are Pre-Visioned

They keep posted on trade conditions and largely govern their purchases accordingly.

A year ago we predicted advances in cottons and linens and gave reasons.

Women generally appreciated the situation—anticipated their needs—they bought liberally. Later they certainly had good reason to be glad they had done so.

Present conditions in the flax and in the cotton trade make it almost certain that linens and cottons will cost still more for a year or so to come. At any rate 'tis unlikely they will cost less and it is probable that the more desirable will be scarce and hard to get.

Many of you realize this quite as well as we do—the liberal purchases you are making at Duluth's Greatest White Sale are abundant proof of your foresightedness.

This is simply to remind you to canvas your needs in:

RESERVE SYSTEM PROVES ADEQUATEFirst Annual Report From North Federal Bank District.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prosperity in the Ninth Federal reserve bank's district has been so general since the establishment of the bank Nov. 16, 1914, that the institution has been unable to show its real value, a defense against financial prostration in time of stress, John H. Rich, Federal reserve agent says in his first annual report on the bank's condition made today.

Mr. Rich calls particular attention to the aid the bank has been able to render the farmer and says that after more than a year of operation the reserve system has proved adequate.

"The Ninth Federal reserve district has been prosperous since the founding of the bank," says the report. "It cannot be said that an emergency has existed in the district at any time since the bank's establishment. In the spring of 1915, it had opportunity to render valuable service in meeting the requirements of agriculture during the planting season. Practically all the currency needed for the crop movement in the fall was furnished by the Federal reserve bank at a cost to members that was appreciably less than in former years."

The report cites that of the 4,000 notes and bills re-issued, very few came from the large city banks, and that, therefore, the greatest part of the Federal bank's business was an aid to the farmer.

There has been a growth in the membership of twenty-six, bringing the total to 735 members. The paid-in capital has reached $2,548,868. The report states that, as a result of the Federal bank's check system 950 state and national banks in the district do not charge exchange on checks drawn on them.

Of the twenty-six new member banks, one is the largest state bank in Minnesota, the report states. Twenty are state banks which have been converted to the national bank class.

The deposits of member banks totaled $50,325,515. Total bills payable amounted to $4,357,321.41 and the discounts with the Federal reserve bank, $1,555,124.55.

JUDGING IS IN PROGRESS

Prize Winners at Duluth Poultry Show Are Being Chosen.

Judge Hackett Gives Informal Lecture on Points of Good Breeding.

The annual Duluth Poultry association's show is in full swing. The judging of the different classes of birds is proceeding without delay. So far the majority of the prizes have fallen to the lot of town breeders, this being particularly true of the awards made today. There is a strong representation of breeds from the surrounding towns, and the first prizes carried off today attest the quality of the chickens being raised in this part of the state.

There was a large crowd present last evening. Judge Hackett treated those present to an informal study class, going over the good and bad points of the different birds of different breeds, pointing out why they were birds of quality or for what reasons they lacked class. The explanations of the judge as to the different points were amplified by the multitude of questions that were asked by the interested onlookers.

The competition in most classes is very close. This was particularly true of the showing today. Judge Hackett lingered long over many of the pens, deliberating and scrutinizing closely before awarding the ribbons.

Following are the prizes awarded early today:

Rose Comb White Leghorns.
Sunny Valley Farm, Two Harbors—First cock; third, hen; first, cockerel; first, pullet; fourth, pullet.
Thomas Floathe, Two Harbors—Second, cock; second, hen; third, cockerel; second and third, pullet.

FEW MINERS ESCAPE

Shut off from fresh air and sunshine, sometimes working in dampness, and often inhaling dust, are the reasons why so few miners escape bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, throat troubles, or even consumption.

The hard work and sudden changes from warm mines to icy winds will weaken the strongest constitution, and doctors are advising miners to take Scott's Emulsion after meals, because it is a powerful blood purifier, which creates body warmth, healthful flesh, and strengthens both throat and lungs.

If you work in the mines you need Scott's Emulsion to keep up your strength, and for colds, coughs or rheumatism it should never be neglected. Scott's is free from alcohol—insist on the genuine, Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N.J. 15-35—Advertisement.

CANADA "DOING ITS BIT" WELL

Duluthian Amazed at Number of Soldiers in Winnipeg and Calgary.

Ray Segoe, of Duluth, who has just returned from a six months' sojourn in Western Canada, declares that the average resident of the United States has little conception of the immense number of soldiers the dominion is sending to England, or the immense number that are being trained to send in the spring.

"I was in Calgary and Winnipeg for a number of weeks," said Mr. Segoe today, "and both of these cities bore all the appearance of a vast army camp. They say there are 12,000 soldiers in Winnipeg, while the statement was also made that there would be 25,000 soldiers there on April 1."

"Trainload after trainload of soldiers passed through Calgary while I was there. The streets of both Calgary and Winnipeg were almost continually filled with marching soldiers."

"Some of the finest specimens of physical manhood that one could imagine. Several of the big warehouses in the central portion of Winnipeg are entirely given over to the housing of troops. If one remains in Canada any length of time he will speedily learn how grim is the business of war and will also be impressed with the fact that the dominion is easily doing its share in sending men to the fighting front."

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. E. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the result. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CONTRACT IS BEING DRAWN

City Will Pay for Court-house Square Site Before 1918.

Matter of Giving Clear Title Is Up to the County.

City Attorney Samuelson and Charles E. Adams, attorney for the county commission, will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the latter's offices and draw up a contract for the sale to the city of the city hall site on Courthouse square.

The contract, according to Mayor Prince, will provide for the payment of the total cost of the site, including interest from Jan. 1, 1915. This amount to $207,000, which includes the cost and interest to Jan. 1 of this year, and the additional compounding interest of 4 per cent up to the last payment. The contract will be dated Jan. 1, 1916, Mayor Prince said.

In the contract provision will be made for the first payment of $30,000, which the city's share in the county work farm and which is to be credited to the municipality by the county, according to an agreement between city and county officials. The city further agreed to pay in full for the site on or before Jan. 1, 1918.

The county commissioners will hold their next meeting on Feb. 6, at which time they will hold another conference with the city council members and also sign the contract to be prepared this afternoon.

Up to County. Regarding the latest obstacle to the sale of the site, with respect to the legal transfer of condemned property by the county, Mayor Prince said this morning that the city has no cause for worry, as the entire matter should be adjusted by the county.

"We will demand clear title to the property before it is accepted," said Mayor Prince this morning. "I believe that everything will be settled satisfactorily. In the meantime, we are entering into the contract, so that the heavy interest can be reduced by occasional payments on the site."

In addition to the $30,000 as first payment, the city commissioners plan to turn over the $50,000 in cash and negotiable paper from the sale of the old armory to the Shriners, making a total payment of $80,000 during this year alone. The remaining $127,000, plus interest, will be paid in installments before the expiration of the contract.

THIS EXPERT SHOWS HIS SELF CONFIDENCE

Any resident of the three suburbs who feels he still has something to learn about gardens, is invited to attend. The dinner and lecture will also be open to any Duluthians who are interested. Ladies are especially invited.

Every Day Is Bargain Day

at the Chicago War Shop

Chicago has a war shop where prominent women sell garments and surgical supplies at prices that are as enticing as those at white goods sales. A soft pillow may be bought for 10 cents, a case of ether for 21 cents, a thick warm wrapper for $1, and yards and yards of bandages and surgical dressings for a few cents.

Fortunately, all are not like the splendidly dressed woman who, after reading the sign on one of the counters, which explained that among 200 wounded soldiers in a hospital last month there were only six pillows, said, "Oh, please! I don't believe they need pillows at all. I'll use one." If all persons were like her, the shop would not have been in $1,000 in the first ten days of its existence.

But this is a workshop as well as a salesroom. The glass cases of garments and surgical supplies share space with long tables where volunteer workers fold packages of gauze sponges and reel yards of bandages, all of which are sold at one of the Chicago hospitals. At the back of the room women are given employment making the garments that are offered for sale.

One of the most interesting departments of this venture, and one of the busiest, is the one for packing and shipping. You part company with 10 cents for a pillow, you don't have to go through the ordeal of waiting at Christmas time of wrapping is up, addressing it and having it weighed, for a woman in a white linen garment sees that all articles are packed as they should be, the purchaser has no more responsibility than if she bought and ordered goods sent home from a store.

Bandages are very heavy, and as most of the packing cases are handled by old persons and children in France, each case has to be half bandages and half pillows, and of a certain weight. Each case has a label in French, French two outside and three inside. The woman in charge attends personally to these details and points the final destination on the boxes that go first to the war clearing house in New York and then to the distributive bureau in Paris.

"Tom Thumb" Is Married

Once More—Elaborately

Tom Thumb got married again last night at Endion M. E. church and as he usually prefers to be married to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, Miss Emily Merritt, violinist, and Miss Schmees, pianist, humored him in his annual request, and when his bride, Elinor Palmer, came marching down the aisle—wearing a beautiful white satin wedding dress and long veil, to say nothing of the gorgeous bridal bouquet she carried—Tom's heart was like to burst with pride. Dale Stevenson was "Tom" and William Kingston, the minister. Katherine Bowden was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Jean Alice Gail, Dorothy and Winifred Maudy and Barbara Francis. Elizabeth Zimmerman carried the ring in the heart of a rose. The flower girls, among whom were Ruth and Lois Tredway, Helen Macgregor, Gertrude Benoit, Shirley Spengler and Alice Gill, formed an arch for the bride party as they entered.

George Milligan "stood up" with the groom. The bride's parents were Jean Gail and Richard Taylor. The bridegroom's parents were Frances Ann McCarthy and Burt Gill. The bridesmaids' gowns and also the elaborate toilettes of the guests caused many admiring comments as for the "men" guests and their full dress evening clothes—words fall. Admiration was rampant.

Gordon Maudsley and Gus Carlson ushered, to the strains of "The Wedding March," and at the reception, a wedding collation was served to the small number of the bride party and all the guests—none of whom could claim more than "ten years old."

A program of vocal music was given during the evening. Catherine Graham sang, "I Love You Truly"; George Mountford, "If I Had You"; Marjorie Ketchum, "O Promise Me"; Wallace Merritt, "When You and I Were Young"; Frances Ann McCarthy, "Silver Threads Among the Gold"; and Agnes and Clarence Nixon, Jr., sang a duet, "When I Marry You." The music seemed peculiarly fitting at such an event, and added greatly to the enjoyment.

Theater Gossip.

"A curious thing about this poor Signora Monti that I'm playing in 'Twin Beds,'" says Clara Weldon, the comedienne, CHARACTER whose work contributes IN "TWIN BEDS" to the fun of the Salsbury-Field and Margaret Mayo coming to the Lyceum Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night, "is that nobody seems to realize that she is suffering torments all during the last half of the play. And its talking to people about the poor Signora that has convinced me that most people don't know the Dickens of a lot about love."

"What? Do I? Well, I know this much, that love doesn't make the woman—the woman makes the love. To say that a woman is going to love any differently from the way she does anything else is like saying she is going to Bernadette Brown's eyes and to Hallfax with blue. Poor Signora Monti would be noisy and strident and funny, no matter what she did. It doesn't mean that she loves any the less."

"Not so very long ago I read an interview with a little actress in which she said that women were wholly fashioned by love—that is, that whatever they were. It was all I could do to keep from going out to spank that child. I wanted to tell her that love came to us and went from us precisely according to what we were long before it either came or went—but I restrained myself."

"This protest is just an echo of that, and as a second thought I can offer you this—women are leaving false ideas about love behind them more quickly than anything else we're on the way—up!"

The value of that deft touch of development that marks all Triangle films is triply illustrated in the Rex Beautiful ATTRACTION in two widely different AT THE REX plays, "Let Katy Do It," called "The Great Fear Triangle," with Sam Bernard and the film favorite, Walrus Conklin.

The gripping Triangle play with Willard Mack and George Fawcett touches the very heartstrings. Mable Normand, the Keystone fame, and "Fatty Arbuckle," the fat boy of the winsome smile, in "Fatty and Mable Adrift," will furnish comedy along with "The Corner" on tomorrow's program at the Rex Beautiful.

The opera world admires the singing Farrar as "Carmen" and also on the screen in the same production. Geraldine FARRAR in her second AT LYRIC photoplay, "Temptation," at the Lyric today and tomorrow, is an entirely different personality, equally as successful as the ambitious young star who leaves all pleasures behind in the search for a cause. Many of the incidents told as experiences in Miss Farrar's own climb to the top of the operatic profession. A glimpse is shown of life back of the scenes in a big opera company.

At the popular "New Grand today opens a show bill of vaudeville diversities. Comedy, VARIETY drama, musical comedy, OPERA AT THE REX, sensational novelties, feats of strength and feats of ability are all blended.

The headline position is equally divided between the Bowman Brothers and the Buch Brothers. "The Blue Grass Boys," have an offering along original lines heralded as a "sensation" to local theatregoers. The reputation of the management stands behind the offering of these boys.

A comedy trampolene act, "Ship Ahoy, Boys," is the offering of the Buch Brothers, which is an innovation in comedy acrobatics.

Claudia Cole is a character comedienne with original songs and a fund of humor. Her specialty is the portrayal of women types as varied and up-to-date. Novelty juggling and posing are the offerings of the Wilt and Anita. They inject plenty of ginger into their offering.

"Annie's Unaware," a two-reel subject, interpreted by an all-star cast, topped the bill of vaudeville. "Annie's Unaware," a comedy featuring Billy Haddie, the comedian, "The Trick Reeves," one of the Marguerite stories, and the first of the new Self-Tribune News pictorials are among the other film subjects.

NO GREATER GUARANTY OF PROSPERITY THAN THIS.

The United States Steel corporation resumed its dividends on the common stock yesterday, when its directors declared a dividend at the rate of five per cent.

The directors of the Steel corporation are conservative business men. They do not declare dividends unless and until conditions warrant a belief that they can be kept up. Moreover, their confidence in the permanence of the dividend is attested by the fact that they have offered their employees an opportunity to buy the common stock—which they would not do if they did not believe that conditions will warrant a continuance of the dividend.

The total net earnings of the Steel corporation for the last quarter of 1915 were $51,- 237,888—greater by nearly six million dollars than the last high record, which was made in the second quarter of 1907, at the peak of the last prosperity period.

And Chairman Gary has announced that more than seventy-five per cent of the steel business now being done is not war business, but domestic business.

Such earnings as these, on such business as this, with dividends resumed and sweeping wage increases announced, spell prosperity such as the country never experienced before.

Curious people who have forgotten what a fresh egg looks like might do well to haunt the exhibits at the old armory this week.

TWO VIEWS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Congressman Miller of Duluth, having made two trips to the Philippines, returned from his second trip last fall armed with information about conditions there, which anti-administration newspapers eagerly distributed.

He found things in terrible shape, with no redeeming feature. The moment the Republican administration was succeeded by a Democratic administration, the Philippines began to go to the dogs. After three years of Democratic rule, conditions are so dreadful that Mr. Miller is manifestly in great distress and suffers keenly every time he speaks of them. His heart bleeds, obviously, for the Filipinos, and he cannot witness the wretched treatment the Philippines have had from the Democratic administration without, as a patriot and a Republican, emitting loud outcries of protest against it.

Brigadier-General Frank McIntyre, chief of the insular bureau, has also been to the Philippines to see what the conditions are.
He spent some time there last fall, and now he has reported on what he saw.

General McIntyre testifies that the Philippines have made good progress under the Harrison administration; that law and order are better assured now than they ever were before; that uplift work among the wild tribes has made greater advances than was believed possible two years ago; that the government's finances are in good shape despite the commercial confusion due to the war; that the executive and the native legislature are working in cordial and effective harmony; and that the government has won the respect and admiration of the native peoples of the islands. Perhaps this is because Mr. Miller neglected to explain to these people what an atrocious thing it is to be a Democrat.

This is all in flat contradiction to Mr.
Miller's report. There is other evidence of the same nature. Mr. Miller has charged that changes made for political reasons in the Philippine government have worked incalculable harm in the Philippines. Winfield T. Denison, a Republican who was assistant attorney-general of the United States under Roosevelt and Taft, and who was appointed as a Republican to the office of secretary of the interior of the Philippine islands, has made this report to the Civil Service Reform league of the United States:

I doubt if many precedents can be found for the installation of a new administration entering upon a radically different policy with so few changes in the old personnel.

So far as I know, it has never been suggested that any one of these agents from the public service was brought about on any political spoils basis to make a place for an American of another party.

Mr. Denison will not be accused of partisan bias in favor of the Democrats, because he is a Republican and gained office as a Republican. Neither will General Mc-Intyre be so accused. We don't know what party he belongs to, if he "belongs to" any.
But he was appointed to his present position in August, 1912, by the Taft administration.

How shall this difference in testimony be accounted for?

General McIntyre, a government official and an army officer, went to the Philippines to get the facts. HE GOT THEM.

Congressman Miller was sent to the Philippines by the Republican organization in congress to get partisan mud for campaigning, and as an incentive to eager pursuit of this errand it was intimated to him that if the Republicans get in control of affairs again he can be governor-general of the Philippines. HE GOT WHAT HE WAS SENT TO GET.

It is not surprising, therefore, that their reports should be so different. It leaves the public perfectly free to choose between information furnished by unbiased men like General McIntyre and Mr. Denison, and information procured under the auspices that directed Mr. Miller's efforts.

Duluth lived last year on $2,577,172. Could you do as well as that if you had a family of the same size?

THE REAL WAR TAX IN AMERICA.

When congress last month re-enacted the emergency war tax, made necessary a year and a half ago when war cut off the imports from which the nation used to get revenues, Republicans in congress made a fuss over it, though it is something hardly anybody feels or even notices.

But there is a war tax which the people of this country are paying that is worth talking about. Only, curiously enough, nobody is talking about it.

You buy a gallon of gasoline, paying twenty-one cents for it where you used to pay eleven cents, say.

You ask why this is, and you are told that it is because so much gasoline is being shipped to Europe to feed the war that prices have doubled.

That's a tax of ten cents YOU have to pay to support that foolish war in Europe
—a war that is none of your making—or caring either, perhaps. If you buy a hundred gallons of gasoline, your war tax is ten dollars.

You go to the drug store to have a prescription refilled. It used to cost you a dollar. Now it costs you two dollars; and the druggist says it is because so many chemicals are being shipped to Europe that prices have doubled. That's another war tax of a dollar YOU have to pay to support the war in Europe.

There are many commodities—actual necessaries—that have gone up in price because the war demand from Europe has forced the prices up.

If these commodities were not being shipped to Europe, there would be no excuse for the high prices.

As a measure of self-protection, then,
why should this country not put an embargo on the exportation of commodities through which the nation is paying such an appalling war tax?

A general embargo to help one side or the other of the European conflict we are strongly against, because it would be a deliberate and inexcusable violation of neutrality.

Specific embargoes to keep to this country what it actually needs, and to keep prices within decently moderate limits, would not be a violation of neutrality, but simple, sensible self-protection.

The embattled nations of Europe; and the neutral ones as well, have all levied embargoes for this very purpose of self-protection. Only this country has so far failed to do this sensible thing.

Why, when the people are being mulcted many millions through the war tax of inflated prices caused by undue shipments abroad, should the United States not follow this example and protect itself by specific embargoes on necessities of life and industry?

Roosevelt is not in the Republican race, according to Hilles. Then it must be he who is in the Roosevelt race. It certainly is one or the other.

THE CAUSE OF IT.

The Pennsylvania railroad is asking its patrons this question: "What causes lack of confidence in railroads?"

Two things, we should say; one of which is being cured, and the other of which will be cured any time railroads "magnates" want to cure it.

The first thing is the pernicious Wall Street influence in railroads that, in the past, too often has made railroads mere pawns for stock market juggling. That sort of thing is being frowned upon, and is growing more and more inconvenient and dangerous. There is hope that soon it will pass.

The other thing is the poor mouth railroad officials have fallen into the habit of pulling in the hope of awakening pity by enough to stop railroad regulation by law.
Whatever lack there is of confidence in railroads is largely due to the fact that railroad men have talked so much and so dismissively about the parlous state of railroad finances, and the insecurity of railroad securities, that they have made a lot of people believe it.

Then there is the peculiar fact that the pedestrians constitute so prominent a feature at every auto show.

Atlantic: Is there any land for lost and lovely things: sunsets and jeweled night-suits and emotions that have been perfectly beautiful, and that just aren't alive any more?
If there isn't, there ought to be; some heaven where they could go on living and forever fulfilling their love-lives. This is not a personal sorrow, and yet I ache with it. As I sit here in my old maid's corner I am as tranquil as if I had realized matrimony; I am busy and happy and just as much alive as most of my married friends. Of course they pity me; they feel as if life had passed me by, and, in a way, it has; but I am infinitely sorer for them, for they have lost something that I never had, and most of them don't even know that they have lost it.
That's the real tragedy of it. Doesn't any-

Juliet eternally happy because they could die—and keep their dreams? I wonder!

Talks on Thrift

Lecture by the American Bankers' Association.

Thrift is good management, and nowhere is good management more manifest than in the home. You can soon tell what manner of housekeeper the wife is, for the impress of her ideals and ideas is on every hand.
She can waste all the husband earns, or she can save the major part.

Housekeeping is the most complicated work in the world, and she who can keep a house well is a good business woman. She can make her work drudgery or she can make it a pleasure. Men fail in business and the world knows it; but how many home failures there are of which the world never hears!

It is easy to detect the woman who falls as a housekeeper. If you see the dishes unwashed, the children unkempt, clothes strung all over the house, the bath littered with the corners dirty and a general air of neglect, you may depend upon it she has failed as a business housekeeper. She does not know how.

Writing in the Ladies' Home Journal, one woman tells how she succeeds as a homemaker, and as a business woman. She has some simple rules, but good. She has no "parlor"—that abomination of olden time, but a living room, where articles that other parlors are merely to look at, not to use.
She has simple meals—things "they are all stuck on," as her little boy puts it, but lots of them. Baked beans, only, but lots of them and good. And who couldn't make a meal on beans nother used to bake?

She has no curtains at the windows; her windows are her light and she does not display curtains and catch the dust and keep out the sunlight. She wastes no food. She allows the children to take only as much as they can eat and no more. If they leave any food on the plate, the next meal begins with that cold plate! Her garbage pail is for waste, not for "leftovers" and "leftovers" money, and "pigs is pigs" and relish potato peelings as much as ice cream.

She doesn't make her attic a junk shop.
She keeps her storehouse clean; it once a year, but that is all. She has order in the kitchen. She saves time by having her things in their proper places, but she doesn't let them and lets them dry themselves—and she can do it better than they can.

She uses a "letter press" to "iron" socks and towels, and washes and whips! But women break their backs over to no useful purpose.

A fireless cooker saves gas and time and food. She keeps biscuits, corn and proper proportion of salt and baking powder and biscuits for her oven in five minutes! She has a little kitchen utensil handy, cans any receptacles labeled, and thus she saves steps. Some women walk too much on their jobs. She always has change in the house, and she keeps her cash on delivery, weighs her purchases and takes nothing for granted. She keeps account of all her expenditures and knows where her money goes, and what it buys.

She doesn't hire much help, because she doesn't need it. She studies her job and succeeds because she knows how.

The War to Begin With.

The economic struggle between nations which will follow the present war is described by an Englishman writing in the New Republic:

"In the early days of this struggle factors discouraged about the war that was to end war and create a united Europe. All but the blindest see now that men do not gather olive branches and olive oil, but the war overtook a divided Europe, and it has deepened its divisions into chasms.
While the clergy, the poor and what is more scandalous, them and lets them dry themselves—and she can do it better than they can.

Beware of Worry

Editorial in the Milwaukee New Capital.

Harriman died twenty years before his time. He was a tremendous worker, but work did not kill him. He was thinking in bed. Thinking in business hours is a constructive process. Thinking in bed is usually worry.

One reason why every man should read history is in order that he may know the folly of worry.

Read the history of Rome by Ferrero, especially those chapters following the assassination of Caesar. See the pitiful worry of Pompey.

Should he follow the dictates of his conscience and throw in his lot with the friends of Caesar, who had shown him so much kindness?

Or should he take what seemed to be the safer course and join with Caesar's assassinators?

Day after day he tortured his soul with worry. That seemed overwhining he would say to himself: "This too will pass."

By which he meant that a thousand such things would pass, but he never passed away.
And he passed away. His trial was important enough to make him think. But no trial could be important enough to make him worry.

A certain business man faced his board of directors recently. He had done his best—but he had lost the large sum of money.
One of the directors said to him:
"You don't seem to be much worried."

He replied:
"You gentlemen don't pay me any money to worry about your business. You pay me to do my best according to my judgment and conscience. I have done that. To worry would not add one penny to your balance sheet."

Learn this lesson from history. In all the trials of our life, worry has accomplished nothing.

Your worry will accomplish no more.

Carelessness

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone more than $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one, and find my victims among the rich and poor alike; the young and the old; the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage earners in a year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless. I am everywhere;
in the home, on the street, in the factory, at railroad crossings and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush or maim; I give nothing, but take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I am Carelessness.

A Song of the North

Ho! Men of mighty courage,
Who in the wilds of hood and red,
These are the days of triumph
And not the ones to dread.

Go, and within the tempest
The tonic and the thrill
To make a heart's rejoicing,
To prove an iron will.

These are the days prophetic,
These are the nights, in truth,
That single out the chosen
To save us life and youth.

Ho! Cuddled ones of comfort,
The raging storm you dread
Nearer for your partner orders
A spirit partly dead.

Bow not before the Blizzard
But meet it face to face.
Salute it as a kinsman
Of God's unconquered race.

And if, for tropic shelter,
Fain-shaded, some shall pray,
Still face the Star Eternal,
Hold strong your faith its way.

For life is of the Northland,
Storm-forged shall you learn How more than tropic fires
Its keen elixirs burn.

How Destiny has ordered
His sterner moods to bless;
How raging, arctic forces
Hold, hidden, June's caress.

"Somewhere in Minnesota"
From Fairmont to Duluth,
From Frontenac to Hallock
The winds sing out the truth:

Ho! Shrinking ones and tender,
Your waning courage warm
While vigor, all Alaskan,
Comes to you in the storm.

Forget the tepid soothing
Of Far Tampico's shore;
The wind from Manitoba
Of zest will give you more.

Forget the costly glamour
Of gay Havana nights,
The arm of him is stronger
Who stays at home and fights.

"Somewhere in Minnesota"
From Blue Earth to Banier,
The promise of the North wind
Is summer joy to hear.

A Viking song of power,
With magic gifts strewn far,
O will to know the song of snow
And what its favors are.

So, find a share of courage,
Sweet are the roses here,
Where drifts and sales and terror
Some shrinking faith forbid.

The Logic of Preparedness.
Red Wing Eagle: Minneapolis has a police force of about 400 men. Red Wing has one of about five. In the interest of "preparedness," therefore, Red Wing should increase its police force by the addition of at least 295 men, to be able to successfully cope with "invasion"—in case made.
This is exactly in accordance with the logic made use of by "preparedness" advocates.

A Lesson Necessary to Learn.
Brooklyn Valley Tribune: For years the little Lake Tribune has "harped" on the importance of the office of lieutenant governor.
Up to 1910 the people of the state gave very little attention to the office, and the selection of candidates was left entirely with the "fat boys" and scheming politicians. The lieutenant governor appoints the committees in the senate, which committees have much to do in controlling legislation in that body.
The voters of the Republican party should be extremely careful that annually costs candidate to succeed Mr. Burnquist as the state's second officer.

The Annual Seed Time.

expense of the public, will make their

tion of candidates was left entirely with the

Apparently There Is None.
St. Cloud Journal-Press: Every year when the list of personal property taxes is published it is an additional illustration of the annual joke. Of all the hit and miss affairs, inequality and guesswork, the assessment of personal taxes is so rank that it is in a rank by itself. Probably it is no worse in St. Cloud than in most towns. The unsatisfactory feature of the whole business is that there does not seem to be any remedy as long as there are personal property taxes.

FATE OF MONTENEGRO ARGUES FOR PREPAREDNESS

To the Editor of The Herald:
Montenegro is overrun, overwhelmed. The gallant little nation that maintained itself against all enemies for ten centuries has been submerged at last. The fate of Montenegro points emphatically to the need of better preparedness. That people had practiced war for a thousand years. Its youth were trained to arms from infancy. It had all the advantage of coming fresh from battles, when a nation is in its best state. And still it was not able to stand out against the flood of war.

The nations must find some better preparedness than the constant practice of warfare for ten centuries, or training in arms for every male child from infancy.

There is such a force that can be trained upon the problem.

In America for more than a hundred years we have referred to that as the public opinion of mankind. In England, Gladstone, some time ago, and Asquith recently described it as "the idea of public right" as a governing force. In the Pan-American conference it was frequently brought forward in the guise of common sentiment of nations of the world. It is a gathering of the nations, a universal brotherhood. In political language it is the democracy of nations. It is the pupils of the city last week it was the idea of public right.

Under whatever name, forces are latent in the world that can be raised to a power that will give to the nation the same right to exist and throw around its life such guarantees as in any civilized community are given to each individual.

It is nothing but recognizing that the world is a society of nations and that we are in a state of civilization—and acting and thinking and ruling accordingly.

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY IN RAISING ARMAMENT

To the Editor of The Herald:
The American press has already discussed at length the president's preparedness program from the military and financial standpoint. Is there not an aspect of the problem, however, more fundamental than either?

There we are in the midst of the greatest calamity known to history. Europe is bleeding to death. Asia is struggling every nerve to hold its friendship. We would seem to be at the very time when our hearts should open as never before to the piteous cries from across the world when all our thoughts and all our resources should be freely given to binding up the broken wounds, while the hour is for a supreme and glorious usefulness. We are proposing to retire within our little world and protect our national policy, "Safety first!" instead of considering how to bring us back on a course that would bring us the gratitude and love of every nation—such, for instance, as being able to lead them a billion dollars to repair their losses after the war—we propose a plan that will inevitably make each of them hate us a little more.

Some years ago we returned to China $10,000,000, which was an overpayment of the Boxer indemnity. That was not a present to China, but only a refusal to keep what did not rightly belong to us. Yet the return of that sum—half the cost of a modern dreadnaught—has made the United States the most beloved nation on earth in the hearts of that great Asiatic people now so sincerely groping for light and liberty. Is there not a lesson here for a nation that would plan preparedness for peace?

Let us then make haste slowly in increasing our armaments. By the time the war is over we shall most likely find the nations ready to organize the world for peace and some sort of disarmament. If that is the case, any great burden of taxation now imposed on the American people for armament purposes will be wasted.

If the nations, however, instead of making a durable peace, only declare a truce in order to continue the mad scramble for greater and even greater armaments, then the United States, having lost neither in treasure nor in men, will be in a better position than any other nation to enter the inevitable and crushing race which will lead to death to all but the most powerful. Sincerely yours,

HAMILTON HOLT.

THE PEOPLE AND THE SCHOOL QUESTION

To the Editor of The Herald:
"Who will watch the watchers?"

Duluth papers, with their full discussion of local topics are absorbingly interesting to the observant. If the teachers are to be graded for continuance in office or raise of salary—and it is evident some grading must be done—why not take some one of the results?

The schools are primarily for the child, are they not? What the child needs is not the ten months' intimate association with a teacher is a measure of success or failure, not negligible.

Suppose a teacher has forty-five pupils. Suppose they live together in close proximity for five hours a day in peace and harmony? Quite an achievement, quite a triumph. Suppose they are all obedient? Quite an achievement, quite a triumph. Suppose they are all obedient? Quite an achievement, quite a triumph.

Have the children advanced, can they behave better, obey more quickly, respect their teachers more, and more usefully in June than in the previous September? Can they do a few common things well—write a letter, add a column, make change, and so on? If so, well. Best of all, have they accumulated materials to think with? Have they high ideals?

The High Cost of Specialism

If we could publish some of the letters written by readers who have paid the price of consulting specialists of their own selection we fear the specialists would never forgive us. We suspect the ever marketable joke about the doctor's bill is not alive by this popular habit of consulting specialists.

There are all kinds of specialists, most of them competent practitioners in their own limited fields. There are also self-styled specialists who specialize in overcharging the patron.

Every day some writes in to ask if we will kindly recommend a specialist on the ear, the stomach, the foot, the elbow, or whatever portion of the anatomy he or she is afflicted with. We reply courteously, after a week or two, to the effect that it is contrary to the best interests of the community, and we suggest that the logical person to recommend a specialist, if a specialist is needed, is the family doctor.

Now we have said some pretty mean things about the family doctor, and he has not hesitated to talk back. But we go to go on record with the following:

SMITING ONCE MORE ON
'OMER'S BLOOMIN' LYRE

To the Editor of The Herald:
I submit herewith some thoughts on war and preparedness by Homer (Lilad First Book).

And for the king's offense the people died.
Declare, O Muse! in what ill-fated hour
Sprung the fierce strife, from what off-ended power?

Hence shalt thou prove my might, and curse the hour
Thou stoodst at a rival of imperial power.
And hence to all our host it shall be known
That kings are subject to the gods alone.

WHAT IS 'PREPAREDNESS.'
That trick of tyrants may be born by slaves.
THE ORGANIZATION.
Thou dog in forehead, but in heart a deer!

When wert thou known in ambush'd fights to dare,
Or nobly face the hard fronts of war,
Thine to look on and bid the valiant die.

THE SPOILS.
O tyrant! * * *
Thine in each conquest is the wealthy prey.
Though mine the sweat and danger of taxation.

THE SIGNATURE.
The time is out of joint: O cursed spite
That ever I was born to set it right.

WEST CANADA GETS A BOOM

Big Wheat Crop and War Orders Turn the Tide.

Loan Company and Bank Reports Show More Prosperity.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 26.—Prosperity has hit Western Canada, and business that six months ago was in the doldrums, is booming. From all parts of the dominion are coming reports of a return of the phenomenal times of 1908.

The great crop of 336,000,000 bushels of wheat last fall and the heavy war orders caused the sudden turn. This new condition has been most clearly shown in the bank clearings and railway earnings.

The bank saving deposits of Canada in October were $10,000,000, the highest on record. November bank clearings of $99,000,000 were better than those of any other November, or indeed, of any month on record.

Winnipeg's bank clearings of $246,000,000 in November are $22,000,000 more than Winnipeg's previous high record. The national revenue during November showed an increase of $7,000,000 over that of November last year, and was the largest revenue for any month in Canada's history. Canadian exports in October were $34,000,000 more than in any previous month on record. The trade balance is constantly improving.

Cancel Loan Applications.
The loan companies of Saskatchewan report one feature which has not happened in Canada until this year. Applications by the hundreds had been made for loans to develop farming operations. The large crop, extra large average yield, and the consequent surplus made it possible for applicants for loans to cancel their applications, adding that they would have sufficient surplus this year to allow them to enter into negotiations with the banks if necessary, on short time or call loans, to help them next summer.

The following figures compiled by the Grand Trunk Pacific give an indication of the flood of money that has been pouring into Western Canada since Sept. 1. Up to Nov. 21, the Canadian bank had received nearly $13,000,000 for 185,614,575 bushels of the crop. This represents $113,423,910 for spring wheat; $22,202,550 for winter wheat; $9,181,523 for oats; $2,026,684 for barley; and $1,241,622 for flax.

To Dec. 4 the quantity inspected and passing through Winnipeg was $1,913,625 bushels, of which 148,191,400 bushels were wheat. In 1914, when grain was the highest the west has ever seen, the total receipts were only $89,124,114. It should be remembered that those figures do not include any of the returns from the livestock industry, dairying, or the other sources of wealth of the Western Canadian provinces.

What Bank Deposits Show.
This prosperous condition is reflected even more clearly in the bank deposits of the individual western cities. For the revival in the rural districts of Southern Alberta has jumped the bank clearings in Calgary, a city of 50,000, in December $8,000,000 over the corresponding month of last year. The round figures being $16,000,000 in 1914 and $24,000,000 in 1915.

There are new industries springing up everywhere as a result of the upward trend. In Manitoba alone twenty new lines of manufacturing have been started, including a breakfast food manufactured by a company which is already paying annually $1,000,000 in wages to Winnipeg employees; a new shoe polish, various iron, brass and window cleaning and fixtures; and more than three new concerns, food savers and other necessities.

Exceeding Heavy Immigration.
The rush of prosperity has stimulated interest in agriculture and as a result of immigration this spring. The railways and the government, working with the board of trade, are planning to open up the new lands in the Nechako and Bulkley Valley, the only large tract of good cheap land on the continent still open to settlers.

It is a remarkable fact that during the week of Dec. 28 there left Canada 24,000 people, the largest number since only forty-six persons, as compared with seventy-five during the same week in 1914. At the same time, 118,000 entered Western Canada from the United States. In 1914, the same week shows 336 homesteads entered as against 223 in 1914.

Another remarkable fact is that during the holidays the Canadian Pacific sold more return tickets to excursionists from Canada to the United States, and reports just coming in show that returning excursionists brought back with them more settlers than during any excursion period since the big times of 1908.

HAS NO SYMPATHY FOR CHECK KITER
Wyatt Claims Solicitude for Wife Cause—McKercher Obdurate.
Opposing leniency for William T. Wyatt, 28, confessed "check kiter," who said he had passed worthless paper to provide for a sick wife, Chief B. D. McKercher yesterday recommended that the law take its course.

After hearing Wyatt's story, Municipal Court Judge Harry W. Sanders continued the hearing until today, when he will pronounce sentence. Wyatt was arrested by Detectives John Rogers and E. H. Barber after he was alleged to have passed a worthless check for $8 at Boston Lunch No. 1, Lake Avenue and Superior street.

He told the court his wife was 42 years old, fourteen years his senior, and that she had been ill for some time. His $18 a week was not enough to make ends meet, and so he took to "kitting" checks, he said. He did that three times during December, he said, and made the checks good in each case.

Wyatt couple have been rooming at 1805 East Eighth street. They came here from Calumet, Mich., where the husband worked in a mine so that they could live in a cabin away from the city.

Wyatt, he said, before that he was a shoe salesman in Detroit, Mich., and that the court that he did not drink or play cards, and that his only dissipation was a cigar after meals once in a while.

HEAVY FINES FOR KETTLE RIVERITES
Parties Who Tilted Lid Are Mulcted in Carlton Court.

Carlton, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Wall here yesterday the parties rounded up in the raid at Kettle River Monday were sentenced and the cases disposed of.

Anton Marhefka, general merchant, was arraigned on two counts and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $100 and costs on each charge and paid the fines. A. J. Kins and V. E. Beach were heard on a joint charge of selling liquor illegally at the City hotel and for a fine of $100 and costs. The charge of operating a gaming table which was preferred against Beach was dropped for lack of evidence.

Paul Sobczak proved to be an old offender, this being his third appearance in court on the same charge, and he was given a straight 90-day sentence without the option of a fine. The case was dropped for lack of evidence. Against Sobczak's wife was continued and will probably be brought to trial pending her good behavior. She has the sole care of four small children.

CONVICT SURRENDERS: WIFE TO GET REWARD
Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 26.—An automobile ride back to prison and the $50 reward for his capture delivered to his wife and baby, was the price of Charles Blount's surrender yesterday to finish at the state prison farm at Cummins, from which he escaped last Wednesday, with twenty-three other convicts, a 20-year sentence for murder. Blount telephoned his demands from his home near Conway. He said he escaped on account of his wife and child.

Eleven of the escaped men now have been recaptured.

U. S. STEEL'S BIG SHOWING

Net Income of 1915 Is 600 Per Cent Over That of 1914.

Common Stock Dividend of 1 1/4 Per Cent Is Declared.

New York, Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Total earnings of $51,232,788, the largest in its history, are reported by the United States Steel corporation for the three months ended Dec. 31 last. The best previous record, made in the second quarter of 1907, was exceeded by $6,729,083. The declaration by the directors of a dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on the common stock was therefore regarded as fully in line with the report.

The corporation's financial position now has cash in banks amounting to $105,000,000, while its surplus for the last quarter of 1915 amounts to more than $23,000,000, as against a deficit of $5,000,000 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

Showing of Detailed Report.
In detail, the report for the last quarter of 1915 shows total earnings of $51,232,788, net income of $10,853,113, and a surplus of $23,000,000. These figures compare with total earnings of $38,710,644, net income of $3,045,791.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair
Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifid coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses off easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it is fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifid coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

and surplus of $18,037,241 at the end of the quarter immediately preceding. Total earnings for 1915 were $130,351,286, compared with $81,746,518 in 1914. On the basis of returns for the last quarter of 1915, and with orders already in hand, it is believed the Steel corporation's earnings for 1916 will run into unprecedented figures.

In the fourth quarter of 1914, when common dividends were altogether suspended, total earnings were only $10,337,170 and net income $4,345,253. After charges and depreciations amounting to $4,388,000 had been made for the last quarter of 1915, charges and depreciations, together with other appropriations, amounting to about $10,380,000, were made, despite which the net income is larger by over 600 per cent than at the close of 1914.

SOME FACTS ABOUT NATIONAL JEWISH RELIEF DAY THURSDAY

There are 8,000,000 Jews in Russia, Poland, Galicia and Palestine in need of food, clothing and shelter. President Wilson, in a proclamation issued two weeks ago, set tomorrow aside as the national Jewish relief day. The Jewish Central War Relief association of Duluth will conduct the city-wide campaign for subscriptions to-morrow.

Headquarters will be open all day in the lobby of the Spaulding hotel. Every bank in Duluth has been designated as a depository, and subscriptions will be received throughout the day. Twenty-two men teams of the most prominent Jews in Duluth will canvass the city.

Commissioner Silberstein is the local treasurer, and will receive contributions at any time from now on. More than 1,000,000 Jews are homeless in Russia alone. Over 3,000,000 Jews are destitute in Poland.

There are 300,000 Galician refugees in Vienna alone. These facts were given out today by Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, chairman of the local relief association.

MILWAUKEE GIRL WORKS AS BOY

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—Last September George Morgan went to work at the plant of a local refrigerator manufacturing company. Monday a young woman of about 19 years appeared at the cashier's office and asked for "George's" wages, saying she had worked for the company disguised as a boy, but now was going to quit.

The girl is said by acquaintances to have "beaten" her way to St. Paul from Milwaukee about a year ago. Fear of being exposed tempted the girl to discontinue her masquerade.

NON-SECTARIAN SCHOOL OF RELIGION PLANNED
Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—Plans for the establishment of a non-sectarian school of religion to cost $250,000 and an endowment fund of a similar amount for the school for the University of Wisconsin were brought forward last Tuesday at a conference of the Wisconsin Federation of Churches.

The work of organization is in charge of Congregationalists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Lutherans, who appointed the following committee to proceed with the plans: D. W. Hurlburt, T. M. Shepherd and R. S. Donaldson of Milwaukee and Perry Miller of Janesville.

The body of the child was found clasped in her mother's arms. Six bodies have been recovered and two are still missing.

Tells You How to Make a Pint of Tonic-Laxative Cold and Cough Syrup Very Cheaply at Home

Explains Mentho-Laxene.
One reason that most cough medicines are in the end only palliative is that the ordinary mixtures are stimulating, and after a day or two aggravate the already congested condition of the system, and thus bring on fever and pneumonia sometimes.

The safest and cheapest way is to buy the pure ESSENCE MENTHO-LAXENE in 2 1/2 ounce bottles and by adding simple sugar syrup to make as per directions on each bottle one can make a full pint of delicious and quickly effective, tonic-laxative cold and cough medicine, which can be used by the whole family. It contains no opiates or "dopes" but is wholly pure concentrated extracts, blended into a marvellously efficient mixture.

It will check a fresh cold in five minutes by the clock and relieve a bad cough in the first dose. For bronchitis, hoarseness, nasal catarrh, deep-seated coughs and chronic colds it is positively the best thing on the market today, and the great concern in Dayton, Ohio, the

BASKET BALL DOUBLE BILL

Fentons Defeat the Kellys and Northerns Overwhelm the Big Duluths.

A basket ball double bill last evening featured the Commercial league's race. The Fenton-Duby quintet defeated the Kelly Hardware team by the score of 16 to 7 and the Northern Hardware team took the measure of the Big Duluths by the count of 19 to 9. The games were played on the Y. M. C. A. floor and were interesting despite the fact that the scores were not close.

While the Kellys fought hard the Fenton-Duby aggregation had it on them from the start. The Northerns early in the first half of their game with the Big Duluths staged a rally that swept them into the lead and made victory certain.

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the two games. The lineup and score:

Fenton-Duby: F. Biegle, R. Kerns, Burnett, Dvorschak, Wisted, H. Biegle, Beck, F. Biegle, Kerns and Dvorschak.

Northern Hardware: F. Biegle, Dr. Boerner, Olson, H. Biegle, Dvorschak, Wisted, Beck, F. Biegle, Kerns and Dvorschak.

CATHEDRAL QUINT CRACK COMBINATION

Outside High School Said to Fear Local Boys.

The Cathedral basket ball quint, under the careful tutelage of Coach Daugherty, is making rapid progress in perfecting a crack combination, and it is expected that the Fourth street men will be able to put up a great showing when they meet the Central high athletes Feb. 4.

Gold quint is finding it rather hard to schedule games. Cloquet, Two Harbors and Virginia, the latter team one of the best in the state this year, have all refused to play the local quint, despite the fact that they have open dates on their schedules.

Last year Cathedral took two games from Central and as the latter team is much weaker than their last year's quint it is expected that Cathedral will experience little difficulty in annexing two more victories this season.

BALL PLAYERS BROUGHT BY STEEL PLANT OPENING

Darby O'Brien Says Some Fast Diamond Stars Can Be Found Among the Morgan Park List of Employees—Copper Country Objects to Having It Stated Northern League Turned It Down.

While Darby O'Brien is busily engaged in signing baseball players from various sections of the country, the Dook declared today that the opening of operations at the Duluth plant of the United States Steel corporation had brought to the city a number of ball players who, he believes, would make good in the Northern league.

"You know," began the Dook, "that I worked down at Homestead and in other plants of the steel company, and I have never seen a steel center where there were not a large number of crack baseball and football players. Right here in Duluth, working up at Morgan Park, are some men who have been in fast company, while there are also some youngsters who have played on college and crack semi-professional teams."

"Maybe you know they are going to build a big clubhouse out there. There will also be a fine athletic field. It won't be very long before a real baseball and football team will be recruited at the steel plant, and if the Duluth steel plant teams are as good as the best ones now playing here, they will be some teams."

"There are some players here right now whom I am thinking of trying to induce to have a try for our 1916 team. Next fall I understand there is going to be a football team up at the plant. I'll bet right now it will be some team."

SEASON SOLD TO CUBS: STRING TIED TO DEAL

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 26.—John Priester, the entry of A. L. Curtle of Bolton, Tex., handled by C. H. Babcock, was declared winner last night of the free-for-all stake of the National Field Trials club. This stake carries a purse of $1,500 to the winner.

MICHIGAN WAKING UP

Ann Arbor School Plans Big Campaign to Secure Athletic Talent.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 26.—Michigan athletics and football bid fair to pull a big comeback next season as a result of the systematic campaign which is going on throughout the state in an effort to draw the high school stars to Ann Arbor.

Club Gets Busy.

Coach Yost attributed the unsuccessful season of the 1915 football team to the fact that the men he had to work on were raw recruits, while the high school stars were going to colleges which offered greater inducements to athletes than Michigan.

The "M" club, which is made up of men who have won their letter in varsity sports, therefore initiated the campaign which made its first formal step last night when several of the star high school football players were entertained at the monthly dinner.

The monthly dinners are given for the members of the team last fall and for the most of the varsity squad now working in the gym, and last night's meeting was augmented by the presence of the prep school men.

Jimmie Craig, who coached Mercerberg last fall, gave the high school boys a talk on Michigan's athletics, and Director Bartlett gave them some facts on Michigan's peculiar athletic standing in the West.

The men invited included the captains of most of the high school teams in the state which made any showing in the competition of last fall.

The monthly meetings are only one step in the campaign which is being planned to offer better inducements to high school athletes to come to Michigan.

The next step which is operating at present is the employment system which guarantees to twenty high school athletes employment during the college year. The work which is guaranteed is sufficient to pay for the board and room of one man for the whole of the college year.

The next step, and one which will probably be taken in the near future, is the organization of the local "M" clubs for the purpose of entraining the high school men. These local clubs will act as an information center in all things relating to Michigan and particularly to Michigan athletics.

THREE CONTESTS FOR SCHOOL QUINTS

Strong List of Games Arranged for Central "Gym" Friday.

Although the Central high school first basketball team will be idle this week, there have been three interesting contests arranged for the Central gymnasium for Friday night. The Central seconds will meet the Gordon Hats, the Central girls' team will meet the Normal girls and the Central freshmen will take on the Denfeld freshmen.

The Central seconds will get a hard game with the Gordon Hats. The latter are a combination of former Washington junior high school stars. This team made an enviable record last year, and should give the Central girls no small amount of trouble.

The Central and Denfeld freshman game should be a merry tussle. The Denfeld freshmen won the district

National Arbitrators of Railroad Rates Declare Against Free Storage.

Amalgamated Lake Line May Furnish Remedy for Condition.

In its decision, recently given, in the matter of the proposed advance of 5 percent on lake-and-rail rates, the interstate commerce commission touched, in passing, on a spot of the traffic in Duluth, which is a bugbear to Duluth jobbers, and while it agreed fully, evidently, with the contentions that Duluth has put up, it could not order a remedy, the matter being out of its jurisdiction.

The sore spot is that of free storage. The Duluth traffic commission has shown that goods shipped from the East for Twin City jobbers, and goods shipped out by jobbers in the East with the hope of disposing of them in the Northwest, are given free storage here, much to the detriment of local jobbers, whose warehousing costs them considerable, while the business is free from outside, even from the East, are given free storage.

In its decision, the interstate commerce commission says: "If it is true, as said of record, that the storage of sugar for five months at the upper lake ports is worth 85 cents per ton, there should be a charge for not so long a period. The sugar, of which it appears thousands of tons are stored."

All kinds of goods stored. Not only sugar is so stored, but all kinds of goods which these shippers want held in storage until such time as they can sell them to advantage. The traffic commission made a survey of the situation a long time ago, and found that the figures, conservatively, for the same line of goods costs local jobbers 85 cents a ton, and it was from that survey that the interstate commerce commission got its figures.

What the change in the lake-and-rail situation will bring about is a question. G. Roy Hagen, traffic commissioner, does not believe it will bring about any change in the matter of free storage, unless all of the lake lines delivered Dec. 15 from the railroads are amalgamated under one head and this could afford to refuse such free storage to shippers, and demand a levy for such service where required. There seems to be no other recourse, he says, for several attempts have been made, and have failed. At one time the Northwestern railroad, which is the only one through Duluth, Mich., would not acquiesce, and the matter fell through.

NUMBER OF SALOONS CUT

Revenue From Liquor Licenses Showed $9,000 Decrease in 1915.

City licenses netted $8,076.54 less during 1915 than in 1914, according to the annual report of City Clerk Borgen, submitted this morning to City Auditor Campbell.

The reduction is accounted for by the fact that there were nine fewer saloons in the city during the last year than during the previous year, causing a loss to the city of $3,000 from that source alone. There are now 184 saloons in Duluth, according to the report, showing that nine saloons were revoked by the council during the previous year.

During 1915 the total revenue from licenses was $171,049.49, while in 1914 this amount was $178,120.03. The special fee amounting to $1,185.80, showing a slight increase over the previous year, when $1,126.40 was received.

Revenue from city licenses during 1915 follows:
5 Auctioneers	$ 260.00
106 Cigarette licenses	2,650.00
3 Dance halls and skating rinks	150.00
14 Employment offices, men	1,337.48
4 Housemovers	40.00

NO CHANGES NEEDED IN RAILWAY COMMISSION

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Little need for additional legislation was seen by Chairman Mills of the state railway and warehouse commission in addressing the new efficiency and economy commission today. Mr. Mills described the workings of his department, which has control over telephone lines and the inspection of grain in the state and the collection of statistics covering the valuation of properties under its control.

He said the department had just taken over the telephones of the state and for the present its activities in this connection, would necessarily be limited because of the uncertainty of the whole thing. He hoped when a physical valuation of the telephone lines of the state had been completed, he would be able to take up the question of rates and give the needed relief.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

COULDN'T PAY $10 MONTHLY.

By paying $10 a month George Armitage could have stayed out of jail, but he didn't earn enough. That is why he started a three-month term at the work farm this morning after three months of freedom. On Sept. 3, with a companion and two girls, Armitage was arrested at the Metropole hotel, Lake avenue south. Police charged that serious charges could have been preferred against the two men, but finally they were arraigned for furnishing liquor to minors.

Former Judge W. L. Windom, on the bench at that time, imposed a fine of $50 and costs, in default of which the defendants would be required to spend ninety days at the work farm.

The father of Armitage's friend paid his son's fine, but Armitage's father refused to help, and so for a time it looked as though George would have to serve the sentence. Finally Probation Officer Frank Hicks arranged to have him pay the fine $10 at a time, and placed him on parole. That was the last he saw of Armitage, until yesterday, when he had him arrested for parole violation. Now the boy will go to the work farm, unless friends intervene.

TERRIFIC FIGHTING ALL ALONG ENTIRE WESTERN WAR FRONT

BRITISH POSSESSION OF TERRITORY AT END OF SUEZ CANAL IMPERILED

Troops Stationed in Southern Arabia in Dangerous Position.

Fierce Attacks Made on Soldiers By Turks and Arabs.

Number of British Troops Stationed at Aden Placed at 20,000.

Berlin, Jan. 27, wireless to Sayville.—The Cologne Volkszeitung publishes a dispatch from Cairo stating that the British in Southern Arabia are in a dangerous position as a result of fierce attacks by Arabs and Turks. It is stated the British casualties up to Dec. 50 amounted to 15,600 killed and 20,000 wounded.

The number of British troops now at Aden is given as 20,000. Quoting from the Volkszeitung, the Overseas News agency says: "A wounded British major declared that at the beginning of the war, the British were in possession of 250,000 square kilometers in southern and southwestern Arabia, all of which has been lost. All the Arab chiefs joined the Turks, and are now using successfully against the British the arms supplied by them."

Aden is in southwestern Arabia, near the entrance to the Red sea. It has been strongly fortified by the British and is referred to as the Gibraltar of the East. Since the beginning of the war, Turkish forces have threatened the city but there were no previous reports of heavy fighting and London has expressed confidence in the ability of the British troops to repel all attacks.

An official Turkish statement last month said that after successful fighting Turkish troops were advancing on Aden, but it was announced officially in London that the hostilities had amounted to nothing more than skirmishes and that there had been no material change for two months.

TWO GERMANS TAKEN FROM AMERICAN TUG

Two Stewards Removed at St. John and Placed in Internment Camp.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 27.—Herman Fulkendorf and William Warren, German stewards of the American tugboat Ramos of New York, were placed in the internment camp at Amherst today, despite the protest of the tug's captain. They were arrested yesterday after the Ramos had arrived here with a cargo from Portland, Me. The captain of the Ramos objected to the seizure of the stewards on the ground that his was an American vessel.

It was learned that the Ramos, formerly named the Tabasco, after returning here, had obtained a clearance for Spencer's Island, N. S., and the authorities held that this gave them ground for the arrest.

JUMPED TO HIS DEATH

Man Found in Hospital Identified as Nathan Pullman of Chicago.

His Wife and Daughter Found Murdered a Few Hours Previously.

New York, Jan. 27.—Police today identified the body of a man who died in a hospital shortly after jumping from the third floor of an uptown hotel as that of Nathan Pullman, the retired Chicago insurance agent, who was being sought on the charge of having murdered his wife, Mrs. Rebecca Pullman, and daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Bazel, in a Bronx apartment yesterday.

The man died without regaining consciousness. Letters found in his clothing proved his identity. Three of the letters contained the phrase "The wages of sin is death."

Pullman registered at the hotel early last evening as "Mr. Jones and wife," telling the clerk that "Mrs. Jones" would join him later. He was not seen again until his body was found on the sidewalk.

No one went to his room. He was seen leaving the Bronx apartment about four hours before the bodies of his wife and daughter were found. The skulls of both women had been crushed in with a small hatchet which was found under the bed.

Friends said Pullman had come here from Chicago for a reunion with his family. Police expressed the opinion, after an investigation, that the man had murdered the two women after suddenly going insane.

Former State Senator Hudson Talks to Wisconsin Republicans.

Favors Protective Tariff and Praises Administration of Philipp.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 27.—Declaring in favor of a protective tariff based on the difference between the industrial conditions here and abroad, a review of the achievements of the administration of Governor E. L. Philipp and a defense of the calling of a convention when Wisconsin has a primary election law, were the principal topics discussed by former State Senator George B. Hudson in the keynote speech before the Republican convention called by the state central committee here this afternoon. The convention was held in the spacious university gymnasium.

Senator Hudson reviewed industrial conditions in this country, said that no man should be nominated and elected who had taken no part in the passage of the Underwood act, an evident thrust at Senator La Follette, and said the convention should name delegates who stood for a protective tariff.

Wilson Refuses to Support Movement for Amendment to Constitution.

Receives 200 Women Who Talk to Him of Woman Suffrage.

Attempt to Cross-Examine Executive Meets With Failure.

New York, Jan. 27.—President Wilson refused today to support the movement for an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for woman suffrage. He spoke briefly to 200 members of the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage and told them that he felt the suffrage question should be dealt with by each individual state.

The president received the suffragists after they had waited for him for more than an hour at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, where he made his headquarters on his arrival here this morning from Washington, prepared to make three addresses during the day. Offers made by Mrs. Mary Beard, wife of a Columbia university professor, to cross-examine the president on his position met with failure. He refused courteously to reply to her queries.

The president told the women that "it may be that my mind works slowly, but I have always thought that there were things that should be built slowly and thereby more lasting. I may be old-fashioned in my view that

AMERICAN OFFICERS
ORDERED ARRESTED

Led Party of U. S. Troops Into Mexico Without Orders.

Brownsville, Texas, Jan. 27.—United States military officials here today are awaiting the results of a rescue expedition by Carranza soldiers into the Mexican territory across the river from Progress, where yesterday two United States troops were captured by Mexicans. Lieut. Mont, Payton and Waldron late last night were ordered arrested by Maj. Gen. Funston for leading a party of fourteen American troops into Mexico in an attempt to rescue the two troops. In this expedition, four American troops were drowned, attempting to swim across into Mexico. Others penetrated into Mexico, but returned without having accomplished the object of their mission. A prolonged cross fire took place during these operations, but no man was wounded. It is said that the Mexicans engaged were not soldiers.

Questioned further by her counsel, Arthur Cushing, she told of a reconciliation in 1913, followed soon by the final break.

They had not been very friendly for a few days prior to Christmas eve, when he came home and complimented her upon having decorated their house so beautifully. They "made up," she said, had Christmas dinner together, and she gave him a present.

Later, the witness said, he was unkind to her, and she told him that she was going to a convent where boarders were taken in New York. He asked how much the board would cost for herself and two children, and she said $6 a week. He agreed to pay it, and bade her good-by.

Mrs. Mohr said that at the time she filed her suit for separate maintenance the doctor was earning $2,000 a year, but she asked for an allowance of only $100 a month.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr today continued her testimony regarding her relations with her husband, Dr. Franklin Mohr, for whose murder she and two negroes, Cecil Brown and Henry Spellman, are on trial.

Questioned further by her counsel, Arthur Cushing, she told of a reconciliation in 1913, followed soon by the final break.

LAKE WINDS KEEP BACK COLD WAVE THAT HOLDS NORTHWEST IN GRASP

Below Zero Temperatures Reported From Other Minnesota Points.

Snowfall of From Six to Eight Inches Reported.

Traffic Conducted Under Difficulties But With Few Serious Delays.

The storm which held Duluth in its embrace yesterday and last night, the remnant of which is being "enjoyed" today, was one of the most widespread in years. It prevailed everywhere east of the Rockies except in the South Atlantic states, snow, rain or sleet falling at all points and high winds prevailing in most of the places visited by the storm. The northeast gale which assailed Duluth seems to have been confined to the western end of Lake Superior. Weather Forecaster Richardson said today, but the gale saved this part of the country from the cold wave that is waiting at the territory's doors.

The worst path of the storm was from Oklahoma and Arkansas north-east to Eastern Minnesota and Wisconsin. Sleet fell here last night from about 8 o'clock until shortly after 9. The temperature remained above zero, and this morning still was up. At 7 o'clock last night it was 18 deg. above, and the lowest it got during the night was 12 deg. above. At 7 o'clock this morning it was 13 deg. above, and during the rest of the morning remained almost stationary there.

Six to eight inches of snow fell on the level, but the drifting gave many the impression that much more fell during the last twenty-four hours. The wind averaged forty miles an hour in velocity, the highest point reached for

LABOR OPPOSED TO CONSCRIPTION

British National Party Passes Resolutions of Protest.

Bristol, England, Jan. 27.—A resolution protesting in the name of the National Labor party against the adoption of conscription in any form was passed by the labor congress today by a record vote of 1,796,000 against 219,000.

The resolution follows: "Resolved, That this National Labor party protests emphatically against the adoption of conscription in any form as it is against the spirit of British democracy and a danger to the liberties of the people."

Another resolution placed before the congress follows: "This conference declares its opposition to the military service bill, and in the event of its becoming a law, decides to agitate for its repeal."

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Four robbers armed with revolvers entered the Washington Park National bank in East Sixty-third street today, threatened the lives of the cashier, clerks and twenty depositors, and escaped with between $12,000 and $15,000.

None of the ten depositors who were ordered to stand facing a wall, was searched by the robbers, who gave their sole attention to the money in the teller's cage. After grabbing the cash, the four bandits fled to the door and escaped in an automobile.

A. W. McAuley, assistant cashier, jumped into an automobile and attempted to follow the robbers, but they quickly out-distanced him.

Garland Stahl, former manager of the Boston American league baseball team, is vice president of the bank, which is situated in one of the busiest sections of Chicago, outside of the downtown district. Opinion Not Unanimous.
Berlin, Jan. 27, wireless to Sayville.—Capt. I. Persius, naval expert of the Tagerhelt, says in discussing the proposal for a blockade of Germany that public opinion in England is not unanimous in regard to the advisability and probable efficiency of such measures. He points out also that the cost of a strict blockade would be enormous.

Prize Court Has Many Cases.
Berlin, Jan. 27, wireless to Sayville.—Reports from Dutch sources say that the number of undecided cases now before the British prize court is so great that if peace were concluded at the present time, the courts would be occupied for two years.

British possession of territory protecting the Suez canal route at its southern end is imperiled by attacks made by large bodies of Arabs and Turks on the British forces in southwestern Arabia, according to advices from German sources.

The British have been driven from all the territory they held in that section of country, and have suffered extremely heavy losses in the fighting. The reports declare the figures being given at 15,000 killed and 20,000 wounded.

CHICAGO BANK
LOSES $12,000

Four Robbers Secure It From Washington Park Institution.

Hold Up Cashier, Clerks and Customers With Revolvers.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Four robbers armed with revolvers entered the Washington Park National bank in East Sixty-third street today, threatened the lives of the cashier, clerks and twenty depositors, and escaped with between $12,000 and $15,000.

None of the ten depositors who were ordered to stand facing a wall, was searched by the robbers, who gave their sole attention to the money in the teller's cage. After grabbing the cash, the four bandits fled to the door and escaped in an automobile.

A. W. McAuley, assistant cashier, jumped into an automobile and attempted to follow the robbers, but they quickly out-distanced him.

German Artillery Doing Effective Work Against Allies' Trenches.

Guns of British Hardly Less Active Than Those of Teutons.

Three Lines of Trenches Captured From the French Are Held.

Berlin, Jan. 27, via London.—Reports from France and Flanders say that a favorable turn in the weather has been followed by active fighting on the entire western front. Along nearly the whole line the roar of artillery is heard, but the heaviest fighting was near Nieupoort, to the north of Ypres and in the Argonne.

German patrolling parties brought back word that German artillery had done effective work against trenches of the Allies near Nieupoort. The British artillery, it was said, was hardly less active than that of the Germans. On one section of the front, the British fired 1,700 shrapnel shells, 700 high explosive shells and about the same number of bombs within a period of twenty hours.

Four Mine Explosions.
The mine explosions mentioned in Tuesday's official bulletin of the German headquarters staff, were four in number. The Germans occupied the craters caused by the explosions. In another section near Neuville, the Germans captured three successive lines of French trenches and held them successfully against eight counter-attacks, and it is affirmed that these trenches still are in German hands. It is assumed that the character of hand-to-hand encounters. The Germans also claim good progress to the south of Arras, through the work of the sappers and miners.

Report of Seven Demands Made Is Without Foundation, Says Tokio.

Tokio, Jan. 27.—The London report that the Japanese government had delivered to the Chinese minister in Tokio a note embodying seven demands, which were included in the Japanese program of last spring, was said by the foreign office today to be untrue.

The Manchester Guardian said yesterday it had learned from Far Eastern sources that the demands had been presented by Japan. It was assumed they referred to group five of the original Japanese demands on China, action on which was postponed when the treaty was signed in May. They related to the most important questions at issue, involving among other things Japanese participation in the administration of China's political, financial and military affairs.

MONTENEGRINS AT MERCY OF AUSTRIANS

Believed That Majority of Them Are Now Giving Up Their Arms.

London, Jan. 27.—The news from the Montenegro war theater is still contradictory as regards details, but it is quite clear that Montenegro is now completely at the mercy of the Austrians and that a majority of the Montenegrins are giving up their arms.

The Austrians, working in conjunction with the Bulgarians, are pushing their advance into Albania. They already threaten Durazzo from the east, while the Bulgarians are renewing their attacks on Elbasan, the stronghold of Essad Pasha, the provisional president of Albania, from Berat, the southern capital of Albania. The Italian force at Avlona is likewise menaced.

The great trade union congress at Bristol, Eng., today passed by an overwhelming vote a resolution declaring against the adoption of conscription in any form as "against the spirit of British democracy and as endangering the people's liberty."

Theater Gossip.

"There is only one way to combat the type madness of the theatrical managers, and it takes about ten years of hard labor," says Helen Eddy whose performance in the Salisbury Field-Margaret Mayo face, "Twin Beds," which comes to the Lyceum Friday and Saturday is one of the out-standing factors in its success.

"It takes wisdom, and patience, and guile, and, like the funny old negro preacher, advising his congregation on the wisdom of the serpent with the sweetness of the dove, you want to mix it about three parts serpent to one part dove." But unless you want to go from your first part to your last doing identically the same thing—just changing the names of your parts—you have to get out and hustle.

"The great trouble with most of us is that we get sick of playing the part that makes us famous," and we say, "Give me something as unlike this as day to night." The starling manager repudiates us—and I'm not certain I blame him. But if you go gullibly to him and say: "Of course, I've got to go on with this same old stuff—they expect it of me—but I wouldn't do any harm I reckon, to alter the dresses a little—give them a little variety," he says all right—it isn't that he agrees with you—it's that he doesn't pay any attention. Well, it won't take you more than one season to widen that opening wedge. You do it so gently that nobody ever notices, "till one fine day, five years later somebody bobs up and says, 'Why, this isn't the kind of thing you used to do.' It's that, that keeps us all alive."

Variety and action will be the two chief features of the new show that opens at the New Grand theater this afternoon for a week-end engagement.

There will also be music, mirth and a few novelties. The Bowman Brothers and the Buch Brothers share headline honors.

The Blue Grass Boys, have an offering along original lines heralded as a "surprise" to local theatergoers.

A comedy transposition, act, "Ship Ahoy, Boys," is the offering of the Buch Brothers.

Claudia Cole is a character comedienne with original songs and a fund of humor. Her specialty is the portrayal of women types of the day, while her costumes are varied and up-to-date.

Novelty juggling and posing are the offerings of Willis and Anita. They inject plenty of ginger into their offering.

"Angel's Unaware," a two-reel subject, interpreted by an all-star cast, tops the photoplays. "Finn and Haddie," a comedy featuring "Finn" Reeves, the comedian, "The Tricksters," one of the Marguerite stories, and the first of the new Solvay pictures are among the other film subjects.

Keystone Mable of the Mack-Sennett company will appear on today's program at the Rex.

MABEL AND MISS NORMAND—"FATTY" AT REX. Comedy very serious injury while making one of the darest Triangle-Keystone and was confined to her home for more than eight weeks, and "Fatty" and Mabel Adair, is her first attempt since her recovery.

Such plays as "The Corner," it is said, are silent contributions to social and political betterment, the more eloquent that they are not oratorical. Willard Mack and George Fawcett carry the leading roles in this film at the Rex Beautiful today, tomorrow and Saturday.

SHOULD KEEP PLAN ALIVE

Court of Conciliation to End Wars Favored By Duluthians.

When Proper Time Comes Duluth Should Do Its Share.

The plan to keep alive local interest in the movement for an international organization to preserve peace, when the present conflict is over, advocated by the public affairs committee of the Commercial club at its meeting last week, and urged by The Herald, editorially, a few evenings ago, is meeting with approval by Duluthians who believe that some movement should be made to prevent a repetition of conflicts such as that which grips the world at this time, and not let matters drift as they have.

There are some Duluthians who express themselves as opposed to any such movement on the ground that it would look as though the United States is taking too much on itself to form the nucleus of such an organization, and on the further belief that European countries may look upon it as a case of the great republic "sticking its nose in their business." Such beliefs have been expressed, but those who favor such an organization believe that those opposed have lost sight of the actual meaning of the movement, which does not contain among its objects the settlement of present differences, but does aim to establish a court of conciliation to prevent future wars.

Henry Nolte, chairman of the executive committee of the Commercial club, which recently voted against the club's participation in the movement on the ground that the time is inopportune, favors keeping the matter alive and is against letting Duluth's interest in the movement die.

The executive committee considered the matter carefully and unanimously agreed that the time is inopportune for the movement. We cannot know what the end of the war will develop and it does not seem wise at this time to make arrangements to meet conditions which we cannot foresee.

But it would be a great mistake, in my opinion, to let that end the movement. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to establish a court of conciliation for the future, is a movement which is being carried on in many ways by which war in future might be avoided.

Something should be done in that direction, and while it may be too early to start, it is better to start in mind and be under consideration. Between now and the time the war is over and the battle is over, it is better to start in mind and be under consideration.

Further Suggestions Made.

The committee of the National Economic League also favored these proposals:

"A league of nations to be an evolution from one of the militant alliances now carrying on the war."

"A league of neutral nations for the purpose of promoting their common interests as neutrals and to stand together against trespass upon the rights of neutrals."

"International conventions providing automatically for a league of neutral nations upon the occurrence of any war."

"A confederation of all so-called civilized nations of the world, with a written constitution, congress and executive officers and jurisdiction over such differences as may arise among its members."

"A confederation of nations for the sole purpose of maintaining peace, under the constitution of equal representation from each nation; and having supreme authority over the armed forces of all."

"A federation of European nations to supply a pro rata contingent for a continental police system under direction of the Hague tribunal."

"Each nation to surrender its individual right to declare war, and delegate that right, among other necessary international acts, to an international government."

"An assembly with regular meetings to event in a federation of the nations, to devise plans to prevent and rules to govern future wars."

"Three associations to be as follows: (1) Europe, governed by England, France, Russia and Italy, the other countries being kept in line by these. All disputes to be settled by conference in London or Paris. (2) All of North and South America, provided that Canada can be induced to join. Otherwise let the dominion act as a part of the British Empire. (3) Asia, to be dominated by Japan either alone or in combination with other powers. All disputes to be settled by conference held in Tokyo."

WINS CASE AGAINST LOGGING COMPANY

Fred Blais Gets Decree for $2,984 From Jury.

Judgment for $2,984.73 was awarded Fred Blais against the Duluth Log company in a verdict returned this morning in Judge Darnes's division of the district court in a case which has occupied the attention of the court for several days.

Blais, who resides at Shovel Lake, Minn., sued the local company to recover money alleged to be due him on contracts to get out timber for the local company.

The company did not repudiate the debt but withheld payment on the claim that Blais was indebted to it for timber alleged to have been unlawfully removed from its lands during the winter of 1915-16, which the alleged trespass is eight miles from Remer, Cass county.

The company claimed for $8,000 damages, charging that a large quantity of tamarack trees had been removed. The jury considered the case until shortly after midnight and then reached an agreement in favor of Blais.

The verdict was sealed and was not opened until court convened at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

HELP PREVENT A CITY-WIDE EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES

Because of the large number of cases of measles reported from all parts of the city, Health Director Fahy issued another warning to the public this morning and in addition makes several suggestions for parents.

If the child sneezes and coughs, it has the first symptoms of measles. The appearance of a rash on the face or body indicates the disease. The constant running of the eyes, which appear to be closed up, is another indication. Discovery of any of these symptoms is serious and a doctor should be called immediately.

Parents should keep their children at home, no matter how slight the ailment appears, in order to prevent the spreading disease.

Don't think that measles is a slight matter; it is just as serious as any other disease.

About eighty cases of measles have already been reported to the health department, but it is believed that nearly half as many more persons are ill with the disease in various parts of the city, the attending physicians having been negligent in reporting them to the authorities.

The Terror of Grip is in the After Effects

How will grip leave you? You suffer enough while you have it, but the state it leaves you in worries you even more.

The disease has an almost fiendish way of searching out the weak spot in your system, getting a hold there, and lingering for months. Sometimes it's the back, sometimes the throat, often the digestive organs. You are in pain all the time; your strength is little, and the joy of living ceases to be.

Such conditions call for a good tonic. But it must be something more, for grip is a catarrhal malady, and the tonic must have special efficacy in catarrhal conditions.

When you think of catarrhal conditions, you always think of Peruna.

In Convalescence—PERUNA

It's the one tonic for such conditions. Literally, thousands have used it with marvelous success after grip. Its seems to make little difference what part of the body is affected. The trouble is a result of a catarrhal disease, and when this catarrh is overcome and a good tonic helps regain bodily strength, the patient begins to get well. There are many grateful letters, from those who have been benefited by it, and each of them treats of a different phase. Rely on Peruna. It will build you up.

So effective has it proved that many now take it on the first appearance of grip symptoms, and these folks unite in proclaiming

PERUNA as a Preventive

There is much good sense in this, for grip infection must find a weak place in your armor before it can harm you. Remove all catarrhal conditions, build up your bodily strength, clean all waste matter from your system. A good tonic will do this—Peruna is an especially good tonic for just such cases. Fight off the grip. It's better than curing it, even, but if it gets ahead of you restore yourself to vigor with Peruna.

You should keep Peruna at hand, ready to check any symptom of cold or grip at their first appearance. Promptness may save you a long and suffering illness.

Remember that Peruna also comes in Tablet Form

Mrs. S. A. Weir, 827 W. 15th St., Pueblo, Colorado, writes: "There is no better medicine in the world for colds and grip than Peruna. One bottle did more to relieve me of a bad cold and ease of grip than any remedies that I have ever taken."

IS THE ADMINISTRATION NEGLIGENT?

"A business place on a principal street has been entered and robbed and murder committed there at an hour when the street is most crowded."

"Robberies are accomplished at all hours of the day in all places."

"The machinery of apprehending offenders and of punishing them is clumsy, slow and uncertain."

"Criminals of the worst kind infest the city, and crimes of the most serious nature are perpetrated."

"The police force is unable to protect us from burglars and bandits."

"We have established a condition of hopeless law and successful lawlessness."

"Anywhere it is convenient or profitable to commit murder, murder is committed."

"Life and property are in a disgraceful state of insecurity."

And more of the same.

No, not Mexico—it's the Chicago Tribune, talking about Chicago.

Isn't the administration wretchedly culpable in failing to send United States troops into Chicago to restore peace and order, to make life and property safe, and to secure the community against lawlessness and violence?

Many Americans have investments in Chicago. Many Americans have gone there to live, and their lives, limbs and material possessions are left, through the weakness of the de facto Thompson government, exposed to the mercies of bandits, burglars, thugs and murderers.

Shouldn't the administration at once send troops to Chicago?

It should certainly send them there before it sends them to Mexico.

One of Duluth's advantages is that if all this snow should melt in a hurry, the water wouldn't stand around in the way for any length of time.

REPUBLICAN PEACE.

Republicans in Minnesota and the nation are striving for peace in the ranks; and as peace is always a worthy object, this is a worthy effort.

Only there are some queer things about it.

Four years ago the Republican party was split squarely between two factions—a progressive faction and a standpoint faction; a radical faction and a tory faction. It was war to the knife, and the campaign ended with the party strength at the lowest ebb in history.

It is not unnatural, therefore, that attempts should be made to reunite the party; though the bases now offered for re-union are unnatural in the extreme.

Roosevelt, who fought in 1912 for "the new nationalism," social justice, fair play to everybody and government by and for the many, is now interested only in militarism, and to serve his ambition of a strong government, powerfully buttressed by army and navy and under his control, seems perfectly willing to let "social justice" die.

The Old Guard has met him half way. As the Progressive San Francisco Bulletin says, "The Republican party will swallow the Progressive humanitarian program with one supposition—that it is not to be carried out. The Progressive party has issued a declaration of principles which displays it as a Progressive party with the progressive principles of 1912 with utter forgetfulness of their meaning, the game preceding the Republican national convention goes merrily on."

Representative Theodore Christianson in his Dawson Sentinel is sanguine that "the issue that was left open in 1912 is going to be settled this year." That is, the issue whether the Republican party is to be controlled by men who are looking forward and working to go ahead, or by men who have their faces fast set upon the past and are digging in their heels to hold progress back.

Yet if such a settlement is in prospect, the betrayal by Roosevelt of the "social justice" of 1912 and the eagerness of the Old Guard to embrace high-sounding principles providing it is understood nothing is to be done about it, do not make it manifest.

Mr. Christianson is right in this: "The country is not going backward. Its people are not going to allow themselves to be thrown into a panic by the European war; nor are they going to be so engrossed in contemplation of what is being 'put over' at home."

The PEOPLE are of that determination. Whether the REPUBLICANS are another question, yet to be decided. Strange alliances are in evidence, in state and nation; strange happenings are recorded; many queer political miscegenations are in evidence. Whether the beast that typifies the party that will run a candidate against President Wilson is to wear the horns of a moose and the tail of an elephant, or the head of an elephant and only the tail of a moose, is an interesting question that we soon shall see answered.

Where, oh where are the Jitney busses?

A PRACTICAL PLAN OF CHARITY.

Nobody can think of an adequate, well conducted institution for orphans without a glow of warmth in the heart, and a warm vision of the gentle and compassionate Savior, from whose great heart came these words, the eternal credentials of childhood and the epitome of all kindness, brotherhood and charity:

"Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God."

Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me.

One of the most admirable of these institutions, in this or any other city, is St. James's Orphanage, which stands on a slightly eminence in the outskirts of the city, affording a pleasant and wholesome home—which the good sisters strive to make a HOME in every sense of the word, to make up for the great loss of these otherwise homeless little ones—in pleasant and healthful surroundings. This splendid home for the fatherless and motherless is a standing monument to the loving heart of Bishop McGillicuddy, to whom it has been the closest cause for many years.

The debt on the Orphanage is paid, and it stands debt-free. The cost of maintenance is freed from interest charges; but still there is the cost of maintenance, and needs yet unmet, such as the need of a nursery.

The Guild of St. James, an organization of earnest Christian women, has cheerfully assumed responsibility for the expense of conducting the Orphanage, and to that end it has evolved an eminently practical plan. It hopes to gain members enough to meet, through dues, the whole of this cost. To that end it is starting a membership campaign which ought, planned so wisely and in such a noble cause, to be quickly successful.

If the membership campaign succeeds, there will be dues enough coming in each year to meet the Orphanage bills. The Orphanage will have a steady and dependable income, instead of depending, as such institutions too often must, upon the uncertainties of periodic appeals to the charitable. Where the latter method is used, usually it is either feast or famine with the institution depending on it—though far oftener famine than feast. The aim of the Guild of St. James is to enlist members enough to share the full charge; and thus the burden will be heavy on nobody, and all will have the satisfaction of sharing in this splendid work of providing homes for the homeless and mothering for the motherless.

It is an eminently practical plan, and it will be a pleasant thing indeed to see it succeed. It is a plan to encourage, to join with, and to recommend to other institutions similarly situated.

Then there may even be people who regard the leatherless shoe as an advance in commercial development.

ANOTHER STRAW.

The lumber camps, said a local article in The Herald last evening, are offering wages up to the high water mark of three or four years ago, and still men enough to man the camps are hard to get. "All logging companies are said to be short of men and in the market for more."

Lumber, too, was in the doldrums deeper than almost any other commodity. That it has struggled out and is enjoying prosperity once more shows clearly how widespread and far-reaching the present wave of good times has become.

Busy factories, shops and camps; increased wages and higher dividends; labor fully employed and well paid; industry active and business good in every line—if there is anything lacking to spell great prosperity, what is it?

Seems as if the storm must run out of gasoline after a while.

MORE MONEY FOR THE TEACHERS.

Though the scale hasn't been exactly figured out, news comes from the school board that Duluth teachers will be granted an increase in salaries next year.

That's good news, and we're glad to hear it. The teachers earn it and deserve it; and if it would get and keep the best teachers, Duluth must keep its salary scale up.

Moreover, it seems certain that there will be better feeling all around, and more assurance of justice, if the board goes further and adopts the plan of an automatic salary scale instead of the present plan of having salary raises depend on individual judgment—which too often may mean favoritism.

Hill's prediction that Roosevelt will not be the Republican candidate recalls the fact that in 1912 Hill's prediction that Roosevelt would be an overwhelming majority.

Cussing Wilson

By Sarnard.

Washington, Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—This man Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, is gifted with prudence and with foresight. He would love to please everybody; but he is wise enough to know that it is impossible to do that, and so he set about this: "I'll please myself; if that meets public approval, I will be vindicated; if condemnation follows, my party and I must take the consequence."

He did not express it in quite those terms, but after this fashion: The way to get approval is to deserve approval.

I never met the man but twice, and he does not know me, possibly never heard of me, but that is the estimate I made of him the first time I ever saw him. Be of good cheer, you Democrat, a master is at the helm, and he is pilot and sailor.

What ever does the Hon. Borah mean? Is his hat in the ring? Here he is raising Cain about Mexico and swearing he will not let low diplomatic relations be re-established between our country and that unfortunate republic. Why? Because if political tranquility be restored down there, the trade that comes with that people, order take the place of violence—then the G. O. P. would be poorer for an issue in the approaching campaign.

And here comes the Hon. Cabot Lodge and swears that we can have no amicable relations with Mexico because there is a general down there who is an atheist. If Lodge means anything, and possibly he does not, and if Borah means anything, and possibly he does not, it is this—Wilson is to be condemned because he did not make war on Mexico, overrun, conquer, spoliage and annex that country.

There is the whole Republican idea of the Mexican situation, except that no one of 'em, not even Roosevelt, has the courage to say what he thinks. The American people know and the American people endorse Wilson. As for the Hon. Fall, we can all diagnose his political malady. What he fears is that a surrender to demand of Woodrow Wilson make Mexico a reliably Democratic state, as it would.

Fall is not quite as big a man as the late John James Ingalls, who could afford to be a statesman out of a job, and rather enjoyed the novelty of it.

Sometimes a statesman is adrope in verbiage and adrope in wisdom, as when the Hon. Borah sent this pointless shaft from his plebeian quarry:

Senator Borah, in his speech, declared that the course of the administration with regard to Mexico was responsible in great measure for the continuance of the chaos in which European governments and European peoples now regard the United States. In view of what he regards as the backing and filling of the administration in its dealings with Mexico, he contends that the European people cannot understand how the United States government can take any such course.

At that very moment when this verbose statesman was uttering his blarney, of that the proudest chancellor of the ages indicted a dispatch to our state department that was a demand for the resignation of Woodrow Wilson. Ancient when Guelph was yet peasant, staller than all the royalties of history since Solomon sat on the throne of Hapsburg, on the banner of whose founder was inscribed the awful motto: "I am the friend of God and the enemy of man," the chieftain of the first Rome fell, returned a son answer to what he knew amounted to an ultimatum, and yet the law as laid down by our plebeian Republic of the Western Hemisphere under the presidency of Woodrow Wilson.

Not only that, but the British, the voiceful, says we are looked on with contempt!

We do not read the name of Borah in the list of those the Bull Moose would O. K. as the candidate of the G. O. P. for president. Then what is left to the Hon. Borah? Why, to cuss Wilson. What else could he do? Henry A. Wise said there was nothing left to the opposition but to cuss Wilson. Then it was anything to beat Grant; now it is anything to beat Wilson. Whom will he nominate against him? Hughes? It is a pretty well understood fact that Hughes has no serious objection to the Wilson policies. At any rate the nomination of Hughes would be a compliment to Wilson. The idea of these gullible chaps, who are boosting Hughes, is this: "We are for Wilson except in name. That is all you can make of it. And in the White House Hughes would get more cussing than Wilson from that set."

Come out from under the cover, Either nominate Teddy, or take Fairbanks, or Weeks, or Burton—may be honest and nominate the unspokeable Penrose, for he is your ideal and you know it.

Noteworthy.

Tit-Bits: King George was once enjoying the hospitality of a prominent peer at his country seat near the scene of one of Cromwell's historic battles. Strolling out one day by himself, the king met a peasant who was returning from a shelling expedition.

"I say, my good fellow," said his majesty genially, "I understand there was a big battle fought here, and you were in it."

"Well, er," stammered the blacksmith, recognizing and saluting the king, "I did have a round or two with 'em, but I didn't know your majesty had heard of it."

Rippling Rhymes

No Envy.

Old Bingsmith has a goodly pile of all the coins that are in style. He owns some palaces and mills, the cattle on a thousand hills, and bonds and stocks and mining shares, and ginseng farms and Belgian hares. My neighbors envy him a lot; his grandeur seems to make them hot. "He has a dozen cars," they sigh; "we walk, as he goes scorching by. He has roast turkey every day, and we are eating straw and hay. He wears a sunburst at his throat, and has a long Prince Albert coat, and hard-boiled shirts of divers hues, while we are short of hats and shoes." Thus they explain their grief to me; I cry, "You're happier than he; just content, my friends," I say, "the tax that poor guy has to pay! That is the punishment of those who corner all the coin that grows! Just watch them when they pay their tax—they dread it worse than stakes or racks, they writhe and shrink and swoon away, and yet you think the rich are gay!"

Super-Preparedness

Editorial in The Springfield Republican.

In the view of some students of the war none of the contending nations has as yet reached the ideal of preparedness. Universal military service may seem a fair beginning, but it is crude and archaic, and falls short of the needs of modern warfare. The notion that every able-bodied man should be a soldier harks back to primitive times when industry took care of itself. For a short war, in which an adversary could be smothered, and crushed by weight of numbers, the levy en masse may be the thing. For a war that is to last the whole strength of the nation more scientific system is needed.

This view is accepted to the full by an officer of the Canadian expeditionary force, who writes to a London Journal supporting compulsory service for the whole empire providing it is carried out on these lines. Any scheme of registration and training for a compulsory service for the whole empire, he argues, should not apply to the military service only, but to all the numerous and varied services which are required for the fit for something and can be trained for in such a system of truly universal training, which in one phase suggests William James' proposal for a peace conscription, that would be for all, and the efficiency of a nation would be gauged by the success with which it got the right man, and of course, the right woman, to do the right thing at the right time.

Even money-earning power, in a war of endurance, may count for more than the bravery and valor of an individual. A great violinist like the Italian, Caruso, or a great singer like the Italian, Caruso, or a great favorite novelist, actor or dancer, may be an asset; the government will merely appropriate their earnings and leave them free to extract cash from neutrals. But for a great variety of work connected with war, special training would be necessary, and a sufficient state would not put this off till the outbreak of hostilities. Even the individuals rejected by the army would be obliged to choose between Clapp and Eberhart, and would take it at the first call. And even among the physically fit many could do special duty better than in the trenches that efficiency would dictate an opportunity for the exercise of their peculiar talents.

In a state so organized there would be no waste. When war began the manufacture of luxuries, unless they could be profitably sold abroad, would cease, and the employees would be constantly shifted to shops under government control to practice what they had learned in peace. What to do with a man with a blind but patriotically economical people in England, because every domestic servant would be a reservist either for military or civil employment. Every business would have its scheme ready for mobilizing on a war basis, with assigned substitutes to take the place of employees needed for the government service. To keep up industry and to finance the war would be a matter of as careful preparation as the training of the individual. To keep up industry and to finance the war would be a matter of as careful preparation as the training of the individual.

No nation has yet approached this ideal of efficiency. Germany comes nearest to it, but she has not yet caught up with militarism, a plant of old growth. If any country might reach this pitch of super-efficiency, it might be inevitable. Unless, perhaps, the people should migrate to a freer country. Short of decadence and collapse, the worst that could befall the British empire would be such an effort as this Canadian officer suggests, to outdo Germany in preparedness.

Would Cities Refuse?

Iron Trades Review: Under the above caption, The Duluth Herald discusses in a sarcastic vein an editorial recently published by the Iron Trades Review, in which it was announced that the time had come for thinking people of this country to take a decided stand against present alarming socialist tendencies. The suggestion which The Herald endeavors particularly to ridicule is that an impressive way of protesting against the for leading cities of the country, through their commercial bodies, to declare their opposition to the building of armor plate and munition plants and say that they do not want such plants located within their borders. Our Duluth contemporary draws a sad picture of Uncle Sam trudging wearily from city to city, trying to find one which would accept such a plan, but meeting nothing but discouragement and reproaches and rebuffs everywhere he goes.

It seems to The Herald that for any city to refuse to take advantage of an opportunity to obtain a plant which would employ several thousand men would be preposterous. Would it? Not only would such action be a sound protest against socialism, but it would be also a protest against the method adopted by the government in operating plants in the past. Take, for example, the adoption of efficiency systems. General Crozier, in his recent report, has shown how the third is in the government to adopt scientific principles in opposition to the labor union, which are clamoring for the abolition of efficiency tests from government plants. By inserting amendments in appropriation bills, and in other ways, labor agitators have succeeded in preventing government plants from improving their methods and it is expected that still further efforts in the same direction will be made during the present session of congress. Government plants are notorious for inefficiency and for working shorter hours for more money than plants privately operated and owned. The plants of a government plant in any city is likely to be a constant cause of unrest and agitation among working men of the city. We have before wisdom dictates that manufacturers ought not to encourage the increasing of governmental activities as proposed by the advocates of the building of an armor plate plant.

Labor and Capital Must Co-operate.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the Atlantic: The world's wealth is constantly being developed and undergoing mutation, and to promote this process both labor and capital are indispensable. If these great forces co-operate, the products of industry are steadily increased; whereas, if they fight, the production of wealth is certain to be either retarded or stopped altogether, and the well-springs of material progress choked. The problem of promoting the co-operation of labor and capital will be regarded, therefore, as the most vital problem of modern civilization. Peace may be established among the nations of the world, but if the underlying factors of material growth within each nation are at war, the foundations of all progress are undermined.

Political Straws in the Minnesota Breezes

Off-year Campaign Talk by Minnesota Editors.

And There You Are!

Cambridge North Star: Boosting Eberhart for United States senator is knocking Burton out for governor—and not only the politicians but the voters will see through it.

And Both Are Fast Reaching That Conclusion.

Mankato Review: The only possible basis of harmony for the G. O. P. elephant and the Bull Moose is their common desire to get to the feed trough. If either of them should conclude that the trough is only big enough for one, look out for a lively scrap to determine which shall be that one.

As to "Withdrawing."

Elk River Star-News: The Brainerd Tribune says something in the following characteristic editorial paragraph:

"There's often a good deal of buncombe in this talk of withdrawing in the interest of party harmony—and often, too, it is really simply a political bargain of some kind, and the public is expected to believe it is for the good of the party instead of the individual."

But Think How Happy They'll All Be Together.

Battle Lake Review: The politicians may elect Eberhart, Tawney, Smith, Elly Ham and other standpats as delegates to the Republican national convention, but that bunch will never help nominate a presidential winner.

"Personal Ambition"—Why, How You Talk!

Platte City Press: We assert it again, Hon. S. G. Iverson and Hon. C. A. Lindbergh ought to withdraw from the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Party success along clean lines means more to the cause of good government than the gratification of any personal ambition. We say it with all respect to these gentlemen.

But Looks Sometimes Deceivable.

Carlton Vidette: Looks more and more like Hughes and Burnquist for Minnesota voters all the time.

L. I. C. and E.

Fergus Falls Press: If Iverson and Lindbergh are bound to run for a high office this year, they had better go after the senatorship. The people should not be obliged to choose between Clapp and Eberhart, and neither of whom arouses any general enthusiasm. Mr. Iverson is big enough to be senator and ought to be a stronger candidate for that office than Clapp or Eberhart. As for Mr. Lindbergh—well, we won't say it.

Explaining James' Course.

Waseca Herald: It is rumored that Jim Peterson pulled out of the gubernatorial race on the promise of getting second place on tickets. The Ed Smith machine will no doubt deliver the goods if some one don't throw a monkey wrench into the gears.

Democracy the Best Way

San Francisco Bulletin: A warm friend of democracy—as it is described in books—was saying that he nearly always came home depressed when he had taken a long walk through crowded streets and had studied attentively the faces of people he passed. This was particularly true of him on days when he was not feeling well. If he had sat up too late the night before, or had smoked too many cigars, he almost always grew profoundly discouraged about the future of the country.

It seemed to him, as noble as they sounded, but then the thought came to him that democracy was not a finished and complete thing. Democracy was just one way, and as he had to believe, the best way by which a nation could be governed in an imperfect world.

The alternative to democracy was the rule of the few, and it was almost impossible to select the particular few best qualified, in intellect and morals, to dominate the great majority. The rulers of the world were ordinary people, or worse, selected by chance or by means of qualities not entirely desirable in human beings. And since the rulers were nearly always common-place, or worse, it seemed pretty certain that democracy was the ultimate solution of all human governments, even though it did not bring the millennium. For it was clear that all the people were better able to govern themselves justly than were a few ordinary people, set apart from aristocrats, to govern themselves, plus the rest of the world.

My Child.

I cannot make him dead:
His fair sunshiny head
Is ever bounding round my study-chair;
Yet, when my eyes, now dim
With tears, I turn to him
The vision vanishes—he is not there!

I walk my parlor floor,
And, through the open door
I hear a footfall on the chamber stair;
I'm stepping toward the hall
To give the boy a call
And then, behind me, that—he is not there!

I tread the crowded street;
A scathed and
With the same heaving eyes and colored hair;
And, as he's running by,
I follow him with restless eye,
Scarcely believing that—he is not there!

I know his face is hid
Under the coffin-lid:
Closed are his eyes; cold is his forehead fair;
My hand that marble felt:
O'er it I pray I kneel
Yet my heart whispers that—he is not there!

I cannot make him dead!
When passing by the bed,
So long watched over with parental care,
My spirit and my eye
Seek it in vain;
Before the thought comes that—he is not there!

When, at the cool, gray break
Of day, from sleep I wake,
With my first breathing of the morning air
My soul goes up, with joy,
To him who gave my boy,
Then comes the sad thought that—he is not there!

When at the day's calm close,
Before we seek repose,
I'm with my mother, offering up our prayer,
Whatever I may be saying,
I am, in spirit, praying
For our boy's spirit, though—he is not there!

Not there! Where, then, is he?
The form I used to see
Was but the raiment that he used to wear:
The grave that now doth press
Upon that cast-off dress,
Is but his wardrobe locked—he is not there!

He lives! In all the past
He lives; nor, to the last,
Of seeing him again will I despair;
In dreams I see him now,
And, on his angel brow,
I see it written, "Thou shalt see me there!"

Yes, we all live to God!
Father, thy chastening rod
So help us, thine afflicted one, to bear,
That, in the spirit-land,
Meeting at thy right hand,
'Twill be our heaven to find—that he is there!

—John Pierpont (1785-1866).

The Boy Soldier

With Trivia in the Saturday Evening Post.

Up on the sand hills by Wimerous, where Napoleon camped when he was preparing to invade England, the Canadian medical corps had an out-of-doors hospital under canvas.

"Before a large double tent midway of the camp stood a guard."

"What's that for?" I asked the major who was showing me about the camp.

"Our wounded prisoners," he said, and his face hardened. In a week I had seen the spirit of the British army change from a soldier's easy tolerance of the enemy to a very vivid hate. The gas was responsible for that. After you have seen a man die of gas—

"But as we entered the surgeon's eyes became human for an instant."

"He's pretty young," he said, and indicated a cot beside which a nurse had just set down a basin and bandages.

He was, indeed, pretty young—not more than 18 he looked. He was a Bavarian, of the type that almost resembles the Italian. His dark skin was satiny; it overlaid long, smooth, youthful muscles. He had a pair of fine dark eyes. Just a pretty boy—as he lay there.

He glanced up at the nurse, and his eyes held all the defiant hatred of a wild animal in a trap.

"Turn over, boy," said the nurse. Her voice was kindly for the first time.

Probably he did not understand the words, but he knew what she wanted. He rolled over on his side, threw off the bedclothes and exposed a bandaged thigh. While the major chattered on the ways of rifle bullets, he got off the first aid bandages. Here was an example to the major's lecture. Theoretical, the little modern bullet, through clean, practically it is forever being deflected by a bit of bone; and then it leaves on its exit, a horrible, gaping wound as big as two palm-fingers craters of exposed flesh. So it had happened in this case.

It must have been painful, very painful, but the boy never once winced. He watched his fingers; never once did they show a sign of that unmistakable clutching which means agony. Whenever he looked at the nurse there was the same hard defiance in his eyes. He finished at last; also covered him and tucked him in almost tenderly, and hurried to empty her basin. He never looked at her again.

A minute later, and while the major was displaying to me one of the largest and most interesting flesh wounds he had ever seen, he glanced back at the pretty Bavarian boy. He lay as the nurse had left him; but his eyes were wide and wet; and as I watched, the tears began to run down on to the pillow.

He cried without sobbing—just tears and nothing more. For all his soldier defiance and manly fortitude, he was just a boy, very much hurt, very far from his mother.

REASONS FOR TARIFF BOARD

President Explains That All Circumstances of World Have Changed.

Executive Writes Frank Letter to Chairman of Committee.

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Wilson yesterday sent a letter to Chairman Kitchin of the House ways and means committee explaining why he had withdrawn his opposition to a tariff commission and now was urging the creation of such a body by congress. He wrote frankly that he had changed his mind because "all the circumstances of the world had changed."

Declaring that he "had no thought whatever of a change in attitude toward the so-called protection question," the president said the proposed commission would have nothing to do with the theories of policy, but would be charged only with the duty of seeking facts to guide congress in legislation. In another letter to Kitchin, Monday, he had set forth fully his ideas of what a tariff commission should be, and urged that the ways and means committee consider the matter immediately. He favored a wholly non-partisan expert organization.

All circumstances changed. "I have changed my mind," said yesterday's letter, "because all the circumstances of the world have changed, and it seems to me in view of the extraordinary and far-reaching changes which the European war has brought about, it is absolutely necessary that we should have a competent instrument of inquiry along the whole line of the many questions which affect our foreign commerce."

"I have had in this change of mind no thought whatever of a change of attitude toward the so-called protection question. That is neither here nor there. A commission such as I have suggested would have nothing to do with theories of policy. They would deal only with facts and the facts which they would seek ought to be the actual facts of industry and of the conditions of economic exchange prevailing in the world, so that legislation of every kind that touched these matters might be guided by the circumstances disclosed in its inquiries."

Fully at This Time. "I have said you feel as though it would be folly at this time, or until all the altered conditions are clearly understood, to attempt to deal with the problems of foreign commerce by legislation, and yet having dealt directly and clearly with the whole question of unfair competition within our own borders, it is clear that as soon as we know the facts we ought to deal with unfair methods of competition as between our own nations and others, and this is only one of the many things that we would probably wish to deal with. The other matters I have attempted to indicate in my previous letter to you. I am glad to supplement that letter by this explicit statement of the considerations which have been most influential with me.

"I need hardly say that I appreciate very fully the motives by which you are yourself actuated, and it is therefore, with the greater confidence that I lay the whole matter thus fully before you. Congress has so much to do at the present time that it is clearly impossible that it should be able to collect all data which such a commission would gather and I feel that it would presently find such a commission indispensable to it."

NO BLOCKADE AT PRESENT

British Government Will Adhere to Its Existing Policy.

Matter Discussed in House of Commons and Dropped.

London, Jan. 27.—The result of the anxiously awaited debate in the house of commons on the blockade question is that the British government adheres to its existing policy.

A resolution introduced by Arthur Stanley Dunn, Unionist member for Plymouth, that the entire over-oceanic traffic with Germany should be prevented by a blockade, was taken out of the subject dropped, thus leaving the position exactly as before the debate, except that parliament seemed more converted to the government policy.

Interesting figures published by the war department partly demolished the elaborate structure raised by the newspapers and Sir Edward Grey's effective speech appeared to finish the work thus begun. After the foreign secretary had spoken, Commander Bellairs said he had anticipated that nine-tenths of the house would be against Sir Edward Grey, but since his speech he had to admit nine-tenths were with him. In fact, after the foreign secretary said that the house gradually recognized and at one time during the debate only a half dozen members were present.

House Craved. At the opening of the debate the house was crowded, all the business section being very conspicuous and the galleries also were filled, notable visitors being the American ambassador, the Swedish and Danish ministers, Lord Fisher and Lord Stanhope, private secretary to the king. After Sir Edward Grey had concluded, the discussion, which interested Graham Stewart, Unionist, thought it would be advantageous to allow France

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD.
The Nature of Asthma

Difficult breathing may be caused by various conditions. Uremia from kidney disease, and pulmonary engorgement or congestion from a defective heart are two common causes of difficult breathing. But genuine bronchial asthma, or spasmodic asthma, as it is called, comes in paroxysms, usually at night, with intervals of freedom from difficult breathing. One with genuine asthma may have cough or bronchitis, or both, but the breathing is ordinarily easy in the absence of a seizure.

It is well known that certain individuals suffer from hives, or urticaria, when exposed to certain irritants, such as the eating of shellfish, riding after a horse, sometimes even touching a cat or a caterpillar. And the condition of hay fever is known to be dependent upon some specific pollen in such case. Now asthma may be caused by similar factors. Some specific protein or ptomaine is certainly the direct cause of the attack in many, if not all, cases of true spasmodic asthma. Hives, hay fever and true asthma are all considered types of "anaphylactic" reaction to a specific protein poison.

What is the source of the poison or ptomaine which precipitates an attack of asthma? Keen observers have long believed that some form of auto-intoxication of intestinal origin is accountable for certain cases of asthma. In recent years a number of laboratory workers have determined by animal experiment that certain ptomaines produced in the intestine by the putrefaction of protein (by bacterial activity) will induce symptoms typical of asthma when injected into guinea-pigs. Another source of ptomaines which must be considered in the study of a case of asthma is the septic focus. A focus in the tonsils or teeth or gums or elsewhere may be the underlying source of poison which keeps up the asthma.

Why does one individual suffer asthma or hives from such poisoning, when another individual escapes, though similarly poisoned? Because in the one case the internal secretions (from ductless glands) fail to detoxicate or oxidize the poison. This is especially interesting in view of the fact that hypodermic injections of adrenalin (a principle obtained from the adrenal gland of sheep) often give prompt relief to an attack of asthma—the sheep's ductless gland contributing a detoxicating substance to the patient's blood.

to conduct negotiations with America, respecting the blockade. William A. Foy, Unionist, said that Sir Edward Grey had failed to make as good a case as he might have done, and contended that the blockade was not touched the German economy machine. He suggested that the blockade was wrecked on the economic as well as the military side.

The Right Honorable Sir Robert Finlay, Unionist, said the government had every reason to be satisfied with the blockade. He suggested that the blockade was wrecked on the economic as well as the military side.

Lord Robert Cecil, parliamentary under-secretary of foreign affairs, assured the house on the authority of Lord Farnborough that there was no word of truth in the charges brought against British representatives in neutral countries. He regarded with suspicion those in neutral countries who were urging the allies to declare a blockade.

"We are trying to do, with some success," he said, "something that no nation ever tried before, namely, to blockade Germany through neutral countries. It is not a case for high-handedness, but rather one of caution and circumspection. It would be very serious to make mistakes which might be so serious as to prevent our winning the war."

Fourth Pamphlet on Gopher State. Board of Immigration Gets Out Work on Central Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald).—"Central Minnesota" is the latest advertising pamphlet issued by the Minnesota board of immigration. The first edition of 10,000 copies is now being distributed. This completes a series of four pamphlets on the state. Commissioner Sherman has divided the state up into four parts, giving each a separate publication. The book on Northeastern Minnesota is devoted exclusively to the description of the timber sections, or so-called "timberland," which are found in the northeastern part of the state, embracing a territory from Western Beltrami county across the state to Lake Superior, and from Central Pine county north to the Canadian line.

"Northwestern Minnesota deals with the prairie district, the central part of the state, embracing a territory from the Canadian line south to the Minnesota line, and from the western line of the state to the eastern line of the state. The book on Central Minnesota deals with the counties in the central section, describing the improved and partly improved farm lands and refers particularly to its adaptability for dairying and diversified farming.

All are attractive. All four of these works are unusually attractive advertising pamphlets, the cover being a four-colored work in which scenes typical to the part of section dealt with are represented. Each book contains sixty-four pages with many illustrations of actual farm and manufacturing scenes in the respective territories. About 50,000 of each of these series of books will be distributed throughout the states of Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and in fact practically all of the southern and northeastern states. The plan for dividing the state into four parts with literature to deal with each part separately is to make it easier for the prospective purchaser to get a line on the section of the state that he desires to locate in, and also to make more effective the work of this department.

"We receive at this time of the year between 50 and 100 inquiries a day," Mr. Sherman said, "but a large majority of them simply say, 'Please send me maps and literature of the state.' To these are sent a letter together with a book entitled 'Minnesota By Counties,' which describes every county of the state, and a state map. In the letter I ask them to read the literature and then write me again, giving me some idea of the county or section of the state in which they think they would like to locate. Nearly half of them, after reading 'Minnesota By Counties,' will write a letter together with a map of the state, and I send them one of the series of four books which will just complete the literature with a letter of description."

Nujol

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
A PURE WHITE MINERAL OIL
FOR CONSTIPATION

THE final test of a remedy is—does it do away with the trouble for which it is taken?

By that test, the various laxatives and cathartics stand condemned. They do not remove the condition they are supposed to cure. In fact, the longer they are used, the more they are needed. Laxatives and cathartics are dangerously habit-forming.

By the same test, the mineral oil treatment, used in conjunction with a return to rational habits of eating and exercise, reveals itself as the one logical remedy for constipation.

Nujol is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

Write for "The Rational Treatment of Constipation," an informative treatise on constipation. If you cannot get Nujol from your druggist, we will send you a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

COMMERCIAL CLUB FEDERATION DIES

University Extension Department Induced to Take Over Work.

H. V. Evers, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, returned this morning from Minneapolis, where he attended the annual meeting of the Minnesota Civic and Commercial Federation. The result of that meeting was a conference with the heads of the extension department of the state university, which will take over the work attempted by the federation, and was judged the best support of all commercial organizations that were members of the federation and of its predecessor, the Minnesota Federation of Commercial Clubs.

"This result," said Mr. Evers, "is a most fortunate one, and is what I have desired for a long time. The federation never was a success, and never would be. The extension department is situated so that it can handle the work attempted by the federation in a proper way with but little expense, which will, I believe, cheerfully met by the organizations interested. It will also be a good thing for the department for the work will put it in touch with communities and conditions which have been difficult to reach in a satisfactory way. The new arrangement will be of inestimable value to the commercial organizations, particularly the smaller ones."

RECIPE TO STOP DANDRUFF

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:
Bay Rum.....1 oz.
Barbo Compound.....a small box
Glycerine.....14 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half-pint will be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not dry, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes hair soft and glossy.—Advertisement.

ANOTHER JURY WILL TRY TO SOLVE M'ALPINE MYSTERY

This Time It May Be Asked to Decide Manner of Death.

C. O. Baldwin Retained as Additional Counsel By Mrs. McAlpine.

From a panel of twenty-two jurors drawn this morning in district court, twelve men will be selected to take a turn at solving the famous McAlpine death mystery.

Ever since John McAlpine, wealthy Duluth lumber magnate, was found in the basement of his East end home on the early morning of Aug. 15, 1913, with a bullet wound through his brain, every effort to solve the mystery of the manner of his death has proved futile.

The matter has been a subject of grand jury investigation. The grand jury reported that all indications pointed to murder, but no accusing finger was pointed. A similar verdict had been reached by the coroner's jury, which had previously sifted the affair.

Then Mrs. Sarah K. McAlpine, widow of the dead lumberman, sued the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York for $50,000 accident insurance, claiming that her husband was either killed or was shot by a burglar. The insurance company interposed two defenses, suicide and murder at the hands of the beneficiary. Although manifestly contradictory, the insurance company were not required to elect between the two defenses. On Sept. 25, 1914, a jury before Judge Cant found a verdict in favor of the insurance company. Both defenses went to the jury, and the verdict did not solve the mystery which still enshrouds the case.

Verdict Granted.
Judge Cant, who presided, granted a new trial, holding that on a retrial the jury might be required to determine not only whether the plaintiff was entitled to recover insurance or not, but also the manner in which the lumberman came to his death. This may be given expression in special findings submitted to the jury.

Mrs. McAlpine has other suits for insurance pending against other companies. The one brought to trial today is filed against the London, Guarantee & Accident company, which insured the late Mr. McAlpine for $24,000.

The defense anticipated in this case are similar to those in the case against the New York company and it is expected that the evidence will be much the same. Charles O. Baldwin of Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes has been retained by Mrs. McAlpine as additional counsel. The defense is expected to be handled by the late Mr. McAlpine's attorney, Mr. E. M. Steele of Superior, Abbott, McPherson, Lewis & Clark, appear for the insurance company.

More Latitude on Jurors.
Owing to widespread publicity which has been given the McAlpine cases, the court had permitted the selection of jurors to try the action. It was stipulated by attorneys today that a jury of twelve might be selected from twenty-two veniremen instead of eighteen as is customary under ordinary rules of court procedure. Five peremptory challenges instead of three will be allowed each side.

The jury of twelve will be selected from the following:
Ira Bowles, Walter L. Johnson, L. K. Helam, Frank Shebat, John F. Rice, H. Kraus, George H. George, H. Vrooman, John W. Constock, Carl A. Anderson, Hugh E. Allen, Frank E. Blodgett, Gustaf Grip, Frank Leake, James Falconer, J. A. Wallin, Austin Moody, Thomas Jenkins, Ollie Higgins and A. J. M. Jones.

The examination of veniremen which has begun in the morning will continue today. It is expected that most of the day will be taken up in selecting the jury which will be sworn to well and truly try the case.

CAPT. EATON WOULD SECURE CRUISER

Confers With Washington Officials Regarding the Topeka.

Capt. Guy A. Eaton has left for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the convention of the National Naval Militia association, which will be held tomorrow and Saturday, and also make arrangements, if possible, to secure the cruiser Topeka for the Duluth naval militia and attend to other matters pertaining to the militia.

The Topeka is much larger than the Gopher, the present training ship, and would enable the militia men to make the summer cruise through the Great Lakes and the coast.

Small boats will be secured for Division No. 6 at Crosby and Division No. 8 at Lindstrom.

A new forty-foot steamer has been ordered by the local militia men and will be used in making runs about the harbor. The militia already had a twenty-eight foot steamer, and both will now be used.

Capt. Eaton is expected to return next Tuesday.

INVITE ATTORNEY TO PRESENT CASE TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Committee Wants to Learn Backers of Terminal Project.

Theodore Hollister, general counsel for the Western Terminal Railway company, which is asking the city of Duluth for a franchise to build a street and alley right, will be invited to appear before a special committee of the Commercial club at a meeting to be held next Wednesday and reveal who the backers of the project are, and what their financial strength, intentions and assurances are in connection with the project.

The special committee appointed at the meeting of the Commercial club last night held a meeting today to discuss the franchise. This committee consists of Henry North, chairman, W. B. Gatchell, A. Miller McDougall, T. T. Hudson and S. H. Jones. Nothing but preliminary discussion took place, as the committee before it could do anything definite could be done. The committee would have to know the personnel, standing and ability to carry through the project of those interested in the project. Mr. Hollister was invited to appear before the committee.

ONLY ONE TRAFFIC ACCIDENT IN STORM

Edward Rosen Struck By Jitney While Going to Work.

One man was seriously hurt in the only traffic accident of the day, according to police reports this afternoon, although drifting snow and high winds have hindered street cars and vehicles throughout the city.

Edward Rosen, 208 E. 2nd street, a machinist employed by the Duluth Lumber company, was struck by a rapidly moving jitney bus this morning on Garfield avenue, while walking to work. Both his legs were broken, and he sustained internal injuries. It is believed.

L. J. Wilner, 2322 West Third street, was driving along Garfield avenue from Superior, at a fair rate of speed, it is said, when he passed a street car going in the opposite direction. Rosen was walking on the car tracks, and the auto driver, blinded by the swirl of snow, did not see him until it was too late. The injured man was taken to St. Luke's hospital in the ambulance.

Albert Anderson, 23, living at 2314 West First street, was injured yesterday when a street car struck the bakery rig he was driving, not far from the scene of today's accident. Anderson is being improved today. He also is at St. Luke's hospital with a broken leg.

These two are the only traffic accidents resulting from the snow storm, which still is raging.

Lowe & Co. vs. Martin Lawlor and others, which began in 1902 and reached its final stage in the United States district court here last week, when an order was issued relative to the sale of property taken under attachment.

The order, which requires the sale of 150 parcels of property, mostly the modest little homes of men who were named in the suit, is being enforced by the sheriff at Danbury.

PRESIDENT TALKS TO CHURCHMEN

Can Find No Basis for Peace But Justice, Says Executive.

New York, Jan. 27.—President Wilson delivered the first of his three addresses at noon before the clerical conference of the New York federation of churches representing all denominations. Amid hearty applause, he was introduced by Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young of Brooklyn, who remarked that "no other president ever had such universal prayer in his heart."

The president said that in his efforts for peace he had represented the spirit of the United States of America. He said he knew that in their hearts the people of the United States wanted to "keep the balance even."

"I can find no basis for peace but justice," he added. "The greatest force in this world is character and I believe that character can be expressed by the acts of a nation. This is expressed by the attitude of peace."

"America has always stood for the doctrine that every nation has the right to decide its own future. That is America's only desire."

"We will not consent having our liberty interfered with."

"People in America do not respond to any sentiment of aggression. Our passion is for liberty."

"Humph," muttered Smith, 'I always said that clock was slow.'"

Resinol Soap

a friend to tender skins

Any soap will clean your skin—a bar of laundry soap will do it if you do not care what becomes of your complexion. But you know that laundry soap contains harsh, drying alkali that would ruin your skin and hair, so you never think of using it for your toilet.

Many will make toilet soaps contain this same injurious alkali. Resinol Soap contains absolutely no free alkali, and to it is added the soothing, healing Resinol medication, which doctors have used for over 20 years in treating skin troubles. Thus it comforts tender skins, and helps nature clear the complexion and keep the hair rich, lustrous and free from dandruff. Sold by all druggists.

Resinol Soap also contains the Resinol medication, making it most soothing to tender, irritated faces.

AVOID ALL MEAT IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Uric Acid in Meat Excites Kidneys and Irritates the Bladder.

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Weakness or Kidney-Backache.

Kidney and bladder weakness results from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; with this there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. The about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

My hand was red and inflamed, and it itched so I had to do something, so I would rub it with a rough cloth until it looked as if it were ready to burst and bleed, and I was kept awake at night with it. It got to be a mass of pimples inside and out, and was swollen, and I could not put it in water nor use it much.

A friend told me how Cuticura Soap and Ointment helped her so I got them, and my hand was entirely healed." (Signed) Miss Norma Lee, 157 W. Main St., Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 6, 1915.

PRESIDENT DECLARES 500,000 TRAINED CITIZENS SHOULD BE READY AS MILITARY RESERVE COUNTRY MUST BE READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Executive Delivers Warning Messages in Speeches in New York.

Utterances Are Keynote of His Preparedness Campaign in West.

Says Outlook for Country
May Not Always Be So Bright.

New York, Jan. 28.—President Wilson returned to Washington early today leaving a message to Americans to prepare for a time when the international relations of the country may not be so bright as today. Frankly admitting his change of mind on the preparedness issue within the year, he called upon Americans to insist upon a body of 500,000 trained citizens who will serve as a national military reserve, immediately available under conditions of danger.

His utterances here were regarded as expressing the key-note of the preparedness campaign throughout the Middle West upon which he starts late today.

He spoke before the Railway Business association, before a gathering of 7,000 clergymen, and at the banquet of the Motion Picture and Trade Association. "I cannot tell you what the international relations of this country will be tomorrow," said the president at the railway business association banquet, "and I use the word literally. And I would not dare keep silent and let the country suppose that tomorrow was certain to be today."

Ready to Fight.
Applause greeted the assertion that "I always accept, perhaps by some impulse of my native blood, the invitation to a fight, and that while America stands for peace, it is ready at any time to fight for the vindication of its character and its honor."

Suffragists who attempted to obtain from the president a promise to support a woman suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution, were disappointed by their failure to elicit anything more than a reassertion of his position.

Fire Tug Breaks Ice Jam
at Risk of Being

Sheboygan, Wis., Jan. 28.—The worst flood in the history of Sheboygan, Wis., which caused damage running into thousands of dollars was broken last night when the fire tug Peter Reiss, risking the danger of being crushed when the ice broke, plowed its way into a big ice jam on the east side of the island off Central avenue and opened the channel which permitted thousands of tons of ice to float down the river into the lake.

U. S. Asks All to Make Agree-

Warfare.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The United States in asking all the European belligerents to make a general agreement to square their submarine warfare with the principles of humanity and international law, has taken the position that under changed conditions of naval warfare merchant ships should carry no armament whatever. All the powers have been notified that unless they subscribe to such principles, armed merchantmen will be denied entry to American ports except under the conditions which apply to warships.

PRESIDENT TO TALK PLAINLY

Will Not Mince Words in Discussion of Need for Defense.

To Deliver First Speech on Western Trip at Pittsburgh.

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Wilson returned from New York at 7:15 a. m. today. He went immediately to the White House.

The president planned a busy day finishing up pressing public business prior to departing tonight for Pittsburgh and the Middle West to deliver a series of speeches on national defense. He is anxious that the "speeding up" processes of congress be well under way before his return Feb. 4.

It was indicated today that in the Middle West, the president will devote his address to emphasizing the points made by him in his New York speech, although he will also discuss practically all important questions pending in congress including the shipping bill.

The president, it was said, will not mince words in discussing the need for national defense, and will talk very plainly about opponents of preparedness, and men who want a very large standing army.

Cabinet Meeting Canceled.
The president saw several senators and representatives on legislative matters, but the usual Friday cabinet meeting was canceled. He expected to see Secretary Lansing, however, to discuss foreign questions. During the

Court Holds That Candi-

Feb. 3.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald).—The constitutionality of the Minnesota presidential primary law today was upheld by the state supreme court, in a decision handed down in the case of Walter N. Carroll of Minneapolis, whose attorney had petitioned to have the law declared unconstitutional.

Mr. Carroll attacked the law after Julius A. Schmalz, secretary of state, had refused to accept proffered filing petitions of Mr. Carroll for delegate to the Republican National convention and for presidential elector. Two main points in controversy over the law, were decided in effect by the court as follows:

That candidates for delegates cannot file until Feb. 3, when the time for filing petitions for president expires.

That presidential electors, though they make affidavit to vote in the electoral college for the man nominated by the Minnesota primaries, should follow tradition and cast their ballots for the

Five Youths Arrested By Police Identified as Robbers.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Five men captured by the police early today in a raid on a West side rooming house and held on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery yesterday of the Washington Park National bank, were positively identified a few hours later by J. Garland (Jake) Stahl, former baseball manager and now vice-president of the bank, as being the bandits.

A woman betrayed the five men, the police said. The woman and six other persons are being held pending further investigations.

Detectives raided a West side flat building at the suggestion of the woman. The recovered stolen money was thrown from a window of the flat during the raid and was picked up and turned over to the police by a newsboy.

J. Garland (Jake) Stahl, former baseball manager and now vice president of the bank, identified the money as having been stolen yesterday.

With the robbers, the police obtained $7,800 of the $15,500 stolen yesterday by the bandits when they entered the bank and forced twenty employees and patrons to hold up their hands and face a wall while they searched for the money in the cashier's cage. The robbers made their escape in an automobile.

A Havas dispatch from Saloniki says the French marines were landed from a warship which was supported by two armed destroyers and took prisoner the local garrison, consisting of a captain and twenty-five men. the People.

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Wilson today selected Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to be associate justice of the supreme court to succeed the late Justice Lamar.

Mr. Brandeis' nomination went to the senate. It was a surprise everywhere in official circles. Mr. Brandeis had not even been mentioned for the vacancy. He will be the first Jew to sit on the bench of the supreme court.

Louis Dembitz Brandeis first sprang into national prominence at the time of the Bollinger-Finchot investigation by congress, when he served as attorney for Mr. Glavin. Since then he has been repeatedly before the public in connection with one or another of the prominent contests of the last few years.

Born in Kentucky.
Mr. Brandeis was born in Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12, 1856, and received his first education in the public and high schools of that city. Later he went to school in Dresden, and finally completed his scholastic work at Harvard in 1877. He was admitted to the bar, as being the bandits.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

More than half a million casualties have been suffered by the British forces so far in the war. The official figures giving the total up to Jan. 9, made public today, place it at 549,467, the number being made up of 24,123 officers and 525,345 men.

Operations which may have an important bearing on the Balkan situation are now taking place in Albania. It appears that the Austrians and Bulgarians jointly are making the most of what appears to be their present opportunity to overrun the country in which little effective opposition to their action is apparent.

Paris, Jan. 28.—A dispatch from Milan says several sections of the army of Gen. Their advance guards were reported on Wednesday near Krola and it is said that Gen. Koevess tried to enlist Albanian volunteers and, when they refused to join, offered to buy their arms. Faw, however, consented to part with their weapons.

The Bulgarians are said to be marching from Berat to join columns from Lake Ochrida.

GRAVE ANXIETY FOR STEAMSHIP APPAM
Lifeboat of Vessel Passed at Sea; May Have Struck Mine.

London, Jan. 28.—Grave anxiety is felt regarding the British steamship Appam, which left Dakar for Plymouth on Jan. 11, with 166 passengers and 134 in the crew. When about four days out, wireless communication with the vessel suddenly ceased. A dispatch from Hull to Lloyd's says the British steamship Tregantle, reported having passed at sea on Jan. 16 a lifeboat with the name Appam painted on the stern, and the bow knocked away.

For several days past, concern has been manifested in shipping circles regarding the fate of the Appam, many days overdue in its trip from Dakar in the French colony of Senegal, West Africa, for Plymouth. In the insurance market there was nearly abandoned and it was difficult to effect re-insurances even at the high rate of 75 guineas per cent.

Two or three other steamships coming in the same direction as the Appam are also overdue.

Among the 166 passengers on board the Appam were colonial officials. A report from Lisbon recently announced that mines had been discovered in the Bay of Biscay. The lifeboat with the name Appam painted on the stern reported by the steamship Tregantle was passed by that vessel in latitude 33.4 north longitude 14.32 west.

The Appam, of 7,781 tons gross, 415 feet long and 57 feet beam, was built in 1913 by Harland and Wolff at Belfast, Ireland. She was owned by the British & African Steamship Navigation company.

London dispatches reflect anxiety over the possible fate of the British steamer Appam, of 7,781 tons with 166 passengers on board, bound from the French Senegal to Plymouth, and many days overdue.

IS VEXATIONOUSLY INQUISITORIAL

United States So Declares Holding Up of American Mail By British.

Text of Note of Protest Sent to Great Britain By U. S.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The text of the American protest to Great Britain against interference with neutral mails, made public last night, reveals that diplomatic and consular pouches have been treated in a manner the United States considers "vexatiously inquisitorial." The note, which describes the practices of British officials as "unwarranted interference," and urgently requests a prompt reply, points out that "a strong feeling is being aroused" in this country by the loss of valuable letters, while foreign banks are refusing to cash American drafts because they have no assurance that drafts are secure in the mails.

An Ideal Remedy for Nursing Mothers

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Safe for Baby and Mother.

Constipation is a condition that affects the old, young and middle-aged, and most people at one time or another need help in regulating the action of the bowels. Harsh cathartics and purgatives should not be employed to relieve constipation, as their effect is only temporary, and they shock the system unnecessarily. A remedy that can be used with perfect safety for the tiniest babe and that is equally effective for the strongest constitution is found in the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. This is an ideal household remedy and should be in every family medicine chest.

Mrs. F. I. Barsolow, 18 Leslie St., Holyoke, Mass., wrote to Dr. Caldwell, "Syrup Pepsin certainly is fine. I gave it to my baby, Evelyn, and also took it myself. It is the only medicine I have been able to take without affecting my articles are entitled to the ex-ceptional new neutral trade, and de-nyes the right of Great Britain to take neu-tral mail ships into British jurisdiction for purpose of search and then sub-mit them to local censorship regula-tions. It also denies that the British government has any authority over neutral sealed mails on ships which merely touch at British ports.

With the text of the American note was made public Great Britain's ad-interim reply, saying that questions of principle raised by the United States have made it necessary for Great Brit-ain to consult her allies before an-swering, finally, and indicating that there will be no unnecessary delay in the negotiations.

The American note is in the form of a memorandum to Ambassador Page at London, instructing him to file a formal and vigorous protest. It is dated Jan. 4, and in part is as follows:

Abstract of Note.
"Department advised that British customs authorities removed from Danish steamer Oscar 11,731 bags of parcel mail, en route from United States to Norway, Sweden and Den-mark; that British port authorities re-moved from Swedish steamer Stor-mer 88 bags parcel mail en route Gothenburg, Sweden, to New York; that 6,000 packages of merchandise, American property, have been seized by British authorities on the Danish steamer United States on her last trip to the United States.

"Department inclined to regard par-cels post articles as subject to same treatment as articles sent as express or freight in respect to legitimate search, seizure and condemnation. On the other hand, parcels post articles are entitled to the usual exemptions of neutral trade and the protests of the government of the United States in regard to what constitutes the un-lawful bringing in of ships for search in port.

Entire Mail Removed.
"The department is further informed that on Dec. 23 the entire mails, including sealed mails and presumably the American diplomatic and consular pouches, from the United States to the Netherlands were removed by British authorities from the Dutch steamer New Amsterdam; that on Dec. 24, the Dutch vessel Noorddyke was deprived at Rotterdam of all mail from the United States to Rot-terdam, and that mails still are held by British authorities.

"The department cannot admit the right of British authorities to seize neutral vessels plying directly be-tween American and neutral and Euro-pean ports without touching at British ports to bring them into port, and while there to remove or censor mails carried by them.

"Modern practice generally recog-nizes that mails are not to be cen-sored, confiscated or destroyed on high seas, even when carried by belli-gerent vessels. To maintain such a practice by bringing such mail ships within British jurisdiction for purposes of search and allowing censorship of mails cannot be justified on the ground of national jurisdiction."

OPPOSES PLAN TO TRANSLATE HISTORY Immigrants Would Not Benefit, Says Night School Head.

Immigrants to this country often are delinquent in speaking their native tongue, as well as the American language, according to George M. Paul-ine, principal of the public night schools being conducted at Central high.

"For this reason," he said yester-day, "I believe that the plan advo-cated by Judge N. C. Goodwin of the appellate court, Chicago, to have the United States history translated into the language of the immigrant in or-der to help the newcomer to qualify for citizenship, would not work out well in Duluth.

"There are now 355 students in the classes for foreigners, and they repre-sent thirteen different nationalities. It would be impractical to have the his-tory of the nation translated into the thirteen different versions, because it would not help materially.

"Foreigners show adaptability in a majority of cases, and if they can learn the English language and cul-tivate American ways without the aid of translations they are only the stronger."

COUNTY HAS TITLE TO SITE

Attorney for Board Believes It Can Transfer Prop-erty to City.

Would Register Title to All Courthouse Property Un-der Torrens Law.

Whether St. Louis county has such title to the 220 feet facing First and Second streets just west of Fourth avenue west, now a part of the county courthouse grounds, that it can convey a fee simple title to the city of Duluth, is a question which throws no serious obstacle in the way of the transfer of the property, according to Charles E. Adams, special counsel.

Adams, special counsel, today was advised by representatives of some of the owners whose lots were condemned by the county for the courthouse grounds that such former owners claim that a reversion still remains in them and that they will insist on further payments for such reversion before they will quit claim their interest to the county or city.

Notwithstanding such claims, Mr. Adams believes that the county board of supervisors, if they can get the condemnation proceedings un-der which the lots were acquired, in order, however, that the matter may be speedily disposed of and any pos-sible question concerning the county's title to this property settled, Mr. Adams will recommend to the county board to register title to all the courthouse lots under the Torrens title law of the state, if any of the former owners claim any reversionary interest they will have an opportunity to assert the same in such a registra-tion action, should the county board authorize it to be brought.

In Absolute Title.
"I have examined all the proceed-ings under which the county of St. Louis condemned the courthouse grounds," said Mr. Adams today, "and find that such proceedings were all taken under chapter 7, General Laws of Minnesota for the acquisition of land for public use, and that such provisions are now a part of the General Statutes for 1913, sections 5414 to 5422, inclu-sive. This is the only law of the state providing for the condemnation of lands for a courthouse, jail or other county buildings and it pro-vides that the title to the land ac-quired shall be in fee simple in the county instituting proceedings thereunder.

"In view of the many decisions hold-ing that the legislature of a state may provide for acquiring absolute fee simple title by eminent domain and by reason of the provisions of the Consti-tution of Minnesota and the statute under which the county of St. Louis condemned the courthouse grounds, I am of the opinion that the county may feel secure in its claim of title in fee simple to all of the courthouse grounds in which it is engaged in title by con-demnation proceedings."

ALIMONY DODGERS HALED TO COURT

Two "Released" Husbands Fail to Obey Court and Must Explain.

Francis Albert Pangburn, divorced husband of Josephine Elizabeth Pangburn, was yesterday served with an order to appear in court to explain his failure to obey Judge Dancer's order with respect to paying alimony.

Pangburn, on Oct. 25 last, was ordered by the court to pay his wife $30 a month. The last payment was made in December and the proceeding is brought to enforce payment of the alimony installment.

Benjamin Kusneriek, who was recently divorced from Alice Kusneriek and is in arrears three months' alimony, faces a similar situation. He is ordered to appear in court tomorrow and explain why he has forgotten to pay his wife $10 a month, as ordered by the court.

LIVING IN ERA OF WAR, SAYS WOOD

Declares U. S. Like Ship at Sea With Typhoon Signals Coming.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The position of the United States in a war-torn world was described to the house mili-tary committee yesterday by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood as like that of "A ship at sea, with typhoon signals coming from many directions."

"We are living in an era of war," he said, "and gradually are accumulating most of the trouble of the world." Gen. Wood, who appeared at the com-mittee hearing on the army increase bills, repeated in the main the testi-mony he previously had given before the senate military committee. He said it would take an army of a million and a half to meet the emergency of the war in Europe invite attack, he declared, the more powerful of the belligerents could land 500,000 men on American soil in less than thirty days.

A regular army of 250,000, fully trained and always under arms, with at least 2,000,000 reserves behind them should be provided, he urged, to meet the situation. The United States navy, he stated as fourth in efficiency, and declared it could not maintain control of the sea or defend its shores.

Full Naval Needs.
"While Gen. Wood and Col. Edward

F. Glenn, chief of staff of the depart-ment of the east, were testifying be-fore the house and senate military committees respectively, Rear Admiral R. S. Griffin, chief engineer of the navy, told the house naval committee con-sidering navy increases, of the mechan-ical ill to which submarines are heir, and of the problem of finding suitable engines for battleships and destroyers.

Admiral Griffin said he believes no foreign power was outstripping the United States in naval design and that type for type American craft was as efficient as any afloat. To show the condition of American submarines, he read a report stating that they each had done from 1,000 to 7,000 miles of surface cruising, and several hundred miles submerged last year. Their en-gines were available for duty approx-imately 300 days of the year, he added.

Col. Glenn told the senate committee the United States would be practically powerless to resist an invasion of any kind by the submarines. The wealth of the nation, he said, had become its chief menace, and would become a greater menace as the needs of potential ene-mies became greater.

"I am not one of those who believe we are in no danger from Great Brit-ain," Col. Glenn said. "Great Britain, with 4,000,000 trained men at the end of the war, could make an attack as successfully as Germany."

AMAZING IS RECORD

Interesting Chapter in History of American Business.

Figures Given to Prove Astounding Sales of Tanlac.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is the sensation of the drug trade of the United States. In the entire history of the sale of proprietary medicines, there has never been made a record worthy of comparison with the phenomenal sales gained by Tanlac in the first year of its distribution.

The enormous popularity of Tanlac is the great outstanding proof of its merit. No remedy of less than superlative quality could possibly pile up the huge sales record that has Tanlac, not only in the United States, but in the thousands who stand for the best in their communities.

The test of a medicine is the "repeat" sales it enjoys. Tanlac could only have built its phenomenal record from the fact that men and women who buy one bottle invariably return for the second, because Tanlac accomplishes actual results and so, almost at once, wins the firm faith of its takers.

Just nine months to the day from the time Tanlac was introduced, 1,000,000 bottles of the Premier Preparation had been sold. In nine months approximately one person out of every 100 in the United States had become a purchaser of Tanlac.

It stands as a record eclipsing any achievement of the past and it becomes the more remarkable when it is realized that Tanlac is never sold except by one drug firm in each city.

Tanlac is now sold in Duluth by Willam A. Abbott, "The careful druggist," at 212 West Superior street and at the Abbott branch stores, 101 West Fourth street and 222 East Second street. Tanlac may be procured from the following exclusive agents adjacent to the "Head of the Lakes" metropolises:

CAVALIA IS GREEK BASE

Military Headquarters From Which Territory Must Be Defended.

Quays of City Cluttered With Big Guns and Ammunition.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Cavalla, Greece, Dec. 22.—What Saloniki was a fortnight ago, Cavalla has become today—the base of the Greek armies in Eastern Macedonia, the military headquarters from which Greece must defend the territory she conquered from Bulgaria two years ago—if it is to be defended.

The quays of the port are cluttered with big guns and their ammunition. The steep, narrow streets are blocked with soldiers. Long trains of mules, laden with the impediments of war, climb the winding ways, between overhanging Turkish houses, bound for Drama, for Serre, for the Bulgarian frontier. For all her removal of soldiers from Saloniki, Greece is not disarming. Now, judging from the appearance of Cavalla, has she any intention of leaving the rich land she wrested from the Bulgars in the last war in any danger of falling into Bulgarian hands again.

It is easy to understand the Greek desire to keep Cavalla; not that it is really a Greek city, as every Greek is so ready to assert so passionately, for it is far less Greek even than Saloniki. But certainly it is not Bulgarian, either. It is Turkish-Turkish, with a leaven of Saloniki's admixture of Hispano-Portuguese, Jewish blood, and some slight relic of the Venetian occupation of the middle ages. But being just that, it can readily be turned into Greek, Bulgarian, Serbian or what not in a few years' time. The Turkish element is as always infinitely adaptable.

Should Be Greek.

There is no very positive reason why Cavalla and the district it serves should not be Greek. Every smoker of a Turkish cigarette holds between his fingers the reason, from the Greek point of view, why it should. For Cavalla is the port of export for one of the richest tobacco-growing tracts in the world. Not as rich as certain districts of Cuba, but nevertheless exporting over 100,000,000 drachmas worth of tobacco per annum—more than $20,000,000 worth, with very primitive means of cultivation and shipment.

For there are no railroads out of Cavalla to the plain of Philip which from being the battlefield of the army of Mark Antony, victorious over the armies of Brutus and Cassius in B. C. 42, has become the gateway of the tobacco-growing country of Macedonia. The only way to Drama is by the "Lion," an automobile transformed into a stage coach, which makes daily trips, when the roads permit. And at Drama is the nearest railway connection. The ship, the tobacco out of Greece by a Greek port, it must be brought over the mountains on mule-back, sewn up in neat little bales.

Not is the port in its present stage adequate to a proper shipment. The bay of Cavalla is rather an open roadstead than a harbor, though with a little money it could readily be improved. The existing quays are inadequate. Even the smaller ships must shore—a process scarcely calculated to improve the tobacco, which is frequently wet in the course of transportation.

The town lies on the skirts of a semi-circle of barren hills that seem to crowd it into the sea. Like so many of the Egean towns, it bears in its general character the imprint of Venetians. It might be an Italian town—Amalfi, for preference—with its blue and yellow and pink houses with tiled roofs, climbing the steep hillsides in the shadow of the Venetian citadel and the splendid Venetian aqueduct that dominates the city. Only the frequent minarets of the Turkish mosques and the great many-domed edifices built by the Egyptian Moslems mark the Turkish character of the place from afar. The latter was constructed as a free school for orphan boys. Today the same foundation gives hundreds of poor a daily ration of bread and soup.

Guarded by Soldier.

The gate of the citadel is guarded by a soldier. The Associated Press correspondent approached him with a box of cigarettes and his thirty-six words of Greek. Inside the gateway another soldier lounged listening to the halting colloquy. Finally he stepped forward.

"Say, don't you speak English?" he asked.

The correspondent admitted the soft impeachment. The soldier was a New York Greek of whom there seem to be no end in the Greek army. An arrangement was quickly made, the commanding officer called, his check still bandaged from an unhealed wound received in the last war. He in his turn spoke German. Permission to visit the fort was promptly given.

Within the courtyard was full of tents, the whole place alive with Greek soldiers. One offered a neck-lace of colored beads he had been making in his idle hours for a drachma.

"We got too much time," said the New York Greek. "Not got enough to do. Better fight." The court of the old castle was badly drained. The sanitation of the camp was manifestly rudimentary. Leaning over a wall, a similar odor rose from the wretched Turkish hovels clustered under the walls. Below, far below, one could see sixteen men with four long poles from which was swung by ropes a swaying tun of wine. Hands on one another's shoulders, interlocked to keep precarious step, they shuffled unsteadily up the muddy, slippery main street. Descending parties, bent double under four bales of tobacco piled high on the back of each, squeezed against the walls to let the grunting wine carriers pass. Long trains of mules loaded with hay hustled other caravans loaded with wood, while the turbaned drivers swore at one another and at the mules.

From above, there scarcely seemed to be any streets or shops—all were bazars, open to the ground, the shoe-maker or tinmith or presser of fezes working at the sidewalk's edge, the passersby in measure sheltered by overhanging eaves almost meeting above the narrow ways. Occasionally, at an open spot, the inevitable tree, under which the Turks sit to smoke their bubble-pipes and drink their coffee, and vines stretch from roof to roof to shade these peaceful corners where each leads the indolent life of the Ottoman.

The New York Greek, leaning over the crumbling Venetian parapet, sniffed at the offensive odor.

"When I'm through here," he explained, "back to the United States. This poor country—what poor country. All right for Greeks—don't know no better. No place for 'mercen' citizen."

"Why are you an American citizen?"

"No. Not yet. But will be soon as I can—believe me!"

ROBERTSON ACQUITTED

N. P. Switchman Did Not Commit Perjury, Says Jury.

Freed of Larceny Charge
Last Spring; Two More Indictments.

George K. Robertson, Northern Pacific office switchman, did not swear falsely when he testified in his own behalf at his trial last February for alleged complicity in the theft of $3,600 worth of copper from a box car in November of 1913.

So the jury in Judge Foster's division of the district court decided yesterday afternoon after two hours of deliberation. Robertson was acquitted under an indictment charging him with perjury.

Yesterday's verdict is Robertson's second. In April of last year he was acquitted on a charge of grand larceny after two trials, the first being a disagreement.

Two indictments are still pending against the defendant. One charges him with having perjured himself while giving testimony upon his second trial and the other accuses him of the crime of burglary. All grew out of the same transaction for which he has been tried three times.

John H. Norton appeared as counsel for Robertson at each trial and County Attorney Greene prosecuted.

URGES RELIGION TO WIN THE WAR

Vice Admiral Beatty Declares Great Revival Is Necessary.

Liverpool, Jan. 28.—Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the first British battle cruiser squadron, whose ships defeated the Germans in the North sea, has made a stirring appeal for a great religious revival in England as a necessary step to victory in the war. In a letter received at the annual convention of the Society for the Propagation of Christian Knowledge, he writes:

"Surely, Almighty God does not intend this war to be just a hideous fracas or a blood-drunk orgy. There must be a purpose in it, improvement must come out of it. France already has shown us the way and has risen out of her ruined cities, with a revival of religion that is wonderful. Russia has been welded into a whole and religion plays a great part. England still remains a nation of pagans, and it is to be taken out of the stupor of self-satisfaction and complacency into which her flourishing condition has lapsed. Until she can be stirred out of this condition, until a religious revival takes place, just so long will the war continue. When she can look on the future with humble eyes and a prayer on her lips, then we can begin to count the days toward the end. Your society is helping to this end and so is helping to bring the war to a successful finish."

WILL HALT "BAD CHECK" EPIDEMIC

Three Arrested in as Many Days Causes Sympathy to Subside.

Straight fines or work farm sentences may be meted out to passers of worthless checks in the future if recommendations of Police Chief R. D. McKechnie are followed.

Cases of that kind are becoming so frequent that police say something must be done to put a stop to it. Three men have been arrested for passing worthless checks in as many days, and two of them are out on parole.

William T. Watt, 28, living at 1308 East Eighth street, was fined $52.50 yesterday, and placed on parole for one year. Bert Broadbridge, 23, who lives at 1014 Eleventh avenue east, was fined $30 and costs, and paroled for six months. Both men pleaded poverty and said they passed the worthless paper to obtain money with which to provide necessities for their families.

Charles S. Jones, 42, was brought in yesterday by Detectives Roberg and Barber, after Oscar Mattson, a clerk at McCoy's Sample Shoe store, Second avenue west near Superior street, accused him of passing a $5 check.

Jones said he didn't know his bank balance was so low, and pleaded not guilty. He will be given a hearing Jan. 31.

ORCHESTRA REHEARSING FOR TWILIGHT CONCERT

Director Fred G. Bradbury and the members of the Duluth orchestra have the rehearsals for the second twilight concert to be given at the new armory next Sunday afternoon well in hand, and another delightful concert is assured.

The seating plan will be open at Royce's drug store until 9:30 Saturday night for the convenience of patrons who desire to make their reservations in advance. From the many flattering comments that have been heard on the success of last Sunday's concert, the many inquiries that have been made the last week and the additional season subscriptions received, next Sunday's audience promises to be even larger than that of the first concert.

Duluth has awakened to the fact that it has at last an excellent orchestra, and it is to be hoped that the interest will increase to the extent of taxing the capacity of the new armory for the remainder of the concert series.

If last season is to be taken as a precedent, this will no doubt be done, as the high school auditorium proved far too small, as hundreds were turned away at last concert during the latter half of the series.

It is expected that work on the false roof at the armory will be completed this week, and the management can then carry out its plan to make the huge auditorium more attractive, which would add greatly to the enjoyment of the patrons.

Eyeglasses Aid the Business World

"Efficiency" is the watchword of most business men today. If we aren't efficient we don't get along in the world. Defective eyesight is a big handicap to ambitious men, yet many do not realize the truth of this.

If you feel that your eyes are not what they should be, let our optometrist show you what glasses will do for you. He has the experience (and the equipment) to examine eyes and make glasses that will give you a clearer outlook on life and business.—Optical Dept., Main Floor.

STORM HOLDS UP PRODUCE

Many Cars of Perishables Delayed at Roundhouses En Route.

Butter and Egg Situation Unchanged; Apple Prices May Advance.

The movement of everything in the way of fruits and vegetables has been badly hampered again this week, as a result of the prevailing cold and stormy weather.

Cars of perishables coming through from Pacific coast ports have been held up by the railroads in roundhouses en route as soon as the storm wave was reached, and as a consequence commission houses here have had light receipts during the last few days.

While quotations in butter and eggs are the same as a week ago, the market tendency is easier, according to the Hildesheim-Russell company, and the Victor Produce company. The best creamery butter is quoted today at 32¢ a pound, but it is expected in trade circles that a slight reduction will be announced any time now. While consumption of butter shows a marked increase over last year and it is still gaining rapidly, there is said to have been a corresponding jump in production over the entire country.

Storage Butter Stocks Large.
As the amount of butter in store in warehouses during December and January was reported to have been larger than ever known during those months, it is now thought to be an open question as to whether the storage product will have been disposed of before the season again becomes active in the spring. The future course of the market will depend mainly upon the extent of the current butter made up till the time grass pasturage becomes available.

Egg Prices Unchanged.
In a quotation sense, the egg market is also a standard. Fresh eggs are still quoted wholesale at 31 to 32 cents a dozen. In spite of the cold weather, receipts on this market are increasing and barring the development of a heavy gain in consumption, it is thought highly probable that holders of storage eggs will be compelled to take a loss upon their stocks if they have on hand in the early spring. In the usual order of events in the egg business, the storage product is sold after March 1, so that dealers have less than five weeks left in which to get rid of their storage stocks. Trade statistics show that storage supplies of eggs were the heaviest on record this year, and that in spite of a large increase in consumption during the winter, the surplus on Jan. 1 were 200,000 cases larger than a year ago. The North-west is said to have made an especially good showing in egg production of late, indicating that the number of poultry flocks is steadily increasing.

Apple Sales Large.
While the movement has been curtailed through bad weather conditions, Duluth commission houses report that their volume of business in fruits and vegetables is satisfactory. Apples, oranges and grapefruit are the features in the fruit line according to the Hildesheim-Russell company, the Steacy-Merrill fruit company, and the Culbertson Bros. company. Sales of apples continue steady, they say. While prices in both New York state and California are higher than a year ago, Duluth and western box fruit are unchanged, slight advances are predicted in the near future to cover accumulated storage charges.

The movement is said to be good in both California, navel oranges and grapefruit. A feature in the fruit is the extent of the early run of Florida strawberries. They are quoted today at 40 cents a quart.

In the vegetable list, potatoes are firm at $1.15 a bushel. That is considered to be largely due to their market being partially held up through the weather.

BADGER G. O. P. IS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Governor Philipp One of Four Delegates at Large Proposed.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—A lengthy platform which was unanimously adopted by the Republican convention held here yesterday indorses the fundamental principles here before advocated and maintained by the Republican party of the nation and the administration of Governor Philipp.

The platform favors a protective tariff, scientifically worked out by a tariff commission, for all industries that require protection against goods made by cheap labor in Europe, and the Orient giving labor a maximum employment of the fruits of industry by protecting the capital honestly invested, to employ labor in the most efficient manner for our own and best sugar industry and an agricultural schedule high enough to protect our farmers and dairymen.

The plans on preparedness are as follows: "Such a state of national preparedness as will be adequate to maintain the dignity of the American flag at home and abroad." We advocate this not for aggression, but for the security of our treaty rights, defensive purposes and the maintenance of peace.

Broad American Policy.
"In our relations with foreign countries we should pursue a broad and patriotic American policy and insist upon a neutrality based upon justice; the protection of American interests and American rights under international law equally against the aggressions of all nations. In conformity with these principles, we believe that the president and congress should exert every effort to secure the recognition of our rights and interests and the restoration of our prestige with foreign powers."

The document concludes by condemning "the extravagance of the Democratic administration, which has made necessary the imposition of a war tax in times of peace, and the patriotic duty of every political party to put forward as its candidate for president its ablest, strongest and wisest statesman."

Delegates at Large.
The convention selected twenty-six candidates as delegates to the national Republican convention at Chicago. The four delegates at large are: Governor E. L. Philipp, Milwaukee; C. K. Ellingson, Hawkins; Judge Emil Baensch, Manitowish; and S. A. Cook, Neenah. All the delegates will be voted for at the primary election in April.

An attempt to have the convention endorse a candidate for United States senator proved unsuccessful. It was decided, however, to hold another convention after the April primaries, composed of ten delegates from each of the eleven congressional districts, to endorse a United States senatorial candidate.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the true cause of chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two tea-spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. It dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifold coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

ORDINANCE TO REGULATE HOTELS

Safety Head Would Put Check on Hostleries of Questionable Repute.

An ordinance licensing and regulating hotels in Duluth may be introduced shortly by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division.

Drafting of the measure was decided on yesterday by the safety head as a result of the Camacker case a week ago, when a local hotel employee was arrested for serving drinks to guests. Nothing could be done to the hotel owner as a result of the conviction, because there was no law on local books governing hotels.

"The sole purpose of the measure will be to give the police the power to regulate hotels of questionable repute," said Commissioner Silberstein.

DENIES SETTLEMENT OF THE HILLIS SUIT

New York, Jan. 27.—William Austin Moore, attorney for Percy Hillis of Chicago and Seattle in the $50,000 libel suit that he brought against his uncle, the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, yesterday denied that his client had signed an agreement withdrawing the suit, as stated by Charles T. Lark, counsel for Dr. Hillis.

"I received a message from my client today advising me to extend the time of settlement to Mr. Lark for one week," said Mr. Moore. "If any settlement has been effected, it concerns only one phase of the matter. I have not yet been advised to withdraw the libel suit entirely."

MORE SNOW ON THE WAY

Another Northeast Forecast By Weather Man for Saturday.

Another northeast gale and a heavy snow storm are imminent. Not satisfied with the blanket of snow, to the extent of about 10 or 12 inches, which fell yesterday and the day before, the powers that make the weather are to turn loose another deluge of the same kind on Duluth, beginning tonight and developing to the full by tomorrow.

Mr. Richardson said today that he expects the wind to shift back to the northeast this afternoon or this evening, and the threatened snow storm to reach its full force tomorrow. Its duration is as yet, unknown.

Accompanying its advent, the temperature will rise, going to about zero or above tonight. Usually higher during the day than at night, the temperature at 10 o'clock this morning was 2 degrees above, rising from 5 degrees below, which was the record at 7 o'clock, and the lowest the mercury had reached in the last twenty-four hours. At 7 o'clock last night it was 2 degrees above zero and at 10 o'clock last night it was just zero.

Cold weather west of here continues. Temperatures in North Dakota ranged from 20 to 30 degrees below; it was 40 degrees below in Alberta and 15 to 20 in interior and northern Minnesota.

511 Columbia suit and overcoat sale ends tomorrow night.

AUSTRIANS AND BULGARIANS MARCHING

German trenches situated in front of Boesinghe and between Stenestraete and Hiteas, caused serious damage to our adversary.

"In Article to the east of Neuville-St. Vaast, the enemy attempted by a counter-attack to retake the craters from which we drove him in the course of the night, but was completely repulsed."

Italian Statement.

Rome, Jan. 28, via London. The following official communication was issued last night by the Italian war office:

"Along the whole front there has been activity, assisted by aeroplanes. The enemy artillery started a violent fire in the Terracina valley, which we countered and stopped. Heavy aviators dropped bombs on Ala, in the Lagarina valley, on Ronco, and Borgo in the Salsina valley, but without damage."

Quiet in Montenegro.

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, Jan. 28. The Austro-Hungarian headquarters communication as received here says:

"Jan. 26 all parts of Montenegro were quiet, as also was the Scutari district. A majority of the Montenegrin troops have been in custody. The disposition is entirely friendly."

"On the Italian front there is a slackening in the activity. Near Osavio, fifty Austro-Hungarian lines."

BANK'S MONEY IS RECOVERED

a cardboard box containing the $7,500 which was recovered from a window in a building on the corner of Third and Superior streets.

Bank officials quickly identified much of the money as that which was stolen yesterday. Soon afterward Stahl positively identified the men as those who had been at the point of a revolver to keep quiet.

House Watched.

Detectives had been watching a house on the West side all night and when a newsboy passing on his way to his stand saw a box on the sidewalk and kicked it over the curb. The money, the police raided the house and took the five young men into custody.

Information as to the whereabouts of the bandits was given by Mrs. Joseph Friedman, who, with her husband, was taken into custody. Bank officials have been notified of the arrests and until the arrival at detective headquarters of the officials and witnesses of the robbery, the police refused to make public any of the details of the arrest. It was stated, however, that two men and two women, including Mr. and Mrs. Friedman, were held. Detectives who assisted in making the arrests said that they thought the money was thrown into the street after it was learned the house was surrounded.

Recreation for Youth.

A board of recreation to interest the youth of the city in wholesome sports and to aid in eliminating evil influences from the lives of young people is to be appointed by Mayor Thompson.

The announcement was made by the mayor today following the robbery yesterday of a South side bank by five youths, none of whom are thought to be more than 20 years old. Within the last several months many robberies have been committed here by boys and young men. The robbers have been called the "baby bandits."

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY LAW OF MINNESOTA HELD TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL

National party candidate nominated for president.

The following is the decision by the full court:

Upon the application of the relator, Walker N. Carroll, the respondent, the secretary of state, was required to show cause before the court why he should not place the name of relator upon the ballot as a Republican candidate for presidential election at the coming presidential election, primary election, and also as a Republican candidate for delegate to the national convention of said party.

In response to the order to show cause the secretary of state assigns

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that it has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the treatment of one observer we find that certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment should be given preference over another remedy for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets are purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headache, neuralgia and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SAID TO BE THE YOUNGEST BANK PRESIDENT IN UNITED STATES

THEODORE HETZLER.

The youngest bank president in the United States is Theodore Hetzler, just raised to the head of the Fifth Avenue Bank of New York. Mr. Hetzler when he was 15 years old as an applicant to the bank for a job as messenger. He was engaged. He was 25 years ago. He was promoted to the position of cashier five years ago and today at the age of 40 he is head of one of the biggest banking concerns in New York.

Industry, Mr. Hetzler says, is the key to success, and opportunities are as plentiful today as they ever were, according to his way of thinking.

As a reason for refusing to accept and the affidavits of candidacy presented by the relator that they do not comply with the statute.

Response in Light.

As to relator's candidacy for delegate to the national convention of the Republican party we think the respondent clearly right in refusing to accept the affidavit. Section 1 of chapter 372, Laws of 1915 governs. When the affidavit was tendered, one had filed a petition to become a candidate for president and vice president, and the respondent is not bound to accept it.

As Presidential Elector.

As to relator's candidacy for presidential elector we are also of opinion that the respondent is clearly right in refusing to accept the affidavit. The law does not require candidates for electors to state a preference as to presidential candidates. The federal constitution gives the electors a free choice, but tradition demands that they cast their votes for the party which they favor.

MAY DIVIDE TRIBAL FUND

Mr. Cato Sells stated that at least 75 per cent of the Chippewa would be entitled to participate in this distribution, as they have reached a stage of civilization that has made them capable of conducting their own business affairs. The bill also directs the secretary of the interior to allot one-fourth of the share of mining and destination for their care and support.

Direct Geological Survey.

Another bill introduced by Mr. Sells directs the secretary of the interior to cause a geological survey to be made of such of the ceded lands as are undivided and to reserve those containing iron ore for the benefit and use of the Indians. Appropriation of $1,175 is made for the maintenance of the Pipestone Indian school. The bill also provides for the remodeling of one of the buildings for dormitory purposes, $10,000 for medical and general utility shop, and $5,500 for a septic tank. One thousand dollars is provided for the annual White Earth celebration in June.

Bill for Fish Station.

A bill appropriating $25,000 for the establishment of a fish culture station in Koochiching county, Minn., was introduced by Representative Van Dyke. Mr. Van Dyke has also made a request of the Bureau of Fisheries for the purchase of the Minnesota fish and game commission of 200,000 lake trout, 15,000 land locked salmon and 25,000 steel heads for stocking Minnesota waters.

Representative Lindbergh today advised the state officer's commission that he would attend hearings of the commission to be held at Washington, D. C., on Monday. He will leave Washington some date next week.

opinion that the suffrage issue should be settled by the states.

Not the least interesting phases of the president's visit was his speech to the Motion Picture Board of Trade, where he made comments on "Hills" and their efforts to deceive him as to the Mexican situation and the expression of his views of men who attempted to "humbly" him, stirred his audience to laughter.

The president put in a sixteen-hour day here. He left his car in the Pennsylvania station at 12:30 and did not return to it for the trip back to Washington until after midnight.

Appeal to National Defense.

President Wilson last night opened his personal appeal to the country's national defense. He gave warning that plans for the readjustment of the army must be formulated and carried out at once and that the nation must be ready to meet any emergency that may arise.

Speaking at a banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers, he said that the nation must be ready to meet any emergency that may arise.

Mr. Wilson was in a fighting mood here. He left his car in the Pennsylvania station at 12:30 and did not return to it for the trip back to Washington until after midnight.

Must Defend Rights.

Outlining his view of the situation, Mr. Wilson said: "We must prepare to defend our rights as citizens in America, and outside of it as the consensus of the world. We must insure the unimpaired realization of our political and economic principles."

He said that the nation must be ready to meet any emergency that may arise.

Who will serve under conditions of danger as an immediately available national reserve?

President Wilson was busy from the time he arrived here early in the morning until he left at midnight for a brief period in Washington before departing on a tour in the Middle West to speak for preparedness.

In addition to attending the two banquets last night, the president gave the address of the day, which he had with a group of suffragists, and took two automobile rides.

Ready to Fight.

The president did not repeat his now famous phrase "too proud to fight," but asserted belligerently that "I always accept, perhaps by some impulse of my native blood, the invitation to a fight."

He added that he had always fought in "righteous fashion," that he did not "traduce his antagonists," and that he fought with the intention of converting them.

A vote of thanks for Mr. Wilson's efforts in behalf of peace was adopted unanimously by the clergymen, and in reply he declared in his efforts of peace he had always been conscious of representing the spirit of America.

"It is hard to hold the balance even when so many passions are involved," he said, "but I have known that in their hearts and by their purposes, the people of America have been trying to hold the balance even. The neutrality of the United States has not been a matter of conviction and of the heart."

He added that he could find no other foundation for peace than justice with-out aggression and that the passion of America was to be allowed to live its own life according to its own principles.

Tedious to Hear Men Lie.

President Wilson, before the Motion Picture Board of Trade, said he "found out what was going on in Mexico" by a day's stay at hearing a sufficiently large number of men talk about it.

"It is very tedious to hear men lie—particularly when you know they are lying," he added. "You can always find them that really your time is important and that you wish they would get down to business and tell you what is really so; but they don't."

His best way to silence any friend of yours whom you know to be a fool is to induce him to hire a hall. Nothing chills pretense more than finding him will bear the tests of examination for a shorter length of time than pretense.

At the suggestion of Mrs. J. M. Hickox, Mrs. Charles Neale of Minneapolis, chairman of the Farm Women's congress of Minnesota, has appointed Mrs. Fred Ward of Duluth and Mrs. Thomas Owens of Two Harbors, members of the executive board of the state organization.

Mrs. Neale asked Mrs. Hickox to serve but, as her Associated Charities activities made this impossible, she suggested that instead of only one representative from this part of the state there be one each from St. Louis and Lake counties. Both women are well qualified to serve on the executive board as Mrs. Ward is the wife of the superintendent of the county work farm, who is in touch with the farmers of this locality, and Mrs. Owens is the superintendent of the woman's department of the Lake county fair, having succeeded Mrs. Hickox.

Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Ward will arrange for meetings to be held by the town and farm women of their counties. They will make special efforts to secure a rest room in Duluth and one in Two Harbors, where the farm women may go when they come to town and where their packages may be sent from the stores when they come in to shop.

$70 Raised for Widow at Pound Social and Concert

As the result of the pound social and concert, arranged by Mrs. A. Hallock, which was given at the Y. W. C. A. last night, $70 in money was realized for a Swedish widow who is ill from overwork in caring for her child. As her husband, who has disappeared, had not been naturalized, she and her children were in danger of being deported unless money had been raised for their support.

"Smiles and Tears and Tears and Smiles" was the subject of a talk given by James A. Wheeler, who told of the hard time the woman has since coming to this country.

The program was given by a group of singers and readers who donated their services. The Svea club gave a chorus and there were vocal solos by Mrs. Jane Everington Scully and Mrs. Nell B. Morrison. Miss Loretta O'Brien was an accompanist. Miss Elizabeth Donovan and Mrs. Milton Fish gave readings.

Women Should Do Their Share in Preparedness

New York, Jan. 28.—A resolution favoring investment for national defense, adopted by directors of the national association opposed to woman suffrage, is being met here today, appealing to the mothers of the country to teach their children reverence for authority, obedience to the law and willingness to sacrifice selfish interests for the country's good.

"Women everywhere, in times of peace as well as of national disaster," the resolution declared, "should strive to further the cause of preparedness by the study of the sources, the organization of the food supply by thrift and economy in household management and by care for the physical well-being of our people."

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Women and Self Support

WHEN is a woman self-supporting? It leads like a conundrum, doesn't it? Indeed, that is what it is, a conundrum, and a number of women who are working for dear life and yet receive no recompense in coin of the realm for their toil. Frequently they are asked to count themselves "patriotic," and to do the labor of their own hands if it happens to be done in their own kitchens. All of which is not particularly encouraging to a faithful body of workers whose duties as housekeepers are more numerous and diversified than are those of many of the trades and professions.

There are peacocks in the home, and when it is suggested that a man pay his wife wages for the work she does in maintaining the home, others wax exceedingly wroth at woman's steady invasion of the male earning ranks, while others consider

Efficient Housekeeping

A Chapter on Prunes

If you are one of those persons who never buy, cook or eat this "farious fruit," this will not interest you. But before you go to bed, think of the fact that a food that is filled with highly concentrated food elements in most digestible form and served daily on two-thirds of the tables in this and is worth a word once in a while.

Most fruits are highly perishable, and the prune is never a total failure, and they can be eaten day after day. This last fact shows our system has need of them, and they agree with almost everyone.

Two things are necessary to their proper preparation: slow cooking and thorough washing. Put one pound of prunes in a bowl of water, let them stand ten minutes, then wash by rubbing between the fingers. As they are washed, drop them into another bowl of water, and wash carefully again.

All dried fruit needs this treatment, as it is exposed to dust when drying and is often stored in jars and basins where sanitary conditions are unknown. It is fortunate that the kitchen is so impervious to contamination, and washing removes dirt and dust.

When the fruit seems clean put it to cook in a stew pan with one quart of cold water and three tablespoons of sugar. Let this simmer slowly for two hours. Cool in an earthen dish. Some cooks soak prunes over night in the water in the morning and cook them quickly.

It is true this method softens them and makes them cook in a few minutes, but if you will try the way I have described I think you will agree it is best.

Prune whip is a popular dessert. The pits are removed from the cooked prunes and the pulp pressed through a strainer or fruit sieve. Sweeten to taste with powdered sugar. Beat the whites of two eggs stiff, add two tablespoons of the prune pulp into this. Heap upon a glass serving dish and stand it in ice until it is well chilled. This may be served with whipped cream and sponge cake. Prune whip made as is prune whip with the exception that it is put in a buttered baking dish and baked in moderate oven. This must be served very hot as directed last week in article on soufflé making.

Questions and Answers.
Will Miss M. W. Chicago, Ill., be kind enough to send me her address so that I can reply to her questions about steamed puddings and raisin pie at greater length than is possible here?

"A Constant Reader" asks how to renovate books that have been stored in a damp place until the bindings have mildewed. This query is beyond my ken, will some housekeeper reply to this, please, in care of this paper?

Is it true that snow cleans carpets on the floor and how is it done?
Reply—Snow cleans the carpet; use bits of dampened newspaper instead.

STRONG SHOW AT GRAND.

Two Headliners and Entertaining Photoplay Bill for Week-End.

There were two headline vaudeville acts on the new show at the Grand theater last night, but the other two turns were also so well done that they shared equal honors with the top acts. In addition to good vaudeville, the photoplays were of a high class, having excellent subject matter and good casts.

The Bowman Brothers, known as the Blue Grass boys, have an act allied with entertaining features along the lines of chatter and songs. They put on a burnt-cork turn that is out of the ordinary, and their work is marked for its originality.

The Buch Brothers are comedy acrobats and tumblers of unusual skill. Their act is especially entertaining because of the new turns introduced and the clever manner of putting them over. Their comedy is really funny.

Claudia Cole as a character comedienne can be safely called the best character player that has ever been seen at the Grand. She does what appears to be an endless number of character stunts, and each draws forth a riot of applause.

Each impersonation appears a reality because of the skill with which it is done. The waitress, the society woman, the tired housewife, the cabaret singer, and many other characters are shown in their true light.

Willish and Anita in a novelty juggling turn have an act full of entertaining features. Anita, appearing in several poses, but the clever juggling of her partner is the real feature of the act.

"Angels Unaware," a two-reel feature film with Ruth Stonehouse in the leading role, is a photoplay with a strong heart appeal. It deals with a charming girl (Miss Stonehouse), who is the victim of a disreputable father. She is sent to a convent, but she escapes and crawls through the jungle of the residence of the juvenile judge, where she is rescued by a judge's crippled daughter. The judge's daughter is attracted by the girl's pleasing personality and keeps her for a companion. One of the Marguerite stories and two good comedy films make up the remainder of the program.

Theater Gossip.

"It's all nonsense saying that women have no sense of humor," says Miss Weldon, who plays the role of Miss Weldon in the new show at the Grand.

"Twin Beds," coming to the Lyceum today and tomorrow, "Women have not only just as much sense of humor as men have, but ten times more sense of humor. Else we wouldn't be able to put up with men, and their little vagaries. But, seriously, women have more sense of humor than men because women are analysts, while men take things on their face value. Women are always prying into things to see the why of them, to get at their hidden motives, and the springs that work them, but men just accept things as they are and let it go at that."

"That's why women are the first to catch the point of a joke or a situation. They have seen where things were leading all the time while the men haven't. It is the thinking of every actor, lecturer, or monologist that women always start the laugh, then the men chime in and make the big noise, and get the credit of having a keener sense of humor."

"There's one thing about humor that many people do not understand, and that is that for anything to be funny it has to be truer than truth itself. Humor is the eternal verity. It is physical twist. Laughter must play like a sparkling stream over a rock-ribbed bed of fact. Otherwise it is forced and hollow, the crackling of thorns under a pot—not the real Simon Pure, spontaneous laughter that bubbles right up from the bottom of your heart and the pit of your stomach."

It is an interesting picture that the Famous Players have released in "Marguerite Mice and Men," featuring Marguerite Clark. The action is the lyric, somewhat unusual for a play, but possible in real life. It is the woman who makes the advances and the man who has the saving sense of conscience and common sense.

Miss Clark, in the beginning, has the role of "Peggy," a child, one of the many in an orphan asylum. From that institution she is taken into the home of a man who has been impressed by a sentence he has read in a book that if a man would have a wife to his liking he personally should supervise her upbringing and education.

The film will be at the Lyric today and tomorrow.

"Fatty" Arbuckle and Mabel Normand may be seen together tonight at the Triangle-Keystone.

NOTED FILM entitled "Fatty and Mabel Adrift," at the Lyric.

"AT THE CORNER" is a story showing the effect upon the working class of a ruthless attempt by a brainy speculator to corner the food market. The speculator (George Fawcett) buys cannery after cannery only to close them, thus throwing thousands out of work. One of the victims (Willard Mack), steals bread from a bakery window with which to feed his wife and children and is sentenced to thirty days in jail. To keep her children alive, the wife sells herself. Enraged and almost insane from the discovery a month later, the husband brings about the speculator's by what may be called the "natural" treatment. This is based on plenty of fresh air, a sufficiency of well-cooked, pure food and as large a measure of rest as can be had.

While it should never be neglected, this treatment does not always secure the desired results. Sometimes there is need for medication in order to bring about the requisite body resistance.

In such cases Eckman's Alternative has been used with a large measure of success. Indeed, in many instances, tuberculosis apparently has yielded to this preparation. In any case, it is worth a trial; and, since it contains no opiates, narcotics, habit-forming drugs, its use is safe. From your druggist or direct.

English Lady Gets Ducking When Aeroplane Engines Stop

LADY AUCKLAND.

The picturesque Lady Auckland has had a ducking at Palm Beach while taking an aeroplane flight. She was with her son, the Hon. F. C. G. Eden, flying from Palm Beach to Miami, when the engines gave out and the aeroplane fell into the "dunk." The son rescued his mother, who was not seriously hurt. Lady Auckland is one of the many English women of title who have come to this country to establish a shop in 1908 but got so little encouragement that she gave up the idea. She has visited this country several times since.

The picture will be shown today and tomorrow at the Rex Beauty.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Old settlers from all parts of Carlton county braved the blizzard and attended the annual winter meeting of the Carlton County Old Settlers' association, held here yesterday afternoon. The very unfavorable weather, with heavy snowfall and winds making the roads in the country practically impassable and interfering with train connections, kept a large attendance.

Many arrived on the 1:15 p. m. train and assembled at headquarters in the Y. C. A. where they repaired to the Hotel Cloquet, where they were served with a very sumptuous banquet.

Toasts were responded to by H. E. Green of Carlton, William Kelley and W. H. Skemp of Cloquet. A resolution of condolence in the death of Member J. D. Peters was offered by Judge W. H. Skemp. This was followed by stories and reminiscences of bygone days by a number of the old settlers.

Upon completion of the program the members were entertained by a theatrical performance given by the Grand theater, where Manager D. F. Beslin put on a fine show of moving pictures for the guests.

"Realizing the appalling loss of life of non-combatants which results from the destruction of a merchant vessel without removing passengers and crews to places of safety, which is held to be violative of the principles of humanity and of international law, which

ELY MAKING NEW RECORD IN SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH

Population Is Increasing Steadily and the City Is Most Prosperous.

Three Thousand Men at Work in Mines and in Logging Operations.

Commercial Club to Advertise Ely and Its Beautiful Lake Region.

BY GEORGE REID.

Founded on the richest underground iron mines in the world, the city of Ely stands on a solid bottom. Since iron was first discovered in the Ely basin at the celebrated Chandler mine, Ely has had a steady and substantial of the steel corporation—the Pioneer, Zenith, Sibley and Savoy—and the North and South Chandler mines, independently operated. A large force is employed at the famous Section 30 mine, four miles away, and the work of construction of a railroad spur has begun to the Consolidated Vermilion mine, a dozen miles away, which will be added to the list of shippers this spring. Considerable drilling and other exploratory work is being done. Ely is the northern terminus of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, and many railroad men live in the city. These are not included in the number of employed aforementioned.

During the last two years more than seventy-five substantial residences have been built in Ely, in addition to the Washington school, costing $200,000, and a number of fine brick and cement business blocks. Several other business buildings will go up in the spring. Four additions have been made to Ely within eighteen months and three have been sold out, almost entirely to local residents for homes. In the built up parts of the city concrete sidewalks have been laid or

Daily there are three passenger trains each way between Ely and Duluth and an equal number of trains to and from the Mesaba iron range. A majority of the people of Ely maintain friendly relations with the

ANOTHER MINE FOR VERMILION

Consolidated Will Ship 100,000 to 150,000 Tons This Year.

Great Manganese Property to Which Railroad Is Being Built.

It Covers an Area Equal to the Whole Ely Group of Iron Mines.

BY GEORGE REID.

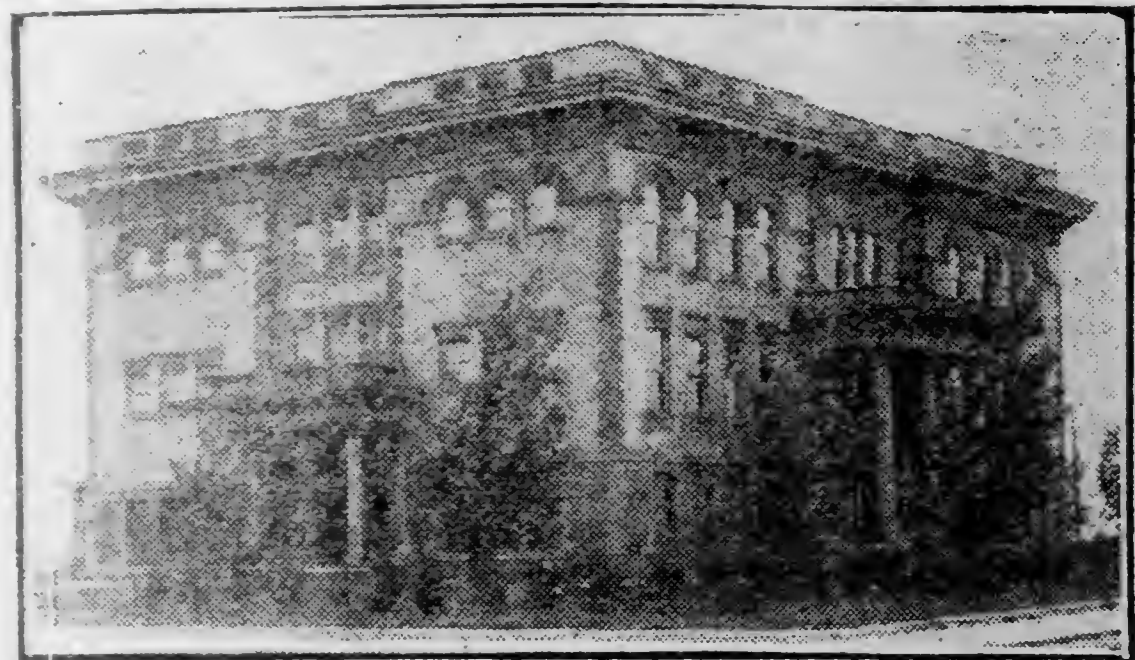

In two months a railroad will have been completed to the Consolidated Vermilion & Extension mine, not far or fifteen car loads of manganese averaging a little better than 60 per cent. Manganese of this grade is worth in the market today $36 per ton. The railroad is being constructed by the mining company itself, the contract having been let to C. W. Wordenhorst of Minneapolis. The contract calls for the completion of the line by March 27. This road is five and three-quarter miles long and extends from the Burntside Lake branch of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to the mine. All work on the line is under the supervision of W. A. Clark, chief engineer of the Duluth & Iron range, which is doing all it can to help the mining company and to expedite the completion of the road. Work is going on at both ends and at other points on the railroad. At this time 180 men are employed, to which 100 more will be added next week. Within thirty days 400 men will be at work.

The Consolidated & Extension mine has a triple compartment square timbered shaft 440 feet in depth, with three levels opened up into ore and a plant and equipment costing $75,000. In all, $350,000 has been spent on the property in addition to $36,000 paid in royalties. The company expects to ship 100,000 to 150,000 tons the coming season, averaging about 64 per cent, the usual average of Vermilion range mines.

The discovery of manganese at the Consolidated Vermilion & Extension was made by E. T. Campbell, general traffic manager of the Erie railroad. Several months ago Mr. Campbell, who is a stockholder, was at the mine and took away with him samples of ore, including several chunks from a refuse stockpile which it was thought was low grade manganese ore. These he had analyzed at Chicago. They ran as high as 51.72 per cent in manganese and low in phosphorus, silica and iron. It was easy to trace the manganese to three different levels in the mine. Since Mr. Campbell's discovery numerous analyses have been made from the main stockpile, propitite, manganese and results better than 30 per cent have been obtained. Several of the big steel interests are much interested in the manganese find and have made investigations on their own account, which will doubtless mean a resumption of exploratory work upon a large scale on the Vermilion iron range which was barely scratched when the tremendous ore bodies in blanket formation of the Mesaba range were discovered, putting the Vermilion in the background.

growth without ever having had the semblance of a boom. But during the last two years the city's growth has been quickening and population is being added at a more rapid rate than ever before. The leading business men realize that organization is necessary to get the best results in city building and last night they organized the Ely Commercial club, having more than 150 members at the start. This body plans to let everybody know Ely's advantages and the attractions of its beautiful lakes and the national forest reserve of a million acres which extends to within three miles of the city and is joined at the Canadian border by another forest reserve as vast in extent.

Waste prosperity is general. It is nowhere more evident than in the Ely district. In mining operations at this time about 1,400 men are employed, and with the coming of spring this number will be augmented largely. The S. C. Croix Lumber company, which has its headquarters in Ely, is employing more than 1,000 men in its logging operations, and the Swallow-Hopkins company, 350. Other loggers are employing 200 or more men, bringing the number of Ely's employed up to about 3,000.

have been contracted for. Ely has a complete sewerage system, and has natural drainage, being on an elevation. It has a pure water supply drawn from Long lake, which is within the city limits. The pumping station is on the shore of the lake and pumps the water to high towers in the center of the city. In case of fire, water is pumped directly into the mains under heavy pressure. The volunteer department is one of the best in the state. The city has an efficient police force. Ely has only $70,000 of bonded indebtedness, $40,000 of which bonds have not yet been issued. Modern improvements have been nearly all paid for.

Ely does not confine itself to one "white way." All of the business and residence streets are brilliantly lighted by clusters of globes on ornamental iron posts at frequent intervals on both sides of the streets. The city has 137 of these stands, each with five globes and fifty-two with three globes. These lights cover fifty-five blocks, equivalent to a white way more than a mile and a quarter in length. In the outlying districts, arc lighting is employed.

The city has exceptionally good school buildings, three of them modern structures of brick. Sixty-two teachers are employed, including a school nurse. The high school course is four years. It includes domestic science, manual and commercial training, normal department work and courses in public speaking and music. The high school, which numbers 230 pupils, its graduates for all colleges in the North Central association. The mining companies and one of the purposes of the Commercial club is to cement this cordial feeling for the general good. The Commercial club will strive to give Burntside and Ely's other beautiful lakes their due publicity, calling the widespread attention of tourists to their attractions for summer outings. Here are some of Ely's "talking points" as formulated by the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, ELY.

The First National bank has been in continuous operation under the same management for a quarter of a century. It has a capital of $50,000, a surplus of $12,500 and average deposits of $375,000. A. J. Fenske, Louis Eisenach and William Sellwood is president, Dr. George T. Ayres vice president, L. J. White, cashier and A. L. Sundholm assistant cashier. The directors, in addition to it, are Messrs. Sellwood, Ayres and White, A. J. Fenske, Louis Eisenach and William Mudge.

from Ely, and this mine will begin to ship with the opening of navigation in the spring. With the completion of the railroad so that coal can be brought in at greatly reduced cost, a full force of miners will be put to work in the Consolidated and it will add to its stock pile, which now contains about 25,000 tons. In another stockpile is ten steel, seems certain to lead to much development work on the range and the uncovering of other big bodies of high-grade iron ore and perhaps of manganese. Since Ely is the metropolis of the range, all of this development will add to its growth. Some idea of the value of the manganese may be had from the fact that if the Consolidated Vermilion & Extension company shipped only one car load of manganese ore per day averaging 50 per cent, at present prices the company's net profit would be in excess of a million dollars a year. The demand for manganese is great and the supply is limited.

Iron ore comes to the surface at various points on the Consolidated Vermilion and at one place it is a steam shovel proposition. A second shaft Consolidated is in ore from the surface to a depth of fifty feet. Much ore has been shown up at other points in shallow test pits, giving every indication of a property wonderfully rich in iron ore of high grade. The company's holdings consist of 400 acres, which extend over the iron ore formation for a length of one and three-quarters miles and a width of 400 to 700 feet—an area equal to the whole Ely group of iron mines.

The development of Consolidated was unusually costly. The mine is nine miles from Tower, the nearest railroad point. The company's dock on Lake Vermilion is two and one-half miles from the mine. Between the lake and the mine is a range of high hills, over which the heavy machinery for the mine, as well as coal and other supplies, had to be transported. Coal hauled over the hills added $7 per ton to transportation costs. It is not an exaggeration to say that the heaviest parts of the machinery were taken in over the hills inch by inch. The Consolidated & Extension mine has all of the machinery and other equipment which will be required during the next ten years, and a group of buildings to feed and employ.

FIRST STATE BANK.
Less Than Three Years Old, It Has Deposits of $350,000.

Few banks in small cities can show a record of growth to compare with that of the First State bank. Ely's new bank was organized March 12, 1913, and already has average deposits of $350,000 and average loans of $275,000, with $25,000 capital and $5,000 surplus. The First State bank occupies its own building of Minnesota granite and white enameled brick. It is one of the handsomest banks in Northern Minnesota. In its interior, the woodwork and desks being of black oak.

The First State is essentially a home bank, officered by citizens of Ely and offers every inducement to depositors consistent with safe banking methods. M. J. Murphy, the president, has been the principal clothing merchant of the city for fifteen years. A. S. James, vice president, has been Ely's leading druggist for twenty-eight years. George L. Brozich, cashier, came to Ely fifteen years ago to be assistant cashier of the Bank of Ely, now the First National bank. He is the leading real estate and insurance man of Ely and also president of the National Herald Publishing company of Duluth and supreme secretary of the Slavonic Catholic Union, which has its headquarters in Ely, and numbers more than 10,000 members. Other directors, in addition to the officers named, are James Noonan, agent for the past fifteen years at Ely for the Duluth & Iron Range railroad; E. D. Ellefson, one of the oldest residents of the city and one of its largest property owners, who has served the city in various important capacities; and G. H. Good, for many years general manager of the Swallow-Hopkins Lumber company, among the largest operators in Northern Minnesota. The only non-resident director is Theodore Albrecht of Minneapolis.

The assistant cashiers are Arthur Toms, also treasurer of the city, and

A FIGHTING WILSON.

This is a new Wilson that is now before the country—a fighting Wilson; a Wilson stirred to the depths by partisan and selfish bushwhacking; a Wilson roused to the highest pitch by his conception of the nation's needs; a Wilson with nothing but the heartiest scorn for those humbugs who interject partisan or personal motives into a great national crisis.

"Voe to any man," he said last night in New York, "who plays marplot, or who seeks to make party politics or personal ambition take precedence over candor, honor and unselfish, unpartisan service."

There are those, not unimportant, who can take these unimpaired words home to themselves, if they please.
The president is before the country to urge the adoption of his program of national defense—that or something measurably close to it, as he probably will not be a sickler for minor details. He believes thoroughly that such a program is needed, that without it the nation will not be safe, and that it will be in deadly peril with either more or much less than the equipment he proposes.

It should be borne in mind, in the midst of the confusion created by a multitude of counsels on this exceedingly important subject, that the president in adopting his program has steered carefully clear of the Scylla of weakness represented by Mr.
Bryan and the Charybdis of militarism represented by Col. Roosevelt and has chosen for himself and the nation the safe channel of reasonable and sensible preparedness.

The program he proposes is not excessive, but it is adequate. It is a program on which all shades of opinion can unite—militaristic extremists because this is the most they can possibly hope to get at this time, pacifist extremists because if this program fails there is grave danger that something infinitely more menacing will follow.

Having nothing to conceal, the president lays all his cards upon the table and goes before the people to present his case. He is talking straight to the point and hitting straight from the shoulder. Thus he is generating the one force that is fatal to partisan and personal littlenesses, the chief obstacles in this path—an aroused, enlightened and vigorous public opinion.

By the way, has the groundhog a goot?

A TARIFF COMMISSION.

President Wilson has declared that he has been converted to the tariff commission idea, and he is behind a tariff commission bill now in congress. The mighty revolution the war has wrought in industrial, commercial and financial conditions the world over is responsible for this change of mind.
Nobody knows what trade conditions will be when the war ends; but it may be that they will force tariff changes, and if that is so the president believes that these changes should be based on accurate information secured by such a commission, because congress, of course, cannot get such information.

Sentiment for a tariff commission has grown rapidly and widely in the last few years. There is little question now that nine out of ten who have given thought to the matter have, like the president, become converted to it.

This rapid wholesale conversion is, of course, wholly a reaction from the widespread disgust with the old log-rolling methods of congressional tariff revision. The Herald favors the experiment, though it is still sorry to say that it cannot feel so cocksure about the result of it as many enthusiastic advocates of a tariff commission seem to be.

After the war the United States will think more of foreign trade and will figure far more largely in foreign trade than it ever did before. No country can successfully engage in the competition for world trade unless its tariff system is so shaped as to help it in that competition. A tariff policy that simply shuts OUT foreign goods indiscriminately must necessarily shut IN domestic goods. No country can sell unless it buys, too. A tariff commission could help to propose such adjustments.

So far, so good. But the commission won't make tariff laws. Congress will still do that. And much of the benefit many look for from a tariff commission could come only if the commission had power to make tariff laws.

The commission can propose, but congress will still dispose. The difficulty is going to come when congress, having received the recommendations of the tariff commission, proceeds to act upon them.
Then congress will be confronted by the same old party interests, the same old clamoring special interests, the same old local interests; there will be the same old temptation to log-roll and combine and to favor interests that have contributed liberally to personal or party campaign funds.

That is why we have never been able to expect so much from the tariff commission plan as many promise for it. Nevertheless, it is an experiment worth trying. It may be that the recommendations of the commission will impress themselves so powerfully upon the public mind that congress will not dare ignore them. That's the best hope of the success of the plan.

One thing sure is that it can't make matters worse. It will give congress actual facts and conditions to work on, and congress will ignore these things in favor of log-rolling and the serving of special and local interests at its peril. If the public takes the proper interest and backs up the commission strongly enough, maybe congress can be forced into line. If it can't be forced into line, perhaps the Constitution can be amended to give the tariff commission the same power over tariff schedules that the interstate commerce commission has over railroad rates—though that would be a mighty power that congress would relinquish with reluctance and that the people would commit to an unelective commission with reluctance quite as great.

Of course the house of lords will delay final action on conscription until after the curling season.

MILITARISTIC LOGIC.

Col. Roosevelt and others would have us believe that we are in danger of war, which is likely to break upon us at any moment.
They urge us to prepare for it, and from the scale of preparedness proposed by Roosevelt and his echoes evidently they would like us to believe that the whole world is about to pick on us. We are threatened with war, and are terribly unprepared for it, they say.

At the same time, these very men, led by this same Colonel, urge us, so anxious are they for fighting, that we tie all our available forces up in a long, foolish and discredit war with Mexico, leaving our coasts utterly unprotected against attacks from Europe or Asia.

If war is imminent, doesn't it seem foolish to lock up our forces in a futile, needless and fruitless conflict with Mexico?
Somehow it doesn't seem foolish to Roosevelt.

Yet it would be hard to find anything more sadly comic than this example of the logic of the fervid but amateurish American militarist.

Indications continue to multiply that the year will eventually see the market glutted with Teddy elephants.

THE GROWTH OF CITY RECREATION WORK.

When it is remembered that only a few years ago cities were so busy being mere police and tax-gatherers that no thought of real and direct service to the community was ever given hospitality, the figures in the year book of the Playground and Recreation Association of America make very heartening reading.

Last year four hundred and thirty-two American cities maintained neighborhood playgrounds under the direction of play leaders. During the last two years 116 cities have swung into line with this splendid movement, adding nearly a thousand more playgrounds and bringing the total up to 3,394.

When this association was formed less than ten years ago, only a few of the larger cities had summer playgrounds, and many of these were supported by private funds.
Now 111 cities employ recreation directors the year around and two hundred and fifty maintain playgrounds regularly and give them public support. "Everywhere city governments are recognizing that the maintenance of neighborhood playgrounds is a regular government obligation," says the report. Not only is public playground work a governmental obligation, but a governmental necessity. Citizenship depends in a very large degree upon the environment of youth. Youth environed by alley and street playgrounds has vastly smaller opportunities for wholesome growth in body and mind than youth environed by safe, regulated and directed playgrounds. Playground work is a governmental obligation not only to the child, but to society, to the citizenship that childhood is preparing, and therefore to government itself.

Last year, according to this report, the cities spent more than four million dollars on neighborhood recreation work. The association itself spent $22,505.79. In seventeen cities bonds for playground work to the amount of $1,663,750 were issued.
Six hundred and twelve school buildings are in use as evening recreation centers in 136 cities. Fifty-five cities report 146 buildings that are wholly given over to neighborhood recreation work. In twenty-six cities streets are set aside for play. One hundred and thirty-nine cities have 306 swimming pools. Ninety-four cities have 314 public baths. The average daily attendance on summer playgrounds in 389 cities reporting was 814,108. Ninety cities report an average daily attendance at winter social centers of 200,478. Besides the 432 cities which have municipal playgrounds, there are 338 cities which do not yet have playgrounds and play leaders, but which are getting started and report some progress, such as land secured, an appropriation made or plans laid; so that 770 cities were active in one way or another in the play movement last year.

If the Minnesota Republicans don't hurry up and settle their state quarrel they won't even get time for a look-in when it comes to trying to patch up the party's national shell.

Look Out For Them

Gunnar B. Blomson in the Minnesota Mascot.

There is good deal of talk these days about the presidential primary law.
They say it is "impossible."
They say it is a "farce."
They say it will never "work out."
Maybe they are right.
But who are they?

Why, they are the politicians, of course.
We mean now the practical politicians, the fellows who know the game and play it.
It is very probable that our presidential primary is not right. It is very probable that it needs some "retrains."

But the principle of it is right.
It is right to try to get at the will of the people. It is right to try to devise machinery that will register the people's choice in the matter of nominations as well as elections.

Just now it is popular to "jump onto" the presidential primary. At least the enemies of all primaries are trying to make it so.
They are trying to tell the people that the presidential primary is a farce, that it cannot be worked out, that it will serve no good purpose.

But all this abuse does not do much good.
The law is here. It is up to the voters of this state to make the most of it, to make it yield the best possible results. If the average voter does not want to participate in the nomination of the presidential candidate of his party, then, let him say so. But if he does want to participate he better attend and thus show that he is at least sufficiently interested to take advantage of the opportunity offered him.

The people have it in their power to kill the presidential preferential if they want to.
If they ignore it, or display the lack of intelligence that is expected, in the use of it, why, then the enemies of it can more easily kill it in the next legislature.
We do not say that the law is perfect, we do not even think that it is perfect, but we do say and we do think that the idea back of it is sound and that the principle upon which it is based is right. We maintain that the idea that the people should have their full measure of power in determining governmental affairs is right and is essential to the best interests of a democracy.

If that is right then the principles of popular government must be extended, not curtailed.
Beware of the man who wants to take away from the people rights of self-government. He is a dangerous man. He is still he is more dangerous than the man who does not exercise the privilege of franchise every chance he has.

The indifferent voter and the man who wants to curtail the rights of the people are both in the same class.

an appropriation of $10,000,000 for a military school, for the establishment of a military post at something like $2,000,000 for a new federal building at Duluth.

There is real merit in the proposition that Duluth should be selected as the location for a great government munition plant. The accessibility of the raw materials, the splendid transportation facilities afforded by lakes and railroads and the fact that such a plant would be safely out of the reach of any invading force mark Duluth as an ideal place at which to establish such a government factory.

Fort Snelling might also be a very suitable location for a Western West Point. It is very doubtful whether an initial expenditure of $10,000,000 is demanded or even one-tenth of that amount. The maintenance of Fort Snelling as a military post is a serious burden on the government. The government needs to keep no military forces in this part of the country. The barracks and buildings now there are a waste of money. The extraordinary expense be converted into accommodations for the students of a great government school in which military instruction and training would be a prominent feature of the curriculum.

The statement so frequently made that it takes years to make a soldier is a lie. It takes only a few days to make a soldier.
The nation's history is full of the making of competent officers for the handling of large bodies of men. So far as the private soldiers are concerned, the Canadian troops with a few weeks' or months' of instruction have shown themselves equal in efficiency to the best drilled soldiers of Europe.
The lack has been in competent leadership.

If America's forty useless military posts were turned into schools where the nation's youth could be given an education in engineering and in many other studies having utility both in civil and military life, and making studies and training and in also making the youth of the nation more intelligent and more capable of becoming efficient officers for any forces that might be placed under their charge.

Days.
Daughters of Time, my hypocritical Days,
Muffled and dumb like barefoot dervishes,
And marching single in an endless file,
Bring diadems and fagots in their hands.
To each they offer gifts after his will—Bread, kingdoms, stars, and sky that holds them all.
I, in my pleached garden, watched the pomp,
Forgot my morning wishes, hastily Took a few herbs and apples, and the Day Turned and departed silent. I, too late,
Under her solemn smile, saw the scorn,
—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

fect gentleman. It is a machine that chews

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

A Dirge.
My friend is dead, while yet so young! Pneumonia in his starboard lung defied the learned physicians' skill, and laughed to scorn the healing pill. And all his days he was on guard, against disease; kept watch and ward, to see that no disgusting germ should touch his mouth or nostrils squirm.
And when convinced that some disease was throwing microbes on the breeze, he breathed through anti-septic gauze till all the germs that ever was.
While others scratched for fame or wealth, he only thought about his health, and studied up the bughouse rules of all the foremost health-fad schools. He used a sanitary bed, and lived on milk and oatmeal bread,
and walked nine miles, in rain or blast, each day before he broke his fast. His life has closed before his noon, and I, who care no picayune for rules laid down by mortal man, but eat and drink what I can, am here to mourn my friend's decease, and wish his spirit joy and peace.

In the Regions Beyond

Editorial in the Kansas City Star.

Just a line in the dispatches from the war zone last week told that an American missionary, bound for India, went down with the liner Persia in the Mediterranean. Just another name added to the roll of American missionary martyrs, the roll that has been growing larger and longer ever since the day that "haystack prayer meetings" in Massachusetts upwards of one hundred years ago.

Have you ever heard of the "haystack prayer meeting"? That is where the American foreign missionary movement was born in August, 1806. Five country boy students of Williams college were caught in a thunder storm. They fled to a haystack and burrowed into it. There, safe from the rain, they held a prayer meeting, and there they dedicated their lives to foreign mission work and adopted the motto: "We can do it if we will."

Three of those young men became the pioneer American missionaries to India. From that haystack meeting grew the forty major foreign missionary societies now in this country, the 5,000 missionaries induced to live in foreign fields; their 23,000 native helpers in 10,000 stations; the 6,756 missionary schools, 208 hospitals and millions of Christian people.

Missionaries ever have formed the picket guard of civilization. In every land they have died in order to prove that the prayer meeting was not a sham, but that the power of the rifle and machine gun. Livingstone, the missionary, opened the dark continent of Africa, and the idea of Western civilization into Japan before the ink on Perry's treaty was dry. Missionaries in India have made it possible for white men to live in that country; missionaries induced Seward to buy Alaska; Youngblood, crossing the frontier of Tibet, thought he was the first white man that had penetrated that forbidden land, but, as he went on, he found an American woman missionary who had been at work there for years, alone.
In every corner of the world, from Greenland to the mountains of India, the strand missionaries are teaching and preaching.
American cotton goods are sold in Abyssinia,
American harvesting machines are in Asia Minor, American canned goods are in Greenland, because American missionaries were there first. And, wherever they have gone, their way has been traced by paths of blood.

In the 105 years of its history the American Board of Foreign Missions has been nearly always facing either war, mass revolution, famine or plague somewhere. Its missionaries faced the Sepoy rebellion and numerous famines and plagues in India; the Chinese, Japanese, Russian and two Balkan wars; many Armenian massacres and the Bosnian uprising in China, in which many missionaries were slain.

Now the missionaries are suffering and dying in the great war. Sixteen of them are dead, and many are wounded. Many have died. In every land they are making great sacrifices because of this war.
But the greater the sacrifice, apparently,
the more the world is taking notice of them.
There are those who are ready to volunteer for the work. Never before has the missionary board received so many applications from men and women willing to go and take the places of those who have died in the regions beyond. It is exactly the same spirit as that which prompted the first missionary work. He said in his farewell address to the elders of Ephesus:

"But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God."

Abuse of the President

Commerce and Finance: At the banquet of the Hotel Astoria held at the Astoria, Ore., Jan. 27, the new government of Mexico was the subject of reference to President Wilson's attitude toward Mexico as that of "shivering cowardice."
It is a common thing for Mr. Roosevelt to use terms regarding the chief executive of the nation that are disgraceful.

Unfortunately it is not unusual for a president, at a time of crisis or great moment in the nation's history, to be the subject of the most venomous attack.
There was a president who in time of national peril, of a war, was called a "shivering coward" or worse. Assassins of character used the vilest terms in characterizing him.
It was possible for him, by disclosing state secrets, to save the nation. He was called a traitor. He was called a coward. He was urged upon him. "Might it not be well for me," one of his official family said, "to set this matter right in a letter to some paper?"
"Oh, no," replied the president, "at least not now. If I were to try to reach, much less answer, all the attacks made on me, this shop might as well be closed for any other business. I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to continue to do so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, then, I am swearing
I was right, and there is no difference."
That president was Abraham Lincoln.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlan, the Sunshine Man.
When cast by Providence among sinful persons who respect us, we ought to be peculiarly watchful. The hatred of the satangodly, when poured upon Christians in the form of persecution, is seldom harmful to the nature, but to the friendship of the world is always to be suspected. When the servants of the high priest allowed Peter to warm his hands at the fire, had Peter been a wise man he would have been afraid that evil would come of it. We are disarmed by kindness, but it is never safe to be disarmed in an enemy's country. The smiling daughters of Meab did more mischief to Israel than all Balak's frowning warriors.
All Philistia could not have blinded Samson
if Delilah's charms had not deluded him.
Our worst foes will be found among our un-godly friends. Those who are false to God are not likely to be true to us. Walk carefully, however, if they walk by the sinner's door, and especially if that sinner had acted a friendly part to thee.—C. H. Spurgeon.

O that thou couldst dwell in the knowledge and sense of this! even that the Lord be-holds thee suffering with an eye of pity; and is able, not only to uphold thee under them, but also to do thee good to them. Therefore, grieve not at thy lot, be not discon-fident, look not out at the hardness of thy condition; but, when the storm and matters of vexation are sharp, look up to Him who can give meekness and patience, can lift up thy head over all, and cause thy life to grow and be a gain to all. If the Lord God help thee proportionately to thy condition of affliction and distress, thou wilt have no cause to complain, but to bless His name—

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Selections From the Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Every Year.

Aurora News: Next season should produce some most excellent crops if the amount of snow has anything to do with the fertility of the soil. But Northern Minnesota produces excellent crops every year regardless of weather conditions, as was shown last season.

The Time to Come Is Now.

Northern Minnesota: The tide of immigration has turned toward Northern Minnesota. As the settlers swept across Illinois and Iowa and settled these fertile plains fifty years ago, so will the tide of immigration sweep to Northern Minnesota in the next five or ten years. The advance guard is here now. The tide is growing. Northern Minnesota will see the next big settlement. The time to come is now when the rush is just beginning.

Who Indeed?

Grylla Eagle: Who wouldn't live in Northern Minnesota? If anyone could have the power to rule the weather they could not have brought a finer winter so far than this.
After a splendid fall of getting ready for winter we are just getting enough snow to make the best of sleighing, with very little high wind and no severe cold, while the East and South are wallowing in two and a half feet of snow, hurricane winds, delayed traffic, train blockades and all their attachments. Yes, who wouldn't live in Northern Minnesota?

No Crop Failures.

Cambridge North Star: Rock county, for the first time in its history, has had to buy corn for stock feeding purposes. Come north, you Southern Minnesota farmers, and look over Isanti county, where land can be had at reasonable prices and where no crop failure ever has occurred.

Here's a Real Suggestion.

Warroad Pioneer: Some one interested in the cause of Northern Minnesota should get the figures showing the source of the income of the state by townships; also where the money is spent, and draw a map showing the center of the state as the center of income and expenditure. Such a map would undoubtedly show the center of the state.

We Want Settlers.

Northern Minnesota: Every settler who goes on the land is an addition to the population of the state, a potential producer of wealth for the state and an asset to the community nearest to which he is established.
If he takes state land, he places it on the tax rolls. If he takes private land he increases its value and its taxable value. He furnishes foodstuffs for the market nearest him, buys from the merchants in that market, pays his share of the taxes for the maintenance of the schools and the town government, helps to build the roads, raises his cattle, and in many other ways. That's the kind of development we need.

Wisconsin Clippings

Things the Badger State Editors Are Saying.

Same on This Side the Line.

Wausau Record-Herald: The high price

western farmers. There is little danger of overvaluing that crop.

A Chance to Get Even.

Chippewa Falls Independent: Congressmen are wondering if members of the international congress of women, to meet in Washington soon, will be pestered by male lobbyists.

Thereby Making Goats of the Congressmen.

Madison State Journal: There is complaint of a scarcity of goats. Now prepare for deceiver mutton!

Vaulting Ambition!

Eau Claire Telegram: It takes people of all kinds to make a world, and some do a lot of good in serving as horrible examples.

Minnesotans Are Exceptional Anywhere.

Lincoln Leader-Press: The new government of Minnesota is a strange man. "I will not attempt to make recommendations to the state conservation commission until I have had an opportunity to study the problems of the office to which I am new," he said to one state body. Think of a governor admitting that he has something to learn from an officer who doesn't think he knows it all beforehand ought to be pretty well informed when he feels he is ready to talk on a subject.

Here's Real Patriotism.

Ashland Press: The Federal income tax is constitutional, so says the supreme court of the United States. Well, even if they do tax income, here's hoping ours gets big enough so we can help pay the tax.

A Necessary Qualification.

Madison State Journal: "The ability to work with others is one of the most important things a girl should carry away from college into the business world," is a bit of advice from a talk on vocations recently given to a group of girls at the university.
It is the kind of talk a good many men might profit by. It is because they can-never manage to "get along" with their fellow workers that certain types of men have a hard time placing themselves permanently in the business world. The man who cannot work with others is only half-fitted for any job.

Firelight.

I love to sit by the embers
As they sparkle, and fade, and creep,
While Twilight gathers her children
And tucks them away to sleep.

When the noises of Day are softened,
To a soothing, mellow croon,
Ere the reign of Night is ushered
By her herald, the weird-faced moon.

There's a magic balm in the gloaming
For the day-racked weary brain,
And my care-free fancy wanders
In the paths afar from pain.

The visions and dreams of boyhood
Pass before me clear and bright,
In the dancing coals and ashes,
As twilight fades into night.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their views upon the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written in one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer (though these need not be published). A signed letter is always more effective, however.

MAN'S ORIGIN.

To the Editor of The Herald: In Wednesday evening's paper in "Questions and Answers," there was one question from Park Rapids, asking which was right, "Our ascent monkeys or baboons," or from God. I don't think that your answer is correct. Glory to God that He has made me and every person in His image. The Bible account of creation is right and I believe the teacher of zoology is wrong. If the blind lead the blind they both fall into the ditch. Your truly, EDWARD SUNDIN, 25 South Fifty-fifth avenue west, Duluth, Jan. 27, 1916.

ADDRESSES BUSINESS MEN OF ZENITH CITY

To the Editor of The Herald: Mr. Business Men of Duluth: Just a minute or two. Perhaps you are so busy counting your profit in this time of unparalleled prosperity that you have failed to read on every page of your morning, noon and evening papers about the increase of wages all over the country. In other cities wages are going up voluntarily in more cases, but strike in a few cases, but to this date the business men of Duluth have not made one single advance in wages. Men, you are not fair to your city, your men, or to yourself. Your increased profit will be a milestone around your neck if it is not shared by the wage workers. Call your attention to a few facts.

The city wherein the wage scale is the highest grows the fastest. Note New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, how they run ahead of Cincinnati, Los Angeles and Duluth, etc. As water finds its level, so does ability and wages. Many able men have left your fair city for better pay elsewhere. The police and a few office men on the city payroll are not all that is needed to build a city—not by a long way.

The men that receive the highest wages furnish the best market for your goods. You cannot sell if I cannot buy. "The amount of wages determine the volume of business to be done." It is sound as that ax handles and rain make grass grow. Now, business men, you can make a lot of money by increasing wages this very day, and behold the increase in sales next payday. No, high wages are not a cure-all for poverty; it is only a stimulant for more business and more employment. In this country in five years than in China in 500 years, only one-half as many higher wages paid to the wage worker. Business men, are you alive to your own business interests? Yours very truly, A STUDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF HARD KNOCKS, Duluth, Jan. 27, 1916.

HEALTH TALKS BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Cost of Food

A fair division of expenditures for a workingman's family, or any other family, is about as follows: One-fourth of the income for rent, one-fourth for clothes, one-fourth for food, and one-fourth for education, insurance, recreation and health. A family having an income of $100 per month may spend not over $25 per month for food. A good many families spend more than one-fourth of the income for food, but this is mere extravagance, usually due to ignorance of the nutritive values of different food-stuffs. The United States Department of Agriculture issues various bulletins explaining in detail the values of all kinds of food-stuffs, and these bulletins are intended for free distribution to any citizen who cares to apply to the secretary of agriculture for them.

Some of the better and cheaper foods, which are at the same time very appetizing and wholesome, are beans, peas (canned), corn meal, rice, macaroni or spaghetti, cheeses of all kinds, apple, rhubarb or pumpkin pie, mutton, salt pork, oleomargarine, etc. Contrary to the popular idea, a workingman does not need meat every day. Unless his work is very heavy he is better off with meat three or four times a week, and if he cares to he may maintain perfect health and endurance on a diet with little or no meat. Bread and butter (or oleomargarine, which is quite as wholesome and nourishing), beans, rice, corn meal—and corn meal is mighty good eat.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to the above through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is received. To the Editor of The Herald: I hereby submit the following version of current history:

When the City Got Commissioned, When the city got commissioned.

The election day was here, The tickets all were printed.

And nothing more to fear, The candidates were ready.

With eager hopes and high, They watched the crowd approaching.

And they saw their friends go by, But they didn't think of selling out the Armory.

The ballots all were counted, The contests smoothed away.

Or stuck into a pigeon hole, And Freddie in the cash.

Would get their horns together, And make an awful splash.

But they didn't think of selling out the Armory.

Alfred Miners, Iron Mountain, Mich.: Will you please state in the Open Court the population of London, Eng.; also that of New York City?

Answer: The population of Registration London in 1911 was 4,522,964, and with the metropolitan and city police districts it was 7,252,963. According to the New York state census of 1915, the population of New York City, including all boroughs, was 5,096,484, and the estimated population of Greater New York, including Westchester and New Jersey suburbs, was 7,500,000.

GOSSIP, NEWS AND COMMENT OF THE OLD SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

WILLARD and Moran call into being visions of a giant towering above a mere physical type of commonplace significance. The disparity in weight is no greater than annals of the past can bring to light. Jeffries and Sharkey, Jeffries and Choyinski, Wolcott and Choyinski, and Burns and Johnson were examples of little men being pitted against huge opponents. Choyinski, strangely enough, did very well against Jeffries and fared very poorly at the hands of Wolcott. Sharkey, as most of the ring fans know, carried the fight to the end of the twenty-five rounds of their Coney Island meeting. Burns was outclassed by Johnson.

Moran may spring a huge and rather unlooked for surprise, should he enter the ring with Willard. Joe Cox is credited with knocking Willard out, or, worse yet, making him quit, and Tom McMahon is also credited with a victory over the present heavyweight champion of the world.

So, you see, the men of the ring that were small by comparison with huge opponents, have not always done so poorly as to warrant anyone in believing that Moran will prove a setup for the champion.

The Fight Was Over.

SEVERAL men held several fine seats for the recent Gibbons-Ahearn contest. The men in question did not care very much for the preliminaries and went out to see one of the earthshaking Gibbons bouts.

One of the earthshaking Gibbons bouts was entering the ring the seat holders came straggling in. They were slow in coming up the long aisle. The men were shaking hands as the seat holders got to their fine $7.50 seats. One of the seat holders elaborately removed his fur lined overcoat, slowly and pompously laid it on the back of his $7.50 seat, then slowly turned and seated himself with a sigh of content.

Just as he was seated his friend touched him on the arm, saying: "Come, Fred, let's be going, the fight is over."

Ertle Doing Well.

REGARDLESS of what some persons may think of the Ertle-Williams scrap of last fall, the fact remains that little Johnny Ertle is surely going along with great strides in the eastern circuit. Ertle has met some of the best boys in the bantamweight class and has beaten them all. Engagements have proved so prolific that Mike McNulty has so far refused all offers to bring the St. Paul boxer west.

There is some talk of Williams and Ertle meeting in Minneapolis. If the pair ever hook up again, the quarrel will be worth watching. The tow-headed Dane of Baltimore has a real prize against Johnny, a grudge to satisfy, and it is going to make a mighty effort to wreak vengeance on the Kewpie.

Joe Carr Powerful. WAINO KETONEN will have need of all his remarkable leverage and knowledge of holds to cope with Joe Carr. The Mill City Pole is without a doubt the strongest middleweight in the world. The Finn has good reason to know this. In the former meeting between the two, Carr picked Ketonen up like a log and slammed him on his left shoulder with a force that shook the building. Slaming opponents to the mat is a specialty with Carr. He is liable to do it to anyone and at any time. That's why he is always dangerous.

Support the League. EVERY time you attend a Duluth Amateur league hockey game you lend your support to the home player; the idea that it is believed will eventually work out in a great hockey league for this section.

The hockey game, along big lines at least, is comparatively new to the Northwest. The Copper country is an old stamping ground of the game. Canada is naturally the home of the puck game. Duluth and the Twin Cities have gone along with the game in a small and unpretentious way for years, but the game has borne more relation to common shyness than real hockey. Now all the three cities are showing a great interest in the sport.

Minneapolis and St. Paul, as was the case with Duluth, have found it expedient to import players. This, by the way, is the very practice that St. Paul last year condemned upon the part of Duluth. Duluth has gone back to the home player plan, with the belief that some day, and that not too far distant, the players that learned the game on the corner lot rinks will be the equal of some of the big stars.

Discuss Bresnahan's Future. Chicago, Jan. 28.—Steps toward a peaceful solution of the problem surrounding Roger Bresnahan's future and the future of the Cleveland American association franchise were taken yesterday at an informal discussion in which President Weesman, President Johnson and Bresnahan took part. St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—As the climax of the first day of St. Paul's outdoor sports carnival, more than 10,000 men, women and children, picturesquely garbed, marched through the busy streets last night, while crowds of spectators, estimated to exceed 50,000 in number, looked on.

CURLING IS PROGRESSING

Games Moving Along in All Events; Duluthians May Go to Winnipeg.

There are about eighteen games remaining in the Universal curling event, sixteen yet to be played in The Herald, twenty-one games played in the Bagley and twenty-six in the Manley-McLennan event, which was but recently started. With February and the greater portion of March in which to complete play, all the present events under way, it is believed that the Columbia will be started within the next few days and that the Rol-Tan event, which will be an event for Saturday afternoon play, will be also on.

Since the finish of the bonspiel the games committee has kept the schedule moving in lively fashion. Every strip of ice in the rink was in use last evening. There are six games on this evening's draw.

Directors of the curling club will take up the matter of sending two rinks to the Winnipeg spiel. It is desired to have a number of Winnipeg curlers here next year, and with the idea of building for a future event, it is quite likely that Duluth will send some curlers to the big Manitoba Curling association's spiel.

Whether Mike Collins of Hudson is totting a large hunk of rock for the country, or whether he has a real fighter in his possession, will be determined, in some measure at least, when Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., and Porky Flynn of Boston, Mass., mingle this evening in a New Orleans "ring."

Flynn is a tough and enduring trial horse. He went along with Jack Dillon and gave that worthy a good argument and he has played a morose stumping block, the path of a lot of accounted pot notchers.

The contest of this evening is scheduled for twenty rounds. If Fulton puts the Flynn person hors de combat, or in definite English, knocks him off, the followers of the fight game around the country will be compelled, in mere self-defense to acknowledge that Fulton is entitled to consideration and that he has advanced to the place in the road where he must be reckoned with.

On the other hand, should Flynn apply the specific punch, the world will have his fleeting laugh at the expense of large Mr. Fulton, and will go along about its business. That is the way of the world.

Big Fred Can Hit. There is one detail of the game about which there is no arguing over Fulton's ability. The big Rochester farmer lad can sure hit. He can and always could hit. That big question is whether Fulton can take one on the jaw or assimilate them in the kitchen. How much of a course is also out of the calculations.

Fulton is very fast for a man of his size. He is setting better, or was, at least. If he gets by that tough person, Dan Pukky Flynn, and shows the qualifications of a master workman, the doubting stage with Fulton will have been safely passed and Mike Collins' bucket will be eagerly awaited along the pugilistic white way of Coliseum.

Should Fulton administer the kayo to Flynn, he will have a good reason for being. Fulton has been pre-arranged in a flaring and flamboyant manner. The almost match with Willard, like the first gun at Sumner, ran around the world. A riding master of licking a few heavyweights is all that remains for Fred.

Harry Willis, the big colored heavyweight, has been assisting in the training of Fulton. He is understood to be a devotee of Fulton's. Willis is one of the best fighters in the business, a man whom many judges would place in the top ten of the world. A lurid argument, his work with the Rochester boy is expected to bear results.

It is understood that in the event of a decisive win over Flynn, Collins will board the Dixie flyer out of the Crescent City and take New York. Willis is a hard worker and a good fighter. He is understood to be a devotee of Fulton's. Willis is one of the best fighters in the business, a man whom many judges would place in the top ten of the world. A lurid argument, his work with the Rochester boy is expected to bear results.

FULTON HAS GREAT CHANCE

If He Beats Flynn, Will Be Rated as Real Fighter.

Whether Mike Collins of Hudson is totting a large hunk of rock for the country, or whether he has a real fighter in his possession, will be determined, in some measure at least, when Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., and Porky Flynn of Boston, Mass., mingle this evening in a New Orleans "ring."

AMATEUR HOCKEY TEAMS TO MEET IN DOUBLE BILL

Big Duluths and Bagleys and Northern and Universals Will Clash This Evening in Duluth Curling Club—All Teams Showing Better Form.

BY BRUCE.

Bagleys vs. Big Duluths. Northern vs. Universals. Lovers of hockey are assured of seeing one bangup puck contest at the curling club rink this evening when those two earnest rivals, the Northern and Universals, meet.

The Big Duluths are also going to play the Bagleys. Manager Al Swanson of the jewelry team declares that he has wrought considerable improvement in his team and that he is going to spring a surprise on the clothing aggregation.

In the case of the Northern and Universals, the contest promises to be a hummer. These teams have played good hockey all the present season and both teams are showing improvement every game. These two contenders for the league bundle are old rivals and as four teams are tied for the league leadership, there promises to be a scintillating contest unfurled.

The first game of the evening will be called at 8 o'clock and the second contest is down on the board for nine bells.

Ed Harris, manager of the Universals, declares his team is in the best shape of the season and that he believes that the four teams will take the measure of the hardware men this evening.

Dave Larson, who looks after the interests of the Northern, has from the start of the season declared his team the best in the league. The Northern expect to win decisively from the Universals.

While the Bagleys are expected to assist in showing the Big Duluths (to the front) there may be a surprise registered. Swanson's team has thus far failed to show any real form, but it has succeeded in keeping abreast of the other three contenders.

In the play thus far some of the players have shown a decided tendency to slash at every conceivable opportunity. If the boys would pay more attention to straight hockey there is reason to believe that the sport would be considerably improved.

SPLIT IN TENNIS SEEMS ALMOST CERTAIN. EFFECT ON GAME IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE IRREPARABLE.

New York, Jan. 28.—All signs point to a split in the United States National Lawn Tennis association over the question of the amateur status of players who deal in lawn tennis supplies, unless there is a marked back-down on the part of either the Eastern or Western factions. Both camps have taken decided stands upon the point, and the breach is widening daily.

The veiled threat of the Pacific States Lawn Tennis association to break away from the National association and establish a rival organization has aroused considerable feeling among the members of the parent body, and the coming annual meeting is likely to bring forth some frank expressions of opinion upon the subject. The controversy comes at a particularly inopportune time, since the U. S. N. L. T. A. has gone on record as favoring the raising of the amateur standard, as suggested by the recent conference of sport-governing bodies in this city under the auspices of the J. C. A. A. A.

Fortunately, tennis has reached a point in popular interest in this country where the action of any group or even a national governing body will have the effect of curtailing the number of itself or the thousands of players who participate in the sport for the pleasure and exercise that tennis gives. Tournaments and tournament players will be the sufferers, and a split will have the effect of curtailing the number of itself or the thousands of players who participate in the sport for the pleasure and exercise that tennis gives.

With the possibility of international or Davis cup matches out of the question for several years at least, the field is clear for a final threshing out of a question which would have to be answered within a few years at best. It is to be hoped that the status of the amateur and professional in tennis will be clearly defined before the next Davis cup bout, and in the meantime the tennis atmosphere will have been cleared without ill effect upon the game and the thousands who play it without ulterior motives.

The delving into Yale football history by Walter Camp has uncovered a number of interesting features, not the least of which is the use of signals by the Yale eleven in the days of long ago. In commenting upon this work, Henry B. Twombly, quarterback on the Yale teams of 1887 and 1882, writes to the Alumni Weekly on old Yale football days as follows:

"Walter Camp is right in his first written list of word signals as used by the Yale team in 1882, but he has apparently forgotten the signal given on the occasion of the first touchdown in 1875. As boys playing in the Boston streets, these 'cheers' were our word signal to look out for 'cons.' When we were arranging signals in the fall of 1882, we remembered well the cheer with which Doc Beck, our right tackle, and I fixed it up that when the signal 'cheers' was given, he was to drop back behind the line for a quick pass from the quarterback. After considerable play in the Princeton game at the old Polo grounds on Nov. 30, 1882, Richards dropped back again to try drop kick for goal. But on the signal 'cheers' the Princeton line broke through the Yale line with great ease to block Richards' kick. Such, however, had been the intention on the part of the Yale line: Doc Beck dropped back the line in exact time to get the ball thrown over the heads of the charging Tigers, and without a Princeton man touching him, Beck rushed the ball over for a touchdown. I can see old Doc now, with his white hair standing straight up, and a grin all over his face, shouting out 'How do you like that, you Tigers?'

That the European sportsman still retains his ideas of fair play, notwithstanding the war, is illustrated by an accident which happened in Germany recently. A German horseman named

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 28.—Pitcher Sanford Burck has been sold to the Minneapolis club of the American association by the Pittsburgh Federal league club, according to an announcement here. Burck jumped from the Indianapolis American association team to the local club last summer, and a suit was instituted in Federal court to force him to return. The suit is still pending.

According to an announcement, the local club receives the waiver price of $1,600 in addition to $1,000 advance money which had been paid. Burck and the cost of the court litigation over his retention, which amounted to $500.

MECHANIC TO DECIDE WAR

Power to Supply and Equip Armies Most Important, Says White.

Single Tax Exponent Will Begin Lecture Series
Here.

The mechanic is the biggest factor in the European war, according to John Z. White of Chicago, single tax exponent, who begins a series of lectures here today. Mr. White will remain here for a week. He is scheduled to speak before seventeen organizations, and his lectures will cover economic, industrial, legal and labor problems.

Opening Addresses.
At 6 o'clock tonight he will speak before the Lakeside Brotherhood at the Lakeside Presbyterian church and at 9 o'clock he will speak before the Duluth Trades assembly at the Owens hall, 418 West Superior street. In speaking of the European war, Mr. White said:

"The real point in military preparedness today is the power to supply an army with munitions, food and clothing. This means the most extensive possible development of mechanical skill.

"It is in the cities where mechanical skill reaches its highest expression. It is also in the cities where people are subjected to a high pressure between the land values beneath and heavy taxes above. Many are unable to meet this pressure and they run away to the wilderness.

"We propose to relieve this pressure by removing the taxes on improvements and increasing taxes on the value of land to make up the deficit. Manufacturing possibilities would become highly developed, and in that development would be included the mechanical skill that constitutes a nation's real defense in time of military struggle.

"The huge debts of those countries will be impossible of liquidation by any other method than the single tax," he said. "There are only two kinds of taxes—a tax on land values and a tax on the values of products. The production capabilities of Europe will not be sufficient to raise enough money to liquidate the debts. A tax on land will be absolutely necessary."

League Will Co-operate.
The Single Tax league of Duluth, which was formed within the last year, will co-operate with Mr. White in promoting the single tax idea in this city. Mr. White's program follows:

Friday, Jan. 28—Lakeside Brotherhood, 6:30; trades assembly, 9.
Saturday, Jan. 29—Stirrups club, noon; Single Tax club, 8.
Sunday, Jan. 30—Men's club, First M. E. church, 12:15; Scandinavian Socialists, Sloan's hall, 3:30.
Monday, Jan. 31—Swedish Mission church, 8; Duluth council, 9:30.
Tuesday, Feb. 1—Real Estate exchange, Commercial club, noon; Women's Suffrage association, library, 3:30; carpenters' union, 8.
Wednesday, Feb. 2—Builders' exchange, 8:30; Temple Emanuel, 6:30; Cnn Stewart, 8:30.
Thursday, Feb. 3—West Duluth Commercial club, 8.
Friday, Feb. 4—Women's council, 11:30; 10:30 a. m.; Glen-Hunt-Wood club, 8.

CLEARSTUFFY HEAD AND NOSE AT ONCE—END CATARRH

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm"

at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear—Advertisement.

CHICKENS IN SECOND PLACE

Cats Usurp Place in the Limelight at Annual Exhibition.

Bramas and Rocks Yield to Sleek Angoras and Persians.

"Aren't they just lovely!"
"I do think this little one is so cute!"
Oh, but Clara, do come over here and look at this little bunch of cutie cuties."

"Yes, the dear."
Ladies and gentlemen the cat show has opened and the women folks have clustered around to look and admire. Early today the Persians, Manx kitties, Angoras and domestic cats were placed on exhibition in the old armory. The chickens still hold their own, but the time being the cats have usurped the limelight and hold the chief place of interest.

The largest attendance of the poultry show and cat show was on early today. A man felt lonesome or thrilled, just as the case may have been, for the women predominated at the ratio of 15 to 1.

If cats have any way of comprehending what is said to them and about them, there are a lot of chesty cats down at the armory show. You should have heard the kindly and glowing epithets that were lavished on the heads of the carefully brushed and primed creatures.

Sargent on Cats.
But perhaps one should not write of a cat show in the light of levity. After getting an earful from R. Sargent of Chicago, who has come up to judge and award the coveted ribbons, one begins to believe that the cat business is quite an industry after all.
One lady was asking Mr. Sargent if he didn't think her cat was just the loveliest thing, to which inquiry Mr. Sargent replied with cold and judicial mien that outside of the fact that her cat had a white chin and lacked copper coloring of the eyes and was considerable off in its markings and was not quite of the proper coloring, it was no doubt an adorable little animal. The lady looked crestfallen, poor thing, but as Mr. Sargent later remarked, the breeding of cats is quite a serious business.

Titian Knight, a Persian orange tabby, the property of Mr. Sargent is on exhibition. This cat is supposed to be a fine example of one of the great cats in the United States. Titian Knight is contained—you contain a cat—in a chestnut is bedecked with ribbons and a name that have been won by this feline personage of the feline world. If they keep a who's who in cat society you doubtless would find considerably space devoted to Titian Knight.

Some More Angoras.
Mrs. George Richards has a coal black Persian which is a beauty and Mrs. E. F. Radcliffe has Sandy Boy, a beautiful orange tabby, on exhibition. Speaking of who's who in cat circles, this Sandy Boy is some lad. His father was quite distinguished, being Aurora Admiral, and his mother was the distinguished Lady Blue Bell Morgan, so you can see that Sandy Boy has every lineal right to feel just a bit haughty and snooty upon occasions.

There are some beautiful white Angoras at the show and some fine looking grey cats. The laymen will experience considerable difficulty in discriminating between the breeds. Some one will hand you a pedigree that looks something like a curling draw that has played down near the finish or a war map of Europe with names jotted down; and yet if you are not up on catalogy, you won't know anything about it. It's best to remain silent and look wise. These cat fans are quick to take offense.

Judging in the several divisions will start today. The judging in the chicken exhibitions has been completed. The cat show will hold the chief place of interest today and tomorrow. Judging from the interest that has been displayed from the time the doors were first thrown open, it is going to be very largely attended.

FULTON LOSES ONE DECISION
Minnesota's White Hope Takes Count in Municipal Court Battle.

Gym Owner Collects $106;
Fulton Joke as Plasterer, He Says.

Fred Fulton, Minnesota's "white hope," and the fighter who says he can lift Jesse Williams' crown, is going to box with "Porky" Flynn in New Orleans tonight, but he lost a one-round bout with Dr. E. R. Cooke of Minneapolis in Duluth's municipal court this morning.

The row began when Fulton used Dr. Cooke's gymnasium in Minneapolis and forgot to pay locker rent, sparring partner's fees, etc. Dr. Cooke will not pay $106, with interest and costs, Dr. Cooke said, and Judge W. H. Smallwood evidently agreed with him, for he rendered a verdict in his favor.

When Fulton fought Terry Kellar in Duluth recently, Dr. Cooke was on his trail, and he at once garnished the Duluth Athletic club, refused to pay until he was instructed by the court.

When Fulton fought Terry Kellar in Duluth recently, Dr. Cooke was on his trail, and he at once garnished the Duluth Athletic club, refused to pay until he was instructed by the court.

"Whenever you get a fight," Dr. Cooke said, "I will come up and use the gym. He'd get sparring partners, and use the apparatus, but all he ever paid was $1."

"Before he made a name he was broke," Dr. Cooke said, "and he kept telling me he would pay it as soon as he got out of the woods a little bit. He is still in the woods."

Fulton's Counter Claim.
Fulton's counter claim was that Dr. Cooke's complaint said he worked as plasterer in the "gym" and did enough to then pay for his expenses. In fact, he maintained, the doctor owed him $152.40.

Fulton worked four weeks, eight hours a day, at 70 cents an hour," he stated, "and this morning he was paid $152.40, with interest and costs, is deducted to me about $1."

"How about the plastering?" the court asked Dr. Cooke.
"As a plasterer Fulton is a joke," was the reply. "He wasn't much of a fighter then, but he was a better fighter than he was a plasterer. He's too lazy."

The sparring partners who stood up and exchanged punches with Fulton when he was near the bottom of the pugilistic ladder were: Tom Gallagher, one Lang, alias "Belly," Turner Clay, one Taylor, "Bill" Clark, a colored middle-weight, and Ralph Vito, a heavy-weight.

Treasurer Whelan of the local club said he had received several telegrams from Fulton telling him to "send that $152.40."

will be sent after Dr. Cooke's $106, with interest and costs, is deducted.

WINNIPEG MAYOR VISITS DULUTH

Passes Through on Way to International Waterways Hearing.

Duluth had a guest for a few hours yesterday, Richard D. Waugh, mayor of Winnipeg, Man., who passed through the city on his way from Eastern Canada points, where he has been since Jan. 1, to International Falls, where he will attend today a meeting of the international waterways commission. This commission, consisting of representatives of the United States and Canada, is trying to establish water levels in the Lake of the Woods which will be satisfactory.

Mr. Waugh lived in Duluth for more than thirty years and was well known. Although 72 years old, he was active in business up to within a short time of his last illness.

He leaves a widow and five children. They are two sons, Leander and Joseph, Jr., and three daughters, Miss Flora, Mrs. John Gagne and Mrs. Arthur Gauthier, all of whom live in Duluth.

The matter has been in dispute for some time, the farmers on the American side claiming that with water too high, their lands are flooded, while the Canadians are not inconvenienced, their shores being high and rocky.

Mayor Waugh, who will go on to Winnipeg, after attending the hearing in International Falls, visited yesterday with James C. Myron, his old friend, and they spent the time in reminiscence and curling "fanning."

Mayor Waugh has not been in Duluth in three years, he expressed regret that he could not make a longer stay, as he has many friends here whom he would like to visit, among them being David Quail, British vice consul.

SPRINTS FOR LIBERTY.

"Crippled" Woodsman Makes Record
Time to Keep Away From Sentence.

"Johnny" Hayes, marathon runner, wouldn't have been in it today with Patrick Guinan, a lumberjack, and Pat had a broken rib and a "game" leg at that.

Hayes never ran for anything more important than a purse or a silver loving cup, but Pat ran to save himself from a work farm sentence.

Several days ago Pat was brought in from an Alger-Smith camp, badly injured and taken to St. Luke's hospital. Yesterday he was discharged.

MINNESOTA CHICKEN

Work and Eugene Hanna, 42, the "Minnesota Chicken," are enemies.

They haven't been on speaking terms for some time, and Eugene doesn't intend that they shall be.

When Eugene is jailed, which is often, his tongue does a little work, and usually gets him free—on parole, or on a promise to save town, or anything in the way of an excuse.

Last Saturday Eugene was at home for the first time in weeks. He had been at the work farm, "Home" was a lonesome place, for "wifey" was in jail.

That is a habit of "wifey's" and in fact she tries to arrange it so that she will be "in" when the "Chicken" is "out."

"We don't agree," Jenny says. At any rate "Home" was lonesome, so the "Chicken" proceeded to drown the lonesome feeling and landed in jail.

Probation Officer Hicks found him a job in the woods, and Eugene, pretending to like it, said that would be "O. K."

Needless to say, Eugene overslept and missed the train. He was "in" again this morning.

Sixty days at the work farm," said the judge.

"I wish he would say 'farm,'" said the "Chicken." "I don't like that word work."

So Mr. Hanna is going to the "farm."

Lagrippe Usually Leaves a Bad Cough.

Both la grippe and influenza often leave a bad cough that hangs on, is weakening and exhausting. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a simple, quick and effective medicine for curing these bad la grippe coughs.

E. C. Rhodes, Middleton, Ga., writes: "When getting well of la grippe, I still had a hacking cough, and for several months could get no relief. I began taking Foley's Honey and Tar, and soon I was well of both cough and cold, which never returned." All druggists sell it everywhere.

JEWES CONTINUE RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Thursday's Storm Hinders Work But Response Is Liberal.

Because of the inclement weather yesterday, national Jewish relief day, and the inability of the teams to cover the city thoroughly, Duluth Jews will continue the collection of subscriptions for the war-stricken Jews of Europe. Approximately $5,000 was collected yesterday. It was announced at a meeting of the Jewish Central War Relief association in the Temple Emanuel vestry rooms last evening.

Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, chairman of the association, said this morning that the twenty-two men, who canvassed the city, will continue their campaign today and tomorrow. It is hoped to raise a total of $5,000 in Duluth. Special letters will be sent to business men out of the city and those whom the teams are unable to reach before the subscription campaign closes tomorrow night. Checks may be sent at any time to Bernard Silberstein, treasurer of the association, or to any Duluth bank. Dr. Lefkowitz announced this morning.

"The weather prevented our workers from covering as much ground as they should have, and it also kept a large number of persons from being on hand to make donations. But of all the men and women visited, not over a dozen refused to make some donation. Those who did refuse, with one or two exceptions, said it was because of financial straits and not through lack of sympathy."

We want to thank those who assisted us and especially the local newspapers for their kind support in helping us advertise Jewish relief day.

If the money collected in Duluth will be forwarded to the relief committees in New York for distribution in the various war zones of Europe, where a total of 8,000,000 Jews are suffering from lack of food, clothing and shelter.

Heavy Wisconsin Snow Fall.
Couderay, Wis., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The heaviest snow for this season fell through this section for two days. The snow fall was over a foot on the level; the weather is mild with little wind, and if the snow fall continues much longer it will be a hardship on the loggers, as the snow will be too deep in the woods for economical logging operations.

BIG PURSE FOR ICE CARNIVAL

Cash Prize of $500 Will Be Given for Winner of Main Event.

Duluth Auto Dealers Will Stage Program Beginning Feb. 5.

A cash prize of $500 will be awarded the winner of the main event in the second annual ice racing carnival planned for Wednesday morning, Feb. 9, by the Duluth Automobile Dealers' association.

The hanging up of this large purse was decided on yesterday afternoon by the members of the racing committee at a meeting held in the offices of E. J. Philpault, president of the association. In addition, complete plans were made for the races and the final details outlined at the meeting yesterday.

Wednesday, Feb. 7, has been designated as race day for the automobile show, which opened yesterday and for the reason the dealers yesterday decided to hold the races at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The visitors will be given a complete program for the day, including the races in the morning, the automobile show in the afternoon and a special musical entertainment at the new armory in the evening.

Five-Hundred-Mile Race.
The $500 cash prize will go to the winner of the 500-mile race over a three-mile track on the harbor. The event will be open to any high-powered machine, the entries already in including Ray Buchanan, German-Mercedes, O. A. Rosta, Studebaker-Garford, Norman Smith, National, and E. Banks of Virginia, who will drive a special 70-horse power car.

There will be nine events during the evening, including three races for high-powered machines, medium cars and small cars. The Studebaker, Hudson and Chalmers have already been entered in the medium class, while the Ford, Dodge and Maxwell have been listed for the light car events.

Society Ice Contests.
In addition to the auto races, there will be several ice contests and motor sled races, according to the plans made yesterday. A total of $1,500 will be awarded the winners in the various other events planned for the morning. The automobile show having raised $1,200, which will be distributed as prize money, it was announced at the meeting.

A week from tomorrow work will be started on clearing a three-mile course on the harbor, the track extending from in front of the best club grandstand to the water front at 5th avenue. The track will be thrown open to the public, while a road will be cleared from the water front at 5th avenue west for automobiles. The track will be banked at all turns and sanding day before the races so that the drivers will be able to maintain a maximum speed.

Fuchman is chairman of the racing committee.

WEST END AMATEURS WILL FORM SKI CLUB

West End Enthusiasts Made Ambitious By Fine Snow Conditions.

An amateur ski club is about to be organized among lovers of the sport in the West end. It is probable that action to that effect will be taken next Sunday.

The heavy snowfall this year has created a great interest in the sport among the young men of this end of the city. Last Sunday, more than twenty-five young men, who will form the new club, gathered at a slide used by the Zenith Ski Club at 4th and Miller streets and Miller's creek. Several long jumps were made, and then they were ready to start.

Among the enthusiasts who are taking an active interest in the sport and who have been instrumental in getting out crowds on Saturdays and Sundays at the West end slide are Helmer Johnson, Jack Pich, Oscar Sather, John Sather and others.

It is expected that a good-sized crowd will turn out next Sunday to take part in the program planned for the afternoon.

"ALAS, POOR JITNEY; WE KNEW IT WELL"

Storm Eliminates Buses; Traction Company Keeps Streets Cleared.

"What's become of the jitneys?" The question was asked by a West end business man yesterday, who said he had not noticed many of them on the streets recently.

"The recent snow storm has probably done as much as anything that could have happened to show the unreliability of the jitney bus," he said. "It has been the street car company that has cleared the streets for traffic. The manner in which this jitney bus has been carried out deserves great praise."

Inquiries relative to jitney bus operations developed that no jitney bus ventured out yesterday or Wednesday. Only two were in operation on Tuesday. So far there have been seven days on which no cars were operated this month. The other days were Jan. 1, 2, 12, 13 and 14.

The highest number of cars to operate during any single day this month was on Jan. 8, when thirteen jitney buses were running. From two to seven have been operating on other days.

Last summer the highest number to operate on any single day was 139.

POOL TOURNAMENT NEAR COMPLETION

Street Car Men in Three Divisions Are Battling for Victory.

The pool tournament, which has been under way at the clubrooms of the Duluth Street Railway company, is about completed. Leaders in each of the three separate tournaments, representing the carmen, showmen and office employees, are now battling for the supremacy of the pool table.

Joe Vitall led the other employees in the number of games won in the carmen's tournament. Out of sixteen games scheduled, Mr. Vitall has won thirteen and lost two. The other game will not be played because the lead has been sufficient.

Arthur C. Peterson defeated all comers in the showmen's tournament by winning four straight games and Henry Morrison won out in the office contests winning six out of the six games scheduled.

The high score made during the recent tournament was made by R. P. Williams, who ran thirty-two balls at one time. The highest run on record made at the clubrooms is credited to Henry Morrison during the tournament a year ago, when he made forty-six balls.

CHINESE WOULD "SAVE THEIR FACE"

Want to Please Emperor and Still Not Violate Their Traditions.

Pekin, Jan. 28.—Much confusion has arisen since Yuan Shi-kai's acceptance of the emperorship because of the universal desire of Chinese officials to "save the face" and not do anything which will violate traditions and make them ridiculous according to ancient practices and Confucian customs.

Many resignations have been submitted by officials who adhere strictly to the ancient belief that the T'ings and the T'angs alone are ordained of heaven and cannot be displaced by Yuan Shi-kai without doing violence to all that is sacred in the teachings of Confucius. Another influential official is the long-recognized belief that a man who has once been of superior rank to another can never permit the conditions to be reversed.

A desire to prevent his former superior from resigning from the government has inspired Yuan Shi-kai to issue the following mandate, designed to spare the dignity of influential officials he does not care to have leave the government service and become his opponents.

"In consideration of my mean virtue, it ought to be impossible for me to become emperor of the people. However, on account of the many difficulties of the time which I have met with, I cannot shift the burdens from my shoulders. Most at the moment I feel that my position is like to a person going to the verge of a deep precipice and treading upon thin ice. Of late I have received many despatches and telegrams from the provinces, the senders of which style themselves 'sheng' (subject). Although they do not think that they are but observing the proper etiquette, I myself feel uneasy. Most of the responsible civil and military positions of the country are being held by my former colleagues, and when I recall that fact it makes me feel more difficult. It may be said that in ancient times Sse-yueh and Wu-lun made no distinction in this respect between the old and their new dynasties. But how dare I to rank myself with 'sage emperors and kings? Therefore all my former companions and respectful old acquaintances must not style themselves 'sheng.' As the present situation is most critical, they should devote all their attention for the salvation of the nation and not observe mere formalities and unimportant details."

STOCKHOLDERS SUED.

In Judge Elnor's division of the district court yesterday trial of a suit brought by Hilma Wuolte against the Floodwood Farmers' Co-operative association was begun. The case is one in which it is sought to recover $28.88 claimed to be due as an unpaid balance on a promissory note given in part payment for the purchase of a store.

John Wilimko, Waldemar Alho, A. Peterson, Kio Johnson, Jacob Jurvenin and Victor Maki, stockholders, are co-defendants with the association. Spencer J. Soarles of Carlton represents the plaintiff and O. J. Larson appears for the defendants.

With the introduction of testimony to prove the death of the late John McAlpine, wealthy Duluth lumberman, mysteriously shot and killed in the basement of his palatial East end home in the early morning of Aug. 15, 1913, and documentary evidence to show that his widow had made demand on the London Guaranty and Accident Company, Ltd., for payment of $24,000 on accident insurance policy, Mrs. Sarah K. McAlpine, beneficiary, this morning rested her case at the trial of her suit against the insurance company, now on before Judge Dancer and a district court jury.

The suit now being tried is one of three actions pending against the insurance company by the widow to recover $24,000 worth of accident insurance issued to her late husband. The action to recover $24,000 from the London Guaranty and Accident Com-

Kaiser Confident
Germany Will WinSo Expresses Himself in Answer to Congratulations of King Ludwig.

Berlin, Jan. 28, via London.—Replying to a message of birthday congratulations from King Ludwig of Bavaria, Emperor William sent the following telegram:

"I receive your friendly congratulations on my birthday. Trusting God and in the will of our heroic troops to win the victory, and the spirit of self-sacrifice of the entire German people, we can look forward with confidence to a victory of the bloodiest and the most glorious of all times. All hostile assaults will break to pieces upon the power of a united Germany."

Do Not Long for Peace.
Berlin, Jan. 28.—Wireless to Sayville. Among the speeches delivered in Berlin yesterday in celebration of Emperor William's birthday, the utterances of Kaiser Wilhelm were particularly noteworthy.

He said: "The emperor and the German people will not long for peace. But we do not long for peace. The enemy started with the purpose of destroying the countries in the heart of Europe. Whenever the enemy abandons an effort on account of defeat, he claims an immortal place of honor in history. Whenever the Central powers conquer new territories, the enemies refer to our despondency. Therefore, our country does not ask of peace, does not yearn for peace, but fights and works for peace."

feet that McAlpine owned him $3,400 on a check dated Sept. 15, 1903, which the physician had given to the lumberman to take to his wife, Mrs. McAlpine, in St. Louis, Mo. Later, after Mr. McAlpine's death, the physician had never owned the property, or had any interest in it whatsoever. Dr. Chase had purchased what he thought to be a half-interest and held a contract for this from McAlpine. The doctor also testified that Mr. McAlpine owed him $1,000 borrowed April 18, 1913, and $12,500 as his portion of an investment which Mr. McAlpine had said he had made for him.

Other depositions from Eau Claire friends of the late Mr. McAlpine will be read at the afternoon session.
